Convention Information

1. BIRCHMONT is near the Canadian border.
2. Gamma Phi Beta will have exclusive use of the resort.
3. There is opportunity for every kind of sport.
4. Every room is equipped with hot and cold water, ventilating doors, electricity, and steam heat.
5. The American plan is followed for hotel and cottages.

Birchmont Beach Hotel

Hotel Garden and Cottages

SOME OF BIRCHMONT'S FEATURES

Rooms that have been especially designed for the comfort of the summer visitor. Large screened and glazed sun porches for lounging. Semi-weekly dances at the hotel. Unexcelled cuisine and splendid service equal to any first-class hotel. Cottages equipped with bath and toilet, electric lights, screened porches. Boats and canoes for use of our guests. The use of one of the best golf courses in northern Minnesota. Tennis courts and croquet grounds. The advantage of being near a modern city that has good churches, good stores, and good amusement centers. Steam heat for use on chilly evenings and ventilating doors on every bedroom. A clean, sandy, safe shore where the children and adults bathe with safety to their hearts content. Artesian flowing wells provide absolutely pure water for the hotel and cottages. Birchmont has local and long distance private telephone connections and its own taxi line. The climate is delightfully invigorating with bright sunshiny days and cool nights. The altitude of Birchmont is 1,300 feet above sea level, "The Top of Minnesota."

Convention Ho!

TAKE miles of smoothly-curving beach with sand like yellow corn-cake, add one well-ripened golf course, boats to taste and tennis courts as desired; sprinkle with pines which are willing to sing you to sleep most any time if you can bear to leave the excitement long enough; mix well and drop by roomfuls into one of Minnesota's newest and grandest resorts well-garnished with great fireplaces, steam heat (for emergency) and hot running water. When done, cut into five-day portions. This recipe serves any number of people at a minimum cost.

Now isn't your mouth just watering for a huge slice of that nicest of all conventions that's going to be happening up at Birchmont Beach near Bemidji, June 28 to July 2? And can you hardly wait to taste and enjoy the friendship of scores of the most charming people you'll probably ever be privileged to meet?

We thought so.

In fact, so sure are we of the fascination of this delightful vacation-land of ours that we hardly dare tell you of the extra "sweetmeat"—Twin City Day, June 27, when every one of you, as guest of Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Kappa, will have the two cities set before you on a platter with luncheon at one of the country clubs and tea at the chapter house to add zest to your appetite—lest we should have to rent the city hall at Brainerd (we hope there is one) to take care of the crowds.

HOW IT ALL HAPPENS

The Place: Birchmont Beach Hotel, Bemidji, Minnesota.

The Time: June 28-July 2, inclusive. Twin City Day, June 27.

Official Hostess: Province IV—Includes Gamma, Kappa, Rho, Omega, Alpha Beta, Alpha Kappa, Madison, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, and Des Moines; Province Director: Daisy Stott Sullivan (Mrs. A. G.), who as director, is the official convention hostess and head of the committee on hospitality.

Chairman of General Arrangements: Millicent Lees Hoffman (Mrs. A. C.), Kappa; Address, 5035 Aldrich Avenue South, Minneapolis.

Secretary: Katharine Taney Silverson, Kappa.

FINANCIALLY SPEAKING

Five days at $5.00 a day will be $25. This includes room and meals for all those living at the hotel.

Single meals (for those not registered at the hotel): Breakfast, $1.00; Luncheon, $1.00; Dinner, $1.50.

A special rate of $1.00 per day has been arranged for the eighteen-hole course at the Bemidji Country Club. There is no charge for boating and tennis.

The registration fee has not been set as yet but will be less than the $7.50 required at the last convention. No other assessments will be made as this fee includes tipping, all entertainment, incidentals, and special occasions such as the banquet.

Suggested post-convention trips with accompanying low summer rates will be sent to all active and alumnae members before the opening of convention.

Founders' Day—November 11

FOUNDERS' DAY has been celebrated throughout the land, and in connection with this day of days, the editor has compiled messages from Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Ferguson, articles written for former CRESCENTS by Mrs. Willoughby and Mrs. Curtis, a most interesting article about Syracuse University and Dr. Frank Smalley, and a group picture which includes Dr. Haven, Dr. Smalley, and Dr. Brown. Dr. Haven is the father of our founder; Dr. Smalley declared us a sorority; and Dr. Brown inspired our colors. Also, Ella French, pioneer professor, was a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

I

A Message to the Freshmen

MY DEAR freshman girls, you are coming into Gamma Phi Beta sorority at the most impressionable period of your life. Do try to make a good start. Be kind, be courteous, be studious. Forget yourselves in making those around you comfortable and happy, and try never to do anything of which you will be ashamed later; for regrets and remorse are hard to live with.

There are many things you cannot do in a sorority that you might do if under the protection of your parents; so strive to be true to yourselves, and cherish the good standing of the sorority.

In the days to come may you be broader, nobler, more useful women because of belonging to Gamma Phi Beta, and not in spite of the fact. So I bid you all welcome and wish you all true success.

FRANCES E. HAVEN MOSS

II

Dear Gamma Phi Beta Sisters: Cordial greeting to each, on this, the birthday of our sorority.

May the mystic panorama of each life for the coming year be full of fair pictures, touched by the crimson of His blood who redeemeth, white with the beauty of His holiness, and golden with the light from His own eternal home—the city of our God.

Let us “covet earnestly the best gifts” and may “the beauty of Christ be seen” day by day in the life of each.

Very sincerely yours,

HELEN DODGE FERGUSON

What Our Pledge Pin Should Mean to Us

By MARY A. BINGHAM WILLOUGHBY

(Reprinted from CRESCENT of October, 1912)

It is more important for us, as a sorority, to realize just what ideals our pledge represents at the present time and the influence of these ideals on the individual members, than it is for us to read a somewhat imaginary explanation of what the pin should mean to us, as conceived by one of the founders whose opinion would be colored by the hopes and ambitions which influenced the Four to lay the foundations of Gamma Phi Beta. The changed conditions of college life, the many avenues opened to young women, and their greater efficiency in all lines of thought and action, have without doubt, tended to strengthen the hopes and broaden the ideals which are Gamma Phi's by tradition.

There was no Gamma Phi Beta sorority to pledge the founders. The honor of wearing the little symbol of loyalty was never theirs, but they possessed something which they would not have exchanged for it—the priceless jewel of sincere friendship and true sisterhood, to which thirty-eight years of loyalty have added beauty and perfection.

The pledge pin should not be accepted as symbolizing only the relation of a pledge member to the sorority, for its significance is two-fold. Rightly conceived, it is the symbol of a reciprocal promise, given and received between a chapter and a member-elect, and its meaning is determined by the sincerity of the pledge with a full understanding of all for which the emblem stands. To the freshman just matriculated, it may mean little more than pride and ambition gratified with expectation of jolly times and "spreads," when the awesome initiation ceremony is safely over. With each successive year of college life, the pledge pin should mean far more to each true Gamma Phi. Its deeper meaning is possibly not revealed until commencement draws near, and the seniors, in retrospect, appreciate what the pledge has meant to them. They then realize that there is a reverse to the emblem, that it represents more than a trusty shield for protection; that, hidden within this meaning is another, which like a mysterious key has opened to them almost infinite opportunities for both giving and receiving all that is really highest and best in life—loyal friendship, courage, sympathy, self-sacrifice, joy and sorrow, recreation and work, all uniting to develop a true and fine type of cultured and intelligent womanhood.

Contradictory as it may appear, these gifts which Gamma Phi offers cannot be accepted and selfishly held individually; for like a grain of sand, they will surely slip from our grasp the more tightly we try to hold them. If we would make them our own—a part of our life—we must give them back generously to our sorority.

To receive graciously the fidelity and friendly counsel of the sisterhood, and to give the best of ourselves and talents, loyally and faithfully, to Gamma Phi Beta, is the fulfillment of our pledge, and enriches our pledge pin with ever truer and higher meaning.

Founded on a Rock

(Our open motto)

By EUNICE ADALINE CURTIS

(Reprinted from CRESCENT of October, 1912)

SINCE the rock is the firmest and most enduring substance, able to withstand the ravages of time, and offering the strongest protection, it seemed fitting that Gamma Phi Beta should be thus founded.

Have you ever in your rambles on a sultry day in midsummer, footsore and weary, come to the shadow of a rock? How grateful the shade to your weary eyes, how quiet and restful, how firm the foundation! How little matters the storm without when thus enfolded! Thus may Gamma Phi Beta, imitating these characteristics, be ever strong for the right; firm against all that would hurt us, enduring in all that would help us to be better women and so help others to be better because we have lived.

Protecting like the rock those who enter our fold, a sure help in time of need, enduring to the end of time—this is the wish for Gamma Phi Beta of one of the founders.

Dean Smalley Recalls Birth of University

Is Only Official Survivor Who Saw Cornerstone Laid in 1871

Will Be Eighty-four on December 10

Finishing Third Alumni Record for Publication; Remains Active

DEAN FRANK SMALLEY of 607 University Avenue, who served Syracuse University nearly half a century as instructor, professor, dean, acting chancellor, postmaster, and dean emeritus, enjoys in his rustication of latter-day life the unshared distinction of being the only official survivor of the birthday of the university.

Not only is he the only man of university connection who was present at the cornerstone laying of the Hall of Languages, August 31, 1871, the cradle-place of the university, but he is believed to be the only man alive who attended that ceremony, the laying of the cornerstone of the University Methodist Episcopal Church the same day, and the inauguration of the faculty of the infant educational institution.

He has preserved among his tokens of the early days a photograph published in the Herald rotogravure section today showing the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts, after a picture taken in 1875 at a faculty meeting, when Chancellor E. O. Haven, Professors C. W. Bennett, J. R. French, George F. Comfort, J. J. Brown, Adjunct Professor J. H. Durston, and Instructor Smalley, himself, gathered on the steps outside the building.

The faculty then included additionally Prof. W. P. Coddington, Prof. H. H. Sanford, and Instructor W. L. Richardson.

Syracuse University faculty of fifty-five years ago, standing on the steps of the College of Liberal Arts, left to right, Prof. C. W. Bennett; Instructor Frank Smalley, now vice-chancellor emeritus; Prof. J. R. French; Chancellor E. O. Haven, second chancellor of the University from 1874 to 1880; Prof. George F. Comfort, who founded the College of Fine Arts; Prof. J. H. Durston and Prof. J. J. Brown. Faculty members not in the photograph were Prof. W. P. Coddington, Prof. H. H. Sandford, and Instructor W. L. Richardson.

The Hall of Languages was a building of different appearance in those times, according to Dean Smalley. It had a central tower, figuring in earlier photographs of the campus.

When the cornerstone of the beginning Syracuse institution was laid the faculty comprised four men, as compared with more than 400 on the instructing staff today.

It was thirteen years before the first woman shared faculty honors with the pioneer professors. She was Miss Ella French, joining the staff in 1884.

There are now more than 100 women following the trail she blazed. The first woman student, Dean Smalley recalled, was Miss Mary Lydia Huntley, who received a B.S. degree in 1872.

Women have contributed their sprightly part to the growth of the university tradition in other respects or disrespects, Dean Smalley remembers, as when Haven and Winchell Halls were new, the former taking its name from that of Chancellor Haven.

Alumni viewing the new buildings were astonished to find one labeled in letters in stone, "Heaven" and the other "Hell." Ingenious and enterprising conspirators had puttied in an "e" in Haven and puttied up the "Winc" in Winchell to obtain the desired effects.

Mellowed professors as well as mellowed alumni cherish such enlivening memories of the good old days and the nights that used to be.

The first day of the university, that of the cornerstone laying, the same crowd attended both functions, the first on the campus and the other at the church site a few blocks north.

The inauguration of the faculty was conducted downtown in old Shakespeare Hall, the four original members of the faculty, Dean French, Professors Codrington, Brown, and Bennett, remaining standing while the Reverend Dr. Peck, president of the board of trustees, delivered the charge.

"An institution devoted to the diffusion of knowledge among men," was commended to their efforts in that charge, "the promotion of Christian learning, literature and science, and the knowledge of the learned professions."

Andrew D. White, of Syracuse boyhood memories, American ambassador, and first president of Cornell University, was at the first sessions here, Dean Smalley recalled, and Jacob Gould Schurman, who succeeded him in his post at Ithaca in later years, stood in his place again at the golden anniversary of the occasion here.

Dean Smalley, "the Grand Old Man" of Syracuse University, keeps a clear mind in advancing years and is able to walk to his office on the campus every day from the home he has occupied for forty-five years. He will be eighty-four on December 10.

Known to thousands of older alumni the veteran can pass almost unrecognized among the students of today, as he goes and comes, a distinctive figure with his cutaway coat and black string tie. He is engaged in the compilation of alumni records, the third volume of which he has about ready for publication.

Installation Banquet of Alpha Rho

Installation of Alpha Rho

HELLO everybody. . . ."

Gwen Heilman of Rollins, her fluff of gold hair half hid under a bit of a hat, her eyes bright, stepped forward, the first to meet her new Southern sisters to be.

Nor were the twelve Alpha Theta visitors, who arrived the following day any less interesting and lovable to us, the anxious hostesses. When the smoky and slowly moving train pulled into the very black and unattractive station (which, by the way, isn't our best one) we experienced our very first thrill of being Gamma Phis; for now we were facing real live representatives who had come just for the purpose of making our group a link in the great national organization.

After much introducing and many, many greetings all of the visitors were "placed" for the week-end. However, the guests were hardly settled before we had to depart hurriedly for Munger Hall, on our Southern campus, where the sorority examination was held. This paved the way to pledging which was held six hours later at the home of Yvonne Moore. We, the new pledges, wore our gold and brown moons only one night; and on the morning of the next day, we were made a part of the great sisterhood.

Initiation of the active chapter took place from nine o'clock until twelve, September 6, at the Tutwiler Hotel; and twelve girls, three hours later, were pinned with Gamma Phi Beta Greek letters.

Recognition of our new chapter was shown first in a luncheon given by the alumnae, on the mezzanine floor of the hotel. This luncheon was followed by the initiation of the local alumnae which was performed by the new active chapter and the visiting Gamma Phis.

*Marie Harrison

The installation banquet was held Saturday evening at the Mountain Brook Country Club. The guests assembled on the wide veranda of the club where a golden moon shone down, seeming to symbolize a real Gamma Phi crescent in its beauty.

During the banquet Mildred Mays, the toastmistress, introduced the speakers, who, in turn, all had a part in forming the Carnation, which was the theme of our program.

The Carnation

- "The Roots"—Carremaye Evans, Dr. Guy Snively
- "The Stem"—Marie Harrison, Lena Margaret Powell
- "The Bud"—Mary James Crockett, Ruth O'Hara
- "The Unfolding"—Francena Hamilton
- "The Blossom"—Gwen Heilman

All of the visitors were presented during the program with their corsages and bracelets bearing the Gamma Phi crest.

At the close of the banquet thirty-one new Gamma Phis gathered in excited but weary groups to say goodnight; for this had been a strenuous day for everyone, and most of all, a perfect day for the tired but happy girls who departed to their separate homes.

Sunday morning at ten o'clock a model chapter meeting was held at Marie Harrison's, in which the newly installed members were instructed and advised in holding their future assemblies.

On Sunday afternoon a formal tea was given at the home of Mrs. A. C. Montgomery the chapter's patroness, in Arlington Circle. The guests, who numbered seven hundred, were received by the hostess, Marie Harrison, Gwen Heilman, Dr. and Mrs. Snively, Dean and Mrs. Meade, and the thirteen charming visitors from Nashville.

A lighted reproduction of the Gamma Phi pin was suspended in the dining room, where the active chapter assisted in serving and entertaining.

Many of the visiting girls remained until Wednesday noon doing informal rushing.

When the last guests boarded the north-bound train, they left behind a group of newly-chosen sisters who will never forget, and who will always aspire to great things for Gamma Phi Beta.

From a Birmingham Paper

THE lovely Munger home in Arlington was the setting for a pretty tea Saturday afternoon when the members of the new chapter of Gamma Phi Beta were at home to the faculty and friends of Birmingham-Southern College.

The guests were received in the spacious living room by Mrs. A. C. Montgomery, the charming patroness for this sorority; Dr. and Mrs. Guy E. Snavelly, Miss Marie Harrison, Mildred Mays, and Gwen Heilman.

The tea table was beautifully appointed in crystal and silver and a unique color scheme was carried out in the flowers and decorations. Mrs. Perry W. Woodham and Mrs. J. Forrest Kimball poured tea. A huge reproduction of the sorority pin was suspended in the dining room and was an effective feature. Members of the active chapter assisted in entertaining.

Thirteen charming visitors in the city for the installation of Gamma Phi Beta were honorees at a luncheon given by the alumnae chapter, Saurday, at noon, at the Tutwiler Hotel.

The honorees for this occasion were Miss Gwen Heilman, Chicago, Illinois; Misses Novice Graves, Elizabeth Neely, Carrie Mae Evans, Alma Bennet, Helen Fisher, Alma Dew, Mary James Crockett, Elizabeth Strayhorn, Josephine Cooper, Eleanor Brown, Julia Gibson, and Elizabeth Beasley.

The guests included Mrs. Clare John Thomas, Mrs. H. B. Englebert, Mrs. Perry W. Woodham, Mrs. W. L. Yeilding, Mrs. R. B. Bagby, Mrs. J. Forrest Kimball, Misses Dorothy Blake, Mildred Self, Aurelia Weaver, Martha Mays, Yvonne Moore, Mildred Mays, Malline Burns, Louise Wood, Marion Robson, Jennie Dee Robinson, Catherine Brothers, Margaret Alford, Lena Margaret Powell, Mattie Will Guthrie.

Charlotte Andress, Lucile Griffin, Marie Harrison, Katherine Hunter, Ora Lazenby, Ruth O'Hara, Mary Ruth Pippin, Margaret Tobien, Sara Totten, Elizabeth Wade, Mamie Lowe Walker, Helen Ward, Adah Hausman, Mary Emma Means, Dorothy Summers, Francena Hamilton, and Gladys Turner.

Birmingham-Southern College

BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE is the result of a merger in 1918 of Birmingham College and Southern University.

Southern University was founded at Greensboro, Alabama, on January 25, 1856, under the direction of the Alabama Methodist Conference. With an endowment of $500,000, the university soon became one of the famous centers of education in the Old South. It maintained a continuous existence, with an enviable record in scholarship, until the time of the merger.

On September 14, 1898, the North Alabama Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, feeling the need of an institution of higher learning in the small but growing city of Birmingham, opened the doors of Birmingham College. These two colleges were maintained by the Methodists of Alabama for twenty years.

On May 13, 1918, through the duly appointed commissioners of the two Alabama Conferences, these two institutions were consolidated under the name of Birmingham-Southern College. The institution opened on September 11, 1918, and since that time the growth of the institution has been phenomenal. The endowment has increased 300 per cent, the faculty, almost 500 per cent, and the enrollment has increased over 800 per cent.

Dr. Theodore H. Jack, dean of the Graduate School of Emory University and former president of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, in commenting upon the marvelous growth of Birmingham-Southern College, said, "The greatest piece of constructive work in the field of college education in the South during the past ten years has been done at Birmingham-Southern College by President Snively."

The standards of Birmingham-Southern College have been raised to such an extent that no college or university in the state surpasses it. Birmingham-Southern College is a grade "A" institution in every particular. It is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities. It is a member of The Association of American Colleges, The Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, The Alabama College Association, The American Council on Education, The American Association of University Women, The Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, approved for associate membership, American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

Birmingham-Southern is an endowed institution, having at the present time a productive endowment of over $700,000 and a non-productive endowment, in the form of real estate of $100,000. Recent endowment campaigns have brought in pledges totaling an additional $500,000, which gives a total of $1,350,000 endowment.

In addition to this, the good will of the Alabama Conference and of the North Alabama Conference is a real asset. Indeed, it is a substantial endowment; for the conference levy on their members an annual assessment of $25,000 for the maintenance of the college.

The Birmingham-Southern College campus consists of 125 acres of land, located in a rapidly growing section of Birmingham, and conservatively valued at $1,000,000.

There are eleven buildings, including a $250,000 Administration and Auditorium Building just recently completed, a $75,000 library, a $75,000 Student Activities Building, a $60,000 Science Hall, a $25,000 president's home, a $7,500 dean's home, a Pharmacy Building, and three dormitories. A $60,000 athletic field, having one of the finest cinder tracks in the South, is located on the campus.

Birmingham-Southern College is facing at the present time, the brightest period of its almost three-quarters of a century of existence. Located in the very heart of the famous Birmingham district, conservatively estimated to contain the richest mineral deposits on earth, the college truly embodies the principles and ideals of the New South. Here, on the industrial frontier of the world, in the Magic City of the South, a city whose population has increased from 38,415 in 1900 to 261,080 in 1927, almost 700 per cent, Birmingham-Southern is taking advantage of every one of a thousand golden opportunities, which are continually offering themselves, and is building for Birmingham and the south one of the truly great educational institutions of the world.

History of Lambda Chi Sigma Sorority

LAMBDA CHI SIGMA Sorority of Birmingham-Southern College was founded on November 4, 1926. The preliminary work of foundation was embodied in the activities of three girls during the summer and early fall in 1926. Complete plans of organization, however, took place on Thursday evening, November 4, 1926, at 616 South Fifty-second Street, Birmingham, Alabama.

Petition to the faculty for permission to found Lambda Chi Sigma as a local sorority on the campus of Birmingham-Southern was presented at the regular faculty meeting on Tuesday afternoon, November 2, after having been approved by the Committee Student Organizations on October 20.

The idea of foundation was first conceived by three of the ten organizers; namely, Louise Keily, Mattie Will Guthrie, and Nelle

Townsend. Lambda Chi Sigma was founded for the express purpose of petitioning a strong, long-established, national sorority such as would be considered a reward for untiring efforts in the building of a strong compact local organization. In keeping with the progressiveness of the institution which sanctioned its being, Lambda Chi Sigma aspires to affiliation with a national which carried on to greater extent the high ideals embodied in the local.

Four charter pledges, Dorothy Blake, Sarah Trotter, Iris Martin, and Margaret Randle were pinned on November 4. Public announcement was made on November 5. Fraternities and sororities established at Birmingham-Southern immediately began to show their friendliness and make Lambda Chi Sigma feel welcome as a unit in fraternity life. On November 5 Woman's Panhellenic Council extended an invitation to membership. The first entertainment given in Lambda Chi Sigma's honor was a tea on Thursday afternoon, November 11, by the Women's Panhellenic Council.

From its organized beginning with ten members and four pledges, Lambda Chi Sigma has grown into a compact group of thirteen actives, eight pledges, and twelve alumnae members, each fully aware of and impressed with the lofty, practical, and true spirit of sisterhood, pledged to a common high ideal of national affiliation.

With "service" as the crown of its ideals, Lambda Chi Sigma selected and chose its members. The charter members were girls prominent in social and student activities, and who encouraged such activity within the group.

With the activities of the charter members before them, each succeeding pledge has felt impelled to work for her Alma Mater to the best of her ability and has been required to have credit for at least one student activity before initiation. There is a Lambda Chi Sigma representative in practically every campus organization, honorary, literary, and social.

Scholastically, Lambda Chi Sigma rated above the average, was second during 1926-27, and led with highest average in 1927-28. On September 14, 1928, Panhellenic Council presented the scholarship loving cup to the local because of its scholastic honor of the previous year. Each pledge is required to make an average of eighty on one semester's work before initiation.

The Installation of Alpha Sigma

RANDOLPH-MACON'S campus was sound asleep; it slept calmly and uninterrupted in the bright September sunshine. Every whisper inside the building echoed and re-echoed as though through the corridors of a long deserted castle. But early one morning the sleeping campus was suddenly electrified. A small group of girls had returned before even the most audacious freshman had put in an appearance. They dashed around with excitement, anticipation, and the brightest of faces. And well might their faces be bright for this was the eagerly awaited week-end when Delta Sigma Upsilon was to become the Alpha Sigma Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta.

Charlotte R. White and Gwen Heilman were in charge of the installation services, assisted by eight members of the Upsilon Chapter. The first time we met officially was for the examination in the afternoon. Immediately afterward we were pledged. That evening the brand new pledges with their guests had a delightful dinner in a cozy tea room just off campus.

At nine o'clock that evening the Delta Sigmas were sent to bed with strict orders to go right to sleep and were promised that they would be called early the following morning. The girls from Upsilon and Delta Sigma Upsilon had a whole dormitory to themselves which created an atmosphere more like a big house party than anything college-like. When we were "put" to bed with promises of being called early we hadn't given a thought to how early that might be. To our surprise at midnight, the magic hour, we were summoned to the initiation, the climax of the week-end and of our life as a chapter.

On Sunday morning seventeen shining new pins glistened on the dresses of seventeen new and exceedingly proud Gamma Phis. Gwen Heilman held a model meeting in the afternoon. In the evening a formal banquet was given at the Virginian Hotel. President and Mrs. Anderson and seven other faculty members were our guests. The theme of the banquet was woven about a Greek temple, the temple symbolizing Gamma Phi Beta, and about us who had so recently entered its portals. The high priestesses, the interior, and the beauty and symmetry of the temple as a whole were subjects for the toasts. The messages from Gamma Phis all over the United States were the biggest thrill; then we appreciated more than ever the broad extent and the great unity of Gamma Phi Beta.

At the close of the momentous week-end, like Janus we looked backward and forward and both views were decidedly happy ones to contemplate. We had an exciting and delightful time but the future held even a greater challenge for our lives as Gamma Phi Betas.

Randolph-Macon College*

THE Randolph-Macon board of trustees was incorporated in 1830, and is empowered by its charter to establish and conduct educational institutions in any part of Virginia. Under this authority it controls Randolph-Macon College for men, at Ashland, Virginia; Randolph-Macon Academy for boys at Bedford and Frontroyal, Virginia, and Randolph-Macon Institute for girls, at Danville, Virginia.

In 1891 the board was entrusted with a large fund raised by subscription in the city of Lynchburg and asked to create a college for women that should offer advantages equal to those of the best colleges for men in Virginia. The purpose of the founders was expressed in the following statement:

We wish to establish in Virginia a college where our young women may obtain an education equal to that given in our best colleges for young men, and under environment in harmony with the highest ideals of womanhood; where the dignity and strength of fully-developed faculties and charm of the highest literary culture may be acquired by our daughters. . . .

The desire thus expressed has been realized by the maintaining of the highest standards.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College is situated in the suburbs of Lynchburg. The campus, originally consisting of twenty acres and now increased to almost sixty, extends from Rivermont Avenue to the bluffs above the James River. It offers ample opportunity for outdoor life while it is still in close contact with the city.

The enrollment for the year 1929-30 was 835 students. The college has a faculty of seventy-five men and women, twenty-three of whom hold the degree, Ph.D.

History of Alpha Sigma

THE Alpha Sigma Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta was colonized in October, 1929, by Page Stone of Upsilon Chapter. A nucleus of thirteen girls started Delta Sigma Upsilon, later enlarged to the number of fifteen. At midyear rushing eight freshmen were pledged.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Helen Hopkins, of Alpha Theta, who was a member of the faculty, Delta Sigma Upsilon progressed rapidly, functioning in well organized form. The chapter was approved by Miss Pansy Blake who made an inspection visit in February.

Plans were made for our installation to take place in September, 1930. By that time the Gamma Phi spirit had been well instilled in the local chapter.

Theta Carries On

THE first chancellor of the University of Denver was Dr. David H. Moore, afterwards a bishop in the Methodist Church, a member of Beta Theta Pi, and author of many songs of that fraternity. In after years, his youngest daughter, Marion, entered the University and became a member of Theta Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. Dr. William Fraser McDowell, now Bishop McDowell of the city of Washington and the first editor of the Phi Gamma Delta magazine, succeeded Chancellor Moore, and his daughter, Olive, after passing her preparatory days in the shadow of the University, joined Iota Chapter at Barnard College. In 1900 came Dr. Henry Augustus Buchtel, also a Beta, as chancellor; and when Mary Buchtel, growing up on the campus and having the opportunity to make her choice slowly and wisely, donned the crescent pin, the chapter counted her pledging one of its greatest triumphs. Chancellor Buchtel was followed by Dr. Heber Harper; and Dr. Frederick M. Hunter is the present head of the institution. Alas! There are no more daughters!

*Marjory Moore
Theta*

Marion Moore now lives in Paris. Olive McDowell died in 1906. Mary Buchtel is holding a responsible position in the Y.W.C.A. in Los Angeles.

But, still, Theta carries on! For, in the college chapter at present are two granddaughters of chancellors, a most unusual happening. Marjory Moore whose father is Judge Julian H. Moore of the Supreme Bench (also a graduate of the University and a member of Beta Theta Pi) and whose mother was Ora Bowman Moore a dearly-loved member of Theta Chapter, is now a sophomore; while Barbara Buchtel, daughter of Dr. Frost Craft Buchtel, one of Denver's most famous surgeons and also a Beta, has just entered the university from Scripps College and has been pledged to Gamma Phi Beta.

Barbara Buchtel

Marjory Moore, with a wealth of lovely auburn hair and the famous Moore eyes, is a most popular co-ed. Not only was she tennis champion of her freshman class but she has won the same honor in her sophomore tournament. She has a quick mind, a fine scholastic record, a never ceasing amount of enthusiasm, and a keen dramatic instinct. In the Gamma Phi Beta play of 1930 she scored an instantaneous success.

Barbara Buchtel illustrates the well-known phrase, "a vivid personality," and we take time to comment upon the Buchtel eyes since they are quite as spectacular as the Moore eyes. (Naturally and loyally all four eyes are brown!) Barbara is the busiest kind of a junior. She has had so much French that the faculty is desperate in its search for more worlds to conquer; she has just been pledged to Quill, the national honor society for literary aspirants; she is property woman for the University Civic Theatre and makes a great success of her job. Also, she is vitally interested in play production and has an illustrated notebook upon her particular presentation, Man and Superman, that is an artistic achievement.

And when Barbara is initiated, another tradition is to be revived. Bishop and Mrs. McDowell sent Olive's pin to Mary Buchtel at her initiation, and she has worn it ever since. The same badge will be pinned upon Barbara at the appointed time.

Theta loves tradition, whether the tradition be that of the annual play or that of the chancellors' daughters, and the chancellors' granddaughters.

Rho Wins First and Second Places in Beauty Contest

IN A recent beauty contest inaugurated by various groups on the Iowa campus, fifteen women were chosen by a campus vote conducted by sales of Hawkeye, the college annual. The photographs of these fifteen were sent to Mack Sennett, movie producer and beauty critic, who made his choice of the first six. Florence Deaton, Rho, '33, of Iowa City, was ranked first, and Polly Thompson, Rho, '32, of Miami, Oklahoma, captured second place. Polly Thompson is said to resemble to a remarkable degree the motion picture actress, Norma Shearer.

RUTH VAN RIPER DICKINSON

RUTH VAN RIPER claimed many college honors—Mortar Board, Woman's Student Government Association, Delta Sigma Beta (forensic fraternity), Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, senior basketball team; but it is her career as a law student that brings her a great and particular distinction.

During one year in Law School, she received the highest grades of any student; and, she was the only woman in the class of 1929 in the Law School, thus receiving from her classmates the cane—traditional symbol of the senior law student. Her election to the Order of the Coif, honor law society, was a climax to her brilliant record, for she is the first woman from the University of Kansas to be chosen for this honor, and very few women in the United States have attained it.

After her graduation in June, she practiced with her father in Dodge City, and in 1930 was married to Mr. Martin Dickinson—also a lawyer. She is living in Kansas City.

MARGUERITE ATTEBERRY

Alpha Delta

Arts and Science Week is one of the biggest and most interesting events of the college year at the University of Missouri; and it was doubly interesting to Alpha Delta since one of the chapter members, Marguerite Atteberry, was a candidate for Queen. Candidates for this honor are always chosen for their beauty, popularity, and, of

CECILIA HAWKINS

Alpha Gamma

Cecilia Hawkins, also from Virginia City, did fine work on the Sagebrush during her freshman year, won a silver loving cup for the best story, and had her name on the honor roll. In her sophomore year, she became literary editor of Sagebrush, received an italic N, was elected to Delta Alpha Epsilon, and was awarded the Azra E. Cheney Scholarship of three hundred dollars for greatest progress in English during the year. Later on, she became historian for Delta Alpha Epsilon, a member of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, and maintained her reputation as a high honor student.

(Since the completion of this paragraph, the editor has learned that the Cheney scholarship again has been awarded to a member of Alpha Gamma—Marian Stone; course, scholarship. Pictures of the five candidates of this year were posted in Jesse Hall until the election on December 6. It was not until the next day that the announcement of the winner was made; and Arts and Science Week came to a glorious finish on Saturday with a banquet and ball. At the banquet, Dean Tisdell of Arts and Science announced to the anxiously awaiting guests the name of the winner; and after the banquet, Marguerite was led to the throne and crowned Queen by Dean Tisdell. She reigned triumphantly as Queen of the ball that followed as the final event of Arts and Science Week.

while Elizabeth Johnstone has won the Alice G. Clark Scholarship of $250, awarded to the worthiest junior of individual ability.)

BARBARA HORTON

A charming little article about Barbara Horton, Alpha Gamma's "little blonde bundle of joy" contains a detailed account of many campus activities which reads "like a chapter roll."

Coming to the university from the famous mining town of Virginia City, she began immediately to accomplish things—reporting for the Sagebrush, the campus weekly and winning the italic N, honorary award given for faithful and effective service, service which continued for three years and terminated with the position of news editor of that publication. In her sophomore year, she was elected to Delta Alpha Epsilon, honorary English society, became

Y.W.C.A. secretary, and won a place on the honor roll for high scholarship, repeating this last activity throughout her college course. Joining the Campus Players, she was cast for a leading rôle in three plays. As a junior, she was recognized as one of the outstanding women leaders on the campus, was elected to Cap and Scroll, an honorary service organization for women, to Clionia, debating sorority, became secretary of the Associated Students of the University of Nevada, a member of the Executive Committee, also of Panhellenic, and of the Frosh Handbook Committee, using her spare time in work on the university year book, Artemisia. Her senior year was distinguished by the position of vice-president of the Associated Students and with it the president of the Associated Women Students. Due to her initiative, the association became the "mother" organization for campus women. She launched the "buy a brick" campaign, the results of which brought several hundred dollars into the fund for Student Union Building. At present, she is holding a position in the office of the industrial commission of Carson City.

From the Editorial Mail Bag

A RECENT LETTER from Charlotte Kellogg, our international celebrity, contains this paragraph of interest: "I've just spread out in heaps, on a long table, the eighty thousand words that have to be revised before the year's end—and my desk is piled high. The 'words' are to be a book, Jadwiga, the story told with as much authenticity as possible, of a Polish queen about whom we have heard little, for she has not yet been done in English. She died about forty years before Joan of Arc appeared and is indeed Poland's Joan.—Did you happen to see my "Mrs. Hoover" in the September Ladies' Home Journal? That I wish you might have time to read. And I had a Poland article in the August Atlantic."

And Maud Hart Lovelace writes:

My work goes on as usual. I finished Petticoat Court in February, 1930, took the month of March for a vacation, and on April 1 began research work on the new novel. That took six months exactly and on October 1, being moved and settled, I began to write. I hope to have the first draft done by the first of the year; then, will take time out; and in the spring begin the second, final version. I love and adore this new book . . . the idea of it . . . but am not at all sure that I can write it as it deserves to be written.

I am enjoying the reactions to Petticoat Court. After a new book comes out, my mail is always entertaining, and this year it reveals that others than myself have long nourished amusement and interest in the court of the Second Empire. A new book, too, often brings notes from scattered Gamma Phis from whom I have not heard for years and Petticoat Court has had that pleasant harvest.

Our acre on Lake Minnetonka continues to be Home to us, but we are enjoying our stay in New York. The contact with other writers is delightful; both of us have a passion for the theater which may be gratified here; and, of course, the city's museums and libraries are wonderfully helpful to me in my work.

Editorials

The College Golf Course

*The sky is bright and our hearts are light,
And it's wonderful golfing weather;
So we'll swing along to a rollicking song
As we take the course together!
And we're very afraid that a freshman maid
Needs a wise old golfer to guide her;
Her grasp will be stronger, her stroke will be longer
If a Crescent caddy's beside her.*

ALL THE world, apparently, is a golf course; and each one of us, putttter in hand, pursues the elusive little ball that is destined for a certain hole. Why not follow the shining ball of sorority life over the carefully planned and symmetrically constructed links of college life?

And first we have the

TEE OFF

A firm grasp, a glance ahead, a steady stroke, and off goes the ball!

The firm grasp? Only attained by the acquisition of the proper freshmen. Freshmen who have promise of fine maturity, who possess the worth-while qualities that make for successful chapter life, who will accept the tradition of the past, add to the endeavor of the present, and plan for the strength of the future.

A glance ahead? Definite planning for the year's responsibilities and achievements, detailed comprehension of the year's budget.

A steady stroke? The determination to begin the college year with the proper proportion of scholarship, activities and social life.

So, off goes the chapter year! Only, of course, there will be

HAZARDS

For who desires a straight, smooth, and absolutely simple course? The hazard of poor scholarship is one to be conquered; the hazard of too many or too few campus activities must be wisely handled; the hazard of too gay a social career demands much discretion and very keen discernment.

And, after the hazard, one may rest

UNDER THE UMBRELLA

Which means all the delights of friendship, of congeniality, of sisterhood. Away from campus duties and campus distractions, there is the chapter circle "where love is so constant and hearts are so kind."

And, finally, we come in sight of

THE EIGHTEENTH HOLE

Interpreted, this means the initial achievement for the freshman, the half-way house for the sophomore, the beginning of the end for the junior, and the shining goal of attainment for the senior.

Perhaps each and every senior will go a little farther until she reaches

THE NINETEENTH HOLE

The Land of the Alumna! And may freshman enthusiasm, sophomore initiative, junior efficiency, and senior loyalty be so mingled and glorified in these newcomers that, in turn, they may strengthen this very vital and necessary force in sorority life.

Convention

*Now, ahead of time, we'll mention
Things pertaining to convention.*

APROPOS of convention, may we make several suggestions to the chapters?

First. Select your delegate with care and discretion. See that she has executive ability; be sure that she can grasp details; give her some power of her own in addition to your instructions; impress her with the importance of representing her chapter; and if possible let the honor go to a member who has worked hard for her group, who has been true and responsive to its slightest need.

Second. Discuss thoroughly in meeting the vital matters to be brought up in convention; argue from both sides; try not to be influenced by narrow, personal opinions but to regard the matter from a broader viewpoint as it may affect the greater life of the sorority.

Third. Be lenient in regard to expansion if the college and petitioners are worthy. If you are fortunate enough to have the word and assurance of a wise alumna, the recommendation of one who is high in authority, yield to it with the consciousness that those who have helped to build the mighty structure of the sorority know best, that they are actuated by the truest and highest motives.

Fourth. Give your support to any measure that will strengthen the financial condition of the sorority. As Gamma Phi Beta grows, her demands are correspondingly numerous; and a well-defined policy is all the more necessary. A fuller treasury will mean a more powerful organization, a more centralized government, and a more worthy magazine.

Fifth. Try to infuse a little of the national life into your own chapter. Send a camera along with your delegate so that you may see for yourselves the representatives of the various sections of the country. Instruct her to bring back the latest chapter songs, the different chapter ideas, and the many details that help to make this biennial gathering of Gamma Phi Beta memorable, invigorating and inspiring.

Panhellenic Knowledge

"Here's to the Greeks and the pins they wear!"

Not long ago, a very enthusiastic member of our sorority was present at a gathering not in her own home city. During the course of the evening, one of the guests spying the Gamma Phi crescent casually remarked, "What is your sorority?" A trifle amazed and quite convinced that "not to know my badge argues yourself unknown," the wearer of the crescent gave the desired information. "Is it national?" was the next question. And yet the speaker herself was a member of an old and prominent Greek-letter society. All of which leads up to the text, Know thyself first, and after that study the Sorority Handbook. If a sorority has no chapter in your college, the more reason that you should learn its history; if you are ignorant of those societies lately admitted into the Panhellenic Congress it will repay you to read of their remarkable growth and achievements. A college woman who is not well versed in the current topics of the day is not true to her heritage; the sorority woman who does not see beyond the boundary of her own province and who is not alive to the existence, the growth, and the attainment of her fellow Greeks may be a loyal but not a progressive member of her order. We talk at length of the Panhellenic spirit. Does not this very spirit of good fellowship demand a knowledge of each other and a vital interest in each other?

Announcements

A SONG BOOK has been substituted for the next CRESCENT. Letters of instruction for the May issue will be sent by the editor.

Mrs. Norman announces another song contest for convention similar to the one held in Kansas City, with the prize of a silver vase to the winner.

Important Announcement

BECAUSE of lack of space it has been necessary to cut the chapter letters.

BROADCASTING over the Gamma Phi Beta international network the latest news bulletin of the 1931 edition of the Song Book.

The new Song Book is to be published as the March, 1931, issue of THE CRESCENT. To make the Song Book of permanent value, convention decided that it is to be loose-leaf in form, thus permitting out-dated songs to be removed and new songs inserted without destroying the value or appearance of the book. To make the Song Book in this form usable it is essential that every subscriber have a binder. Each chapter and association has been sent a sample of the binder to be used. Order your binder now by filling in the attached coupon.

Many Gamma Phi songs originated since the last edition will be found in this edition. Snappy songs! Catchy airs! A song for every occasion! Yes, and you will find many of your old favorites there, too, selected from the questionnaire which was sent to chapters and associations. More than one hundred and fifty songs were sent to the music chairman, but, because of copyright privileges being denied us by publishers, many of these could not be used. We owe sincere thanks to Mr. C. Earl Hovey, husband of Margaret Lodge Hovey, and our patent attorney, who wrote over a hundred letters to copyright owners and advised us in other legal matters.

In signing off, the staff wishes to express its appreciation to all members who contributed songs or co-operated with it in other ways.

ELSIE FRISBEE NORMAN, announcing.

Gamma Phi Beta Playing Cards

In an endeavor to assist chapters and associations to pay their camp and other taxes, International offers them Gamma Phi Beta playing cards at cost. They, in turn, may sell these cards to their members and retain the profit for the expenses mentioned above. Orders from individuals will not be filled by National.

The cards may be purchased in single or double decks of light and dark brown and are made of the best card stock obtainable. Write to your chapter or association for prices and help your group to make a good showing.

Gamma Phi Beta Talleys

The San Diego Association of Gamma Phi Beta offers attractive talleys and score pads at an exceptionally low cost. Write to Mrs. F. F. Evenson, 3337 Elliott St., San Diego, Calif., for prices.
