To Build a Better World

by Ardis McBroom Marek,
International Grand President

And how are things going on the college campuses? The mass media have given us a picture which often is a distorted view of the violence and revolutionary demands of a minute percentage of the students. But they make a loud noise, drowning out the reasonable voices of 95 percent of the students. Unfortunately many college administrators have capitulated to these minority demands. Out of fear? Ignorance? Hardly! The desire not to rock the boat? One wonders. But as long as administrations acquiesce or sit in silence while the campus explodes, or make unreasonable demands of the reasonable students, not only sororities and fraternities and other worthwhile student groups, but, even the university itself, is in grave danger.

The problems of today are not of the young or the old, but of everybody and the endless confrontations of student and adult create a wasteful polarization. Let us today seek a common ground and join our energies. Let us discuss together as women of intellect and with mutual tolerance and good will Gamma Phi Beta's role for the future.

Serious as the threats to fraternity are from outsiders, by far the greater danger can come from within. In situations where sorority women have themselves initiated changes through their Panhellenic which would alter our basic premises, we find members who have never become deeply involved with Gamma Phi Beta through serving the chapter as officers, and thus have not experienced the depth and meaning of membership, nor learned to appreciate its intrinsic values.

As to the outside pressures, we are sympathetic to the situations our collegiate members find themselves in today. These pressures are constant and the questioning of fraternity procedures, its policies and traditions, its very integrity, have been unrelenting. Collegians are being used as a sounding board for those who would destroy much that is synonymous with democratic, American life. And so the attacks take on a sinister and double meaning that cannot be ignored or shrugged off. How successfully we shall weather this time of change and confusion depends upon how united a Sorority we are and how clear our sights. Let us not find ourselves "running scared."

Let us be firm in our beliefs and maintain our rights. Let us become strong, articulate advocates of fraternities and stand up against those who would deny us those rights.

In this free society which is in imminent danger of becoming fragmented, as one segment is pitted against another, let us reflect upon the words of a college president. "The two most important words in our language [are] freedom and discipline. A decision which all of us have to make every day of our lives is to strike a proper balance between the two. Sometimes it is fashionable to think of discipline as a bad word and freedom as a good word. The opposite can be true. Discipline leads to good taste and good manners, to domestic tranquility and the advancement of civilization. Freedom, on the other hand, exercised absolutely, corrupts absolutely, leads to disorderly conduct and collapse of governments."

In a very real sense, your future as well as the future of Gamma Phi Beta will be as you will it. You have the power to smother freedom by abusing it. You have the power, if you have the will, to preserve that freedom by using it with discretion. A characteristic of a disciplined civilization is the will to create and construct, not the will to destroy. It is my prayer that Gamma Phi Beta sorority and each individual member will play a major role in creating and constructing a better world for tomorrow . . . that the destruction and revolution abroad in our world may be re-directed toward reasonable reform and building a responsible, disciplined society.

For nearly 100 years Gamma Phi Beta has brought strength and beauty into the lives of thousands of women. Let us, drawing on those fine past traditions, build for the future so that countless others still to come may enjoy that extra dimension of love, loyalty, labor and learning which is Gamma Phi Beta.

Convention '68

The vast majority of conventioners who arrived at Gamma Phi Beta's fifty-third international Convention flew into Los Angeles' international airport. From the east they soared over the majestic, snow-capped Rockies, over the burnished earth colors of the Painted Desert, over the cavernous depths of the Grand Canyon. From the north, they looked down on the vast timberlines of the Northwest, stately Mount Hood, the flowing rapids of the Columbia River. Eventually, they all sighted-in on the blackened landscape of the Sierra Nevadas as they approached the mist-clad environs of Los Angeles.

The trip alone was an eloquent preface to six days of wonder and awe, of living and learning, of renewed vows of purpose and sisterhood.

From the Los Angeles air terminal, delegates and guests limousined to the Huntington-Sheraton in Pasadena. Suburban in setting and surrounded by acres of trees and flowers, this hotel offers guests an escape from city distractions and a California view from every window.

Built at a time when spaciousness was the order of the day, rooms are large and airy--and air-conditioned if the weather calls for it. A huge lobby and terrace areas add enjoyment for guests and visitors. There are tennis courts, a swimming pool, the spacious formal horseshoe gardens that boast many varieties of palms and cacti, grapefruit trees in full bloom and the fragrant magnolia. The dining and meeting rooms seem endless, each more decorous than the other.

The Crystal Terrace, where the Gamma Phi Betas breakfasted, overlooked the pool and the pool gardens. The Viennese Room, where they banqueted, was designed for dining in an elegant manner with its incomparable crystal chandeliers from old Vienna. The Georgian Room, stately and dignified, housed the formal business sessions. The Ship Room, with its nautical atmosphere, was the scene of informal luncheons where everyone could relax around its outdoor dance floor.

No Room at the Inn?

International officers arrived at the Huntington earlier in the week, but most delegates and conventioners came on Sunday, June 23. There were several mix-ups in room assignments, much to the consternation of Mary Kay Dorman Kabler (Kansas), Convention chairman, and her hardworking committee members. Some esteemed dignitaries were bedded down on sofas and roll-in cots. Sometimes there were three or four in twin-bed rooms. But, somehow everyone found a place to lay her head and spirits were high while staff members and the Convention committee struggled to straighten out the snafu.

On hand to greet the arrivals were Dorothy Haines Winans (UCLA), social chairman and her assistant, Patricia Grimwood Kratz (UCLA). And, they were much in evidence at every social function, sauntering through the crowds, being sure that everything was proceeding as planned.

Sunday afternoon, after most guests had registered, a pre-Convention tour for more than 100 eager collegians and alumnae departed to see the sights of the Los Angeles area. Following brunch, tour-goers boarded the Gray Line buses, which departed at 30-minute intervals. Each had a Gamma Phi Beta hostess aboard and a driver-guide, who provided factual information and amusing anecdotes as the itinerary unfolded. Fitting toes into Mary Pickford's diminutive footprints at Grauman's Chinese Theater or dabbling them in the blue Pacific Ocean (a first for many) were just two of the delights.

Finally the tour stopped at Alpha Iota chapter house near the UCLA campus. Sightseers were guided through the Spanish-style home eventually adjourned to the colorful patios to enjoy punch, tea, sandwiches and cookies. Hostesses for the tour included Mary Darling Jurgensen (Oregon), chairman; Jean Johnston Rogers (UCLA); assistant chairman; Beth Linthicum Jones (UCLA), Eleanor Whitmore Hyde (California); Margaret Whitmore Hurst (UCLA); and Dorothy Tennant Drum (UCLA). Alpha Iota collegians who were hostesses for the day were Krista Schmidt, Kris Linberg and Kathy Colclasure.

"Up, Up and Away"

Back to the hotel about 6:30 in the evening, Greek-letter girls and alumnae had just a few minutes to freshen up for the opening banquet titled "Up, Up and Away with Gamma Phi Beta." The decor carried out an orange and yellow color scheme and each table boasted three colorful arial balloons, their baskets filled with shasta daisies. Nearly 600 sisters sat with members of their original chapters and sang rousing choruses of "California, Here We Are," a cleverly adapted parody.

The committee in charge of this opening dinner was: Elizabeth Chambers Hugh (UCLA), chairman; Sarah Whitton Spiess (Oregon); Mary Frances Martin (Stanford) and Judi Conner (Beta Lambda).

Shortly after the dinner, members congregated in designated rooms to rally with others from their provinces. Light refreshments were served as collegians and alumnae became acquainted, traded tales and plans for the week. Later everyone gathered on the pool patio for a songfest led by Jacqueline Doyle Sinks (UCLA), Convention song chairman. The more than 300 who joined in the chorus polished up familiar tunes and learned a few new ones to take back home.

An impromptu feature of the evening was a musical "thank you" from Jean Cline, director of college programs, and the three retiring field secretaries: Claire Danielson (Oklahoma State), Bonnie Allen (Oklahoma) and Marilyn Bachnik (Wisconsin State).

After the song session, the Huntington-Sheraton hosted a surprise party on the upper terrace. Guests nibbled into watermelon quarters while the amateur photographers had a heyday taking candid shots to reinforce their memories.

The Rap of the Gavel

Early Monday morning delegates, alternates and visitors, sleepy-eyed and groping (nearly everyone stayed up too late), wended their way to the Crystal Terrace for a quick, but hearty, breakfast before the opening schedule began at 8:45. The opening exercises were conducted by Grand President Ardis McBroom Marek (Northwestern) and the rap of the gavel sounded shortly before nine o'clock. The roll, called by Eleanor J. Sieg (Iowa), Executive Secretary-Treasurer, showed 86 Greek-letter delegates present, 74 alumna chapters with full votes and 13 with one-half votes, a total of 1661½ votes.

Lovely, serene Barbara Hahn Rice (Denver) regional chairman, welcomed Gamma Phi Betas to the Golden State. Ann Miller, delegate from the University of Tennessee, read the convention rules and Aleene Carter Thieme (Kansas) made the report of the credentials committee.

After introducing the international officers and committee chairmen to the assembly, Mrs. Marek delivered the formal address of the Grand President, in which she stressed the importance of each member, alumna and collegian, assuming her duties to the Sorority and the community. (See inside front cover for a condensation of Mrs. Marek's message.)

After a coffee break on the patio quadrangle, international committee chairmen made their reports. Mary Eleanor Babbitt Bilby (Arizona), chairman of the awards committee, announced the names of those members who had been elected to the International Service Roll during the last two years and named three new members to be added to the International Honor Roll:

Aleene Carter Thieme, Edith Herrin Watt (Oregon) and Elizabeth Fee Arnold (Colorado State).

Cherie McElhinney Olsen (Iowa), president of the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, spoke about the accomplishments and goals of the Foundation and Barbara Westover Sheldon (Washington), supervisor of camps, illustrated her report with a descriptive collection of colored slides of the two campsites. Janet Milligan Heaton (Denver) talked about chapter philanthropy programs; Mary Jane Hipp Misthos (Colorado College) explained the commitments of the Endowment-Crescent Board. Elna Erickson Simons (Birmingham-Southern), Director of Expansion, told the gathering about the new chapters that had been colonized and installed during the biennium and hinted at the expansion possibilities in the near future. She awarded sterling silver baby cups to the five chapters installed during her tenure of office: Gamma Sigma at Western Michigan, Gamma Tau at St. Louis, Gamma Upsilon at Drake, Gamma Phi at Auburn and Gamma Chi at Southwest Texas. She presented a sterling silver teething ring to Gamma Psi, a newly-colonized chapter at Northern Iowa State University. Having admonished the recipients not to shed any tears at the presentation ceremony, Mrs. Simons broke the rules herself when Nancy Roper (Auburn), representing the six baby chapters, stepped to the microphone and presented the Director of Expansion with a gold charm bracelet, with one charm from each new group.

After a free lunch period, workshops began in the afternoon. Betty Heflin Egbert (Arizona), Director of Finance, led the sessions of the House Corporation Boards' areas of responsibility which discussed chapter house management and the role of the housemother. Alumna roundtables with Virginia Forsythe Vint (Missouri), Alumna Vice President, presiding, discussed the P's of alumna progress, while the alumna workshops, were led by Audrey Weldon Shafer (Missouri), Barbara Nicoll

Campbell (Wisconsin), Dorothy Ray Johnson (SMU) and Cornelia Clausen Spanier (Oregon State).

Greek-letter workshops discussed scholarship with Helen Berg Kline (Oklahoma), international scholarship chairman; pledge education with Jean Cline (Idaho), director of college programs, and membership with Marjorie Speidel Lundin (Washington), international membership chairman.

"Through the Gates of Gamma Phi Beta"

At 8:30 in the evening 500 people, gowned in formal evening attire, entered the gracious Viennese Room to attend the banquet honoring the Four Founders and members of the past Grand Councils. The tables were centered with small wrought iron gates flanked by votive candles and fresh gardenias, to carry out the theme of the evening, "Through the Gates of Gamma Phi Beta."

Dr. Weldon Perry Shofstall, dean of students at Arizona State University, addressed the group on "Individualism and Collectivism and the Survival of Freedom." His talk, accentuated the importance of individual involvement in world affairs to assure the freedom of all. (See the text of Dr. Shofstall's talk on page 20.)

The program opened with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Dorothy Burrell Zeller and "The Canadian National Anthem" by Jacqueline Sinks. Eleanor Kelley-Brandon (Illinois), toastmistress, proposed a toast to the Four Founders and the response was delivered by Katherine Summerville (San Jose State). Barbara Transue (San Jose State) gave the response to the Grand Council toast.

Following the dinner, a reception in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Shofstall was held on the pool patio. A long red carpet ran the length of the patio to lead guest through the receiving line to the elegantly appointed tea table, centered with a massive arrangement of pink carnations and sparkling with silver and crystal accessories.

Later in the evening Judith Crites Hann (Idaho), international housing chairman, showed slides of Gamma Phi Beta houses, lodges and suites.

That's Where Our Money Goes

On Tuesday morning, June 25, the skies were overcast in Pasadena, the breezes were gentle and most of the balcony doors to the bedrooms were open to welcome the fresh, misty air. Breakfast was served before members dashed to the second business session of Convention. Joan Dillon (Gamma Upsilon at Drake) delivered an inspiring devotional. Bette Heflin Egbert, in her report as Director of Finance, explained how Gamma Phi Beta funds were apportioned. To illustrate her talk, she undraped a large felt display which used skyrockets, in vivid colors, burst into a field of blue. Each flare indicated an expense item.

Beatrice Hill Wittenberg, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate, spoke to the group about current problems facing the sorority world, emphasizing the demands of university administrations and the measures Gamma Phi Beta proposed to meet those demands in an equitable manner.

The rest of the morning was devoted to the reports of international committee chairmen: Magazine Sales: Dorothy Stark Kenny (Syracuse); Centennial Committee: Gladys Hecker Myles (Washington-St. Louis); Mothers' Clubs: Audrey Weldon Shaffer; Public Relations: Beth McCallon Wheeler (SMU); Historian: Orra Spencer Reid (Michigan) and Nominating Committee: Olive Gallatin Picard (Arizona).

Shortly after noon members and their distinguished guests (members of other National Panhellenic sororities) reentered the mirrored Viennese Room to honor the 27 member sororities of the National Panhellenic Conference. Greek columns entwined with fresh ivy centered the tables and marched down the length of the speaker's table. Golden goblets, engraved with the Greek letters $\Gamma \Phi \beta$ were presented to the guests of honor, who were introduced to the group by Mrs. Wittenberg.

Dean Cornelia Tomes, associate dean of students at San Jose State College, addressed the group with a provocative talk on the rewards and problems in education today. Of special interest to the Panhellenic groups was word of Dean Tomes' special project in establishing a "College Woman over 29 Program" at her college.

Those in charge of the luncheon were Betty Grimm Murray (Denver), chairman; Barbara Shipman Brode (Penn State), Louise Nellis Swift (Denver) and Barbara Dirk (Beta Alpha).

In the afternoon, roundtables and workshops resumed for alumnae and Greek-letter members to continue the discussions begun on the previous day.

Honors Turn Us On!

In the evening a psychedelic theme prevailed in the color schemes, decor and programs for the banquet entitled "Honors

...is a province director and never seems to get caught up on idea exchanges. Virginia Douglass, Patricia Jennings, Anne Moldrem.

Turn Us On!" When each member registered for the Convention, she received a number of honor badges which she had earned during college and were worn at this banquet. The Phi Beta Kappas, the presidents and the queens were all appropriately designated for the evening.

Kristine Hallsten, a collegiate member from the University of California at Berkeley, was toastmistress for the evening and presented the international officers who made awards. The awards were many and varied and the squeals of delight when the honorees were named resounded through the vast corridors of the Huntington.

Alumnae chapter awards, presented by Mrs. Vint, went to Seattle, Pasadena, Kansas City and Kearney.

Two New Gamma Phi Betas

Later in the evening, Gamma Phi Beta, held initiation services for two special members, Dr. Florence L. Phillips, retiring dean of women at Texas Technological College, and Karen Emery, an undergraduate student at Arizona.

Dr. Phillips, who has held faculty and staff positions at Marshall University, Indiana University and Eastern New Mexico University, will shed her administrative duties at Texas Tech this fall in order to return to full-time teaching in psychology. She has served for 14 years in the development of student life at Tech and her leadership and inspiration will be missed. Long admired by Beta Tau chapter members, Dr. Phillips received an especial welcome from "her" students—and all of Gamma Phi Beta. Karen, who fulfilled the requirements for initiation but was unable to attend the ceremonies because of health, joined the bonds of Gamma Phi Beta in Pasadena. On Wednesday morning her new Alpha Epsilon sisters followed a chapter tradition by treating Karen to breakfast in bed.

Early Wednesday morning all conventioners gathered in the Georgian Room for the traditional memorial service, conducted by Sally Gray Cass. Each member wore a white dress and the effect was awe-inspiring as 500 members bowed their heads in memory of those sisters who had died during the last two years. Dorothy Zeller and Jackie Sinks were in charge of the music.

No Pears and Artichokes Here

After the Memorial service, the Convention recessed to the patio for a coffee break and informal conferences. When the delegates returned to resume the formal business session, each Greek-letter delegate found a corsage, made of peanuts and olives, at her place. After working on revisions for two hours, the convention recessed for the "Peanuts and Olives" luncheon in the Viennese Room.

Luncheon tables were centered with huge papier-mâché olives and peanuts topped with pipe-cleaner figures of Gamma Phi Beta pledges. Bowls of olives and peanuts-in-the-shell were on each table. Favors for guests at the head table were charm bracelets on which peanuts and olives dangled alternately.

Honored at the head table were the retiring and new field secretaries and the province collegiate directors. During the luncheon, Claudia Skirving, Beta Kappa, spoke on "My View of Gamma Phi Beta as a Pledge;" Cindy Calbrese, Beta Omega, spoke on "My View as a Greek-letter Chapter President." Linda Zingerline, vice president of Alpha and toastmistress, reviewed

The hostesses for the luncheon were Pat Lock Ames (Arizona State), chairman; Phoenix and Flagstaff alumnae chapters and Beta Kappa and Beta Omega Greek-letter chapters.

On Wednesday afternoon almost everyone boarded the buses again for that longed-for afternoon and evening at Disneyland. The grand tour provided an overall view of that land of imagination. There were a few Gamma Phis in the groups that were on the Peplemover when it stopped (it's supposed to move all the time). There was a group stranded on top of the Matterhorn but recovered their spirits when they were given another free ride. But, everyone had a memorable time and returned to the Huntington on 11 buses. The footsore and travel-weary returnees were greeted by an enthusiastic group of alumnae and international officers. Bearing a sign announcing "Disneyland Rescue Station" decorated with a wilted carnation, alumnae serenaded and offered first aid to all casualties. The day ended on a high note of hilarity.

Thursday dawned cool and overcast as the convention-goers hurried to the fourth session to complete work on constitutional revisions. Each member wore a monogrammed blouse to both the business sessions and the afternoon workshops.

During the morning Marie H. Suthers, parliamentarian, made parliamentary procedure instruction come alive. Though not a Gamma Phi Beta, Mrs. Suthers has acted as parliamentarian at most of the conventions since 1956. She served one term in the Illinois State Legislature and since 1952, has been on the Board of Election Commissioners in Chicago. Her book, Primer in Parliamentary Procedure, published by The Darnell Corporation, is for sale through Central Office.

"Vive! Gamma Phi Beta!"

Red, white, green, orange and pink, colorful hues reminiscent of Old Mexico, dominated the festive "Vive! Gamma Phi Beta!" banquet on the pool patio Thursday night. Huge paper flowers and piñatas decorated the tables and red bull-shaped programs and Mexican clay pigs were at each guest's place.

One of the highlights of the evening was the breaking of the large piñata, which spilled wrapped candies for the Confirmed Conventioneers. Each Gamma Phi Beta wore a white hat decorated with pink carnations, one for each convention attended. Those who had been present at more than five meetings participated in the parade of the Confirmed Conventioneers, led by Mary Kay Kabler. Recognized for attending the most conventions were Penelope Simonson, Ruth Fox and Lois Dehn.

Cloris Leachman (Northwestern) and Hope Summers (Northwestern), both prominent in the entertainment world, were special guests at the fiesta.

Hope, a former president of Epsilon chapter, spoke briefly at the dinner telling about some of her experiences in the theater. She laughingly told why she was chosen for a role in "Rosemary's Baby," a current shocker starring Mia Farrow. "The director," she said, "wanted me because I can scream louder than anyone!" Hope will return to her regular role as Clara on the new version of the Andy Griffith show "Mayberry RFD" in the fall. Her other late movie release is "Five Card Stud" with Dean Martin.

Cloris Leachman, a vivacious vegetarian, entertained the guests with several musical selections, accompanied on the piano by her mother-in-law, Mabel Albertson, another noted motion picture and television artist. Cloris has appeared in "South Pacific" and "Touch of the Poet" with Helen Hayes. She had just returned from Rome with her producer-director husband, George Englund, who was filming "Shoes of the Fisherman" in Italy.

Cloris's television credits include "Kraft Mystery Theater," "The Virginian," "Big Valley" and she is remembered for her starring role as the mother in the "Lassie" series. She also stars at home as the mother of five active children ranging in age from 2 to 15.

Mabel Albertson has appeared in "Those Whiting Girls," "The Andy Griffith Show" and is currently seen in "That Girl" and "Bewitched."

During the dinner, other musical entertainment was provided by a combo, "The Smog City Stompers."

The Wind-up of Business

Friday morning's breakfast honored mothers and daughters and sisters who were attending Convention. Nineteen mother-daughter teams and five sister groups were on hand to celebrate. At other tables Phi Beta Kappas and Mortar Boards were honored.

At nine o'clock the last business session got underway and Claire Danielson (Oklahoma State) led the devotions. Aleene Theime gave the final report of the credentials committee and Janet Heaton stepped to the podium to present philanthropy awards to Barbara Sheldon, for her devoted service to the camping program; to Eleanor J. Sieg, for her financial advice and to Betty Haverfield, for her coverage of philanthropic activities in THE CRESCENT. Helen Kline announced that the seventh Gamma Phi Beta tour would be held next summer. The tour will last 31 days and will visit Paris, West and East Berlin, the Balkins, Finland and the Scandanavian countries. The cost will be $1,275.

At the presentation of the nominating committee's report the slate was accepted by the Convention assembled by acclamation and Barbara Burns Hiscock assumed the office of Grand President on August 1. Other Grand Council members and their offices are: Audrey Weldon Shafer, Alumnæ Vice President; Elna Erickson Simons, Collegiate Vice President;

"Lady of the Moon"

On Friday evening the grand finale of the fifty-third international Convention of Gamma Phi Beta took place in the Viennese Room of the Huntington-Sheraton. The room, magnificently arrayed in pink and gold, was lavishly and graciously appointed. Nearly 500 members, gowned in formal attire, gathered to honor the ideal "Lady of the Moon."

Pink carnations and greenery surrounded the bases of tall, stately balustrade candleholders, which centered each round table. Several massive arrangements of carnations were placed at intervals along the extended speakers' table. A large crescent moon, fashioned of fresh pink carnations, centered the podium.

Last to enter the banquet hall were members of the retiring and newly-elected Grand Council, each wearing a lei of pink carnations. There was a corsage at the placecard of each international officer and a fresh carnation at each banquet seat.

Favors, boxed in white and tied in gold with a tiny artificial carnation in the bow, were Coalport bone china vases each holding three fragile bone china pink carnations. Members of Grand Council received larger Coalport florals.

Elizabeth Fee Arnold, gowned in a chic floor-length dinner dress and with a high upswept coiffeur, presided over the banquet as toastmistress and introduced the honored guests. Dorothy Zeller sang "In the Heart of a Pink Carnation" and "Lady of the Moon," accompanied at the piano by Jacqueline Sinks.

The theme of the evening was "Lady of the Moon" and three members presented their interpretations of the various facets of that lady. Kathleen Stephenson, collegiate member from Southern California, talked about "Lady of Luminous Beauty;" Sally Gray Cass (Iowa) described "Lady of Mystery" and Orra Spencer Reid (Michigan) emphasized "Lady of Enduring Charm."

At the conclusion of the banquet, Mrs. Marek, presented the diamond-set badge of the Grand Presidency to Barbara Burns Hiscock and introduced the new members of Grand Council.

The banquet was hostessed by members of Tucson, Glendale, Las Vegas and Hawaii alumnae chapters and Alpha Epsilon collegiate chapter from Arizona. Louise Berner Tillotson (Arizona) served as chairman assisted by Anita Lipsinger Allen (Illinois), Carol Jepson Schicketanz (UCLA), Dorothy Howell Huffey (Nevada) and Mary Ellen Case Beck (Arizona).

Following the mystic circle, the two presidents left the banquet hall arm-in-arm while an impromptu chorus serenaded them with "Remember Gamma Phi Beta." The traditional climax to Convention closed on a soft and sentimental note.

A Message From Barbara Burns Hiscock

Barbara Burns Hiscock, Grand President

As Gamma Phi Beta approaches its ninety-fourth birthday, let us pause for a moment to consider where we have been, and in what direction we are moving. No chart for our future course of action can be made without a close examination of our historic past and of the values and ideals upon which we base our decision. We need to continue with a personal touch in our Sorority.

There is an impersonality about our universities, today. Generally, today's university student is given her student number when she enrolls as a freshman and from that time until her graduation, she carries this number. No one seems to care whether she exists as a person or not! She is asked to believe that a new morality exists and is here to stay. The size of our institutions of higher learning have created a kind of chaos and a lack of direction.

What is Gamma Phi Beta's answer to these student problems and how do we wish to answer these important questions? New ideas and changes can be positive forces, provided they are constructive and responsible. Our ideals of the past and standards of social conduct are just as true and real today as they were when we were founded. We must meet today's problems with new ideas, but we must bear constantly in mind the love we bear for one another in the bonds of friendship. "No man is an island," nor can he exist in an impersonal world. Gamma Phi Beta must give love, trust and mutual understanding to its membership. During the next biennium, let us go forward together with responsible action, changing when change is needed, but keeping in mind the best interests of all the membership.

BARBARA BURNS HISCOCK
Grand President

Quotable Quotes from Convention

As we blow out the candles of the tenth birthday cake of the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, we may take pride in the new glow. Many hours of service and many dollars have brightened the existence of the Foundation. To you in Convention assembled, through you to Gamma Phi Betas everywhere, the Trustees urge: Give, with your hearts and your hands, give service. Give dollars—give a lot. But please, each one—give a little!

CHERI McELHINNEY OLSEN, president
Gamma Phi Beta Foundation

Our one-hundredth birthday is only six short years from now. How appropriate and thrilling it can be if each chapter can have ready for distribution during our Centennial year a recorded history of its beginnings, its growth, its accomplishments, its traditions. These need not be elaborate brochures. It's the proud story which is important.

ORRA SPENCER REID,
International Historian

We would like to congratulate Gamma Phi Beta heartily upon publication of its new book Ideally Speaking, and urge its adoption by the librarians of fraternity literature. It tackles refreshingly "the problems confronting all of us as we search for the meaning of life." It seems to us that Gamma Phi Beta's Ideally Speaking can fill a proud place on the chapter bookshelf.

Banta's Greek Exchange

(About field secretaries) They come to your chapter to assist with any difficulties, but also to bring a fresh viewpoint and to gain from your chapter as well as to give inspiration and stimulation. Through the reports of the field secretaries, Grand Council is able to maintain a close communication with the Greek-letter chapters. They provide a liaison between us. The splendid rapport that has been evident during this biennium between officers, alumnae and collegians must be credited to fine young ladies. They give of themselves unstintingly; they have rugged schedules; they accomplish wonders; and they are loved wherever they go.

ARDIS McBROOM MAREK,
Grand President

Gamma Phi Beta possesses a past rich in tradition. A past which year by year has abounded in love, in friendship, in achievement, and in service. The service of one Gamma Phi Beta for another is very beautiful and very necessary. The service of one chapter for another, more than anything else, will give national unity and national understanding, but the service of the Sorority in the cause of humanity will be Gamma Phi Beta's greatest glory.

There is a statue of Christ in a far off land. It has no hands. On the base is this inscription: "I have no hands but yours to do my work."

So it is with Gamma Phi Beta: "There are no hands but ours to do the work."

JANET MILLIGAN HEATON, chairman
Chapter Philanthropy Programs

Success or failure, financially or otherwise, depends on all Gamma Phi Betas. Officers can serve with integrity, dedication and the best judgment their respective talents allow, but this is as nothing without willing members to work at all levels, without understanding and support of our policies and procedures, without respect for our leadership and pride in our ideals and our heritage.

MARY JANE HIPPISTHOS, chairman
Endowment-Crescent Board

A significant characteristic of contemporary society is its great instability. This unparalleled dynamic period when the old roots of our culture are being violently shaken has fostered a troubled generation of college students whose view of life tends to be sober, even tragic. Violence and conflict have forced country and to humanity. Such pressures, direct and indirect, have undeniably had profound impact on us.

Powerfully creative factors in our lives as individuals are faith and ideals, for the formulation of a faith provides a powerful incentive to live by it and to strive to bring it into being. It is the principle of something's being worth living for, and, in living accordingly, we actually help bring into being something which otherwise would not come.

Faith is a way of thinking and living, and it is therefore an answer to the question of "What does life require of me?"

Life is a venture into the unknown. We need to accept this challenge and to meet it with ideals put into practice. Faith then is the assurance of a morality which seemingly all too often does not exist today, and it is the conviction of righting this wrong.

JOAN L. DILLON, president
Gamma Upsilon at Drake University

Bear in mind that Gamma Phi Beta does not have now and never has had any clauses of discrimination based on race, color or creed. Our position has been that any girl is eligible for membership if she qualifies in the matter of enrollment in college with the required number of hours, if she has alumnae endorsement and if she has the unanimous approval of the members. We do have some members of minority groups on our rolls; they have been girls who have been properly chosen and who were voted into membership because of their individual merit. This is the way we believe it should be and this is the way we want to keep it.

BEATRICE HILL WITTENBERG,
National Panhellenic Conference Delegate

To those who cry "undemocratic, discriminatory, selective," I reply that any organization of enduring value must have requirements and high standards for membership. At the risk of sounding sacreligious, I ask, did not Christ select his 12 disciples, and might not there have been others who were alienated because they were rejected? And the girl who was embittered because she did not receive a bid to the sorority of her choice, was she being unbiased, open-minded and democratic in not giving the others a chance? Is this not, in itself, a form of discrimination, selectivity and even snobishness? The purpose of a sorority is not to form cliques, but to help a girl get the most out of college. The fact that all do not fit into an intimate group does not condemn that group, but rather emphasizes the fact that the very existence of a company of congenial, like-minded persons is a strong unit for inspiration and service and should be nurtured and strengthened, not ridiculed and weakened.

The fifty-third international Convention approved the addition of the last three names to the International Honor Roll of Gamma Phi Beta.

New Honor Roll Honorees

At the international Convention in Pasadena in June, Mary Eleanor Babbitt Bilby (Arizona), chairman of the awards committee, announced the names of those members who had been elected to the International Honor Roll because of their long and devoted service to the Sorority on the international level of work. Three outstanding Gamma Phi Betas were so honored: Aleene Carter Thieme (Kansas), Edith Herrin Watt (Oregon) and Elizabeth Fee Arnold (Colorado State).

Aleene was recognized for designing and developing the MacCormick Medallion award and for donating her writing talents to the production and the revisions of Gamma Phi Beta manuals and publications.

Edith was selected for her creation of the "President's Ritual Book" and for a clarification of the ritual manual. Her hand-tinted pastel illustrations used in planning initiation ceremonies have been an inspiration to all chapters. She served as international ritual chairman for 10 years.

Elizabeth was honored for originating the Convention entertainment tax which has now been incorporated into the by-laws. The menial amount, per capita, has eliminated the necessity for hostess provinces to raise funds locally to support Gamma Phi Beta international Conventions. Elizabeth served on Grand Council for 10 years, including four as Grand President.

New "A" Awards

A new foundation award for individual scholarship was established at the Board meeting last spring in Evanston. Each Greek-letter girl who maintains an A average (or its equivalent) for a school year will receive a congratulatory token, a one-inch gold coat-of-arms charm. The first awards, announced at Convention, were based on the 1966-67 school year. In off-Convention years, the charms will be presented at Province Conferences.

The honorees this year were: Diane Smith (Wisconsin); Suzanne Llewellyn (Denver); Jan Cox (Idaho); Sue Travener (CSU); Carol Von Bastien (Washington-St. Louis); Molly McGregor and Sharon Winsterly (Toronto); Dhoya Foley (Vanderbilt); Danaze Chambers, Pat Gargett and Cheryl Thould (Alpha Kappa); Sally Rule (Colorado College); Andrea Caldwell (USC); Cindy Williams (Kent State); Carol Kirsch (Bradley); Janis Mutch (Kansas State); Sue Bailey (Oklahoma State); Barbara Tansey (Memphis State); Ethel Johnson and Dinah Lamb (East Texas State) and Caryn Olcik (Tennessee).

Do You Know?

... that your Gamma Phi Beta pin may be worn on your charm bracelet, on your blouse, on your suit coat—or made into a dinner ring.

... that anyone may purchase a copy of Ideally Speaking, the new standards manual. If you have a teenager, you will enjoy having her read it.

... that you may not have your picture identified as a Gamma Phi Beta, in a commercial advertisement (radio, television, newspaper or magazine) without the permission of the Grand President.

... that you may pay your alumna dues to your local alumnae chapter or directly to Central Office, 630 Green Bay Road, Kenilworth, Illinois 60043.

Connie Pickett, Beta Epsilon, accepts the Outstanding Junior award from Dr. Karl E. Limper, dean of Miami University's College of Arts and Sciences.

Connie Pickett Honored at Miami

Constance Rae Pickett, Beta Epsilon at Miami University, was honored as that college's Outstanding Junior Woman at the annual student recognition dinner in Oxford in May.

Connie was presented the Bertha M. Emerson award, a deluxe edition of a reference book, by Dr. Karl E. Limper, dean of the College of Arts and Science.

During last spring, Connie was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board and chosen president-elect of the University Panhellenic Association. Enrolled in Miami's Honor's Program, she is a government major in the College of Arts and Science. She has been a member of Concert Board, Miami Chest Board, Marlin Club, the People-to-People General Assembly and Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic honorary. She has been Gamma Phi Beta's candidate in Miss Miami and Greek Week queen competitions and has participated in University Theatre productions.

The Bertha M. Emerson award is named for a woman who served Miami with conspicuous loyalty and leadership from 1923 until her retirement in 1949 as assistant dean of women, and associate director for student affairs. Now associate dean emeritus, at age 80, she divides her time between New Harbor, Maine and various winter warm spots.

Jill Bunker

World Putting Queen

During February of last year, Jill Bunker, Beta Upsilon, became the World Putt-Putt Queen in Florida. Jill's ten-day vacation trip into Florida during semester break and her victory there all started in June of 1967.

Jill won her first competition in a local contest. She was presented with a $50 savings bond and went to Denver in early July for the regional contest.

In Denver 15 girls, including two from Kansas, were in the competition. The Denver contest was judged on beauty alone, and Jill again emerged victorious. With a $200 first place cash prize for her efforts there, Jill headed for Miami in February. Five finalists competed in the Miami contest, where they gave talent selections, held interviews with the judges, and delivered speeches.

The third contest was a charm for Jill. She was crowned "World Putting Queen." Although she didn't have to putt her way to victory. Jill is a better than average golfer.

Jill has won $7,000 in prizes including a free trip to Europe. She left last May for a one month around-the-world cruise.

Before leaving Florida last February, Jill spent four days filming the TV Parade of Champions in Fort Lauderdale, which appeared on some 70 stations across the country. She filmed seven shows of the series.

Jill begins her junior year at Kansas State University this fall. She is a Sigma Chi Derby Darling, a member of Light Brigade, the Army ROTC women's auxiliary and Burgandy Street Singers, a campus music group, presently on a USO tour.

Looking for a Good-Paying Job? Read This!

Are you in your last year of college or graduate school? Are you a recent college graduate? Are you an alumna of some years of experience? Are you looking for interesting, well-paid, rewarding work on a full- or part-time basis? Then, Gamma Phi Beta needs YOU.

If you're interested in motivating Gamma Phi Betas in college to improve their academic excellence; if you're interested in working with collegiate and alumnae members, if you're interested in assuming major responsibilities in preparing Gamma Phi Beta publications for printing, then Gamma Phi Beta needs you.

Here's what we have to offer.

First, there's money. We are competitive in this respect and salary will be commensurate with ability and experience.

Then, there's an opportunity to serve. The managing of a college sorority and of performing its many functions today require professional talent. We need top level people to meet with students, alumnae and college administrations. We need people with a basic knowledge of business operations, personal relations and written communication. Most of all we need enthusiasm, interest and a willingness to learn.

You'll be headquartered in the lovely, suburban offices of Gamma Phi Beta in Kenilworth, Illinois. You'll learn and you'll grow while you're adding to your sorority's contribution to higher education.

If you are interested—or if you know of someone who is—please write a letter to Miss Eleanor Sieg, Executive Secretary-Treasurer, Gamma Phi Beta Central Office, 630 Green Bay Road, Kenilworth, Illinois. Tell her about yourself, your job experience, extracurricular activities, and what kind of work you'd like to do.

It All Depends on You!

by Weldon P. Shofstall,
Dean of Students
Arizona State University

Sophisticated historians admit that the world is in a state of chaos, if not near anarchy. Arnold Townbee says we are in an unconventional Third World War—a war without genocide. Michael Padev, a foreign editor of considerable insight and prestige wrote: "... What is at stake is not the political career of French President Charles De Gaulle but the survival of a Western democratic regime against the onslaught of a frontal communist attack." Frank Meyer, editor of National Review wrote: "The prosecution of the war in Vietnam has been vitiated from the beginning by the internal decay of our attitude to world communism, by our refusal to face the reality of an enduring challenge to our existence and the existence of our civilization."

Almost every major University in America from West coast Berkeley to East coast Columbia has been challenged, in one way or another, to surrender the administration more or less completely to students. Neal Ascherson of the London Observer Service wrote last May, "This is revolution. What is happening in the Sorbonne and the Free University of Berlin, in France, West Germany, Italy and (embryonically) in Britain is not a mere generation conflict. Nor is it just a fight for university reform. It is total onslaught on modern industrial society." And, I might add, that the tactics are classically communist and the goal is completely nihilistic rather than utopian.

Students on the left have become more militant and social fraternities have become less relevant to the current scene. Greeks have "dropped out," which means that they have joined the student revolution. Being neutral today is to give aid and comfort to the enemy.

But, what is the connection between the survival of social fraternities and the student revolution or the Third World War? To answer that question, let me quote from the foreword of your book Ideally Speaking.

... In this changing world, it seemed necessary to add to the usual standards book a section dealing with the problems confronting all of us as we search for the meaning of life. This search for personal identity in today's world has become increasingly difficult, with challenges on every side. Our computerized society has all but stifled our very beings. Is escape, in any of its forms, the answer to man's search for his own identity? No. The answer is rather, to become involved with life and to understand oneself. The last section of this book reveals our great personal involvement with people and with the world in which we live."

The future of fraternities and that of freedom in America are inseparably linked. If America turns to dictatorship, and dictatorship IS the inevitable consequence of anarchy, then Gamma Phi Beta, along with other social fraternities, will be no more. Complacency today means suicide tomorrow for social fraternities.

Individualism and Collectivism

The nature of this link between social sororities and the current student revolutions is obvious if you read "The Panhellenic Creed":

We, the undergraduate members of women's fraternities, stand for good scholarship, for guarding of good health, for maintenance of fine standards, and for serving, to the best of our ability, our college community. Cooperation for furthering fraternity life, in harmony with its best possibilities, is the ideal that shall guide our fraternity activities.

Sororities which accept such a creed as their only guide would fit comfortably in any fascist, socialist, communist or any other collectivist state. A collectivist society encourages groups which stand only for such ideals as "good scholarship, good health, fine standards, and for service to the college community." Collectivism means anonymity, and anonymity means death to fraternities. Individualism plus a commitment to the belief that "A man's reach must exceed his grasp, or what's a heaven for?" is the true concept of fraternity.

By contrast, with the Panhellenic Creed, social fraternities were founded in the spirit of the Judaic-Christian tradition. Recently, however, the spirit of the enlightenment and the French revolution hit the American campuses with a dull thud which has currently become the loud roar of a nihilistic student revolution.

The social Gospel has replaced the Christian Gospel in the hearts of many idealistic young men and women. Jaques Maritain wrote: "Having given up God, so as to be self-sufficient, man has lost track of his soul. He looks in vain for himself; he turns the universe upside down trying to find himself; he finds masks, and behind the masks, death." Instead of a brotherhood in Christ, we have today a brotherhood in violence.

“Lee Harvey Oswald, James Earl Ray and Sirhan Bishara Sirhan felt they were obeying the dictates of their consciences.”

By publishing Ideally Speaking, Gamma Phi Beta has taken a stand at the crossroads. For them, a choice is imminent.

But will the individual members accept the challenge of Ideally Speaking? Aren't many members horrified at the thought that a sorority provides an opportunity to learn, and not just an opportunity for students to enjoy themselves? Unless the answer to this question is a determined “No,” Ideally Speaking has been written in vain and you are going to think my remarks are just not your “bag.” But, if you want more than a social sorority, what must you do?

My response is that I agree with Oscar Wilde when he wrote: “Nothing of importance can be taught. It must be learned.”

Is Man's Conscience His Only Guide?

According to a group of students, we are in an age where man's conscience is his only guide. They seem never to have learned that individual conscience does not spring into being full-blown; it is nurtured and bent by years of thought and experience, and by exposure to certain values. The next time someone pressures you to act according to an uneducated and immature conscience, just remember that, if guilty, Lee Harvey Oswald, James Earl Ray and Sirhan Bishara Sirhan felt they were obeying the dictates of their consciences.

However, and fortunately, we can read in Ideally Speaking, “The language of the character is behavior.” Marshall McLuhan puts it: “The medium is the message.”

If your conscience is to be your guide, if your ideals are to be translated into action, you must do more than listen to them presented by others. You must learn to acquire ideals for yourself. You must learn to educate your conscience. Learning how to acquire ideals to live by is a new experience and must become a necessary part of sorority life. You must learn to solve the personal problems of your life for yourself. No one else, no matter how filled with wisdom and compassion, can solve these problems for you.

So far as I have personally known, social fraternities, during the past fifty years, have contributed very little to educating the conscience of students. Consequently, a new kind of sorority activity must supplement the present program. This new kind of sorority experience must enable students to learn to achieve, for themselves, a precious personal autonomy and identity. But you must act. You must want to have more than a social sorority. Without the will, there is no way. With a desire, nothing is too difficult.

Superficial sisterhood must be replaced by real concern for each other, complete honesty and trust with each other plus love based upon faith in a personal God. These essentials do not exist today in the typical social sorority. They did exist in the sororities of some of your alumnæ.

If God Is Dead

A sorority alumna recently said to me, “My primary purpose in life is to try to know God's will for me and do it to the best of my ability.” Can you imagine an attractive twenty-year-old university woman saying and believing that? Can you imagine the members of your local chapter saying and believing that? I hope you can. If God is dead, fraternities are irrelevant, impotent and illogical. If God is dead in your sorority, you might as well forget Ideally Speaking.

I have learned that students generally take much the same attitude toward religion that they have about education. They feel that neither religion nor education has any serious bearing upon the trials and tribulations of everyday life. Only the “creeps” think they go to class to learn anything important or useful. Only the “creeps” think Jesus Christ has anything important, useful or personal for the cool guy or gal. You will surely agree that the Christian life doesn't seem very “groovy” to many sorority women. And, if that is true, social fraternities must supplement their present programs or perish.

Young women seem to have two kinds of problems. One is the kind which a social sorority can and does help. The other kind is the problem of the meaning of life for the individual, the autonomy and identity, which only the individual can help us solve. The second is the problems only God can help us solve. And since most people place more faith in humans than in God, their important and most frequent “hang-ups” are with those problems that only God can help solve.

There are at least three different worlds on a college campus. There is the first world of those women who are members of a social sorority. Here, within the sorority, they get both the moral and social support one gets from others. Here they get confidence and pride. Here they get external standards. Here they get the help that independents envy.

Then there is the second world of the great mass of students who are facing life pretty much alone. Some of them try riots. Others join political groups. Many have hobby groups. But, the majority have a few superficial friends and nothing more. Life for most of these women is pretty empty. These students need a sorority badly. They also need the third world.

In this third world, there are the students who have been blessed with the knowledge of spiritual power and Christian love. They have found faith in a living God. There aren't many of these, so it seems. These students have the happiness many sorority women are frantically seeking. But, those in the third world need a sorority in order to attain maximum from their education. They need a sorority as badly as the sorority needs them.

In his book, Human Destiny, Nobel prize winner Lecomte Du Noüy writes: “It is certain that the pure Christian dogma can no more be absorbed by the majority today than the theory of relativity. But the crowd can dispense with the idea of relativity, whereas it cannot dispense with religion.”

The American College—A Custodial Institution

In one of his newspaper columns, Sidney Harris stated our current situation clearly: “. . . The college in America has been a huge and expensive custodial institution, devoted to everything but the main purpose of education . . . to develop an intellectual appetite and to lead the search for human values . . . Colleges are run for sakes of departments, and research and grants, and administrative ease, and publicity and fund raising and keeping the children pure in body if not in mind . . . They are given all kinds of absurd diversions such as football and fraternities to camouflage the fact that they are actually being treated like babies. The students are painfully aware of this failure—but have been so badly educated that they have no values but violence to oppose it with."

Formerly, before our educational institutions ceased to educate, social fraternities met a real and important need. Fraternities used to be, in fact, laboratories for learning how to live. The content for living was obtained from the curriculum, the church and the home. Students came to college with an educated conscience. Today the fraternity has become a laboratory without content. A shell empty of values. Fraternities are, as Sidney Harris says, ". . . absurd diversions to camouflage the fact that they [students] are actually being treated as babies."

Absolutes and tradition are scorned. A vacuum has been created. A vacuum has never existed and never will exist permanently.

In order to fill the vacuum created largely by secular education, students have accepted five fatal delusions. Evidence that students embrace these delusions can be plainly seen on campuses all over America. Any student organization, sorority or otherwise, which desires to do anything constructive, on any campus, must recognize and seek to remove these delusions in the minds of their members before they can even hope to do anything worthwhile. These delusions are unsurmountable barriers to learning the truth as well as barriers to a change of the direction sororities are now traveling.

The Five Delusions

I. An Atheistic Society Can Be as Free as a Theistic One. (Atheism) Evidence for this delusion is the fact that many chapters of Gamma Phi Beta have one or more atheistic or agnostic members. In some cases, they are leaders. Better evidence is the fact that religion has been banned from the schools without serious objection. Likewise, many of us are no longer concerned if our public officials and legislators are atheists or agnostics. Communists are militant atheists. But, very few people fear a communist take-over of our government. It will be futile for your sorority to begin a program, "Ideally Speaking," if many members hold this delusion as truth.

II. The World Is Getting Better. (Progressivism) We proudly point to the growth in technology as proof of progress. But, this is a delusion. Anyone who doesn't subscribe to the cult of "progress" is voted down in elections and persona non grata in most elite social circles. We are living longer but we have more suicides. We have more comforts in life but mankind's practice is to make the next war as soon as a generation has grown up which is young enough not to be able to remember the unpleasantness of the last. All we seem to learn from history is that we don't seem to learn from history. Is this the road to progress? Forget your noble plans for renewal in the sorority if your members worship at the shrine of progressivism.

III. Utopia is Possible. (Utopianism) The appeal of communists and socialists, and most liberal politicians is the promise of "heaven-on-earth." For many people utopia is considered, not just a possibility, but a right. Utopia is the Lorelei in the American mainstream. As long as you dream of utopia you might as well forget Ideally Speaking. Utopianism is the great heresy of our times.

IV. Truth is Every-Changing. (Relativism) If you ask the average student, "What is right?" she will answer either that "it depends" or "whatever your conscience dictates." Scientific or historical truth about human relations and the good life are so we abolish all laws of decency."

"None of us likes guilt,

rejected, ignored, or never sought by young people. They have been taught that such truth is irrelevant mythology . . . that God is dead! Only a short-sighted or stupid scientist would reject, ignore or fail to seek to know physical laws. But, it seems easy for us to reject, ignore or fail to seek to know spiritual laws. A major delusion of our times is our belief in "situational ethics" or the "new morality" instead of using as our guide the universal and eternal laws of our spiritual universe. "You shall know the truth and the truth will make you free" must become the rock upon which Ideally Speaking rests.

V. Noble Ends Justify Any Means. (Environmentalism) Criminality and even the murder of our leaders is a logical consequence of this belief. None of us wants poverty for anyone, so our government steals "from each according to ability" and gives "to each according to need" in building a Great Society. None of us wants war so we surrender to those who promise us Paradise. None of us likes guilt so we abolish all laws of decency. Those who are victims of this delusion operate on the false assumption that society makes the man rather than the fact that man has free will and creates his own society. To accept just any means for achieving noble ends is to disrespect and disregard the individual.

Summary and Conclusions

Our thesis is that Gamma Phi Beta must, "Ideally Speaking," become more than a social sorority.

The vacuum created by the failure of higher education must be filled. Educating the conscience must be the mission of the modern sorority.

The barrier of the five delusions must be removed. The logical result of the five delusions is nihilism or a brotherhood of violence—on campuses all over the world.

The supplemental program must be carried on by students themselves. Only when and if professors and their students renew their traditional search for truth can fraternities afford to be again nothing more than social organizations.

If this idea is accepted by Gamma Phi Beta, you will become a leader on every campus where there is a chapter. As individuals, you will have found meaning in your lives. Personal identity and autonomy will have become real for each of you. You will have progressed toward "personal involvement with people and with the world in which we live" as so clearly proposed in Ideally Speaking. Your sorority will have given you something of great and lasting value long after graduation. Gamma Phi Beta, as an organization, will become the result rather than the creator of individual ideals.

Have I been optimistic or pessimistic? It all depends on you! Without such leadership, the future seems dismal. With such leadership, all of us can again hope for and realize a survival in freedom.

Oregon State University President James Jensen accepts an endowment check from Wilma Hansen as Kristine Paulson, Chi president, looks on.

Charter members at Beta Psi are S. A. Pollett, D. Strickland, B. Mennell, B. Jackson, L. Serby, P. Gard, V. Mackey, C. Bock and J. Dennis.

Happy members of Delta surround new initiate Mrs. Gerri Bowman (in white suit) and Jane Collari, chapter president.

Fifty Candles Glow At Oregon State University

Sixteen of Chi chapter's 39 charter members celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their installation last April at Oregon State University in Corvallis. From a small local sorority known as Beta Tau Beta, Chi chapter became the twenty-second chapter of Gamma Phi Beta on April 26, 1918.

Wilma MacKenzie Hansen was general chairman of the event and Karon Brewer '69 organized the Greek-letter girls.

Approximately 200 Gamma Phi Betas registered on Saturday morning, and after a brunch at the house, were taken on a bus tour through the town and campus. An impressive afternoon initiation service welcomed four new members to the bonds of Gamma Phi Beta. For many of the alumnae, this was the first initiation they had seen since their own.

The Pink Carnation Banquet in the Memorial Union ballroom honored the 50-year members: Ethel Walker Allworth, Dorothy Arriss Bell, Inez Knowles Brown, Frances Brown Coleman, Agnes Houck Crowley, Ruth Morton Davis, Myrtle Linville Grenfell, Marjory Shelly Leland, Dorcas Elliott Miller, Bertha Fisher Romans, Lynette Swenson Ross, Erma Stidd Sieberts, Hazel Hicks Taylor, Bess Jane Achison Tollefson and Margaret Patterson Tuttle. Presidents Kris Paulson '68 and Nancy Brand '67, presented the charter members with Golden Crescent citations.

Alice Lehman was mistress of ceremonies and Corvallis Woman of Achievement Ethel Walker Allworth responded for the charter members. AWS president and Outstanding Senior, Marylee Hansen '68, responded for the fiftieth class.

Grand Council's representative to the celebration was Mrs. W. A. Douglass, province alumnae director. In her banquet address, she spoke about "The Golden Glow," or the light that the lamp of Gamma Phi Beta has shed on the campus for 50 wonderful years.

University administrators and deans, campus living group representatives and Corvallis City Panhellenic representatives came to the chapter house for a formal tea on Sunday. Chairman Wilma Hansen presented Oregon State University President James H. Jensen with a $500 contribution to an endowment fund for the Library. All materials purchased from this fund will bear bookplates indicating that they are gifts from Gamma Phi Beta. Any additional contributions to the Anniversary Gift will add to the endowment fund.

A special Golden Anniversary newspaper was published for the weekend. One article cited Chi's past and present International officers and another named eight collegiate members with Gamma Phi Beta moms. The newspaper, however, failed to predict that the Banquet entertainment, a Cole Porter medley sung by the Chis under the direction of Ginny Kletzer, would win second place, for the second year, in the annual IFC Sing held on Mom's Weekend.

Delta's Special Initiate

On last April 28 Delta chapter at Boston University enjoyed a new "first" for one of Gamma Phi Beta's oldest chapters.

For the first time in its history, Delta initiated into membership a "special initiate." Pledged during her college years, Mrs. Richard Bowman, of Fairfield County Connecticut, joined the bonds at an impressive evening ceremony.

We are proud to welcome her into our sisterhood.

Four New Field Secretaries

JUDITH CLAIRE RUHL, an outstanding undergraduate member of Beta Phi chapter of Gamma Phi Beta and a 1968 honor graduate of Indiana University, brings to her new position of field secretary a wealth of collegiate administrative experience.

While maintaining a GPA of 3.30, she has been a member and leader of many campuswide activities. Through all four years of college she has been active in the affairs of the YWCA and the Little United Nations Assembly where she has been a delegate and served as Secretary-General during her junior and senior years. As a member of the Union Board she has served on many committees in that organization. Judy has been elected to many honorary organizations; as a freshman to Alpha Lambda Delta; as a junior to Pleiades and as a senior to Mortar Board. She has also been active in the sailing club, the quiz bowl team and student government and has served Gamma Phi Beta as treasurer for two years.

In talking about why she would like to be a field secretary, she said, "I feel that one of the major strengths of Gamma Phi Beta lies in the unity of her members and that one of the best methods for promoting this unity is through the sharing of ideas among the collegiate chapters. The field secretary plays a major role in promoting this Gamma Phi Beta unity."

JOAN LESLIE HERZIG, Beta Lambda, received her A.B. degree in speech last June from San Diego State College. She, too, has represented her college and Gamma Phi Beta in many aspects of college life. On the campus, she has been elected AWS president, a member of Mortar Board, president of the junior women's honorary and to Sigma Alpha Eta, national speech and hearing association.

High scholarship and an outstanding activity record are not her only achievements: She represented California in the national College Queen contest in 1967. (See December 1967 issue of THE CRESCENT.) In her leisure moments, Joan loves teaching Sunday school, playing in the San Diego Junior Symphony and reading.

In Gamma Phi Beta she has held three chairmanships: scholarship, public relations and alumnae relations.

Of her new position, Joan writes, "There is so much to share, so much to exchange, so much to learn through this sorority that it is a privilege to be considered for a position entrusted with these great responsibilities. To become a university activities advisor is a future goal, but now a desire to share all that the sorority has to teach is of real importance."

MARY ELLEN WALSTAD graduated last June from North Dakota State University where she was a member of Alpha Omicron chapter of Gamma Phi Beta.

In the sorority she has served as pledge parliamentarian, vice president and president of the chapter, Panhellenic delegate, convention delegate and was elected Gamma Phi's "Ideal Girl" last year.

In the Association of Women Students she has held the positions of secretary, program coordinator, vice president and national convention delegate. She has also been active in the Model U.N., the all-campus promotion "Sharivar" and in the American Home Economics Association. The Student Senate at NDSU sent Mary to California last summer to a training session in Human Relations at Chico State College.

Mary's comments about next year were, "Gamma Phi Beta is a fabulous sorority today because it's members in the past years have offered their time and effort to make it so. If we are to continue to be a great sorority, our generation must also work for Gamma Phi Beta. For all that I have received in the past four years from my sorority, I feel a responsibility to repay it in some way."

EVELYN JEAN BRZEZINSKI, Gamma Xi, is a 1968 graduate of the University of Tennessee where she received her B.A. degree in political science. After a year of serving as a field secretary she plans to enter graduate school to work toward a career in student personnel services.

In Gamma Xi chapter she served as Panhellenic delegate, pledge director and president. On campus she was an Association Senator, served on several Student Government Association committees and the executive committee of Student Forum. As a U.T. Ambassador, she helped present programs on higher education to high school student bodies across the state.

Evelyn feels strongly that her experience as a charter member of a new chapter will be important to her in her work as a field secretary. She writes, "Being a charter member of a Gamma Phi Beta chapter, I have experienced not only the great sense of accomplishment but also the many problems, both large and small, which occur as a matter of course within new chapters. I feel that some of these experiences would stand me in good stead in my work next year. And, too, this job will afford me a wonderful opportunity to talk to various experts in my chosen field and would give me an excellent background when I enter graduate school." D D D

Thirty-eight smiles radiate the excitement of Gamma Phi's installation at Auburn University.

Baby Chapter, Gamma Phi, Debuts in Dixieland

Lullabied by the melody of "Dixie" and rocked in the cradleland of the Confederacy, a baby Gamma Phi Beta chapter became Auburn's newest sorority on May 4. Thirty-eight aspiring pledges were initiated as charter members of the fourteenth group of Greek women at Auburn University. Along with the collegians, was the installation of 24 enthusiastic alumnae.

A week packed with busy days of excitement and bustling activity was climaxed in the quiet, stately sanctuary of Auburn's First Presbyterian Church. Serving as the installing team for the Gamma Phis were the Gamma Xis of the University of Tennessee, assisted by Beta Mu of Florida State, Gamma Alpha of Memphis State, and Alpha Theta of Vanderbilt. With the invaluable assistance of field secretary, Bonnie Allen, the colony was installed as Gamma Phi Beta's eighty-sixth chapter.

Saturday night, the new initiates were honored with a formal banquet at the University Motor Lodge in Auburn. More than 130 guests were present as Gamma Phi President Nancy Roper accepted the charter from Mrs. Ardis Marek. At the banquet, a unique combination of 14 Gamma Phi Beta Mother-Daughter sets were introduced. Later, three new awards were presented. Highest Scholarship Award, a silver engraved tray was presented to Cathy Cummings with a 2.75 average by Mrs. Malory of the Atlanta alumnae chapter. A silver engraved Revere bowl for Most Improved Scholarship was presented by Mrs. Felix Tankersley and Mrs. Carl Benkwith to Debbie Doster for a 1.36 grade improvement. The Most Outstanding Pledge Award went to Nancy Roper. This presentation was made by Miss Elise Berthon on behalf of the Birmingham alumnae. Field Secretary Bonnie Allen originated an award for the Most Outstanding Alumna Pledged. A black crescent recognition pin was presented to alumna pledge, Mrs. Pearl Sublett.

Sunday afternoon in the cool blue-green decor of the new chapter room, the newest members of the crescent world bubbled with southern hospitality at their installation tea. A gift table displayed the many beautiful presents from alumnae, chapters and friends. From Grand Council came a lovely silver engraved tray. Province VIII officially welcomed Gamma Phi with a silver punch bowl and engraved tray.

New pledges from the ten-week-old colony's successful spring rush actively participated to make the coming of Gamma Phi a real "happening" on the Auburn Campus. Having a taste of the tingling which comes at the termination of a happy pledge-ship, the new pledges are eagerly anticipating the day when they also will wear the crescent badge.

Special appreciation is felt for the Auburn alumnae. Nineteen years of letters, phone calls, discussions and decisions by Dr. Elizabeth Davis on the local end and Grand Council on the international level, made the Gamma Phi chapter on the rolling plains of Dixie a reality.

The hectic preparation, the solemn beauty of initiation and the good wishes which poured in from chapters across the nation all painted a "never-to-be-forgotten" memory in the hearts of the Gamma Phi chapter. The long awaited weekend ended all too soon, but perhaps one of the most thrilling moments came after the guests had gone home and the new sisters had settled back down to classes and studying. While walking across campus, proudly wearing her shining new badge, a certain Gamma Phi was stopped to be congratulated time after time. It's hard to describe the warm glow felt when, after being congratulated and wished well, that Gamma Phi hears a whisper, "Have you seen that sharp Gamma Phi Beta pin?" "Yeah, and ya know, they've got a great bunch of girls—never saw any group so eager to get into the swing of things on campus—They're really gonna make it here!"

Incidents such as this, along with the many, many sincere good wishes from all over the Auburn campus have told the baby chapter that they are welcome accepted. With incentive like that—Watch out Gamma Phi Beta—we're going to make you proud of us.

KSU Dedicates Judith E. Koonce Hall

Last May Kent State University officials and Gamma Phi Betas gathered to pay homage to an outstanding alumna, Judith E. Koonce, Kent State and Beta Zeta '57. A new 12-story women's dormitory, named in her honor, was dedicated and a portrait of Miss Koonce was presented to the University by the Cleveland alumnae.

Judy lost her life ten years ago when she was leading a group of 4-H girls on a hike along the Little Miami river. One 11-year-old girl slipped and fell down a gorge into the river and Judy jumped 45 feet into the water in a futile attempt to rescue the drowning child. The Bronze Carnegie Hero Medal was awarded to her posthumously.

The new Kent State building is the first to be named by the University for one of its graduates.

Mary Caldwell (Kent State), president of the Cleveland-East Suburban alumnae chapter, spoke to the 300 people gathered for the dedication ceremonies. Mary pledged Beta Zeta with Judy and was graduated with her. She gave a biographical vignette of the 23-year-old heroine before she presented the portrait to Dr. Robert I. White, president of the university. The painting, done in oil by Elizabeth Wheeler Olsen (Michigan), former Grand President of Gamma Phi Beta, will hang in the lobby of the dormitory.

The Judith E. Koonce Scholarship and its first recipient were announced at the dedication. The scholarship, to be awarded annually by the university, has been established with money raised by the three Greater Cleveland alumnae chapters of Gamma Phi Beta under the direction of Mary Caldwell. The fund will be administered by the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation.

At the dedication ceremonies, President White said, "to become a great center of learning a school must be rich in three vital areas and inter-related basic resources.

"One is a student body imbued with the traits and virtues Miss Koonce personified. Another is a faculty of gifted scholars who care, who encourage and stimulate the intellectual curiosity and growth of students. The third is wise and dynamic leadership that provides philosophic inspiration to all. Those whom we honor today personify these resources."

Following the presentation of the portrait, Beta Zeta undergraduate sisters of Judith presented two choral numbers in tribute to their honored sister.

Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Koonce of Cleveland were on hand for the ceremonies. Here they are pictured with Mary Caldwell, president of the Cleveland alumnae.

Lindsey Barbee Fellowship

The 1968 Lindsey Barbee Fellowship, increased in value to $2,000 this year, was awarded to Elizabeth R. Ahlvers, a Gamma Phi Beta at Mankato State College in Mankato, Minnesota.

With the Fellowship money, Elizabeth began work on the doctor of education degree last June at Pennsylvania State University. Her area of concentration will be in the field of reading because, she says, "I feel that the teacher is all-important in the success of the reading program." After she receives her doctorate, she has been invited to return to Mankato State where she has been an instructor in elementary education since 1964.

Elizabeth received her high school education in Wayne, Nebraska and her B.A. and M.A. degrees from Colorado State College in Greeley. She has taught in elementary school in Colorado and Nebraska before joining the education faculty at Mankato.

Leola Neal Award

Joy Benson, a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at the University of British Columbia, is the 1968 recipient of the Leola Neal award for academic excellence. The award was presented in the spring by the president of Alpha Lambda chapter of Gamma Phi Beta.

The Leola Neal Award, administered by the Gamma Phi

Beta Foundation, rotates among the five Canadian chapters of campuses on which Gamma Phi Beta has chapters. The annual prize of $100 is presented to the senior student who attained the highest scholastic average among Panhellenic women.

The award is named in honor of Dr. Leola Neal, dean of women at the University of Western Ontario and a Gamma Phi Beta, who has consistently promoted high scholarship among sorority women.

Kathryn Winchester Award

Carol Sands, a collegiate member of Tau chapter at Colorado State University, has been awarded the $300 Kathryn Herbert Winchester award for continuing education.

This award, established at the 1966 convention by John F. Winchester in honor of his wife, is awarded annually to an undergraduate student who has completed at least two years of college work. The terms of the award stipulated that the first recipient be from an Arizona chapter, where the Winchesters now reside. The grant for 1966-67 was made to Sue Zarkos, Beta Kappa. The Winchesters requested the 1967-68 award be made in Colorado where Kathryn was a member of Theta chapter at Denver University.

Grants-in-Aid

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation board has endeavored to increase the grants-in-aid program through the years to members of the Sorority who show outstanding promise. This year two grants for further graduate study were given.

Brenda Broz and Elizabeth Spencer, both graduates of the University of Southern California, have been awarded financial grants to assist them in their post-graduate studies.

Brenda has been granted $500 to assist her during her final semester at Harvard University School of Business where she has been working toward her master's degree. Elizabeth was granted $1,000 to continue her sophomore year in medicine at Johns Hopkins University. This medical grant was made possible through a gift to the Foundation by Florence Sullivan (Wisconsin) from the Wisconsin Postgraduate Medicine Foundation.

Alumnæ Opportunity to Serve

Because the number of scholarships which can be granted is directly related to the rapidity with which the Foundation is able to build its resources, alumnæ support is urgently needed. Those who have not yet contributed to the Foundation's growth may do so by filling in this form and mailing it with your check to Central Office today.

Participation by every member, regardless of the size of the gift, is the key to our future.

Alice Weiber Fitzgerald, Grand President 1940-46

Alice Weiber Fitzgerald (Beta '16), Grand President of Gamma Phi Beta from 1940 through 1946, died of a heart ailment on March 23 in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin.

A life-long worker for Gamma Phi Beta, Mrs. Fitzgerald began her long record of accomplishments while an undergraduate student. After completing two years at Wellesley, she transferred to the University of Michigan where she became an active member of Beta chapter, Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board. After receiving her B.A. and M.A. degrees, she married Dr. Robert E. Fitzgerald.

In 1932 she was named scholarship chairman of Gamma Phi Beta, where for three years she led the undergraduates to strive for scholarship as an individual cultural development rather than a dogged pursuit of statistical standings. From 1935 to 1938 Mrs. Fitzgerald was director of Province IV and served as historian until 1939 when she became Chairman of Expansion and a member of Grand Council.

Elected Grand President at the 1940 convention in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Fitzgerald brought to her office a combination of serious, thoughtful direction well spiced with a keen sense of humor. Shortly after World War II was declared in 1941, all conventions were banned for the duration. When Mrs. Fitzgerald finally retired as Grand President six years later, the delegates at the 1946 Convention in Bretton Woods gave a standing ovation to Alice Weiber Fitzgerald, who led them proudly through the difficult war years with fortitude and efficiency.

Gamma Phi Beta extends its gratitude and sincere sympathy to all members of Mrs. Fitzgerald's family.

Fifty-four happy collegians at the University of Northern Iowa are only part of the new colony at Cedar Falls.

The University of Northern Iowa

The University of Northern Iowa's Mother's Day weekend will long be remembered by the 52 girls who were once members of the Delta Delta Phi local sorority. There was a certain nostalgia in the group as they sang their local songs to their mothers for the last time and a great sense of anticipation on Sunday, April 28, when they became the Gamma Psi colony of Gamma Phi Beta.

As the prospective pledges arrived at the Cedar Falls Women's Club in the early afternoon, they were led upstairs where Mrs. Charles S. Simons, Director of Expansion, and Gamma Phi alumnae from Cedar Falls and Waterloo chatted with the girls. Excitement mounted as 21 alumnae of Delta Delta Phi from the Cedar Falls-Waterloo area joined the collegiate members for the pledging ceremony. One recently married alumna was so excited that she started to line up alphabetically by her maiden name rather than by her married name! When all had arrived, they were taken into the main room, where the president Rita McCarthy, of the Omega chapter from Iowa State University, presided over the ceremony.

The pledging ceremony was followed by a tea and reception, which had been arranged by Mrs. Q. W. Wallace, Mrs. Stephen Thorpe, and other local Gamma Phi Beta alumnae. At this time the new pledges had an opportunity to meet Marilyn Bachnik, the field secretary who will be with them until installation; Mrs. Robins Hawthorne, the province collegiate director, and other Gamma Phi Beta alumnae from Des Moines. The new pledges were entertained by the girls from Omega chapter with their favorite Gamma Phi songs; the new pledges quickly changed some of their local songs to Gamma Phi Beta in response to the Omega serenade.

As the afternoon ended, the girls returned to campus along with their Gammy-Bugs, which the Gamma Phi chapter at Mankato State College had sent with Marilyn to convey their congratulations to our newly formed colony.

The new colony is looking forward to their installation as the Gamma Psi chapter of Gamma Phi Beta late in the fall.

Footlights and Feathers

FOOTLIGHTS AND FEATHERS by Mary Orr and Reginald Denham (Pageant Press, 111 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10003). A trip around the world, a Broadway play, fabulous feathered friends and a two-author literary device make Footlights and Feathers a delightful travel book.

Mary Orr Denham (Syracuse '33) relates with glee the trials and tribulations in starring in the Broadway success Never Too Late in Australia and New Zealand. Her husband, Reginald, an avid ornithologist, traveled with her to have a closer look at the rarae aves of Down Under. They decided to make a complete trip around the world and include Hawaii, Hongkong, Bangkok, India, Cairo, Rome and London before returning to New York.

Rather than collaborating, the Denhams have written the book as two separate people—each commenting upon or supplementing the impressions of the other. The result is personal and intimate.

Mary, as a New York actress and the wife of a Broadway director and playwright, is well equipped to compare the theatres of Australia, New Zealand and America. The book is sparked with humorous insights into the life and problems of being a celebrity abroad: appearances on TV and radio shows, speeches to local ladies clubs and interviews with the none-too-cosmopolitan press. She lends her feminine touch to descriptions of the hotel accommodations (both the plush and the primitive), the difficulties of getting a mink coat through customs and the local foods.

Mr. Denham, in turn, gives superb and thoroughly knowledgeable descriptions of the countryside and wildlife. His love for nature takes him from formal botanical gardens to wild and remote parts of the land as he seeks an up-close view of rare, exotic and unusual birds. The passion of the bird watcher shines through his accounts.

Mary and Reginald Denham are two well-known personalities on the Broadway scene. Since their marriage they have collaborated in writing many plays produced in London and New York. As an actress, Mary has appeared in many plays, TV and radio productions. As a writer, she has published two successful novels and a great many short stories which have appeared in the leading women's magazines. Her novelette, published in Cosmopolitan Magazine under the title "Eve Harrington," was later made into the Oscar-winning movie "All About Eve," for which she received the Screen Writers' Guild Award.

Mr. Denham has directed successful New York plays: The Bad Seed, Dial "M" for Murder, The Two Mrs. Carrolls and Hostile Witness. He has contributed numerous articles to ornithological publications and has had many short stories and one book published.

Armchair travelers, theater buffs and nature lovers will delight in Footlights and Feathers.

Mary Orr found excitement and adventure when she starred in Never Too Late in Australia. Her new book will appeal to armchair travelers, theatre buffs and bird watchers.

Setting up a Science Project

SETTING UP A SCIENCE PROJECT by Ann Stepp (Prentice-Hall, Inc.). According to the junior high school teacher-author, a science project is not a construction or art project. It is not an enlarged model or drawing. It is not working up a plastic model from a hobby kit or building a model volcano. It is not the display of an impressive piece of scientific equipment, nor a copy of the solar system. It is not a report copied from an encyclopedia and a chart copied from a book.

Having explained in the foreword of her book the many things that a science project is NOT, Ann Stepp launches into a highly readable account of the positive aspects of her subject matter. The solving of a problem or the demonstration of a principle is the purpose of any science exhibit. The author cites several examples. But, she says, the market place has shown the importance of good packaging and she deals at length with proper and effective ways to display and demonstrate any given project. The cost of materials and safety measures are covered in the book.

Ann (Oklahoma) received her B.S. degree in education at Oklahoma University and her M.A. from Chapman College in Orange, California. She is chairman of the science teachers in Garden Grove, California, and is currently collaborating with Encyclopedia Britannica on a filmstrip series on science projects.

Making a science project interesting is the subject of Ann Stepp's new text book.

The Centennial Girl at the University of Missouri greets Colonel Lane Carlson as she returns to her alma mater to be honored as an outstanding alumna.

Lieutenant Colonel Lane Carlson, president of Alpha Delta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta at the University of Missouri in 1940-41, has been named one of the first six officers of the Women's Army Corps to be selected for promotion to colonel.

Almost simultaneously with the announcement of her promotion Lane received word that she was to be honored by the University of Missouri as one of its outstanding alumnae who has made distinguished contributions to her generation. The honors convocation took place early in May in Columbia, Missouri, where Lane and other honored alumnae were special guests at the climax of a year-long celebration of the Centennial of the admission of women to the university. In Columbia she was a guest at a luncheon given by Mrs. John Schwada, wife of the chancellor of the University and Mrs. Warren Hearnes, wife of the governor of the state.

Lane, currently the information officer at Fort McClellan, Alabama, was selected last April by a board of general officers convened in Washington, D.C., to consider, for the first time in the history of the corps, WAC lieutenant colonels eligible for promotion.

Her promotion will come under the provisions of a law enacted late last year guaranteeing equal promotion and retirement opportunities to women in the armed services. A 25-year veteran of Army Service, Lane enlisted in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps in February 1943 at Ft. Des Moines, Iowa and was graduated from Officer Candidate School there in June.

Since her first assignment as assistant public information officer at Camp Butner, N.C., she has served all tours of duty in the information field, including overseas duty in Tokyo, Japan and Heidelberg, Germany.

She holds a bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Missouri and a master of arts degree in communications and journalism from Stanford University, Palo Alto, California.

A graduate of the Command and General Staff College, Lane served in the Office of Public Affairs at Headquarters, U.S. Army Europe, Heidelberg before being assigned to Ft. McClellan in January 1967.

Scheduling of promotion of the WAC officers selected for colonel will follow promotion of previously selected male lieutenant colonels. At that time, dates of rank will be adjusted and the women officers will be placed in proper sequence on the colonel's promotion list.

Margie Jo Smith, Oklahoma Counselor

Margie Jo Smith (Oklahoma City) has been named an "Outstanding Young Woman of America for 1967." This title is bestowed annually on women, between the ages of 21 and 35, who have distinguished themselves in civic and professional activities.

She graduated magna cum laude from Oklahoma City University and later received her master's degree from Central State College in Edmond. A health and physical education teacher, she has also taught radiologic technology at a local hospital. In 1967 she was awarded a scholarship to the NDEA Counseling and Guidance Institute and is now a counselor in junior high school.

In 1965 Margie Jo was named to Who's Who in Greater Oklahoma City. She belongs to Delta Kappa Gamma (honorary education), the local Guidance Association, and is secretary of the Oklahoma City University Alumni Board.

In Gamma Phi Beta she has served on the Beta Omicron corporation board and as alumna social adviser, standards and scholarship adviser to Beta Omicron.

And in her spare time? You'll find her square dancing about twice a week.

Helen Schleman Retires as Dean of Women At Purdue University

Dean Schleman will devote more of her time to her pet project, Span Plan.

After 21 years as Purdue University's dean of women, Helen B. Schleman (Northwestern) shucked her administrative duties July 1 to concentrate on her favorite mission—keeping women from going to seed intellectually.

Under her new responsibility, she will work half-time as a special counselor in what she calls her Span Plan—planning education for the entire life span of women. This new duty will give her time to concentrate added emphasis on the job of counseling mature women who have returned to the university to resume their interrupted education, including wives of students.

"Our office has been the one agency on campus which is concerned particularly with interpreting women's new life patterns to women students and urging them to make individual, long-term plans," Dean Schleman said. "This is important, in light of their probable employment outside the home for many years of their lives—especially after age 35 or 36, when their children will probably all be in school."

Dean Schleman and her staff already have such a program going in cooperation with Mortar Board. Using donated funds, the program gives grants to students' wives to help them resume their educations through part-time study. Miss Schleman calls it one small aid in helping young wives avert educational obsolescence during their child-rearing years.

She also will work on a program, set up 16 years ago, to help freshman women adjust to university life through small group counseling conferences. Mortar Board members participate in these conferences.

When Miss Schleman became dean of women in 1947, Purdue had only 2,097 women students out of a Lafayette enrollment of 14,060. That figure dropped to 1,657 after postwar enrollments waned to a 1951 low mark, but the number since then has quadrupled to 6,825 this year, out of a main campus total enrollment of 23,370.

Her service to Purdue actually dates back to 1934, when she became Purdue's first women's residence hall director. In her 13 years in that job, she developed the program of using graduate and undergraduate students as hall counselors. She also developed and directed Purdue's training school for house mothers for fraternities, sororities and residence halls. One of the earliest and best known training schools for mature women, it was used as a pattern for similar schools set up later in the Midwest and in the Pacific Northwest.

A native Hoosier, Miss Schleman attended school in Valparaiso. She received a bachelor's degree in English literature from Northwestern University in 1924, a master's degree in hygiene and physical education from Wellesley College in 1926 and a master's degree in psychology and education from Purdue in 1934.

While teaching physical education at Ohio State University in 1926-32, Miss Schleman introduced group instruction in golf. Her textbook on Group Golf Instruction was published in 1934.

She spent four years during World War II in Washington in the Coast Guard Women's Reserve (SPARS), first as assistant director and later as director. She attained captain's rank and received a commendation from the Secretary of the Navy.

On the national level, Dean Schleman served on the education committee of President Kennedy's Commission on the Status of Women, and she was one of the women Mr. Kennedy invited to the White House to discuss civil rights. She is a member of President Johnson's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. She served three years on the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services and received the Army's Distinguished Civilian Service Award.

Miss Schleman once served as a judge of the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City. She had asked the advice of Purdue President Frederick L. Hovde on accepting the assignment and was told: "Do it. I've never been opposed to mixing beauty and brains."

With her predecessor, Miss Schleman published Your Best Foot Forward, a book on social usage for young people. It was based on their nationwide survey, in which hundreds of outstanding students, both men and women, were asked about accepted social practices on college campuses.

Miss Schleman has served as president, vice president and treasurer of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors and as president of that group's Indiana association. At Purdue she has served as president and vice president of the University Club and is a member of the University Senate's Student Affairs Committee. Purdue's Mortar Board chapter named one of its four-year scholarships for undergraduates in her honor.

She is listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who of American Women.

Miss Schleman's articles on women's education, student housing and extra classroom education have appeared in the Journal of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors, National Mortar Board Quarterly and publications of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students.

The Eyes of Texas Are Upon Nancy Tieken Hein

Nancy Tieken Hein (Texas '54) was named Texas Outstanding Young Clubwoman at the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Convention held in Austin last May. Bi-annually the TFWC names a member to this honor. Nancy won the Outstanding Clubwoman Award at the Alamo District Convention of the TFWC in March through her project of which she is chairman, "Clear Corners and Clean Curbs." She was entered in the contest by the San Antonio Women's Federation.

The "Clear Corners" project was in cooperation with the General Federation's Improvement Program in which club women survey the needs of their communities. The clubs choose projects in fields of education, conservation, beautification, health or improving conditions for youth.

As President of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Bexar County Pharmaceutical Association, Nancy has been busy coordinating their 1968 state convention in San Antonio and Hemisfair. She served as vice chairman of the women's activities of the convention. Recently she was re-elected as a three-year state director of this organization; she has also served as vice president, treasurer, and historian of the local auxiliary.

Other services that Nancy performs are: corresponding secretary of Woman's Club of San Antonio, treasurer of the Carousel Round Table of the Woman's Club, and vice chairman of their constitution revision committee, a charter member of the Woman's Pavillion at Hemisfair, director of the Beautify San Antonio Association, San Antonio Womens Federation, San Antonio Musical Club, San Antonio Conservation Society, St. John's Lutheran Church—served as delegate to the Annual Convention of the Southern District of the American Lutheran Church in April 1968 held in New Orleans as well as April 1967 in Austin.

Nancy attended schools in Austin and graduated with a bachelor of science degree from the University of Texas where she was a member of Alpha Zeta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. She is married to Robert Hein and they have one daughter, Lisa, who is three years old.

From East to West They Do the Best

Helen Moore Torrence

Last winter the Orlando-Winter Park (Florida) alumnae gathered at the Alpha Mu chapter house at Rollins College to present a Golden Crescent award, for 50-year membership in Gamma Phi Beta, to one of their outstanding alumnae, Helen Moore Torrence (Syracuse '19).

Helen received her A.B. degree from Syracuse University where she became a member of Alpha chapter. She later earned her master's degree at Stetson University and did work toward her doctorate at the University of Florida.

She has served as president of the AAUW in Orlando-Winter Park and as president of the Florida division of that organization. She is a past president of the Friends of the Library and holds memberships in DAR, the women's auxiliary of Orange Memorial Hospital and the Board of Civic Music. The Exchange Club of Orlando presented her with their Golden Deeds award.

Helen Douglas Brazil

Helen Douglas Brazil is one of the outstanding San Jose alumnae who has continuously contributed to her community and Gamma Phi Beta.

Born in Salt Lake City, Helen completed her education at UCLA and became a member of Alpha Iota chapter. Since the summer of 1952, Helen has been an active member of the San Jose alumnae serving her sorority as secretary and ARC chairman for three years.

Internationally, Helen has taken on many responsibilities and achievements. Her numerous Gamma Phi offices have included state membership chairman, province director and assistant to collegiate vice president.

In addition to her Gamma Phi work, Helen has found time to contribute to many local activities. She has served as President of the Women's Auxillary to the Saratoga Federated Church, has been on the Board of Directors for the faculty wives of San Jose State and was president of the Saratoga PTA.

Helen, is the wife of Burton Brazil, who has the distinguished honor of being the first mayor of Saratoga. He has served on the Saratoga City Council for the past eight years.

Home and children play a major role in Helen's life. Her oldest son Wayne, a Stanford graduate, is attending Harvard graduate school. John is a junior on the Stanford campus in Germany at Stuttgart. Ann and Lynn are in high school.

"Fashion History Repeats Itself," Says Florida Educator

The tent dress is really not so new. And neither are long dangling earrings or see-through blouses or the current style in sweaters.

Last summer Alberta Gary Jackson (Hollins '27) made a great many startling discoveries on a six-week art-history tour of Latin America. The only educator in Florida so honored, Alberta was sponsored on the tour by the art department of the University of Georgia and the National Endowment for Humanities.

In Mexico Alberta saw the wide tent-style dresses carved in stone and plaster on the sides of ancient monuments that dated back 2,500 years. The same type garment is still worn by old and young alike in both Mexico and Guatemala. "The country women have lived and dressed very much the same way for thousands of years and they don't seem to want to change," she said.

The long dangling earrings, made mostly of beads and seeds, have been in style for more than two millennia—and they're still popular today.

A wine colored wool quezquemtl she bought in Mexico is very like the knitted see-through sweaters, a high fashion mode last fall. Indian women today and in 200 B.C. wore the capes for warmth.

On the tour the Jacksonville teacher visited eight sites of ancient peoples in Mexico and Guatemala and climbed several monuments at each site.

"People don't realize it, but some of those pyramids are as large as those in Egypt," Alberta said. Some she climbed were as high as 210 feet and date back to about 535 B.C.

While Alberta brought back many souvenirs and wider educational background, she said she also lost something climbing over and crawling through the stone monuments and pyramids.

"Ten pounds," she said, smiling proudly.
