The Quality of Freedom

by Loren Hickerson,
Director, Community Relations
University of Iowa

Without dissent, the ills in our society could never be corrected and no higher social order ever could be achieved. Dissent is a vital and valid facet of freedom.

But so are standards of social conduct, which lend qualities of excellence to freedom. The distinction between these separate aspects of the free society now seems lost in confusion across the land, including the land of the college and university campus.

As a result, mounting successes are enjoyed by destroyers of standards, hitchhiking on the coattails of freedom to dissent.

In its "purest" state, without sanctions of either law or custom, freedom becomes rotten with impurities. We now seem bent in this country on discovering how "pure" freedom can be made; hence, how rotten.

In its purest state, the right to self-expression implies the freedom to rape, the freedom to kill, the freedom to defy any and every law of man. In its purest state, this freedom implies no integrity, no loyalty, no brotherhood, no idealism, no crutches and no curbs for the human spirit. In its purest state, this freedom indeed would affirm the death of God, in whatever sense we may have come to know God, or might come to know God.

Is this the high quality of freedom to which we now aspire? Ultimately, it is precisely this—if no distinctions are to be made between dissent on the one hand and a pointed concern for the amenities of a humane society on the other.

It is not dissent which is spreading the seeds of decay in American society. It is the corrosive processes which are tending to de-civilize American community life.

The great problems of our land for which solutions must be fashioned—in education, in race relations, in every phase of our international and domestic affairs—will require the most persuasive dissent with every kind of cause of the flaws and failures in our society. But these problems will hardly be solved more deliberately and certainly by loosening standards of social conduct and self-discipline, or by willful alienation of those agencies and institutions whose persuasion is essential to the causes of social progress.

For the social ills reflected by the Watts district of Los Angeles, what solutions are implied in the freedom enjoyed by the hippies in the Haight-Ashbury section of San Francisco?

It is always too easy, it always has been too easy (especially for one of an older generation) to look down any given road society seems to be traveling and to cry, "Doom!" But I share the view of the late Charles F. Kettering of General Motors who once objected to people running down the future. "I expect to spend the rest of my life there," he said, "and I should like it to be a nice place—bright, glistening and glorious."

Where do you expect to spend the rest of your lives? The future of the whole society is something to keep in mind when it is argued, notably on college campuses, that the freedom of self-determination should encompass open dorms, "pot" parties and the writing of obscenities on sidewalks. These are hardly matters of youth vs. age. These are matters of the quality of freedom.

In my old square way, I like to think that the kind of society we are trying to build will reflect an ever broader and higher sense of human dignity, encompassing every calling and race and creed in that human brotherhood which is a shining goal of a true freedom.

If, on the other hand, it is to be a society of freedom without standards of personal conduct, we must learn to accept standards set by slob.

In our apprehensive and self-conscious respect for the freedom to dissent, we are drifting toward a community acceptance of social mediocrity, masquerading in the guises of freedom.

"The art of free society," wrote the philosopher, Whitehead, "consists first in the maintenance of the symbolic code; and secondly, in fearlessness of revision, to secure that the code serves those purposes which satisfy an enlightened reason."

In the fearless revision of our codes, let us not confuse revision with destruction.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

How thrilled I was by the article in the March CRESCENT written by Mrs. Hess! All my life I have looked forward to a career as a full-time homemaker. As a college graduate, however, I have begun to feel the pressure not to "waste" my education by staying at home.

After working for almost three years, I still look forward eagerly to the day when I can begin my "home career." I plan to be married soon and hope that day will follow very shortly. My own mother has dedicated all her talents to her home and family and I shall be forever thankful for her companionship and the experiences we shared. I am convinced our society and our world would benefit greatly from more wives and mothers like this.

I am proud to belong to an organization of which Mrs. Hess is a part. I am inspired and encouraged each time I read her article (and I've read it dozens of times). Please, give us more of this.

DIANE FLETCHER, Gamma Alpha
486 St. Nick Drive
Memphis, Tennessee

TO THE EDITOR:

It was thrilling for me to see the great presentation of my little writing effort you made in the (March) CRESCENT. It seemed to work out well as a counterpart to the leading article, and I am happy you used it.

Thank you for the whole adventure.

JANE DALTON HESS, Alpha Delta
Macon, Missouri

TO THE EDITOR:

Very interested in the lists of "lost" Gamma Phis. Believe this is a really good idea and hope members are writing in about those who are not really lost.

CONNIE SPANIER

2483 44th Avenue
San Francisco, California

TO THE EDITOR:

I wanted to compliment you on the excellent article in the May CRESCENT, "The Sorority Housemother" by Bette Heflin Egbert. It was a fine tribute to those unsung heroines who can really make or break a chapter. Their firm and cheerful handling of both ordinary and unusual situations is generally accepted without much thought when they really should earn great praise.

I still remember the delightful housemother that presided with dignity, humor and firmness when I was at Lambda. The present housemother, Mildred Williamson, is carrying on the highest tradition in graciousness, loyalty and friendship.

I always enjoy the Profile section in each CRESCENT and am sure there are many more Gamma Phi Betas that could be featured if only THE CRESCENT correspondents would send them in. What better way to publicize the tremendous abilities of our sisters.

ANNE ADAMS MOLDREM, Lambda
1426 McGilvra Boulevard E.
Seattle, Washington

TO THE EDITOR:

Upon request of my chapter I have a favor to ask of you. It was told to me by many of the girls and the past CRESCENT correspondent that pictures we send of our outstanding members are overlooked. Therefore, I have a hard time getting pictures because the girls do not want to lose them since they are not even published in THE CRESCENT. Enclosed is one usable picture. I realize how many pictures you have to choose from but if you would print just one picture of an outstanding member in this northeastern chapter, I am sure it would be much appreciated by this chapter of Gamma Phi Beta.

Your kindness would make us very happy.

BARBARA BAKER, Beta Gamma
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, Ohio

THE CRESCENT has certainly never intentionally excluded Beta Gamma girls from its pages and shall watch for them carefully in the future. Please see your one picture on page 51.

TO THE EDITOR:

During a period when the fraternity system is fighting for its life, the May CRESCENT article on governors, congressmen and senators, who, as Greek alumni, are presently in the public service, was a tonic. I am curious how these politicians feel their fraternal roots prepared them for civic service and if THE CRESCENT was implying that Greeks have a greater future in politics than independents.

On one hand, the fraternity offers a cloistered "in-group" status, a chance to be preferred by a selective organization. The fraternity person may be aware of the social inequities of a campus but is rarely affronted by them personally. Is the democratic equality-honed attitude fostered here? On the other hand, the Greek fortified with his group support more often participates in campus politics and is generally the type who can keep up both his curriculum and extra-curriculum successfully. He also learns to live within numerous organizational rules. Is the idea of sacrifice and service perhaps built within these ivy walls?

Possibly fraternity and sorority magazines like our Gamma Phi Beta CRESCENT can best revitalize our lagging public image through articles of this type lauding the successful, contributing members of our society who just happen to be Greek alumni.

ARETA HURLEY FROST, Lambda
President, Spokane alumnae
4108 South Hogan
Spokane, Washington

THE CRESCENT was not implying that Greeks have a greater future in politics than independents. However, the survey, conducted by Stewart Howe, which produced the article was initiated to see if there was a correlation between active participation in campus affairs and continued involvement in community affairs after college days.

TO THE EDITOR:

I meant to congratulate you sooner on the fine issue of the May CRESCENT. The Greek-letter girls found the articles very interesting and informative, as did I.

THE CRESCENT urges its readers to comment on the editorial content of the magazine and on current affairs affecting the campus and fraternity world. # Who Speaks for Today's Youth?

by Robert E. Fitch, Dean
Pacific School of Religion
Berkeley, California

He was giving me a dressing down because, he said, I was getting old and out of touch with the spirit of youth, when I took a second, careful look at him; I saw that he was fat, bald and 40. Now I shouldn't want to argue that being skinny, shock-haired and 60 is a better credential for understanding youth. But all the same I began to wonder: Just who does speak for the younger generation?

Behind me are 20 years of teaching undergraduates in different parts of this country. Besides that, I have just made a visit to the fortieth college campus to invite me to take part in some sort of colloquium with faculty or with students. And during the past year there has been terrific turmoil on the campus of the University of California here in Berkeley, with all sorts of hot-eyed individuals darting about claiming that they are spokesmen for "the students" and insisting that anyone who disagrees with them must be in contempt of "the students." But the big question remains: Who really are "the students"?

The Nonstudents

At any rate—there is one group that does not speak for the students today: the new group of professional nonstudents. Rapidly increasing in our metropolitan areas, it is made up of hangers-on about the campus who in the past have been and who in the future may again be students, but who never enter into that relationship in any significant and responsible manner. Actually they are not quite able to make the grade in either personal or intellectual discipline, but their psyches prompt them to latch onto the academic status symbol. Such persons help convert a Free Speech Movement into a Filthy Speech Movement.

Another group—an eminently respectable, even admirable one—that does not speak for the students—is made up of what we must call the recent youth. These are the young intellectuals between the ages of 21 and 30 who may be graduate students or already occupied in business or the professions but who are no longer a part of the undergraduate complex. Their unwillingness to surrender the illusion that they are still the spokesmen for a younger generation is as pathetic as that of the former football hero now selling stocks and bonds who still likes to dream of himself as the greatest forward passer in the Big Ten—back in 1959. But the generations of youth change rapidly, and the very generation against which current youth is in full rebellion may be that of these recent youth.

One chap to look out for is the professor who makes for himself a career as the self-appointed champion of "the students." Often enough he is there in the background as the manipulative genius behind a "spontaneous" movement for reform of the college folkways. Petitions—and in this fair and free land of ours where can't you get a bunch of people to sign a petition?—suddenly appear from nowhere and become weapons in the intricate power-play of academic politics. Usually the followers of this sort of "prof" are identified as "B____'s Boys." They come faithfully traipsing along to whatever tune he whistles. Meanwhile, they may think that in his classroom they have been learning Shakespeare, or sociology, or theoretical physics—but in the end they discover that they have really learned nothing but him.

Another nonstudent, very much in demand today, is the bug-eyed sexpert who goes about counting the number of virgins on the campus. I was on a panel with one such sexpert who proposed that we should regard as moral progress anything that broke down the barriers between people. But more than one attractive coed has assured me that the problem is not to get the barriers down but to get them up.

Another party who draws a good crowd on campus is the rebel-rouser. He assures the students that the college is not properly preparing them for life, that the faculty is cold and aloof, that their parents have loaded them with all sorts of misleading advice. This kind of talk goes over big because it appeals to two of today's most popular emotions: self-pity and resentment of authority.

Finally we have the simplistic reformer. If he is taken at his best, from Bill Simpson to Joan Baez, he speaks with the power of a deep sincerity and humility. More than once I have gone home from a conference with such a saint troubled in conscience because I could not be more genuinely dedicated to the Lord. But alas! This reformer lives in a beautiful isle of somewhere that knows nothing of the responsibilities of the family, of the state, of rearing children, of paying taxes, of finding one's way through the intricate labyrinth of foreign policies. And my still troubled conscience will not let me leap out of my world to dwell blissfully in his.

The Students

Those who have a special reverence for the I.Q. assure us that the best spokesman for the students is the brightest student. Yet if anything is certain about this student it is that his voice will be an almost perfect echo of the avant-garde members of the humanities and social science faculties.

This student knows that he is an alienated individual, responsible only to himself; that he lives in a world where there are no objective and universal standards of value, that all value judgments are in fact merely emotive; that if he doesn't step lively he will be reduced to a mere cog in the impersonal mechanism of a monstrously automated corporate entity; that it is his duty, by any sort of direct action, to resist the rapacities of an acquisitive society and to explode the pious hypocrisy sies of a stuffy and complacent middle class. How does he know all this? Somebody he admires told him so. Having heard it, he believes it. Believing it, he feels it. Feeling it, he acts it.

If the "great brain" is not always the best representative of his fellows, it is certain that the men are not the adequate spokesmen for the women. During this past year, on three separate campuses (one state university, two private colleges), I discovered that when the students had been asked to vote about visiting one another in dormitories, the girls had voted overwhelmingly in the negative, the men in the affirmative. Yet when the matter was discussed in mixed groups the girls were almost uniformly silent about how they had voted in secret. And in cases where it revealed how the girls had really voted, men were not lacking to argue that this was just an instance of female hypocrisy. So I witnessed an extraordinary phenomenon (is it an age-old one, and more farflung than on the campus?): in affairs of sexual morality the men were quite ready to explain how the women really felt and what they really believed, while the women were reticent in speaking publicly for the men or for themselves.

There is of course and at all times the special interest group. Right now we are likely to find on campus groups for civil liberties or for civil rights, for the political right or for the political left; possibly too a conference for vocational counseling or a league for sexual liberty or an association of atheists for the scientific study of religion. As long as any such group keeps in mind that it is only a part of the student body its interests deserve to be carefully protected. Unfortunately, such groups tend to universalize their claims and their representative functions and to come out with a manifesto reading "We, the Students. . . ." As a matter of fact, most students most of the time are simply interested in sports, studies, members of the opposite sex, and how to get a little more money in their pockets. The curious phenomenon here, however, is that while most special interest groups, thinking only of themselves, are passionate apostles of freedom, they are often ready to resort to coercion in relation to the insensitive multitude, may even seek to enlist the aid of the college administration in exercising it.

As for the duly elected officers of the student body, they may not be perfectly representative of the students any more than Congress is of the American people. But I know of no viable alternative to working through such an institution. Here we have two axioms: It is inexcusable for a college administration to fail to collaborate closely with the student government in dealing with any student problem. It is equally inexcusable for any group of students to claim that the student government does not really represent them, and therefore seek to establish a rump government. Either way lies anarchy, and then despotism.

Alone, Open-Minded, Idealistic

If there is any excellence in college young people it derives from three perpetual features of their condition. For one thing, these students are those who are truly alone. I do not refer here to that sense of "alienation" which is a cult with the more diseased portions of the intelligentsia. A person is truly alone until he has found God, his girl and his job. The college student is detached from what he had in the womb of his family and is in quest of the ideal in these future attainments.

All this gives the student a unique feeling of being a free individual, able to make choices in the absolute, existentialist sense. This is partly an illusion, partly an opportunity. The very lack of commitment makes the student extraordinarily open-minded, accessible to reason, ready to examine ideas on their own merits. Indeed, if there is any Age of Reason for the individual rather than for social history, this is that age. And that is why I have always found it exciting to teach college students, exciting to converse with them.

Along with individualism and open-mindedness there is in the student a powerful streak of idealism only rarely buried in sloth. Today, in spite of a nurture of relativism, existentialism and nihilism, this idealism sends young people into a work camp or a Peace Corps, or into the front line of a fight for civil rights where not only limb but life is at hazard. It inspires students from well-to-do homes to give their time to programs of compensated education for the underprivileged, or to act as friends and counselors to other young people who have tripped and fallen and are trying to make a fresh start. It is even drawing a few thousand into full-time service in Christ's church at a moment when the ministry has suddenly lost the special prestige it enjoyed briefly after World War II. And then there are the millions who, more quietly, take their studies with a new earnestness as they consider what are the values of which they should be the bearers in a better world. Whether these are those who speak for the younger generation I would not know. But I do believe they speak for humanity.

Welcome to Gamma Tau Colony At St. Louis University

Mother's Day had another special meaning for Gamma Phi Beta this year. On that day, May 14, 43 members of Kappa Phi Kappa local sorority at St. Louis University became the Gamma Tau colony of Gamma Phi Beta.

In the dignified luxury of the University Club of St. Louis, alumnae, Greek-letter girls from Phi at Washington University, and international officers gathered to greet the prospective pledges. Elna Erikson Simons, Director of Expansion, and Jean Cline, field secretary, chatted with groups of Kappa Phi Kappa girls, while others were being pledged. Marty Freer, president of Phi chapter, presided at the pledge services. At a social hour following the ceremony, the newest pledges learned more about Gamma Phi Beta. They were particularly eager to learn some of the Gamma Phi Beta songs.

The formal banquet was held at the University Club where table decorations carried out the theme, "Happiness Is." Pink carnations centered the speaker's table and shocking pink, polka-dotted umbrellas on the other tables proclaimed to all that "Happiness is Being a Gamma Phi Beta." Each new pledge found a pink carnation at her plate.

Gladys Hecker Myles, St. Louis alumna, was toastmistress for the evening. She introduced the several distinguished guests who were present: Father Daly, faculty adviser to Kappa Phi Kappa; Miss Nancy Gold, retiring dean of women; Miss Mary Bruemmer, dean of women and several international officers of the Sorority.

Ardis McBroom Marek, Grand President, spoke to the more than 75 members and guests on the values of sorority life.

Many members of Phi and Alpha Delta (University of Missouri) chapters attended the afternoon and evening festivities. Banquet tickets were presented to the Phi girls as a gift from the St. Louis Mothers' club.

The colony will be installed as the Gamma Tau chapter of Gamma Phi Beta late in the fall.

"East of Traverse City," size 24 by 36 inches, is oil on canvas and was hung in the Grand Valley Art Show in Grand Rapids three years ago.

"Late Winter, New Mexico," size 6 by 12 inches, is acrylic, shades of blue and purple. I did the painting from a quick sketch made on the train coming from California. I've made it a habit to carry my sketchbook with me, and now I'm finding time to make use of all the "quickies" I did while traveling for Gamma Phi Beta.

Elizabeth Wheeler Olsen, Gamma Phi Beta Leader

Betty Olsen, the Artist

Betty Olsen, as Elizabeth Arnold points out in the adjacent article, is a woman of many talents. One of the dearest to her heart is painting. Somehow a story about her would be incomplete without showing some of her artwork, pictured on this page. The captions under the pictures were written by Betty to serve as a guide for the editor, but we felt they could not be improved upon. Betty is currently doing an oil painting of a Gamma Phi Beta to be hung in a new dormitory at Kent State University, and she's winding up her work as illustrator for the new standards manual. In a letter to THE CRESCENT, Betty wrote, "Working for Gamma Phi Beta was challenging and rewarding in many ways, but having time to paint is something I've always dreamed about. I'm enjoying every minute of it!"

"Misty Bouquets," six 15 by 28 inches, acrylic on masonite, was hung in the Ann Arbor Art Association show in January 1967.

Betty Olsen is the kind of girl who always says "yes"—to calls from Gamma Phi Beta, that is. The calls have been many and varied, for Betty is a person of wide interest and tremendous talent.

A degree in architecture from the University of Michigan made her a natural choice for supervisor of the building project for Beta Delta at Michigan State when the Olsens lived in Lansing. At the 1954 convention at Mackinac, Betty served as editor of the Crescent Moon, convention newspaper, and spent endless hours on the boat to the mainland taking copy to the printer. No task was too demanding. When she was asked to be chairman of general arrangements for the province conference to be held in the spring of 1955, Betty said, "I'd love to." The pattern was becoming evident.

Betty soon was appointed province collegiate director, and made an early and impressive record. In the summer of 1955, when Lavenia Garvin resigned as Collegiate Vice President in mid-term, the Grand Council turned to Betty Olsen, asking her to fill out the term. The answer was "yes," and thus Betty began her service on Grand Council with two years as Collegiate Vice President, followed by a year as Director of Finance. Betty was indefatigable in fulfilling the duties of her own office, and was deeply interested in all areas of Council responsibility. Therefore it was no surprise that she was elected to the Grand Presidency at the convention of 1958.

After finishing five years on the Grand Council, with such a record of service to the sorority, it might be expected that Betty would retire from active sorority work, but not so. When she finished her term as Grand President in 1960, she willingly agreed to accept appointment as chairman of housing. For seven years Betty has directed us in the building of our houses. Only those who have been the recipients of her guidance know the true value of her contribution. The houses under her supervision stand as memorials to our beloved Betty.

The new edition of the pledge manual, published during Betty's term as chairman of housing, includes sketches of Gamma Phi Beta houses, done by Betty Olsen. Her talent as an artist, contributed freely, is one of the many she has devoted to Gamma Phi Beta.

Betty, as you retire from the housing chairmanship, we wish you joy in your well-deserved freedom from responsibility. Thank you for contributing so much to Gamma Phi Beta's progress.

ELIZABETH FEE ARNOLD,
Past Grand President

Gamma Phis Sail Toward Degrees

Three Gamma Phi Betas shared an unusual college semester at sea aboard the s.s. Ryndam, the world's only floating campus, last spring. Karen Grant, Gamma Gamma, Terry Rackley, Beta Kappa, and Ann Millie, Gamma Eta, were among 435 students representing 42 states and two foreign countries who took part in the unique 107-day voyage sponsored by Chapman College's division of International Education in Orange, California.

The girls boarded ship in Los Angeles February 7 and began their study voyage to South America, Africa and Europe. During their three and a-half months at sea, the students attended classes six days a week and during their days in port, they participated in field trips, lectures and seminars related to their individual fields of study. Approximately 85 courses are offered on the Ryndam, which is equipped with classrooms, laboratories, and art studio, a theatre and a library. The spring voyage marked the fourth semester of operation for Chapman College's campus at sea.

Karen and Terry, representing the University of Wisconsin and Arizona State University respectively, are both junior honor students and are attending the program on partial scholarships. Terry has served Beta Kappa as vice president. Ann is a California State College senior who was formerly treasurer for Gamma Eta.

The girls arrived in New York May 25 after visiting cities in Venezuela, Trinidad, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Nigeria, Senegal, Morocco, Spain, Portugal, The Netherlands, Belgium, France, Denmark, England and Ireland.

On the deck of the Ryndam, three Gamma Phi Betas discuss their next port of call aboard Chapman College's floating campus. From the left are Karen Grant (Wisconsin-Milwaukee), Terry Rackley (Arizona State) and Ann Millie (Long Beach).

Up in the Air at Florida State

Three pretty Gamma Phis, Sandra Craven, Barbara Craven, and Jody Proctor, are literally up in the air with the Florida State University circus, the only collegiate circus in the world. This is the first year of performing for Sandra and Jody while Barbara is a two-year veteran. Barbara has also spent the summer in Calloway Gardens, in Pine Mountain, Georgia, at the summer home of the circus.

Sandra and Jody have learned the Spanish Webb and the Cloud Swing tricks. Barbara has also mastered the Shoot Through, the Double Trapeze and the Quartet Adagio. She was a featured performer in the March home show.

Beta Mu chapter turned the home show in March into a family weekend. On March 18, friends and relatives were entertained at an open house and buffet prior to the evening show. Balloons were placed on the balcony and paper straws created a net in front of the porch. Inside, the girls decorated their rooms with circus animals and clowns.

The Gamma Phis were proud to attend the FSU circus with their guests. Circus performers have done their acts on television programs, such as "To Tell the Truth" and "I've Got a Secret." FSU performers were also three-time winners of "The Ted Mack Amateur Hour."

REBECCA ASHMORE, Beta Mu

Apart, Or Together, They're Twins

Barb and Becky Keller . . . or is it Becky and Barb?

Barbara Keller, Tau, and her twin sister, Becky, an Alpha Delta Pi at the University of Colorado, have tried hard to go their separate ways, but have turned out as identical as twins can be.

After playing the dual role of twins for years, the girls finally decided to branch out when they entered high school. They succeeded and Becky was elected president of the pep club while Barb was a cheerleader. Becky was named to the honor society and Barb was chosen Homecoming Queen attendant.

When it came time for college in 1963, the twins decided to really go different ways. Barb enrolled at Colorado State University where she pledged Gamma Phi while Becky became an Alpha Delta Pi pledge at Colorado. But that's about as far as the difference went.

Both were named outstanding pledge by their sororities. Both were elected to Spurs and Hesperia, junior honorary. Both were tapped for Mortar Board and named to Who's Who. Both majored in chemistry and were student government representatives. And during their senior year, each served as president of her sorority. Becky and Barb graduated in June and are planning post graduate work.

The twins come from a long line of Gamma Phis. They are the nieces of Sally Lee Clayton and Lora Clayton Byerly, both Arizona. They have a cousin, Claire Byerly, who is presently serving as president of Tau chapter.

Adult Education and Helen Gleason

Helen Gleason at work

Many successful young men and women today have Helen Gleason to thank for setting their educational goals and helping to see that they reached them. As Extension Services Director for the University of Michigan, Helen has been responsible for channeling hundreds of students from the Grand Rapids area into the fields for which they were best equipped. She has helped convince many students to return to school or to continue their education.

Among her other accomplishments is an adult education program which she began at Grand Rapids Junior College in 1943. Although only freshman and sophomore courses were offered at first, by 1956 attention had been turned to educating adults at the graduate level. Today any adult interested in educational growth can enroll in the University of Michigan extension courses.

Helen attended the University of Ohio where she received her bachelor degree and the University of Michigan where she earned her masters. A member of the Grand Rapids alumnae chapter, she also belongs to Pi Lambda Theta. She was named by the governor as delegate to the first White House Conference on Aging and was the first woman to receive the office management merit award given by the Grand Rapids chapter of National Management Association.

Glen Ellyn Area Alumnae Chapter Is Installed

The formal installation of the Glen Ellyn Area alumnae chapter took place at a May 23 meeting at the home of Karen Martin Talbot in Wheaton, Illinois. The installation was conducted by Mrs. William Flynn, province director.

The event was the culmination of five months of planning by chapter members from Glen Ellyn, Lombard, and Wheaton, Illinois. Mrs. Phyllis Way Boardman, president, was originally instrumental in organizing the group, and her enthusiasm has been contagious. Twenty-two alumnae were present for the ceremony.

Elected officers are: Phyllis Way Boardman, (Illinois) president; Betty Kass Pearson, (Wisconsin) vice president; Sudie Walker Maher, (Washington) treasurer; Margaret Cochran Thornburg, (Iowa) corresponding secretary; Cynthia Brunston White, (Colorado) recording secretary.

In addition to the officers, charter members of the new chapter are: Margaret Irvine Allen (San Jose State); Linda Johnson Babcock (Bowling Green); Adele Dovey Bailie (Nebraska); Patricia Nichols (Minnesota); Ruth Tetzlaff Bruce (Northwestern); Jane MacCuaig Cory (Nebraska); Marilyn More Kulow (Ohio Wesleyan); Joan Kunter Marseille (Northwestern); Joan Normington Meyer (Northwestern); Eleanor Beyer Patterson (Bradley); Patricia Miller Rose (Kansas); Sally Diener Ruxton (Wisconsin); Carol Kreer Spangler (Southern Methodist); Karen Martin Talbot (Miami); Linda Binford Thomas (Indiana State); and Martha Innis Zumbrook (Illinois).

Also attending the meeting and installation were: Annabel Etherton Bergman (Illinois); Elinor Youngen Supernau (Lake Forest); Fode Lindley Wright (Lake Forest); Betty Wright Smykal (Illinois); and Vernalee Burpo Sharp (Illinois).

Suzi Fahey, Designing Woman

Suzi Dunham Fahey, a Tau graduate of Colorado State University, is a pert, petite 24 year old commercial designer of Valentines and other greeting cards for Hallmark cards.

In two years, Suzi advanced from trainee to creative artist to creative designer. She is in the top echelon of 40 artists among Hallmark's art staff of 50.

In 1966, Suzi was sketching Valentine hearts for this year's market at her drawing board in the mammoth Hallmark headquarters in Kansas City. The sentimental season touched her at this time. In February she met her own Valentine; a young speech therapist who was talking about doing graduate work at Colorado State University.

In November, Suzi asked for a leave of absence and in December she married Ronald Fahey, who is now studying speech pathology on a fellowship at CSU. So Suzi is living in Fort Collins again. She is continuing her card designing at home, sending her sketches by mail to Kansas City. Working at home is new to Suzi, but she hopes to develop a routine equal to an eight-hour day.

Suzi specializes in humor, with cartoon type drawings of people and animals. She works quickly with artists crayons, felt tip pens, and brush on colors. She prefers simple, two-dimensional designs. "I work flat, rather than rounded, shaded effects."

Suzi said she likes the group approach to gathering ideas, such as four artists and two writers joining in a creative brainstorming session, where everyone tosses out ideas and no one criticizes. "It's a lot of fun," said Suzi, "the artists sketch funny drawings and the writers come up with the silly verses. Sometimes we really get new ideas."

Suzi Fahey reaches across her drawing board for another color to add to her latest greeting card design. Color her happy.

Suzi has designed Valentines for the 1968 season, using a new kind of fold out card, which was created during a brainstorming session. Completed plans for "pop-out" and "fold-out" cards may originate in the mechanical design department. Then the artist puts on the finishing touches. Suzi enjoys mechanical things and once designed a "punch-out-stand-up" zoo for children.

The artist's part of card design takes anywhere from 3 to 20 days. "It takes me 3 or 4 days to do a card, if everything goes without a hitch," says Suzi.

Most cards at Hallmark are lithographed. Some are put through a silk screen process, others are embossed, die cut, gold leafed or flocked.

Christmas is the biggest greeting card holiday and Valentine's Day is runner up. Cards which Suzi is doing now will be printed in April or May and sent to the dealers in October and November for sale in February, 1968. Some may be held until 1969.

Now as a young wife and working girl, Suzi sums it up, "Where ever I am, I know I'll be drawing!"

Enthusiastic Educators In Argentina, Hawaii

Elizabeth McGuire Tapscott, known to the Phoenix alumnae as Liz, is a Gamma Phi who has made a name for herself as an enthusiastic alumna and a prominent career woman in the field of education.

After obtaining her teaching certificate from the University of Arizona, she began study at Arizona State University where she earned her Master's degree. After graduation she joined the state Department of Public Education as director of elementary education and later became coordinator for P.L. 89-10 which entailed helping to approve the use of federal funds for state school districts' programs for educationally deprived children.

When her husband, Bill, was transferred to Hawaii, she found a similar position on the islands, and is now program director for P.L. 89-10 for the Hawaii Department of Education in Honolulu.

Beverly Snow Cramb (San Diego State) was at home in Buenos Aires this summer as she and 15 of her Spanish students at Newport Harbor High School in Newport Beach, California spent three weeks with Argentine families as part of a foreign exchange program.

Liz Tapscott

Beverly Cramb

Beverly is state coordinator for the high school exchange program and director of the Newport Beach program which allowed 16 Argentine students to spend time in the homes of American families in February.

Beverly and her 15 students spent five days in Peru before beginning two weeks of educational fun in Argentina. After moving into their own South American homes, the 16 travelers had many exciting experiences including weekends on private ranches, an airplane trip to the city of Mendoza and the opportunity to meet Argentina's president at a personal reception.

A Between-Convention Report

When lines of communication are kept open, no matter what the enterprise, one finds the development of a fine rapport among the workers. This leads to harmonious progress, whether in a business, a service, or, in this case, Gamma Phi Beta.

Your Grand Council has worked diligently over the past year to keep all lines of communication open . . . to keep officers and the general membership well informed, and to instill among the collegiate and alumnæ members the importance of working together.

That you may know some of the steps forward which the Sorority has made, it is my pleasure to bring you a brief "Between-Conventions" report.

In the expansion field, which always seems to capture the greatest interest of our members, plans call for the installation of four new Gamma Phi Beta chapters during the 1967-68 school year. These will be at Auburn University, Drake University, St. Louis University, and Western Michigan University. Such an ambitious program has been made possible because of the highly successful field secretary program. Three new field secretaries have been named for the coming year, and two of last year's secretaries are continuing their service to Gamma Phi Beta in the Central Office. Their work with colonizations and pledge training results in the establishment of strong new units of the Sorority.

The alumnæ chapter roster continues to grow and the Alumnæ Vice President reports the installation of five new chapters during the year.

Under the supervision of the Director of Finance, five area financial advisers have been named and, since early spring, have visited numerous chapters which needed financial guidance both in the general operation of the chapter and in housing. These advisers are experienced in finance and have received training in chapter finance and house corporation board operation.

A pilot plan for the training of chapter alumnæ advisers was initiated at some of the Province Conferences and it is the hope of Grand Council that we may be able to increase the scope of training for these advisers.

Officers Training School for all province directors and some committee chairmen was held in Iowa City in August. Such schools have been of immeasurable benefit to those devoted Gamma Phi Beta directors who serve as the important link between the chapters (both Greek-letter and alumnæ) and the Grand Council. Their efforts in directing chapter activities, solving problems at the local level, inspiring and helping the chapters are deeply appreciated. Their excellent reports keep the members of Grand Council in close touch with each chapter and many of the individual members.

Two new positions have been established in Central Office, those of director of collegiate programs and the assistant director. These officers were deemed necessary to lighten the load of the office of Collegiate Vice President.

Much of the improved services to chapters and enlarged training programs for officers has been made possible through the increase in dues, voted at the past convention. It should be noted that through the system of national billing of all alumnæ members, 1000 more alumnæ have paid national dues.

This report could touch only briefly upon a few of the accomplishments of the year and it is to be hoped that these bits of news will make you feel closer to the international picture.

The year has been a challenging and stimulating experience for your Grand President, and to a splendid corps of officers, I offer my sincere appreciation and deep gratitude for their selfless service to Gamma Phi Beta.

Council Names New Leaders

VIRGINIA SHANNON (Northwestern) is another Gamma Phi Beta who has always known where she was going. When she was a little girl in Evanston, Illinois, she became acquainted with the Willard Wheelers who lived down the street. One day she came home and told her mother (who is a Kappa Kappa Gamma) that when she grew up she was going to be a Gamma Phi Beta like Mrs. Wheeler. And, she did. Now she is the newly appointed collegiate director in Province XIII.

Ginny pledged Gamma Phi Beta at Northwestern, and later went to New York City to study voice with Kathryn Meisle and was coached by Stuart Ross. During this time she worked for Goodson-Todman, producers of "What's My Line," "I've Got a Secret" and "To Tell the Truth."

In 1961 she married husband Donald, then on the audit staff of Price Waterhouse. While he studied for an advanced degree at the University of Chicago, she became active in the Evanston alumnae group. Last year when he transferred to Duke as a Ph.D. candidate, she helped organize our new alumnae chapter in Durham. The Shannons' pride is two-year-old Stacey Eileen.

Ginny is a soloist at the Duke Memorial Methodist Church and in the Durham Civic Choral Society. She has played leading roles in Theatre Guild productions and has been recently elected to the board of that group. Of her new job, Ginny says, "My husband and I both love working with the students, so I'm especially looking forward to getting to know and work with the Gamma Phi Beta girls."

CHARLOTTE HAMILTON MASON, newly appointed alumnae director of Province IV, was initiated into Beta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta at the University of Michigan. During college days she was rush chairman for Beta and amassed many honors on campus: Alpha Lambda Delta, Wyvern, Mortar Board and women's editor of Michiganensian yearbook.

As an alumna she worked with the Detroit alumnae from 1946 to 1950 and was a founding member of the Jackson (Michigan) alumnae chapter in 1953. She has served on the Beta corporation board for 11 years and has served as secretary and president of the Jackson City Panhellenic.

Husband Frank, a graduate of the University of Michigan, is in insurance in Jackson. Son Tom graduated with highest honors in history from Kenyon College in 1966 and is now serving with the Marine Corps in Morocco. Son Mark is a sophomore at Jackson Community College.

Always active in churchwork and D.A.R., Charlotte says

when there is time she enjoys bridge, needlework and genealogical research.

JOAN BERCHTHOLD RICHMOND, alumnae assistant editor of THE CRESCENT, brings to her new position all the qualifications an editor could desire. A graduate of Pennsylvania State University where she was a member of Alpha Upsilon, Joan has spent her graduate years in journalism. Until the birth of their first child in 1955, she worked in radio where she did a half-hour woman's show, wrote special programs and did continuity.

When the children were small (the two girls are now 10 and 12), she did free-lance writing at home and has had several articles in Child Life Magazine and American Baby. When the children became schoolgirls, she again returned to her profession, this time in television and public relations work. She is currently employed by the Continuing Education division of Penn State where she prepares public information releases for all news media.

Husband Clayton, Alpha Sigma Phi, is a engineering graduate of Penn State and is branch manager for Sinclair Refining Company in Marcus Hook.

Joan approaches her new job on THE CRESCENT with enthusiasm and a world of new ideas. We'll be looking forward to great things on the alumnae pages.

RUTH ANN OLSON KANA, collegiate director in Province IX, has all the energy it takes to travel around Oklahoma and Louisiana to help our collegiates. A graduate of the University of North Dakota where she was a member of Alpha Beta, Ruth Ann majored in occupational therapy. Husband Darrell is a petroleum computing engineer for Cities Service and they have two children, Robin, 8 and Darren, 5.

For the Bartlesville (Oklahoma) alumnae she has served as rush chairman, treasurer, president and chairman of the Bartlesville luncheon at Convention in Hot Springs. She is starting her second term on the Pre-teens committee of the YWCA and her fourth year as a second grade Sunday school teacher in the Lutheran church. She led 20 lively little girls in her Brownie troop last year and in her spare time she goes to meetings of her church circle, AAUW, Mother's club, and bridge club. She loves to sew and swimming is still her favorite sport. A versatile alumna like Ruth Ann will be a real inspiration to the collegians under her guidance.

The New Field Secretaries

Bonnie Allen

Marilyn Bachnik

Claire Danielson

BONNIE ALLEN, Psi, comes from a long line of Gamma Phi Betas and has been active in Gamma Phi and on the Oklahoma University campus for the past four years. A journalism major, she served as campus editor of the student newspaper, vice president of the Student Press Association and was a candidate for Miss Journalism. On campus, she was active in the student senate, the student conduct committee and the Engineer's Club. She served Panhellenic as public relations director and chairman of the 1964 Pledge Convocation. Bonnie led Psi chapter as president, vice president and activities chairman. She also served as pledge class president and received the outstanding pledge award in 1964. She attended the Hot Springs International Convention where she served as banquet co-chairman and Crescent Moon reporter.

MARILYN BACHNIK, Gamma Rho, is an active Gamma Phi from Wisconsin State University. She served her chapter as vice president, rush chairman and parliamentarian. She worked with the senior class steering committee and was a justice on the Student Court. Extremely active in student government, Marilyn served as a representative during her freshman and senior years and as class president her sophomore and junior years. During her four year college career, she also worked with the constitution and finance policy committees. A June graduate, she is looking forward to beginning her new duties as a field secretary for Gamma Phi Beta.

CLAIRE DANIELSON, Beta Psi, received her B.A. in English from Oklahoma State University in June. As an undergraduate, she proved outstanding in scholarship, leadership and service. She graduated with a 3.8 on a 4.0 system and was a member of Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Tau Delta, Kappa Delta Pi, Orange Quill (sophomore honorary) and Orange and Black Quill (junior honorary). She worked on the campus literary magazine as editor and associate editor and served AWS as corresponding secretary and a member of the legislative and executive boards. She was elected to Who's Who and the President's Honor Roll and was chosen one of the top ten seniors on campus. Equally active in Gamma Phi Beta, she served Beta Psi as president, pledge trainer and assistant scholarship chairman. Claire is a Gamma Phi daughter and has a sister who, of course, is also a Gamma Phi Beta.

When Old Secretaries Retire, They Go to Central Office

Upon completing a successful year of traveling for Gamma Phi Beta as field secretaries, Jean Cline, Gwen Tolmie and Sammy Zwanig are hardly giving up their Gamma Phi activities altogether. Two of the three will be working in Central Office.

Jean has been appointed Director of College Programs, a newly-created position under the jurisdiction of the Collegiate Vice President. She will be directing the pledge program, supervising the field secretaries and handling applications for new secretaries. She will also keep tabulation on new pledges and the number initiated each year. Jean's position will involve some traveling, too. She will work with new chapters to make sure that they are progressing favorably and will continue to work with the Director of Expansion on colonization.

Gwen will be assisting Jean in the direction of college programs. She too will be traveling and will be making several chapter visits during the rush season. For the remainder of the year, she will act as pledge trainer for the new Gamma Phi colonies and will direct officer training programs for several Greek-letter chapters.

Sammy will be returning to a former occupation—that of a student. This fall she will be completing the fifth year required for her teaching certificate at San Jose State College.

As Jean, Gwen and Sammy leave their positions as field secretaries, Gamma Phi Beta extends its heartfelt thanks for their year of service to the Greek-letter chapters.

It's a Small World! Gamma Phis Study Abroad

As the world seems to be getting smaller, more and more Gamma Phis are becoming true travelers. Several greek letter girls are spending part of the their college careers studying abroad.

Four girls, Cathy Butts, Patricia Mueller and Lyn Tomlison, all Alpha, and Kathy Ewing, Chi, recently spent a semester in Italy while Barb McDonald, Alpha Delta, studied several months in England. Dorie Boynton, Beta Delta, is in Ethiopia and Kathy Brady, Rho, in India, both working for the Peace Corps. Several Alpha Theta girls will be studying abroad this year. Susan Blair, Pat Johnson, Cindy Lee and Ann Yingling will be in France, Marilyn Morris and Harvey Cunningham in Germany, Sara Segrest in Spain and Mary Ann Spears in Mexico. Diane Lindgren, Gamma Epsilon, has received a scholarship to study in France, Diane Grinkwich will spend this school year in England and Susan Waltz, Psi, will participate in a journalism field study in Peru. Beta Rho is well represented in study abroad programs. Sally Puckett and Marille Brown will study at Bordeaux this year, Mary Fetter at Madrid, Meredith Hart at the University of East Anglia. Barb James in Strasbourg and Jill Nilson in Copenhagen. Germany has attracted Terry McCracken, Beta Epsilon, and Mary Kull, Gamma, while Sandy Voran, Alpha Mu, and Robin Denton, Alpha Iota, chose to study in France. Sheila Carr, Alpha Xi, spent her junior year in Madrid and Bev Roy represented Alpha Iota in Italy during the past school year.

With Badge and Baggage

by Jean Cline

Director of College Programs

Pretty, pert Jean Cline in Central Office

"A friend is a gift whose worth cannot be measured except by the heart. At this time . . . I want to thank you for giving me your friendship. It has been and always will be, a priceless treasure." I certainly have found this to be true and have made many new, wonderful friends this year while traveling for Gamma Phi Beta. Besides meeting the Greek-letter girls and alumnæ, I have seen a major portion of the United States.

One of the first things I was asked was, "Where are you from and where did you go to school?" Many girls had never heard of Moscow, Idaho and the University of Idaho. The best reply was, "Isn't that the state right next to Tennessee?" People know Idaho for our potatoes (although one time I was asked if we were the corn state) but don't realize that we claim Sun Valley and a tip of Yellowstone National Park.

The next question I was asked as a traveling (or field secretary as we have just recently been named) was, "Just what do you do?" My standard answer was that generally we help with rush and exchange ideas with the officers. William S. Zerman in the April 1967 issue of Banta's Greek Exchange stated that a well-trained field secretary will have interest in "administrative efficiency, campus and community service, chapter administration and organization, care of house and grounds, extracurricular activity participation, feeling for general fraternity, finances, alumni relations, hospitality, intramurals, personnel compared to the campus, personnel compared to the general fraternity, pledge education program, post-initiation training program, publications, relations with other fraternities on the campus, ritual, rushing, singing, scholarship, social activities, spirit, university relations, and unity." As you can see, there are an infinite number of areas of concern.

I had the privilege of helping the Baton Rouge Gamma Phis move into their new house (featured in May 1967 CRESCENT). Those of us who live in a sorority house take for granted many things that to girls in a new house are untried experiences.

For example, these questions were posed at the first dinner: "where do we sit", "which way do we pass the food", "what do we sing before, during, and after dinner"? It was fun sharing the novel experiences with them.

Another privilege I had which I thoroughly enjoyed was the opportunity of starting two new chapters for Gamma Phi Beta, Gamma Sigma in Kalamazoo and Gamma Tau in St. Louis, Missouri. Our newest colonies presented two different situations: a completely new colony (like Kalamazoo) must in a short period of time elect officers, and organize into a workable, cohesive group while building loyalty to Gamma Phi Beta through their pledge training. However, in a local (like St. Louis), the girls are already organized and have officers so their main focus is on learning about Gamma Phi Beta.

During my chapter visits, I was fortunate enough to be able to attend two pledge sneaks, several Gamma Phi Beta dances, and many other chapter events. I also enjoyed attending our national convention in Hot Springs and three Province Conferences. To go into detail or even begin to tell you all the wonderful times I have had this year would make a good-sized book and time and space limit this.

Having completed one year of traveling for Gamma Phi Beta, I couldn't have asked for a more fulfilling experience. My traveling territory has not been limited to one area or state for I have been west to California, south to Florida, east to Pennsylvania and north to Canada covering many states in between. No matter what your major is or what college you attend, if you enjoy people, love your sorority and recognize the benefits of traveling through the United States and Canada, then you should apply for the job of field secretary.

If you are interested, why don't you drop a line now to: Director of College Programs, Central Office of Gamma Phi Beta, Box 186, Kenilworth, Illinois 60043.

We'll be looking forward to hearing from you.

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation

Our Foundation accords to Gamma Phi Betas everywhere a purposeful means for building deeper and stronger foundations for their chapters and for those young women who need that extra help in order to realize their educational goals.

The scholarship committee of the Foundation directs the present program which includes the Lindsey Barbee Fellowship, the Leola Neal Award, the Constance Syford Award and the Kathryn Herbert Winchester Scholarship.

The Scholarship Committee

The scholarship committee is staffed by five alumnae, all experienced in this phase of Gamma Phi Beta activity.

Fay Deupree (Oklahoma), secretary of the first Board of Trustees of the Foundation in 1958, has been chairman of the scholarship committee since 1966. Fay served as Director of Expansion from 1954 to 1956.

Kathryn H. Winchester (Denver), vice chairman of the Board, was elected to the Foundation in 1962. She serves on the subcommittee for the Kathryn Winchester Award, named in her honor.

Mary Thom McCurley (Goucher), former Director of Vocational Guidance at Goucher, has served as International Vice President of Gamma Phi Beta, scholarship chairman and Director of Expansion from 1958 to 1962.

Orra Spencer Reid, past Grand President, is presently serving the Sorority as historian. She will supervise the granting of the Lindsey Barbee Fellowship.

Helen Berg Kline (Oklahoma), scholarship chairman of Gamma Phi Beta, serves as liaison between the Foundation and the Greek-letter chapters.

Fay Deupree

Leola Neal Award

Judy Stewart, an Alpha Gamma Delta at the University of Manitoba, won the Leola Neal Award for academic excellence this spring.

During her college career Judy has amassed many honors on campus: the Rose Bowl for activities and scholarship, the Alpha Gamma Delta plaque for highest scholarship and the Zeta Tau Alpha trophy as the "Outstanding Sorority Woman on Campus."

Academically she has been awarded three scholarships: the General Motors of Canada (three years); Isbister and Kappa Kappa Gamma scholarships.

As president of Science Women's Athletics last year, she was on the faculty council and she presided over the Faculty of Science in 1965-66 as Snow Queen.

Her new $100 grant from Gamma Phi Beta is named for Dr. Neal, dean of women at the University of Western Ontario and a Gamma Phi Beta who has consistently promoted higher scholarship among sorority women. The award rotates among the Canadian universities and is open to members of all Panhellenic groups.

Judy Stewart

Alumnae Opportunity to Serve

Since the number of scholarships that can be granted is directly related to the rapidity with which the Foundation is able to build its resources, alumnae support is urgently needed. Those who have not yet contributed to the Foundation's growth can help our progress by making gifts this year. Participation by every member, regardless of the size of the gift, is the key to our future.

Mary Kay Dorman Kabler (right), international convention chairman, seems to be having no trouble convincing Ruth Tucker Dawson (left), Province XIV alumnae director, and Beatrice Hill Wittenberg, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate, that they will have the time of their Gamma Phi Beta lives at our fifty-third International Convention at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena—June 23-29.

For the Time of Your Gamma Phi Beta Life

Seated in a sunny corner of the Ship's Dining Room overlooking the flower-filled Oriental Gardens at the Huntington-Sheraton, these three Gamma Phi Betas spent hours planning "fun in the sun" activities for members and their families at our 1968 California Convention.

Among those plans are special training sessions for Greek-letter presidents, alumnae chapter presidents, alumnae advisers, corporation board members, and Panhellenic representatives. Special activities are underway for husbands and families; gala nights in the poolside gardens, sight-seeing trips, ritual services, inspirational banquets, mother-daughter parties are all on the agenda for everyone to enjoy!

And there'll be time—time to stroll across the Picture Bridge where you can "tour" the entire state of California in beautiful oil paintings with charming descriptive verses by Don Blanding. There will be time to snap pictures as you admire the Oriental Gardens, the Horseshoe Gardens, or wander around the more than 20 acres of the hotel grounds. Once again we will have many free luncheon periods with time for a snack and a dip at pool side—even time for a quick nap!

Planning her second Gamma Phi Beta Convention is even more exciting than planning for Hot Springs, Mary Kay told Bea and Ruth. Perhaps it's the beautiful setting and facilities of the Huntington. Perhaps it's the lush and exciting Southern California atmosphere. Perhaps it's just that the Province XIII and XIV hostess chapters are so enthusiastic! At any rate, Mary Kay and her hard-working Convention committee are making a promise to every Gamma Phi Beta and her family—promising the TIME OF YOUR GAMMA PHI BETA LIFE AT CONVENTION, 1968. See you there!

And, a Host of Hostesses

Never before has a Gamma Phi Beta Convention had as great a number of charming and willing hostesses. Collegiate members from 11 Greek-letter chapters are busy at work making plans for college-girl activities. Thirty-nine alumnae groups are ready to assume their official duties at the Huntington.

The hostess province directors, whose plans are already well underway are, in Province XIII, Mrs. Edwin L. Lasell, collegiate director and Mrs. Cornelia Spanier, alumnae director; in Province XIV, Mrs. Arthur B. Warner, collegiate director, and Mrs. Arch Dawson, alumnae director.

Greek-letter hostess chapters will be Eta, Alpha Gamma, Beta Theta, Gamma Theta, Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Iota, Beta Alpha, Beta Kappa, Beta Lambda, Beta Omega, and Gamma Eta.

Alumnae chapters in Province XIII are located in California,

Hawaii and Nevada. In California are chapters from Berkeley, Contra Costa County, Fresno, Kings-Tulare, Marin County, Modesto, Monterey County, Napa-Solano, Palo Alto, Peninsula, Sacramento Valley, San Francisco, San Jose, South Alameda County, South Peninsula and Stockton. Other hostesses in this area will be the Hawaii chapter from Honolulu and the Reno and Las Vegas chapters in Nevada.

In Province XIV the chapters from Arizona include Flagstaff, Phoenix and Tucson; in California, Bakersfield, Balboa Harbor, Beverly-Westwood, Glendale, La Jolla, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Orange County, Pasadena, Pomona Valley, Riverside Area, San Diego, San Fernando Valley, Santa Barbara, South Bay, Ventura and Whittier.

Join the fun in sunny California for the time of your Gamma Phi Beta life!

Convention Top Brass

PHYLLIS HEDGES SANGSTER was a familiar face at our 1966 Convention in Hot Springs. If you weren't there, be sure to look for this diminutive, smiling and capable Convention secretary-treasurer in 1968 in Pasadena. ■ A new resident of Atlanta, Georgia, where Phi Kappa Psi husband Bill is now director of the School of Civil Engineering at Georgia Institute of Technology, Phyl has carried on her pre-convention duties by means of mail, telephone and sometimes (so it seems) mule train. Beta Theta Pi son Bill, Jr., is a student at the University of Missouri, and Tom and Sarah are happily settled in high school in Atlanta. ■ Look for Phyl at the Huntington-Sheraton next June. She'll be the one with the checkbook and the enthusiasm that marks a loyal, hard-working Gamma Phi Beta.

RUTH TUCKER DAWSON will be on hand to greet you when you check into the Huntington-Sheraton next June. As hospitality chairman, Ruth has directed the pre-convention planning and it is she who will see that you have the time of your Gamma Phi Beta life. ■ She has had a long and devoted record of service to Gamma Phi Beta since her initiation into Alpha Pi chapter at West Virginia University. In Southern California she has worked as program chairman, vice president and president of the Pasadena alumnae chapter and was chairman of the sixth annual Greek Theatre benefit in Los Angeles in 1960. She is currently making the rounds of alumnae chapters in Arizona and Southern California as Province XIV alumnae director. ■ We know you will enjoy knowing this "hostess with the mostest" when you arrive in Pasadena.

BETTE GRIMM MURRAY is the talented one who is planning the Panhellenic luncheon for our fifty-eighth Convention. As a delegate to the Pasadena Area Panhellenic Association, she served on its executive board for five years, including one term as president in 1965. ■ After initiation into Theta chapter, Bette spent one summer as a counselor at our Indian Hills Camp in Colorado. She was president of the Pasadena alumnae chapter in 1960, co-chairman of the Greek Theater benefit in 1961 and is currently serving her second year on the corporation board at Beta Alpha. ■ Bette and husband Don, a Carleton College alumnus, enjoy a busy life with their 17-year-old son Keith, who spent last summer in Holland participating in the "Experiment in International Living" program.

BARBARA HAHN RICE, regional convention chairman, will serve as liaison among the 11 Greek-letter and 39 alumnae chapters in Province XIII and XIV who will hostess Convention. ■ Barbara (Denver '50) has enhanced the Stockton alumnae with the experience she gained as vice president and recording secretary of the Evanston-North Shore alumnae where she lived until three years ago. Now her talents are being put to work on the West Coast as vice president of the Stockton alumnae and financial adviser to Gamma Theta chapter. ■ The busy mother of two young children, Barbara tries to fit tennis and sailing into her schedule, and she's always there ready to be a strong right arm for husband Frank, a professor of accounting at the University of the Pacific.

Another day will find us holding our breaths as our bus negotiates the spectacular 17-mile drive overlooking the ocean. We'll visit famous Carmel-By-the Sea, sample products of a famous winery near Monterey, and enjoy the sight, the sound and the smell of central California.

We'll stand in awe gazing up at the gigantic redwoods in Muir Woods, get a taste of the Bohemian life at Sausalito, tour the University of California campus and stop for a party on one of the two California patios of our Eta chapter house. And we won't forget Chinatown, Nob Hill, Russian Hill, the wharf-side cafes, or those famous San Francisco bridges.

Province Conferences Open "Portals to Progress"

On weekends in February, March and April, Province Conferences opened the second phase of our Dynamic Decade, the ten years of preparing for our Centennial celebration in 1974. Each Conference was centered around the 1967 theme, "Portals to Progress." Alumnae and Greek-letter delegates attended joint meetings and separate round table discussions to pool their knowledge on pledge and leadership training, philanthropy, social standards, scholarship and financial obligations. Below are brief reviews of those work-and-learn weekends.

Province I—Burlington

On the first weekend in March Gamma Phi Betas from five Greek-letter and eight alumnae chapters assembled at the Beta Nu house in Burlington, Vermont for the biennial conference of Province I. The activities began Friday evening with registration and a tour of the house. After all the delegates had arrived, the participating chapters exchanged songs and discussed their chapter customs.

Saturday's activities were held at the Cupola Restaurant. After the morning business session, Mrs. Harry Bickford served as toastmistress at the luncheon. Miss Mary Jean Simpson, former dean of women at the University of Vermont, spoke on the history of sororities on the campus and delineated the functions of a sorority in today's society. Dr. Eleanor Luse presented the Gamma Phi Beta scholarship award to Jean Wile. During the afternoon collegiate members discussed scholarship and leadership while the alumnae talked about financing, public relations and cooperation. After a short break for a song fest, mutual responsibilities of collegians and alumnae were discussed at a joint round table.

At the Pink Carnation Banquet on Saturday evening, Mrs. Graeme Reid, past Grand President, spoke on the conference theme, "Portals to Progress." Province awards were presented to Connie Walker of Beta Nu for individual scholarship, Alpha Alpha for efficiency, Beta Nu for chapter scholarship. An alumnae award was presented to the Summit County (New Jersey) alumnae chapter.

A Panhellenic brunch at the Beta Nu chapter house on Sunday morning concluded the weekend activities. Pricilla Short of Beta Nu, in a letter to THE CRESCENT, said, "All the delegates began their trips home bubbling with the ideas and wisdom gained from the Conference."

Province II—State College

A total of 121 Gamma Phi Betas from Gettysburg College, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania State Universities attended the Province II Conference at the Nittany Lion Inn in State College on April 14 through 16.

During the coffee hour on Friday evening in the chapter suite on the Penn State campus, Paula Schempf showed slides of the Sechelt camp in British Columbia.

Miss Anne Sharpe, Morgantown alumna, served as presiding chairman of the business sessions on Saturday. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert M. Hick Jr., Philadelphia, as secretary and Mrs. Paul R. Conway, Washington, D.C., as parliamentarian. During the joint round table in the afternoon, College Park (Maryland) alumnae showed a film which they made with the Beta Beta members. The film tells the story of a girl at the University of Maryland from her days as a rushee through her initiation into sorority membership.

Mrs. James J. Marek, Grand President, was guest speaker at the Pink Carnation Banquet on Saturday evening. Mrs. George Leffler (Missouri) served as toastmistress and Mrs. Edwin E. Tuttle, province alumnae director and Mrs. G. S. Trostle, province collegiate director, presented the awards. Honored were: Gamma Beta, highest scholarship; Alpha Chi, highest scholarship improvement; Alpha Pi, efficiency; Beta Beta and Gamma Beta, philanthropy.

On Sunday, representatives of 27 sororities on campus attended the Panhellenic breakfast at the Inn. Mrs. Thomas Greeley, alumnae adviser, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Eileen Bannard, assistant dean of women at Penn State.

Mrs. Eugene S. Lindstrom (Wisconsin) was chairman of the Conference, assisted by State College alumnae, Mrs. Edward M. Czekaj, Mrs. Jack Madore, Mrs. Melvin Knapp, Mrs. Garth Mercer, Jr., Mrs. Leonard A. Doggett, Mrs. Douglass White and Mrs. Charles Coale.

Provinces III and IV—Bloomington

It was a lovely spring day on March 10 when collegiate and alumnae members from Provinces III and IV gathered in Bloomington, Indiana, to discuss their mutual successes and problems. Beta Phi collegians and Bloomington alumnae were hostesses for the two-day meeting.

Other alumnae at the Province II meeting are, from the left: Mrs. Leonard A. Doggett, a founder of Alpha Upsilon; Mrs. Eugene Lindstrom, co-chairman of Conference; Mrs. Marek; Mrs. Alan P. Phillips, alumnae president and Mrs. George Leffler, banquet toastmistress.

Greek-letter members from all chapters in the two provinces were housed in the Beta Phi home at the top of Greek Hill; alumnae stayed at the Memorial Union Building on campus. Nancy Wesselman, president of Beta Phi, conducted the opening exercises and Mrs. Charles C. Andrews of Detroit, Michigan, was presiding chairman of the Conference.

Alumnae chapters of Bloomington, Columbus and Terre Haute were hostesses for the Panhellenic luncheon in the Frangipani Room of the Union. More than 150 guests heard Mrs. Virginia H. Rogers, dean of women at Indiana University, speak on the value of seeing ourselves as others see us. Mrs. Myra Baker, president of the house corporation, was toastmistress.

Indianapolis alumnae were hostesses for the Pink Carnation Banquet on Saturday evening. Dorothy Vaughn Park was toastmistress and Mrs. Charles Simons, director of Expansion, was the guest speaker. Mrs. Harold Dronberger, province III collegiate director, announced the awards for Province III: Alpha Eta, high scholarship and Beta Epsilon, efficiency. Mrs. Ralph E. Erb, province collegiate director, presented the scholarship award from Province IV to Alpha Omega.

The conference ended on Sunday morning, March 12, after a brunch at the chapter house.

Provinces V and VI—Minneapolis

A workshop for chapter advisers, conducted by Mrs. Frank Hiscock, Collegiate Vice President, preceded the Province Conference in Minneapolis on April 28. Advisers from 10 Greek-letter chapters were on hand early Friday to hear a resume of sorority policy and to participate in an animated group discussion.

The Conference officially opened with a buffet dinner at the Kappa chapter house on Friday evening. During the evening Greek-letter chapters presented original skits and songs. The outstanding original songs award was presented to the delegates from Beta Eta and Omicron.

Delegates from 14 Greek-letter and 13 alumnae chapters were on hand for the opening exercises on Saturday morning, following by a joint round table discussion on pledge training. After a box lunch in the chapter house, delegates again met together to discuss Panhellenic and rush information.

The Pink Carnation Banquet was held on Saturday evening in the large banquet room of the Student Union Building. More than 150 members heard Mrs. Hiscock speak on "Portals to Progress." Province V presented the efficiency award to Epsilon and Province VI honored Alpha Omicron for efficiency. A special award was made to Gamma Rho for outstanding efficiency as a new chapter. Mrs. Ellend Palmer, province alumnae director, presented a monetary award to Gamma Rho because of the outstanding service record of their alumnae.

On Saturday evening the Greek-letter girls attended a program by Peter, Paul and Mary. After an informal continental breakfast at the chapter house on Sunday morning, Province V and VI Conference was officially ended.

Province VII—Wichita Falls

"If a prize were to be given for 'togetherness' and 'Congeniality,' Province VII Conference would have won it hands down!" writes Virginia Forsythe Vint, Alumnae Vice President.

Gamma Iota and Wichita Falls alumnae and mothers greeted and entertained more than 80 delegates and guests at the biennial Province Conference at Midwestern University. Delegates were housed in the newly-completed sixth floor of Killingsworth Hall and business sessions were held at the Student Center on campus.

Delegates arrived on Friday evening, April 21, and registered in one of the large lounges at the dormitory. Skits, songs and informal discussion groups filled the evening as members con-

Carolyn Jones, president of the Greek-letter chapter, conducted the opening exercises on Saturday morning and Mrs. I. P. Nelson, presiding chairman, officially opened the business session. Greek-letter and alumnae round tables during the morning discussed scholarship and campus leadership. Alumnae talked about The President's Book, Gamma Phi Beta manuals and service opportunities open to alumnae.

At the afternoon round tables, collegians stressed successful rushing and pledge programs. Alumnae discussed finance, Panhellenic programs, and recommendation procedures. A joint round table on Greek-letter and alumnae relations concluded the afternoon session.

The Pink Carnation Banquet at Luby's Gourmet Room was a festive highlight of the Conference. Elaine Gentry was toastmistress and introduced Mrs. Edward L. Vint, Alumnae Vice President, who spoke on leadership as one of the most important portals to progress. Chapter awards were presented to Gamma Nu for scholarship improvement, Beta Tau for efficiency and Gamma Zeta for campus participation.

After an early Sunday morning breakfast served by the Wichita alumnae and short business session, Province VII closed up its own private dormitory and adjourned.

Province VIII—Nashville

It can get pretty cold even in Nashville, Tennessee, in late February. The true southern hospitality of Alpha Theta and Nashville alumnae warmed even the five-degree weather that greeted the delegates to Province VIII Conference on February 24. A dinner at the chapter house on Friday night started the weekend festivities.

President of Alpha Theta, Miss Betty Oakley, opened the business session on Saturday morning and gave the official welcome. Mrs. Charles Payne and Mrs. Albert R. Lawson presided at the business and discussion sessions. Mrs. John P. Orwin and Pat Taylor were general chairman for the conference.

Greek-letter round tables discussed scholarship, leadership, pledge training and rush. The alumnae discussed membership and fund-raising projects. After the closing business session on Sunday morning, the sixteenth biennial conference of Province VIII adjourned.

Provinces IX and X—Lawrence

A handsome, colorful banner of "welcome" flew above the front door of Sigma chapter house on Friday, April 14, as the delegates from chapters IX and X arrived in Lawrence. A buffet dinner in the spacious dining room and an informal evening party in the recreation room made getting acquainted a happy occasion. Each Greek-letter chapter presented an original skit and the first-place ribbon went to Alpha Delta for their presentation of "The Featherhood of Birds."

The business sessions and roundtables on Saturday were held in the Student Union at the University of Kansas. Marsha Milan, president of Alpha Delta, was toastmistress at the luncheon hosted by Kansas City alumnae. Miss Emily Taylor, dean of women, spoke on the sororities relationship to university administrations.

The Pink Carnation banquet was held in the Kansas Room of the Union. The tables were colorfully appointed with pink carnations and favors at each place were hand-made egg-shell pin boxes in shades of pink and decorated with jewels. Mrs. Robert Shmalberg, Sigma corporation board president, was toastmistress and Mrs. Martin Greenlee sang two selections accompanied by Mrs. Dean Owens. The featured speaker was Mrs. Edward L. Vint, Alumnae Vice President. Other special guests were Mrs. L. Walton Kabler, international convention chairman, and Mrs. Walter Kline, international scholarship chairman. Mrs. C. Wells Haren, province collegiate director, presented awards to Alpha Delta for improvement, Beta Upsilon for efficiency and Phi for scholarship. A $240 scholarship fund from Province X was presented to Beta Chi for the greatest over-all improvement since the last conference. In Province IX Mrs. Philip Thurston, province collegiate director, presented awards to Beta Omicron for scholarship, Beta Psi for efficiency.

Province XI—Laramie

the chapter house in Laramie. After a buffet breakfast on Saturday morning, the 72 delegates and visitors convened for the opening business session. Laramie and Cheyenne alumnae were hostesses at the luncheon at Knight Hall on the campus of the University of Wyoming. Clever white "portals" (archways depicting the theme "Portals to Progress") were arranged down the centers of the tables. Between each portal was a gaily dressed college girl doll. Colorful chiffon scarves were favors. Mrs. Henry Egbert, Director of Finance, spoke on public relations and the importance of being informed on the financial background of the sorority. The afternoon was spent at Greek-letter and alumnae roundtables. Cathy Clark from Beta Rho led an interesting discussion on pledge training and showed some original ideas that were being used at the University of Colorado.

Mrs. H. E. Wittenberg, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate, was the featured speaker at the Pink Carnation banquet at Knight Hall. The award for the highest scholarship was presented to Alpha Phi and for the highest improvement in scholarship to Gamma Delta.

The Conference concluded on Sunday morning after a Panhellenic breakfast was served to 75 guests from other campus sororities and fraternities.

Province XII—Pullman

Alumnae and collegiate delegates in Province XII convened at the Beta Sigma house in Pullman, Washington, on March 3. Dessert and coffee were served to early arrivals and the evening was spent in group singing, rush skits, and viewing Sechelt slides.

On Saturday morning the business session was conducted by the Conference chairman, Anne Moldrem, past president of the Seattle alumnae. Morning rountable discussions were followed by a buffet luncheon served by Pullman alumnae and members of Beta Sigma. Mrs. William A. Douglass, province alumnae director, used a triangle to point out the three main areas of endeavor for alumnae organizations: She said, "The three sides of the Gamma Phi Beta triangle denote membership, projects and philanthropy."

The Pink Carnation banquet was held at the Student Union on the campus of Washington State University. Mrs. M. D.

Strickler was toastmistress and introduced Mrs. Frank Hiscock, Collegiate Vice President, who was the featured speaker of the evening. Collegiate awards were presented by Mrs. Douglass and Mrs. Robert Gregory, province collegiate director.

The final event of the Conference was a brunch on Sunday at the Hilltop Steakhouse. Delegates and Panhellenic representatives from the other 13 sororities on the Washington State campus heard Dean Northrop speak on "Portals to Progress."

Provinces XIII and XIV—Reno

A buffet dinner at the lovely new Alpha Gamma house on the University of Nevada campus welcomed delegates to Province Conference in Reno. In the evening alumnæ and collegiate members joined in group singing and viewed the slides of our Vancouver camp.

The Saturday morning business session was called to order by Barbara Watts Lasell, collegiate director of Province XIII. The presiding chairman for the Conference was Jeanne Potter Saalwaechter and afternoon round tables were under the leadership of Judy Davis Warner, and Barbara Watts Lasell for the Greek-letter groups and Elizabeth Fee Arnold, Past Grand President; Louise Berner Tillotson for the alumnæ.

Carol English, president of Alpha Gamma, was toastmistress at the formal Pink Carnation banquet at the Hidden Valley Country Club on Saturday evening. Mrs. Henry D. Egbert, Director of Finance, was the guest speaker and awards were presented to Beta Alpha for scholarship, Alpha Gamma for scholarship improvement, Beta Lambda and Gamma Theta for efficiency and Beta Kappa for the best notebook.

Alpha Gamma and Reno alumnæ entertained at a Panhellenic coffee at the chapter house on Sunday morning.

Barbara Anne Carroll was the only woman member of the University of Texas team that scored five straight wins on television's "College Bowl."

Phi Beta Kappa, Texas Style

On Sunday, March 12, Gamma Phis at the University of Texas at Austin crowded nervously around the television set in their chapter house. The girls had concluded the initiation of their fall pledges with only minutes to spare. They beamed proudly when the television camera found what they were waiting for. Barbara Anne Carroll, one of their Alpha Zeta members, smiled back through the TV screen from New York.

Barbara is the only female member of the Texas team which was awarded over $10,000 in scholarships for the University on the nationally-televised General Electric College Bowl.

Barbara's team was also presented with a silver trophy and named to College Bowl's Hall of Fame for appearing on the program five consecutive weeks.

Barbara was chosen, along with three boys, after a long process of interviews, tests and comparisons by the team's coach, Dr. Douglas Morgan, professor of philosophy at the University.

The Daily Texan, student newspaper at the University, describes Barbara as "highly spirited, stylishly dressed, and soulful-looking."

During their first appearance against St. Mary's College of Notre Dame, Barbara shocked viewers, as well as the show's host, Robert Earl, by giving the correct answer to a music question before four notes were played.

A dually-enrolled senior, Barbara plans a career combining medicine and law. She has a 2.8 grade point average on a 3.0 system.

She loves to "waste time" enjoying art and good music. She also enjoys bridge, horseback riding, picnicking and cooking.

Barbara is active in Gamma Phi Beta, as well as on campus. Last year she served as song leader for the Sorority when they won first place in their division at the University Sing Song. She is secretary of Alpha Sigma Delta, honorary for pre-medical students and was just selected for Phi Beta Kappa. She has been named "Outstanding Student" at the University of Texas.

Barbara has learned that national television appearances can produce interesting results. "A Harvard student asked me to exchange pictures with him and told me about his promising law career," she said.

"I also received two marriage proposals (neither accepted) and a letter from a ninth-grader wanting to know how much homework I had when I was in the ninth grade," she smiled.

The team was presented with a good-luck telegram signed by 2,000 Texas students, as well as cables from Governor John Connally and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. Chancellor Norman Hackerman met the team at the airport several times and the Texas Tower turned orange after each victory.

In addition to St. Mary's, the team matched wits with the University of Pennsylvania, University of Omaha, Mary Baldwin College and Capital University.     D D D

Sherrill Reagan, Mortar Board, "Miss Wool of Texas"

On last May 29, before an audience of several thousand fashion-conscious spectators in Dallas, Sherrill Reagan, Beta Tau, was crowned "Miss Wool of Texas." She assumed her title on July 1 and will spend the next year touring the state modeling Texas fashions of wool and mohair.

The sparkling-eyed, dark-haired beauty is a senior at Texas Technological College where her scholastic record has brought her membership in Mortar Board and Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics society.

She is president of Beta Tau chapter of Gamma Phi Beta and was selected as the most outstanding undergraduate student in her college for 1966-67. Twice named a Tech Beauty, Sherrill has also been a Little Sister of Minerva, the sweetheart of Bledsoe Hall, finalist for Homecoming queen and this year's runner-up in the Miss Lubbock pageant.
