the CRESCENT

19 Gamma Phi Beta spans the centuries

Our Centennial is mainly a time of rededication to the principles of our Founders, a celebration of the first 100 years and a launching into the second 100.

We live in a constantly changing society and a changing world and Gamma Phi Beta has changed with it. Our undergraduate members think these changes have come about too slowly, alumnæ think too quickly! But changes have been made and will continue to be made to keep our organization in tune with the times.

Changes made too quickly are sometimes regretted and I observed this at the recent meeting of the American Association of Women's Deans and Counselors. Two and three years ago many deans were in favor of throwing out all restrictions on alcohol, hours, places of residence and sororities if they stood in the way of the new freedom. However, at the most recent deans' meeting last March, one dean, who had always been quite anti-sorority, had this to say: "I note a trend now toward privacy, and I believe that sororities are the one place on campus where privacy is possible. In a small group, members respect each other's need for privacy."

These deans have lived with open visitation and free-flowing alcohol and do not like the results in many cases.

This is only one of many areas in American life where the baby has been tossed out with the bath water. We've seen it in education, religion, medicine and in many other fields. Perhaps we can now re-affirm our thinking that you must maintain a framework on which the young may grow and develop. We must differentiate between freedom and license.

Gamma Phi Beta has provided such a framework. It is founded on a rock and our thousands of members have aspired to fulfill the aims of the Sorority, to promote a higher mental, spiritual and social culture which is the prime object of our organization.

As Gamma Phi Betas, we look to the joys of this sisterhood, of the bond which cuts across age differences and brings a recognition from the depths of our being when we meet a new person who says, "I'm a Gamma Phi!"

As difficult as such a feeling is to put into words, the bond is there. It is strong. It is beautiful. It is a rare joy in this day of materialism.

This is the bond which we are celebrating, a bond which spans the century and the generations within that century. It is the bond which brings us together, the bond which will continue into the next century.

It is my hope that each one of you, and all those in your chapter whom you represent, will share in the Centennial celebration by taking a part, whether large or small. May we tell the world, through our celebration and our portrayal of the past, present and future of Gamma Phi Beta, that our Sorority has provided a very special dimension in our lives through our creed of Love, Labor, Learning and Loyalty.

For the first time in its 150 year history, Columbia, Missouri, elected a woman to the City Council. Betty Ann Ward McCaskill (Missouri) arrived at her first Council meeting with a vase of jonquils for her desk and from a brown paper sack she pulled out an apron which she wore when she was installed. She made her point. At last the city would have the voice of the homemaker.

(Left) Helen B. Schleman (Northwestern), former dean of women, received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Purdue University on June 13. (Right) Patricia Gibson Marshall (Wisconsin) was the second woman to be inducted into Madison (Wisconsin) Sports Hall of Fame. Pat retired in the 50's as an undefeated U.S. and North American speed skating champion. She established 35 meet records and won 50 championships.

She's Great,
She's a Greek,
She's a Gamma Phi!

Part of the original members of the Burgundy Street Singers, a folk-rock group, are blonde, twins, Jan and Jill Bunker (Kansas State). The group organized on the campus of Kansas State University less than three years ago and opened last May at one of the foremost supper clubs in the country, the Persian room of the Plaza hotel in New York City.

You Can Learn to Be Kind to the Environment

by Frances Cerra

Frances Cerra is a graduate of Queens College of the City University of New York with a master's degree in journalism from Columbia University. She is currently consumer affairs reporter for Newsday, traveling to Washington, D. C. for stories as necessary. She is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

When Ralph Nader appeared at a Long Island college recently, a petite woman had a question for him: "I'm a housewife and I'm concerned about pollution and the consumer," she said, straining to make herself heard in the auditorium, "but what can I do to help?" Her question expressed the frustration of most Americans who have noticed that air pollution has dulled the autumn leaves, that water pollution is closing beach after beach and that pollution of the earth is surrounding our cities with foul garbage dumps.

It's true that industry produces four to five times as much liquid waste as consumers, uses 70 percent of all the nation's electric power and throws away about 94 percent of our solid wastes. But, as that woman recognized, industry's sins do not absolve consumers of their responsibilities to the environment. People can learn to be kind to the environment as individuals, and then, in groups like sororities, on campus or off, can band together to pressure the government and industry to clean up.

Nader answered that housewife's question by telling her not to use products that pollute—like phosphate detergents. He could have listed such items for an hour. Until now, consumers have not used their buying power to tell industry that they do not want products that pollute. Take the disposable craze in bottles, diapers and even cigarette lighters.

Americans are fond of throwing things away, so fond that the U. S. Bureau of Solid Waste Management is doing research to find out why. Only a few years ago, people not only returned empty soda bottles, the empties were coveted by children as a source of pocket money. Today, most people prefer to throw out disposable soda bottles and cans rather than inconvenience themselves to collect a measly few cents. Out of sight, out of mind. But government studies have already shown that if this trend continues, nonreturnable containers will have virtually replaced the deposit bottle by 1972. That means that there will be some 20 billion cans and bottles littering the land-scape and filling garbage dumps unless Americans come to their senses. And don't forget, aluminum cans don't rust.

Industry is already calling the 1970's the "Disposable Decade" and the "Throwaway Age," because they are convinced that consumers' desire for convenience is so strong that they will ignore the threat to the environment. It's time housewives faced a fact: You cannot speak righteously about the local power company polluting the air and then go home and pop a TV dinner into the oven and a disposable diaper on the baby. Prepared foods mean packaging. Garbage. Disposable diapers, paper cups, plates, paper towels—all are unnecessary sources of garbage. And garbage today is either burned, meaning air pollution, or buried in wetland areas like swamps which are homes to birds and animals, and spawning grounds for the small organisms that ultimately keep ocean fish alive. Washing diapers and doing your own cooking is trouble, no question; but is there a rational choice?

Many college cafeterias have also been swept by the disposable craze. A collegiate chapter of a sorority is in a fine position to object to the use of disposable plates and flatware. Disposables may save the cafeteria management some labor costs, but what are they costing the environment?

There are other products that ecology-minded consumers can avoid. The phosphates in detergents are thought to be the cause of something called eutrophication, a process that makes lakes and bays fill up with algae and become unfit for swimming and death traps for fish. Lists of detergents and their phosphate contents have been published by the U. S. Department of Interior and Consumer Reports. Buy detergents with zero or low phosphate contents. And forget about enzyme presoaks. They are an additional source of phosphates.

Lead in gasoline is another major pollutant. Some non-lead or low lead gasolines are available now. Buying them will encourage all the oil companies to make unleaded gasolines, and fast.

Long lists of products to avoid can be obtained from local conservation groups, and these are the groups that both collegiate and alumnæ chapters can ally with to start efforts to improve the environment. For example, many companies are paying for each aluminum can or bottle returned to them. Besides being beneficial to the environment, this isn't a bad way for a group to make some money.

But the possibilities for group action go far beyond picking up cans or setting up anti-litter days. The place to start is by raising the ecology consciousness of the members of your group and anyone else you can get to listen. Bring in guest speakers from conservation groups, ask representatives from local power companies or health agencies to come to meetings and answer questions on what they are doing about pollution. Use college resources, such as the science department, to help organize full-scale teach-ins on the environment.

And how about finding out just who is responsible for polluting that lake near you? If the health department doesn't know who is responsible, put pressure on them to find out. If they do know, then ask them why they haven't done anything about it. If you don't get action fast, show up in a group at your next town board or county legislature meeting. Watch how fast you make headlines when you demand enforcement of existing pollution laws and ask for stronger ones. Watch and see how polite your local politicians will be.

A good example of what can be accomplished happened in the state of Washington last year. The whole thing began as an academic project in a political science class, an exercise to see if students could get enough signatures on petitions to have a referendum put on the November ballot. The students chose an ecology issue, the non-returnable soft drink and beer container. They proposed that at least a five-cent deposit be required on all such containers. The task seemed staggering because the students needed over 100,000 signatures to get on the ballot. Nevertheless, in a little over two months, the students gathered more than 180,000 signatures. The state Democratic convention endorsed the proposal, and so did the Republican governor and attorney general of the state.

Unfortunately, this story does not have a happy ending in the traditional sense. The referendum was defeated, apparently because of strong opposition from brewers in the state. But it is certain that the issue is not dead, and the students found out in the process that they have real power.

Ralph Nader has recognized this fact more strongly than almost any other consumer-ecology leader in the country. He believes that to fight polluters effectively, consumers need public interest lawyers who will represent citizens groups in court cases against polluters big and small and against government agencies that hesitate too long to enforce the law. One such public interest law firm in Washington was recently responsible for stopping the Alaska oil pipeline which conservationists fear would do irreparable damage. The problem with forming such law firms is that they cost money. Nader has proposed, in speeches on campuses around the country, that college students pay $5 or $10 as part of each semester's general fee to set up their own public interest law firm. Instead of demonstrating, then, student groups with a gripe could use the courts to voice their objections. Nader's proposal is just getting off the ground on at least one campus, but the idea offers hope.

Original thinking like this and quick action by individuals and groups is what is needed if the world is to remain a fit place to live. Crowds, noise, dirt and air that stings the eyes are now commonplace characteristics of big cities. Nobody wants to live this way and large numbers of people have fled to the suburbs for escape. But they took with them their cars, their washing machines, their mania for convenience and their indifference. We can learn to be kind to our environment. We must. Or else.

Operation Brass Tacks

"You Can Learn to Be Kind to the Environment" is one of a series of articles prepared for sorority magazines by the Operation Brass Tacks Committee of the National Panhellenic Editors Conference.

Members of the committee are: Marilyn Simpson Ford, Pi Beta Phi; Ellen Hartmann Gast, Alpha Xi Delta; Ann Hall, Alpha Chi

What One Gamma Phi Has Done for Ecology

Out in Colorado Springs at Alpha Phi chapter of Gamma Phi Beta one young college woman is leading the way in making her college community aware of the prevalent dangers to our environment. She is not only talking about the evils that lurk around us, she has aroused her cohorts to action and they are doing something about it.

Margaret Finch, Colorado College junior, is president of a campus organization called "Ecology Action." As Margaret explained in a letter to The Crescent: "Ecology Action at Colorado College has just gotten off the ground this last spring. I and three others took over the group in January and we decided that it needed more action and less talk. So we started off on a project of cleaning up the campus."

Margaret's small group secured the interest and help of the physical plant of the College and posted 50-gallon empty gas drums at every dormitory for the collection of newspapers, clear glass, and tin and aluminum cans. All of these objects can by recycled. After two months of storing the contents of these cans in a college-owned vacant house, Ecology Action had a big day of taking everything to the recycling centers. About 20 college students helped with this venture.

Ecology Action sponsored the first annual campus clean-up last spring. At one Saturday lunch, the group distributed plastic garbage bags to the campus dining centers and several hundred students spent the day picking up cigarette butts, paper and litter on the campus lawns.

Another project of Ecology Action was a "tree-planting" in the mountains. The Forest Service supplied the group with 5,000 young seedlings which the students planted in an old fire burn area.

Concluding her letter to The Crescent, Margaret says: "Many more plans are in the offing, and hopefully next year, with the experience that we have gained, we will be better able to organize this group. We would really like to extend our recycling program to the entire city and to get more people interested in this most vital problem."

THE CRESCENT congratulates Margaret Finch, and Alpha Phi chapter, for leadership and campus involvement in one of the current challenges to society. It is hoped that their story will be an inspiration to other chapters to lead the way in community and campus action.

IT'S AAA TPEEK TO ME!

Gleanings from the Fraternity Journals

The Anchora of Delta Gamma reports that the late Mr. George Banta was that fraternity's only male member. Mr. Banta was also a member of Phi Delta Theta, but his close Delta Gamma ties led him to organize a Delta Gamma chapter at Franklin College.

The Anchora has been published continuously since 1884, and the Banta publishing company has printed it for 62 of those years.

Sigma Chi has set its goal of $100,000 to be raised to help Wallace Village for children. This is one of the few schools for children with minimal brain damage, and they come to Wallace Village from all over the country.

Panhellenic at the University of Arizona has developed a new program for the Greek houses. Last February each sorority sent one girl to live two days in each of the 13 houses on campus. The program has prompted intra-sorority friendships. Arizona also has a new program of "Sister Sorority" which developes a closer relationship between chosen houses.

Pi Beta Phi has interesting sounding organizations called "Pi Phi Pockets." A pocket is organized in an area where at least three Pi Phis live, but not as many as the required 15 to charter an alumnæ club. The Pocket members meet for social times, and are able to help their sorority in many ways.

The national council of Pi Kappa Alpha is urging its chapters to give up the traditional pledge training program. It maintains that the pledge-active distinction is not conducive to leadership or a healthy fraternity situation. It urges members, initiated and uninitiated, to take an active part in all fraternity business.

Lambda Chi Alpha also has dropped the "Pledge" program in favor of the "Associate Member" program. A new member is urged to serve on chapter committees and to attend chapter meetings; he no longer will have to perform humiliating or subservient tasks.

A Phi Delta Theta badge had been to the moon and back! It went with Phi Delt Neil Armstrong, Purdue, on his famous Apollo 11 flight in 1969. It has joined the display of the American and Phi Delt flags Armstrong carried on his 1966 Gemini 8 flight. These may be seen in the fraternity's headquarters in Oxford, Ohio.

Each Greek organization has its full share of members who have achieved recognition and prominence. Space would not allow a listing of these, but there are two worth a note. The lovely and beautiful Miss America 1971 is Phyllis George, a Zeta Tau Alpha from North Texas State University; and the only woman elected to the Oklahoma Hall of Fame this year is Edna Hoffman Bowman, Alpha Chi Omega from the University of Oklahoma. Mrs. Bowman has been connected with the Oklahoma Historical Society since 1958 and is a director of the Oklahoma Memorial Association.

A badge of Beta Theta Pi, worn 121 years ago by Andrew Dousa Hepburn, has been given to the Beta headquarters at Oxford, Ohio. Mr. Hepburn was associated with Miami University for over half a century as founder of the English department, dean of the liberal arts college, and as president of the University. Two buildings at Miami were named for him.

Delta Delta Supports a Crescent Fund for the assistance of Tri Delta alumnæ in need, either for an emergency, or for an extended period.

Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Phi share Syracuse University as their birthplace, but Alpha Phi is two years older, founded in 1872. Sigma Kappa shares not only the year, but the month of founding with Gamma Phi Beta. Both were founded in November of 1874. Sigma Kappa was organized at Colby College.

Delta Gamma, founded at Oxford, Miss. will celebrate its 100th birthday in 1973 with the theme of "One Hundred Years of Hope."

The last quarter of the 19th century saw most of the women's fraternities organized, but there were at least two founded several years earlier. At Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Georgia, the first chartered college for women, Alpha Delta Pi was organized in 1851, and Phi Mu in 1852.

Kappa Sigma and Pi Kappa Alpha have established colonies at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. These revive chapters that died when fraternities were banned from that campus in 1880.

Delta Tau Delta is justly proud of its Jim Plunkett, Stanford, winner of the Heisman trophy last football season.

Delta Upsilon has moved its headquarters to a new building in Indianapolis. The move required three moving vans, a score of packing and moving men, and over 300 cartons for office supplies, bulletins, and files. The Quarterly says, "It is our turn to send you an address change!"

Delta Upsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, and Tau Kappa Epsilon have built a fraternity complex on university owned land at the University of Louisville, replacing houses that were 50-60 years old. This is the culmination of six years serious planning and is a commitment to strong fraternities at Louisville.

Alpha Epsilon Phi chapters have completed a playground for children and adults of the Cocopah Indian tribe in Arizona. Help for the American Indians has been a social service project of A.E.Phi since 1968. Future plans call for playground equipment for the Ogala Sioux, Cocopah, and Turtle Mountain Chippewa reservations, and scholarships to Indian college students.

Sigma Kappa, in cooperation with the Graduate School of Biomedical Science, University of Texas at Houston, is enlarging its national gerontology program. It is establishing an educational film library on geriatrics and related subjects.

One of the most interesting duties in the Greek world belongs to Grace Bedient Kraft. Mrs. Krast is chairman of hospitality to the Delta Gamma International Education students who are guests in various Delta Gamma houses all over the country. Mrs. Kraft meets each girl, is her hostess for a few days, acts as guide for sight seeing in New York, and starts her out to her college feeling that the United States is a friendly place, after all.

The Magazine of Sigma Chi recently printed the results of an annual pole taken by the American Council on Education. Entering college freshman were questioned concerning attitudes, expectations, and habits. The results were amazing, and show both assurance, or cause for alarm, according to one's view point. For example, relatively few freshman believe there is a generation gap between them and their parents; four times as many have drunk beer as have smoked cigarettes; a large majority want to raise a family; most have a desire to be an authority in one's field, but only about half have any real desire to be very well off financially.

DOROTHY WARD MARTIN, Missouri

Suzanne Foucault, chapter president, receives the Delta Delta charter from Audrey Weldon Shafer, International Grand President.

Orange County Welcomes

The alumnæ say:

The smiles were as bright as the California sunshine when Gamma Phi Beta installed its ninety-first chapter at California State College at Fullerton. Delta Delta chapter is the fifth national sorority on the Fullerton campus. Former local sorority Beta Psi Omega was colonized by Gamma Phi Beta on February 7, 1971. The pledging ceremony was conducted by Gamma Eta chapter from California State College at Long Beach.

Installation activities started Friday, April 2 when collegians, alumnæ and international officers met for an old-fashioned ice cream social at the home of Barbara Rosbe Felisky (Michigan). Audrey Weldon Shafer, Grand President, Barbara Burns Hiscock, NPC Delegate, and Margaret Lamping Maguire, Director of Expansion, read the Constitution of the Sorority to those present. Charter members entertained with a skit about sorority life patterned after the popular television show "Laugh-In." Barbara Campbell, province alumnæ director and Bette Grimm Murray, province collegiate director were special guests of the evening. During dessert everyone enjoyed informal get-acquainted discussions with the national officers.

Saturday afternoon, April 3, initiation and installation were held at the First Lutheran Church in Fullerton with members of Alpha Iota chapter at UCLA conducting the ritual. The twenty-two charter members and twenty-four special initiates received their badges from Mrs. Shafer in an impressive and meaningful ceremony. Joyce Ebner Ross (San Diego State), Orange Country alumnæ chapter president, was chairman for the Saturday afternoon activities. A delicious buffet luncheon was enjoyed by the initiates and the many guests who attended.

The Pink Carnation Banquet that evening at the Airporter Inn, Newport Beach, was arranged by Wilda Bridgeford Kovich (North Dakota State). Barbara Rosbe Felisky served as toastmistress. The decorations were inspired by the Spanish heritage of the early Californians. Replicas of wrought iron Spanish gates were used in dramatic contrast to the exquisite arrangement of pink carnations and candles. Highlighting the banquet was the presentation of the Delta Delta charter by Mrs. Shafer to Suzanne Foucault, chapter president. A 1910 Gamma Phi Beta badge was presented to Suzanne to wear during her term as chapter president. The badge had belonged to Cordelia Smith of Mu chapter. The bestowing of this unique badge to the chapter president will become an annual tradition of Delta Delta chapter. Mrs. Shafer brought a message of warmth and sincerity to the initiates and guests.

Debbie Elmore was the recipient of the outstanding pledge award. A plaque bearing the Gamma Phi Beta crest was a gift of the Orange County alumnæ chapter. The new chapter received a beautiful silver tray from Grand Council. Barbara Campbell presented a lovely silver tea service, the gift of Province XIV Greek-letter and alumnæ chapters. Three past Grand Presidents, Elizabeth Fee Arnold, Beatrice Hill Wittenberg, and Barbara Burns Hiscock made the evening very special by their presence. Seldom is a new chapter privileged to have four Grand Presidents with them.

Delta Delta members presented gifts of appreciation to Jonelle Hanna Rothfuss (Kent State), field representative, and Dorothy Parker McDonald (Kansas State), their chapter adviser who managed the many jobs of colonization, pledging and installation in just 49 days! Alumnæ and collegians both were pleased to honor Linda Pickett, field secretary, who gave invaluable help in establishing the new chapter.

With pride in their new chapter Delta Delta entertained at a tea on Sunday, April 4, at the Faculty Center on the campus with Marcia Page Cooley (William and Mary) as chairman. This was a happy ending to a memorable installation weekend.

CATHY COTTRELL SALERNO

The collegians say:

Well, here they are, the first written words from baby chapter

The charter members of Delta Delta chapter at California State College at Fullerton

Delta Delta

Delta Delta. We were welcomed into the world of Gamma Phi Beta by thousands of open arms. Naturally, as all infants cry when they first encounter the world, we too shed tears of joy. Delta Delta thanks all of her world wide sisters for their gifts and congratulatory notes.

Our size is twenty-four actives and five pledges. What's more we have at this point twelve special initiates. We weighed in at approximately 6,665 lbs.

Waiting with open arms to greet us as Gamma Phis, were a host of wonderful and special people. They assisted at our initiation and attended our Pink Carnation Banquet on April 3, 1971. Special thanks to the UCLA chapter who provided us with a beautiful and memorable initiation. An extra thank-you to all the special Gamma Phis who saw us through initiation.

Our first home and the site of our pledging was at 907 Bradford in Placentia. This is in the past tense because we are in the process of relocating our chapter house. Hopefully we'll tell you about our new home in the next issue.

But now we'd like to tell you about a few of the traditions in the history of our chapter as the local Beta Psi Omega. In particular there are two which are special to us. There are Pillow Presents and Animal Presents and are designed especially for Big and Little Sisters.

Pillow Presents originated several years ago when there weren't enough chairs for the pledges in the pledge room. So the Big Sisters made special pillows for them and at a slumber party for the chapter, they surprised them with the huge and original pillows. They range in size from 8 inches to 4 feet in diameter. Their shapes range from flowers to fish and cats.

Then toward the end of the semester the Little Sisters surprise their Big Sisters with a poem and a stuffed animal which most reminds them of their Big Sister. All in all it provides tears and laughter and a warm feeling between the sisters.

Again, thank-you and love in II K E from the Delta Delta chapter!

SHANNON O'DONNELL, Delta Delta

Special initiates will help guide the newest chapter.

Very Important People at the Pink Carnation Banquet were (from the left):
Dorothy McDonald, key adviser to Delta Delta; Joyce Ross, president of the Orange County alumnæ; Jonelle Rothfuss, field representative; and Linda Pickett, field secretary.

St. Louis Alumnae Hostess

On the steps ascending the rear of Missouri's first capitol building in St. Charles are the women responsible for the success of Gamma Phi Beta's historical tour last May. From the left (foreground) are: Mrs. William Baggerman, president of the St. Charles Historical Society; Mary Jane Brown Monnig (Washington-St. Louis '43); Anne Richardson Nentwig (Missouri '64), president of the St. Louis alumnæ; Elaine Pautler McCammon (Missouri '47). In the rear are: Margaret Godbold Briscoe (SMU '62); Alice Hall Bayer (Arizona '60); Mrs. Charles Coyle, tour director; and Mrs. Warren E. Hearnes, wife of Missouri's governor.

To enhance the celebration of Missouri's sesquicentennial year, the St. Louis Gamma Phi Beta alumnæ staged an historical old sights tour, an off-shoot of their annual home tour. Amidst the cobblestone walks and thick, ancient pine doors in St. Charles, Missouri, many Missouri history buffs and antique enthusiasts gathered last May for a six-hour journey among the memorabilia stashed away in Missouri's first capital. While the tour ticket-holders gained in knowledge of state history and the Gamma Phi Beta alumnæ gained in a feeling of togetherness, The Good Sheperd School for Children in St. Louis was the monetary benefactor.

Planned by a large number of St. Louis alumnæ who served as committee chairmen and members, the tour was opened to the public last May 12. But, a pretour was arranged earlier to arouse interest and to gain publicity for the upcoming event. Missouri's First Lady, Mrs. Warren E. Hearnes, wife of the governor, met with the tour director and committee chairmen to tour the historic old land sights a month before the scheduled tour. Most out-state Missouri papers carried stories about the event; the St. Louis papers gave full page coverage.

Elinor Coyle (she has a Gamma Phi Beta daughter!) directed the tour for the second successive year and gave an introductory talk on the campus of Lindenwood College. Mrs. Coyle is an authority on old homes and has published several books about historic homesites in the St. Louis area.

Ticket-holders gathered at 9:30 in the morning on the campus of Lindenwood College to begin their rounds of the newly-restored area. Mrs. Coyle talked to the tourists over coffee on the Lindenwood campus and briefed them on the background of St. Charles. The city had its beginning in 1765 when Louis Blanchette, a French-Canadian hunter and trapper, came to the site and discovered that the chief of the Dakota tribe, that occupied the land, was an ex-Frenchman. The settlement had been named San Carlos, in honor of San Carolos Borromeo, and was later anglicized to St. Charles. The community served as a focal point for many famous travels: Lewis and Clark said farewell to this last white settlement on their route west; in 1806 General Pike began the expedition in which he found his famous peak; Boone's Lick Road, over which Daniel Boone hauled salt to St. Louis, became the main highway to the west giving birth to the Santa Fe Trail, the Salt Lick Trail and the Great Oregon Trail.

Included on the Gamma Phi Beta tour were the first capitol building, which has recently been restored and open to the public; the Historical Society Museum, which was formerly Eckert's Tavern where expeditions to the West stopped for a night's lodging; and Lindenwood College, the first college for women west of the Mississippi. Also open for the tour were the Academy of the Sacred Heart, the first Sacred Heart Convent in the United States, and the Bushnell Pioneer Museum which houses one of the largest collections of Americana in the Midwest. Visitors also viewed a seven-level 1839 "haunted house" that was once St. Charles' first hospital. Three private homes were also included, each with its own exciting and interesting history.

Tickets for the tour were in the form of a 20-page brochure, tastefully illustrated and historically documented with the buildings on the tour. Mrs. Donald R. Bayer and Mrs. John P. McCammon, Jr. were co-chairman for the event; Mrs. Bruce D. Johnson and Mrs. John D. Green were in charge of ticket production and sales; Mrs. Ronald D. Froesel and Miss Fay Leubbert produced the artwork in the ticket-brochure and Mrs. Robert G. Stelmack and Mrs. J. Hugh Rogers hostessed the morning coffee hour. Publicity was handled by Mrs. Conway B. Briscoe, Jr., chairman; Mrs. C. Arthur Hemminger, Mrs. Eugene G. Monnig, Jr., Mrs. Barry C. Hana, Mrs. Frank M. Cutler, Jr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Henderson. Gerald K. Braznell, chairman of the board of Good Shepherd School for Children, supplied the material and the labor for the brochure.

The Good Shepherd School for Children, St. Louis alumnæ's local philanthropy, educates children in the St. Louis area who are multiply-handicapped or for some other reason cannot qualify for the special school district programs. Until the school was founded four years ago, these children had no alternative except institutional or home care. Good Shepherd receives no tax funds and is supported wholly by donations, which are tax deductible.

Last minute plans on the pretour were made by (seated) Alice Bayer, tour chairman, and (standing) Missouri's First Lady, Betty Hearnes, and Elaine McCammon, tour co-chairman.

A Chairman's Candid Comments:

"Our tour of St. Charles was a success, even though we didn't sell nearly the tickets we sold last year. Our brochures turned out well, we got a lot more good publicity than we expected, many people worked hard, but the truth is that a tour of St. Charles pulls only those who are interested in the history of the area or in the philanthropy involved. A tour of the Jefferson County mansions, as we had last year, pulls not only the historians, but, more numerously, all the women who dream of huge gracious mansions where they can become Scarlett O'Hara. And, we all belong to the last group. So you see, we learned something about tour sites.

"Another thing I think we learned is that women like to make a fun day of it and have lunch included. We thought they would prefer to have the whole time for touring, but I think we were wrong.

"The pretour with Mrs. Hearnes was most valuable for publicity. She pulled good space for us in many smalltown Missouri newspapers.

"If any other chapters are considering house tours, I think these three tips would be valuable."

ELAINE PAUTLER McCAMMON, Missouri Tour Co-chairman

Sue Dorsey Durrett was the Golden Girl of the Golden Gathering. It was her work as general chairman that made the whole weekend a smashing success.

". . . You Haven't Changed a Bit!"

A Golden Gathering They came from California, from Florida, from Texas, from Connecticut . . . they sent letters and telegrams from Japan, and Spain and Minnesota. They arrived with pictures, scrapbooks, and love in their Gamma Phi Beta hearts. It was the Golden Gathering of Alpha Delta chapter at the University of Missouri—and not a one of us had changed a bit!

It all began over a year ago when Sue Dorsey Durrett '61 was appointed general chairman of Alpha Delta's golden anniversary. She gathered Bunny Welborn Corbin '49 (coffee), Carol Buchmueller Stelmach '61 (luncheon), Carolyn Dixon Cornelius '64 (reservations), Linda Francis Northrop '64 (roster), Nancy Willis Litzinger '62 (publicity), and Karen Olson '71 (chapter representative) as her committee chairmen.

She appointed as special advisors to the steering committee: Dorothy Volmer Schnebelen '42 and Rose Krueger Stubbs '64 (St. Louis), Virginia Arnold Auld '39 and Edith Wells Chapman '32 (Kansas City), Rose Baker Reid '22 (Columbia), Mary Krummel Creason '62 (out state Missouri), and Lou Starrett Ashley '49 (house corporation board).

Class chairmen were named for each year, and they devoted the next few months to writing letters to members of their classes, urging them to attend the Golden Gathering.

And the work and writing and organization paid off! More than three hundred Alpha Deltas registered at the Ramada Inn in Columbia on April 17 and 18 (our original charter is dated April 18, 1921!). The hospitality room rang with cries of "roomie," "mother," "DOTTIE!" Groups gathered in corners to look through the box of old pictures labeled from THEIR decade. Children's pictures were shown by justly proud mothers; grandchildren's snapshots made the rounds. Mothers introduced Gamma Phi daughters to their classmates, and the daughters saw that their group met Mom!

Laura Frances Cottingham '26, special hostess to our charter members, made certain that every Alpha Delta met Farley Bertram Close, our first president; and Mary McCune Hurd and Rose Baker Reid, the other charter members present. We learned their names during our pledge training—but actually meeting them was a special thrill!

Saturday was informal—class groups gathered around town for dinner, and Vesta Spurgeon Voss '36 spirited forty VIP's to her home for a special buffet supper. No "'lights out" or "bed check" at the Ramada Inn that night, as we sat on beds, on floors and on luggage racks and talked and talked and talked.

Sunday morning chapter members were hostesses to a gracious coffee at the chapter house. (THIS was my room for two years. THIS chair was in the living room corner, the piano STILL needs tuning!) Madelyn Oenning, new initiate, completed her years as our housemother with a beautifully appointed serving table, complete with pink carnation cloth and food, food, food. Alpha Deltas showed their rush film-a far cry from the old un-sophisticated skits of bygone days. Another quick tour of the house, a peek at the overflowing trophy case, a proud look at the framed badge of Jennie Emerson Miller, Beta '82 and founder of Alpha Delta, and a long reading of the framed Service Roll certificates that have been awarded to Alpha Delta members Vada Morris Leffler '25, Margaret Stein Seamans '24, Laura Frances Cottingham '26, Audrey Weldon Shafer '40, Betty Luker Haverfield '42 and Virginia Forsythe Vint '38.

We were off again to the Ramada Inn and the hospitality room to await the formal Golden Gathering luncheon. Betty Luker Haverfield, in the MOST Gamma Phi Beta gown of pink lace, was an inspired toastmistress, and with good reason! Her duty was to introduce the illustrious members of the anniversary committee, and these life-long workers in our Sorority: Audrey Weldon Shafer, International Grand President; Virginia Forsythe Vint, formerly Alumnæ Vice President, and presently assistant to the Alumnæ Vice President; retiring Province X alumnæ director, Edith Wells Chapman '32; and Province III collegiate director, Mary Ann Dorsey Krauss '59. (Mary Ann is the sister of Sue Dorsey Durrett, general chairman, and they are the daughters of Loreen Mohler Dorsey '30.) Dorothy Ward Martin '36 was introduced as the new Province X alumnæ director, and of course, you know Alpha Delta Betty Haverfield as the editor of The Crescent.

Golden Crescent awards were presented by Audrey Shafer to the charter members present, and sent to the other four living charter members. Merit awards were presented to Rose Baker Reid, and to Helen DeVault Williams '42, both of Columbia. Hazel McClure Leudeman '25 also received the Merit award through her Washington, D.C. alumnæ chapter. Elwyn Bridgens Loosley, a member of the first pledge class in 1921 was introduced, and Marian Reid Bilyea and Virginia Reid Jackson, daughters of Rose Reid were asked to stand. The outgoing chapter president, Karen Olson '71, and the new president, Betty Ashmore '72 were honored. The Mary Kay Dorman Kabler Good-Gamma-Phi ring was presented to a chapter member, and Helen DeVault Williams awarded the Jennie Emerson Miller Scholarship, for the highest scholarship for three consecutive semesters.

Mildren Wood Nathan '29 of Corning, California, presented an aquamarine ring, to be awarded annually in recognition of chapter leadership and responsibility. Alice Reynolds Hougen '31 gave the chapter a lovely drawing of the chapter house sketched by her aunt. Our members promptly hung it in the Pine Room near the trophy shelves, where it is a lovely reminder of the Golden Gathering.

Between introductions and courses the ballroom was filled with groups singing the songs of their years, but solemnity returned when Audrey Shafer rose to speak. Her reminiscences of the early years of Alpha Delta were inspiring, and her look at the present and future of the chapter and the Sorority were heartening. Every Alpha Delta was proud to claim Audrey as her own Alpha Delta sister. And Alpha Deltas Pamela Shafer Burke '66 and Alison Shafer Bond '69 were proud to claim Audrey as their mother!

So, it was well worth the time and effort. It was well worth the work on the informational newsletters; it was well worth the compiling of the data on the biographical sheets; it was well worth the name and address search for the roster, the planning of the invitations, the personal letters, the picture gathering, the filing. WHY?

Because the Golden Gathering renewed in each Alpha Delta a spirit of love and service to Gamma Phi Beta and to one another. Because it reminded each of us of the stability of our Sorority ideals in a fast-changing world. And because we found out—once and for all—that WE HADN'T CHANGED A BIT!

MARY KAY DORMAN KABLER, Adopted Alpha Delta

After the luncheon Elwyn Bridgens Loosley (left), the first pledge to Alpha Delta, becomes acquainted with Sue Harris Reece '50 and Grand President Audrey Shafer.

Some VIP's

Alpha Delta's retiring housemother, Madelyn Oenning, was initiated into membership last March.

1942 was a very good year! All but two of that graduating class returned for the Golden Gathering and the toastmistress presented an award to the class, accepted by Sheila Singleton Stimson. Would you believe that carefully gift-wrapped package (brown and mode yet!) contained a jar of peanut butter?

Delegates! Sisters!

We're hailing you all ... to Minneapolis-St. Paul, Where sailing is fun—and masts loom tall, Jo Gamma Phi Beta Convention #55
Where ideas and plans will come alive ...

The S. S. Gamma Phi Beta Friendship launches its fifty-fifth International Convention in the heart of Minnesota's land of 10,000 lakes. A nautical theme is a natural where boating is a pleasure. Your Convention Crew and the hostess chapters from Province VI and XV are busy planning the "fitting-out" of the Radisson South for this luxury cruise.

Our Captain, Grand President Audrey Shafer, is at the wheel of this well found ship. Her Helmsmen, Grand Council, and Great Crew, Central Office, the province alumnæ and collegiate directors, international committee chairman, board members and advisers, are all pulling the lines taut and charting our course for a stimulating and informative program.

Experienced sailors ("Old Salts" if we use their colorful vernacular) will all tell you that sailboat maintenance is a year round job and just as important as fitting-out. So is the operation of a sorority. The main purpose of our Convention is to help all delegates rig and maintain their chapter vessels and to share experiences, ideas and problems. Convention also is the time to recognize special achievement, honor our officers, be inspired, welcome new chapters, meet and make new friends, and greet old friends. It's a great time to plan a reunion!

Once again we will operate a BOUTIQUE! If your chapter has an article to sell at Convention, submit it to Grand Council for approval and our crew will man the Ships' Store . . . right next to Convention Hall. Not too expensive articles go over best. Watch for further details.

Don't forget our traditional SONG CONTEST. Start now humming or whistling a tune . . . something pretty or witty or catchy. Like "It's the Members Ah Ha!" We challenge you gals to come up with some winners. Complete details will be sent to you. We have an ideal setting for a great Song Fest.

There will be plenty of room to show off your scrapbooks, newsletters, directories, and chapter projects. The scrapbooks will be under lock and key and the displays out where all can see. Start snapping pictures and bringing your books up to date! There will be prizes for the best.

Tours are being planned so you can see our beautiful area. Naturally we'll hope the barometer remains steady throughout your stay so we can relax and enjoy an afternoon in the sun on the shores of famous Lake Minnetonka at one of our loveliest country clubs.

So don't remain at sea or moored at dockside, mates. Make your decision. Come to Convention June 15 through June 19, 1972. Learn tips from the experienced, be refreshed by the new sailors, help chart your future course and be ready to take a new tack if necessary when the Captain yells, "Ready about! Hard alee! . . ."

Those Texans always come on strong. Last year when the Gamma Phi Betas arrived for their Convention in Dallas, the Alpha Phis were just departing after a successful biennial meeting. In Texas residents may request any combination of letters or numbers for their license plates and who would plan ahead more readily than these two international convention chairmen. Happy to be proclaiming the fame of their organizations are Maryllyn Powell Hargrave, Alpha Phi convention chairman and Barbara Ash Clark, Convention chairman for Gamma Phi Beta.

Typical of the Province Conferences held around the land early this year was the meeting of Provinces III and IV in Lexington, Kentucky. Chatting before one of the sessions are, from left: Mrs. Charles Simons, Collegiate Vice President; Chris Beczkowicz, president of Gamma Omicron; Mrs. Jo Nutter, registration chairman; Mrs. Art Curtis, Jr., general chairman and Mrs. Donald Shannon, president of the Lexington alumna.

Gamma Phi Beta Previews the Seventies

Province Conferences 1971

During the months of February, March and April, Gamma Phi Beta alumnæ and collegiate delegates and guests gathered in 11 cities across the United States and Canada to hold mini conventions of the Sorority. Province Conferences, once again, proved to be profitable meetings for the exchange of ideas. Lively discussions between alumnæ and collegians served to clarify thinking and meeting in small, intimate groups, brought chapters and members closer together. This new understanding laid the groundwork that will enable the Sorority to adapt its programs to meet the needs of today's world.

PROVINCE I

It was a cold and wintery day on February 26 when Province I alumnæ and college women arrived in Toronto for their biennial gathering. The three alumnæ chapters represented at the Conference were Fairfield County, Westchester and Toronto; Greek-letter chapters were Alpha Alpha, Alpha Tau, Alpha Omega and Beta Nu.

On the Friday evening preceding the meeting, the Alpha Alpha collegians entertained the early arrivals at an informal party at their house on the University of Toronto campus.

A little after nine o'clock on Saturday morning, Mrs. Edward M. Carney, province alumnæ director, called the meeting to order and introduced Ursula Belyea, the Conference chairman. Barbara Freeman, Fairfield County alumna, was elected to the international nominating committee.

After a coffee break, the delegates divided into two collegiate groups to discuss open rush and chapter programs. Babs Hansen moved between the two gatherings and helped to develop the ideas that were new to these chapters.

At 12:30 a luncheon was served at the Women's University club and the Conference reassembled at 2:30 to discuss alumnæ relations, Panhellenic, scholarship, public relations, ritual and the new membership evaluation plan. Near the close of the meeting the assembled delegates adopted a resolution to suggest to Grand Council that Province I Conferences in 1973 be held at a time of year when weather is not such a serious hazard. Because Canadian chapters cannot meet in March or April, the group suggested that the meeting be in November.

Following the adjournment, the Alpha Alpha members prepared at informal buffet at the chapter house, after which all the members relaxed at a fun-filled musical evening, led by Mrs. Carney, accompanied by Jo Trussel Irwin, Fairfield County alumna, at the piano.

PROVINCE II

On April 5, 6 and 7, Beta Beta chapter at the University of Maryland was hostess to the Province II Conference. Greek-letter girls and alumnæ from all chapters in the province came to the meeting where they stayed at the Beta Beta house and the Adult Education Center on campus. Business meetings and the Carnation banquet were also held at the Center.

The sessions that were held during the day centered on the status reports of the five Province II chapters and how to effectively improve rush programs. Barbara Walter's book, How to Talk to Practically Anyone About Practically Anything, was used as a textbook for discussing rush proceedings.

The three-day affair was concluded with the traditional Carnation banquet. Among those attending the banquet were the retiring collegiate director, Mrs. Edward Hart; alumnæ director, Mrs. C. A. Kernitz; incoming collegiate director, Mrs. Allen Phillips; Collegiate Vice President, Mrs. Charles Simons and field secretary, Babs Hanson. Toastmistress was Beta Beta's favorite alumna, Mrs. James D. Studley.

Beta Beta president, Helene Westcott, presented an original ceremony at the banquet. One representative from each of the visiting chapters presented a reading on Love, Labor, Learning and Loyalty. Vicki Price, Beta Beta soloist, sang the Gamma Phi Beta song, "Come Along."

Concluding the banquet was the presentation of a home movie made by Alpha Upsilon chapter, which they show as part of their rush program.

The general consensus was that the Province II Conference was informative as well as fun for all those who attended.

PROVINCES III and IV

On the first weekend in March, Gamma Phi Betas from Provinces III and IV assembled at the Spring Motel in Lexington, Kentucky, for the joint biennial conference. It turned out to be a "Lexington Happening," and an experience that everyone found to be filled with warmth and understanding.

The Lexington alumnæ and members of Gamma Omicron set the stage on Friday evening with a tour of the beautiful new chapter house for all attending the Conference. The rafters really shook when they all gathered for songs and action!

Chris Beczkowics, president of Gamma Omicron, conducted the opening exercises on Saturday morning with Mrs. Rex Bronsing (Evansville alumnæ) presiding over the Conference. Mrs. William Fath (Birmingham, Michigan alumnæ) served as Conference secretary and Mrs. Hal H. Dronberger (Columbus, Ohio, alumna) was parliamentarian. Lexington alumnæ chapter members providing guidance for the Conference were: Mrs. Arthur V. Curtis, Jr., general chairman; Mrs. R. E. Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. J. S. Nutter, registration chairman and Mrs. Robert Porter, credentials chairman. Mrs. Charles S. Simmons, Collegiate Vice President, and Babs Hansen, field secretary, were honored guests.

"Rapping" or "buzzing" was the order of the day! Collegians and alumnæ alike joined together to review our directions for the future through greater understanding, responsibility and respect for one another. The friendships made throughout the Conference, gave strength to our rededication of goals to achieve success for the members yet to come. All subjects were discussed but the greatest excitement came from the talk about chapter programs and the multitude of benefits derived from a vigorous program.

The informal luncheon was highlighted by the presence of the Louisville alumnæ chapter. Mrs. J. Hart Speiden (Louisville alumna) surprised the Gamma Omicron membership by presenting an original oil painting as her gift to the chapter.

Mrs. Donald Shannon (Lexington alumna) served as toastmistress for the Carnation banquet, held in the Springs Motel. Mrs. William Krauss, province collegiate director, presented the Province III Efficiency Award to Beta Epsilon, Miami of Ohio, and the Scholarship Improvement Award to Beta Zeta, Kent State.

Awards for efficiency to two alumnæ chapters in Province IV were presented by Mrs. Frank Mason, province alumnæ director: Birmingham, Michigan and Evansville, Indiana. Two service awards were presented to the Birmingham and Bloomington alumnæ chapters.

Mrs. Ralph E. Erb, collegiate director for Province IV, presented the Pansy Blake Efficiency Award to Beta Phi, Indiana University, for the fifth consecutive year. The Helen P. Brandt Scholarship Improvement Award was closely contested by Beta, University of Michigan and Gamma Sigma, Western Michigan University. But the winner of the award was Beta Phi.

As a special treat, 17 seniors from Indiana University drove to Lexington to entertain at the banquet with a few of their original songs. It was a beautiful way to end a most inspiring Conference.

PROVINCE V

They tried something new this year in Province V-a one day conference in lieu of the usual weekend meeting. It was an overwhelming success with 15 of the 17 alumnæ chapters and all seven of the Greek-letter chapters in attendance.

A continental breakfast was served in the Sheraton-Oakbrook Hotel in Oakbrook, Illinois, while the delegates registered for the Conference. Lois Bolle Van Leeuwen, collegiate director, called the Conference to order at 9:30 and introduced Mary Jane Hipp Misthos who served as chairman of the meeting. Carol Beranich Reitz, president of the Chicago-Northwest Suburban alumnæ, welcomed the delegates. Mrs. Misthos introduced Virginia Stone Holland, province alumnæ director, who in turn, introduced the international officers in attendance: Eleanor Sieg, International Executive-Secretary; Ardis Mc-Broom Marek, Alternate Panhellenic Delegate; Jane Scholl Farrell, director of public affairs; Barbara Hansen, field secretary, Sally Gray Cass, ritual chairman, Clarabeth Holt Kerner, scholarship chairman; Mary Jane Hipp Misthos, Endowment Board chairman; Elna Erickson Simons, Collegiate Vice President and Lois Bolle Van Leeuwen, collegiate director. Kathryn Elwood of Peoria was elected as the delegate to the international nominating committee and Lynn Clark of Milwaukee will serve as alternate.

After a coffee break, alumnæ and collegians met in separate session to discuss items of special interest to their respective groups. The alumnæ discussions centered around membership of alumnæ groups, types of meetings, philanthropies and money-making projects. Collegiate delegates discussed new ideas for informal rush.

The Pink Carnation luncheon was served in a banquet room at the hotel. Guests were seated at 12 round tables, seating eight at each, with an international officer at each table. Other guests drew numbers as they came in, designating the table where they would sit. Elna Erickson Simons was the luncheon speaker who brought the message from Grand Council.

After luncheon a joint session was held where alumnæ and collegians discussed chapter programs and alumnæ relations. The Conference adjourned at four o'clock in the afternoon.

PROVINCE VI

Province VI Conference was held on February 19, 20, and 21 at the Alpha Omicron chapter house on the campus of North Dakota State University in Fargo. As feared, the weather failed to cooperate. Friday morning brought snow and sleet which continued into the night. The Mankato delegation called and, because of impassable road conditions, were unable to leave town. The Kappa chapter from the University of Minnesota, arrived on a Greyhound bus, leaving Minneapolis at 12 midnight. The River Falls group drove through it all and arrived at 5:30 on Saturday morning.

Leta Ann Knapp, province alumnæ director, called the meeting to order on Saturday morning. The Alpha Omicron members presented their version of the "Convention" skit, which set the tone for the day's activities. Virginia Hustad, Alumnæ Vice President, presented the message from Grand Council. Jane Bellinger, area financial adviser, led the morning discussion session by asking both collegians and alumnæ to define a list of words. A lively discussion followed as the delegates learned to relate their definitions to Gamma Phi Beta.

Following the informal luncheon in the chapter house, the Gamma Mu collegians from Moorhead State College presented their version of the "Convention" skit. Gail Skogmo Edwards, 1972 convention chairman, talked briefly about the upcoming Convention, the work involved and the help she would need. The afternoon sessions were concerned with chapter programs, rush procedures, and alumnæ relations.

After a dinner at the Alpha Omicron house, delegates spent the evening chatting, singing and exchanging ideas.

PROVINCE VII

The seventh biennial Conference of Province VII was held at the El Tropicano hotel in San Antonio, Texas during the first weekend in March. The hostess chapter entertained early Friday arrivals with an informal river taxi ride and a festive Mexican dinner.

At nine o'clock on Saturday morning the opening exercises were conducted by Patsy Vignes, Gamma Chi president from Southwest Texas University. B Bo Burkett, province collegiate director, introduced the Conference chairman, Cathryn Melton, San Antonio alumna. After the business meeting, Audrey Weldon Shafer, International Grand President, delivered the message from Grand Council. Betty Pieper, Houston alumnæ, and Barbara Clark, Dallas alumna, were elected delegate and alternate to the international nominating committee.

After a coffee break at 10:30, alumnæ and Greek-letter members convened at separate discussion groups. The collegians talked about open rush and promoting the Greek system; the alumnæ session centered around leadership and responsibilities. After the luncheon, Mrs. Burkett read a letter from Janet Heaton, international philanthropy chairman, commending the Houston alumnæ for their local philanthropy projects and the Lubbock and Commerce alumnæ for their help to the local Gamma Phi Beta collegiate chapters. Another letter from Dorothy Kenney, international magazine chairman, commended Alpha Zeta and Beta Tau chapters for their magazine sales.

At the afternoon meeting, Evelyn Rodgers, international chairmen of Mothers' Clubs, reviewed Barbara Walter's book, How to Talk to Practically Anyone About Practically Anything. Later alumnæ and Greek-letter members held lively discussions about recommendations, alumnæ-collegiate relations and Panhellenic. Susan Gissell, president of Alpha Zeta chapter at the University of Texas, extended a warm welcome to the delegates to attend the 1973 Conference in Austin.

At the informal dinner, the province collegiate director presented awards to Gamma Zeta for efficiency, Alpha Xi for scholarship and Gamma Iota for campus participation. A lively song fest followed the dinner and the Province VII Conference adjourned at 9:30 in the evening.

PROVINCE VIII

The eighteenth biennial conference of Province VIII opened at 12 noon on Friday April 23 at Central Towers on the Memphis State University campus. A buffet supper prepared by the Gamma Alpha Mothers' Club was served in the Panhellenic building, followed by a skit presented by the Gamma Alpha chapter members.

On Saturday morning Jan Thomas, Gamma Alpha president, led the opening exercises and Mrs. John Zimmerman, collegiate director, introduced Mrs. A. C. Best, chairman of the Conference. Mrs. Frank Abernathy, Birmingham alumna, served as secretary. Following the appointment of Conference committees, Mrs. Carl Hustad, Alumnæ Vice President, made several announcements of nation-wide interest to the Sorority, and delivered the message from Grand Council.

At the Greek-letter round table, later in the morning, the college women discussed alumnæ, rush, pledges and the meaning of sisterhood. The alumnæ talked about leadership.

The luncheon, hostessed by Memphis alumnæ, was held in the ballroom of the Panhellenic building. A special guest was Mrs. Cornelia Eastin, representing the Little Rock, Arkansas, alumnæ chapter, which was recently transferred to Province VIII. Mrs. Emily Weathers, director of women's activities at Memphis State, delivered the same speech, by request, that she gave to the Gamma Phi Beta Convention in Dallas in 1970. The text of Mrs. Weathers' speech appeared in the September 1970 issue of The Crescent.

The afternoon meeting was a joint session where the members discussed alumnæ involvement and alumnæ relations.

The pink Carnation banquet was held at the Rivermont Holiday Inn on Saturday evening, with Mrs. Best serving as toastmistress. "A" awards were presented to Ann Hutcheson and Peggy Mount of Alpha Theta and Sandra and Nancy Huddleston of Gamma Alpha. Province awards were presented to Beta Mu for efficiency, Gamma Alpha for magazine sales, Gamma Phi for most improved scholarship and Beta Mu for outstanding scholarship.

Pat Oswalt, from Gamma Xi chapter at the University of Tennessee extended an invitation to the Province to hold its next Conference in Knoxville. The closing ceremony was conducted by Mrs. John Nicely, province alumnæ director, and the eighteenth Conference of Province VIII adjourned.

PROVINCES IX and X

Phi, Gamma Tau and St. Louis alumnæ chapters were hostesses to Provinces IX and X on the campuses of Washington University and St. Louis University during the weekend of April 23. Delegates from all the Greek-letter and alumnæ chapters were in attendance.

On Friday evening, the hostesses entertained at an informal buffet in the Phi room in the Women's building at Washington University. After dinner, Phi chapter entertained the collegiate delegates at a party with the men of Sigma Nu. The alumnæ visitors attended a gracious reception at the home of Mrs. Daniel H. Hundley.

The Conference officially opened at 9:30 on Saturday morning when Mrs. E. K. Jenkins II, province collegiate director, called the meeting to order. Welcomes were extended by Mary Luetkenhaus, president of Gamma Tau, and Anne Richardson Nentwig, president of the St. Louis alumnæ. Mrs. Stanley R. Henderson was introduced as the permanent chairman of the Conference. After the routine business was resolved, Audrey Weldon Shafer brought the message of Grand Council.

At the morning Greek-letter round table, the college women discussed open rush, led by Diana Snyder of Psi chapter, and promoting the Greek system, led by Betty Ashmore of Alpha Delta. The alumnæ discussed leadership and responsibilities.

An informal luncheon was held in the private dining room at the Wohl Center, after which Betty Luker Haverfield, editor of The Crescent, reviewed Barbara Walter's book, "How to Talk to Practically Anyone about Practically Anything." All the delegates and guests joined in the informal talk about the art of conversation. Joint round tables continued with a discussion of alumnæ relations, working within the challenge of change and chapter programs.

An informal luncheon was held in the private dining room found a pink carnation corsage by her plate. Mrs. Eugene G. Monnig, Jr., presided as toastmistress. Mrs. D. M. Hawkins, Province IX collegiate director, presented awards to Beta Omicron for scholarship, Psi for Efficiency and Beta Psi for general improvement. Christy Capperal and Pam Samahe of Gamma Lambda received "A" awards. Mrs. Jenkins presented Province X awards to Sigma for scholarship, Alpha Delta for efficiency and Beta Chi for overall improvement. "A" awards were given to Julie Nothdurft of Beta Upsilon, Patricia Lafferty and Pat Reed of Beta Chi and Judy McConnell of Sigma. An award of $240 was presented to Phi for the greatest scholastic improvement.

Barbara MacDonald, Gamma Lambda, invited everyone to attend the next Province Conference in Baton Rouge.

A breakfast was held in the United States room of Busch Center on the St. Louis University campus on Sunday morning. Special guests were Miss Mary Bruemmer, dean of women, and Father John Daley, Gamma Tau chapter moderator. Following breakfast, the Conference divided into six sessions for wind-up discussions on subjects of interest to both alumnæ and collegians.

PROVINCE XI

The Province XI Conference was called to order by Jan Doane, province collegiate director, on Saturday morning, March 6, at the Theta chapter house at the University of Denver. Mrs. Nancy Ditman, president of the Denver associate alumnæ chapter, served as permanent Conference chairman. At the opening business session Mrs. Charles Fisher and Mrs. John Abbott were elected delegate and alternate to the international nominating committee. Mrs. Frank Hiscock, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate, brought the message from Grand Council. The morning alumnæ round table discussed leadership and programming; the collegians dwelt on chapter programs.

A catered luncheon was served buffet style, after which Sarah Hite, Denver alumna, reviewed Barbara Walter's book. The afternoon was devoted to buzz sessions on promoting the Greek system, and Panhellenic.

Delegates and guests enjoyed a delicious sit-down dinner at the chapter house on Saturday evening. The president of the Denver camp board talked about the Colorado camp and following the dinner, Professor and Mrs. Dittman gave a slide presentation about Indian Hills and Evergreen.

The Conference ended Saturday evening with the closing exercises and mystic circle.

PROVINCE XII

Province XII Conference was held the first weekend in March on the campus of the University of Puget Sound with Gamma Epsilon as hostess. On Friday evening delegates and guests registered at the chapter room in the Student Union building and Beverly Adams, international supervisor of camps, made a slide presentation about the Vancouver and Colorado camps. Gamma Epsilon members entertained with skits and songs.

After a continental breakfast on Saturday morning, the opening business session was conducted and the Conference divided into Greek-letter and alumnæ workshops. The alumnæ discussed leadership and responsibilities while the collegians sought new ways to promote the Greek system.

After an informal lunch in the faculty dining room, the joint session reconvened in the large auditorium. The discussions included talk about Barbara Walter's book, chapter programs and alumnæ relations.

A catered dinner was served to the alumnæ at the home of Lita McCourt and the collegians returned to the dormitory for an informal dinner and rap session.

PROVINCES XIII and XIV

Friday, April 23 marked the opening of the Province XIII and XIV Conference at Arizona State University in Tempe. At four o'clock the hostess chapter, Beta Kappa, and the Tempe alumnæ started registering delegates and arranging for tours of the campus.

After a buffet dinner at the Memorial Union, the delegates returned to the dormitory for informal chats about rush and pledging. The talks ended in an exchange of chapter songs and slides.

The Saturday morning business session was presided over by Ginny Harden, Beta Kappa president. During the afternoon additional talk sessions were held, centered for the most part on new ideas for rush. After the steak dinner at Reata Pass, Dean Hamm, vice president of student affairs at Arizona state spoke on the administration's attitude toward sorority life. He said that the administration looked to sororities as a center of leadership and social affiliation.

Scholarship awards were presented to Alpha Iota for highest scholastic standing, to Gamma Eta for the most improvement. Efficiency awards went to Alpha Gamma and Beta Omega; 100 percent initiation awards to Alpha Epsilon, Beta Omega, Gamma Eta, Beta Kappa, Eta, Alpha Gamma, Gamma Theta and Beta Theta. The civic award went to a Scottsdale resident, Shirley Henderson.

Province Conference ended with a Sunday morning breakfast at the new Howard Johnson in Tempe.

PROVINCE XV

Newly-formed Province XV held its first Conference at the Villager Hotel in Lincoln, Nebraska, on April 2 and 3. On Friday evening the collegiate delegates were entertained at a get-acquainted party at the Pi chapter house on the University of Nebraska campus. Alumnæ gathered at a hospitality room at the Villager. After breakfasts at the Pi chapter house or the hotel, the opening session was called to order by the Conference chairman, Mrs. Harold Demaree, and the opening exercises were conducted by Sylvia Kunneman of Pi chapter. After the routine business of the conference was handled, the chairman introduced Mrs. Daniel F. Lundin, International Director of Finance, who brought the message from Grand Council.

Dr. G. W. Dodge, psychologist from the University of Nebraska, divided the Conference into discussion groups to explore the topics: What are we?; how to work within the challenge of change, chapter programs and alumnæ relations. Later the groups came together to hear Dr. Dodge speak on relating to each other and using the positive approach.

After an informal luncheon in the ballroom, Mrs. Marvin Stromer, reviewed Barbara Walter's book, How to Talk to Practically Anyone about Practically Anything. Mrs. Robins Hawthorn, collegiate director, and Mrs. John Sicks, alumnæ director presented the following awards: Most improved scholarship to Gamma Psi; greatest participating membership awards to Kearney Area alumnæ and Waterloo-Cedar Falls alumnæ.

The business session resumed after the luncheon and committee reports were heard.

The Helping Hand of Gamma Phi Beta

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation stands for service to humanity through the many philanthropic projects supported by our Greek-letter and alumnæ chapters as well as our international philanthropy of summer camping for underprivileged little girls. While we like to think that the giving of ourselves is our most important contribution, without the financial support of our members our work would be impossible.

The December 1968 issue of The Crescent carried a list of those who had contributed to the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, and the September 1967 issue listed those who contributed to the Gift Fund. In the following list, we recognize those who have made financial donations to the Gift Fund and the various funds within the Foundation from September 30, 1968 through June 10, 1971. Those who have given $1,000 or more are listed under the Founders Circle; those who have given $100 to $1,000 are in the Crescent Circle; other donors are listed under the Carnation Circle. The list does not reflect memorial contributions for the deceased. The numerals following the names denote the number of consecutive years an individual or a chapter has made contributions.

We are extremely grateful to all of our contributors for their generosity.

Dorothy Guetzlaff Named Nominating Committee Chairman

Dorothy Bateman Guetzlaff (Wisconsin '27) has again been appointed to the chairmanship of the international nominating committee, an office she held in 1956 at the White Sulphur Springs Convention. Through the years she has always been working for Gamma Phi Beta is some capacity.

In 1927 as president of Gamma chapter, Dorothy had the honor of opening the newly-completed Italian chapter house, which today is still the pride of collegiate and alumnæ members at Wisconsin. After graduation, she married Irwin Guetzlaff and moved to Chicago where she became a participating member of the Beverly Hills group of the Chicago alumnæ chapter. Later the Guetzlaffs moved to Minneapolis, where Dorothy immediately joined the Gamma Phi Beta alumnæ. By then they had two small children, Ann and Bob, and part of her days were devoted to PTA, Scouts and Jobs Daughters. While she was serving as president of the board of the Minneapolis Curative Workshop, she was delighted when the Gamma Phi alumnæ decided to help the Workshop. This interest in helping the retarded and handicapped brought about the Minneapolis alumnæ's annual holly project.

Since Dorothy was a delegate to the Mackinac Island Convention in 1927 as an undergraduate, it was a double thrill when she was named as delegate to the 1954 Convention. This time she was accompanied by daughter Ann, who was then a member of Kappa chapter at the University of Minnesota. She served on the nominating committee, representing Province IV and at the following convention, was named chairman. Appointed province director in 1957, Dorothy and her whole family attended the 1958 Convention in Victoria. Daughter Ann was chairman of properties at the French Lick Convention and again the whole family went along.

Aside from her interest in the Minneapolis alumnæ chapter and their Bridgerama, Dorothy's interests center at the Plymouth Congregational church where she has been a stewardess, deaconess and president of her guild. Sewing and gardening fill her hours both in Minneapolis and in Minocqua, Wisconsin, where she and Irwin spend their summers.

The New Field Secretaries

"Love" means a great many things to CINDY SHIRLEY. It means her great love to travel. It means her deep abiding love for Omega chapter and all the Gamma Phi Beta chapters she's visited. And, certainly it means "love," the score she hopes her opponent racks up in a tennis match.

Shirley was graduated from Iowa State University last February with a degree in education, a major in physical education. While on the campus she worked with Panhellenic as rush coordinator and as vice president of the Pep Council. On the Pep Council she helped set up a student recruiting program for the athletic department and toured Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Nebraska recruiting for ISU. Frequently she stayed in Gamma Phi Beta houses on the various campuses and developed a real feeling for the international aspect of Sorority.

She was captain of the ISU tennis team, and a member of the Dean of Students Fellowship Program. She was elected to Gamma Gamma (Greek honorary), and Mortar Board. She served as a student member of the Ad Hoc Committee for Facilities for Handicapped Students.

In Gamma Phi Beta she served Omega chapter as president and its delegate to the International Convention in 1970. She received the Ames alumnæ chapter "Outstanding Senior" award last year.

Her love for travel took her to Luxembourg last spring and summer where she worked for three months. Her weekends were spent on short trips around the continent.

So watch for this effervescent, enthusiastic globetrotter when she comes to your campus next year. Her very first question might well be, "Tennis, anyone?"

MARTHA SCOTT says she wants to be a field secretary so that she can have a part in helping "chapters find new ways to explore the resources they have, to bring their members to their full potentials—a vast and immeasurable job."

A 1971 graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, Martha served Gamma Phi Beta's Alpha Eta chapter as vice president, president and Panhellenic delegate. With a degree in home economics, where she specialized in child development, she worked as a Head Start teacher in the summer of 1970 and as a teaching assistant in the university nursery school during the last school year.

Her hobbies are many: sewing, knitting, reading, swimming, bridge and playing the piano and guitar.

With all her talents and experience, you will have instant rapport with Martha. And, you'll find her enthusiasm contagious when she says "I just want to try and help others find as much meaning, friendship and enjoyment in Gamma Phi Beta as I have."

With a bachelor of arts degree in political science from San Jose State University, Jo Ann York brings to her new job as field secretary all the energy and gregariousness of a campaign worker.

As a member of Beta Theta, she served her Sorority as vice president, Panhellenic delegate, alumnæ relations and song chairman. Most of her extracurricular time was devoted to politics where she has been actively involved in various state and local elections. She recently served as an alternate delegate to the California State Democratic Convention.

Last summer, Jo Ann was chosen as one of four college students to attend the newly formed Federal Executive Institute in Charlottesville, Virginia. The institute is a training center for career government employees and Jo Ann attended the eight-week session on a special Ford Fellowship.

As a native Californian, her interests include the beach and outdoor sports, especially water skiing. Her family resides in Lynwood and her brother, a Delta Tau Delta graduate from the University of Southern California, is an architect for the County of Los Angeles. Jo Ann speaks fluent Czechoslovakian. "It's our second language at home," she explains, "since my grandmother, who lives with us, speaks no English."

After her year traveling for Gamma Phi Beta, Jo Ann hopes to enter law school and then on to a career in politics.

Grand Council Appointments

Linda B. Satterla

Central Office of Gamma Phi Beta worked up a new tempo last June when Linda B. Satterla joined the staff as secretary to the collegiate department. Her musical ability, artistic talent and collegiate leadership experience should make her guidance of the work of the field secretaries sparkle with new ideas.

After five years in college, Linda was graduated from Michigan State University last June with a Bachelor of science degree in interior design. As a collegian, she served as president of Beta Delta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta, president and resident assistant in her dormitory unit, student assistant in the Michigan State library and a member of the student chapter of the American Institute of Interior Designers. As a contestant in the Miss Wyoming pageant, she was awarded the title of Miss Congeniality.

She began playing drums at the age of seven, after her brother got a drum set. She has studied percussion extensively and has played in numerous honor bands throughout the state of Michigan. The highlight of her musical career came when she was invited to tour Europe on a music scholarship with Musical Youth International, a band and chorus affiliated with the People to People program.

Linda enjoys working in the area of arts and crafts, especially those dealing with textile design (batiking, discharge dyeing). And, of course, she eventually wants to become an interior designer—and to play in a symphony.

Meanwhile, she is a welcome addition to Gamma Phi Beta's Central Office, where she will work closely with Elna Erickson Simons, Collegiate Vice President. Working with the field secretaries, she will keep a watchful eye on the Greek-letter chapters.

Dorothy Ward Martin

Tell Dorothy Ward Martin (Missouri) new alumnæ director for Province X, where you live, and the chances are that she will exclaim, "Why, I used to live there!" Dorothy, who is married to an engineer, has lived in 25 houses, in 17 towns, in 6 states. Considering that the Martins have lived in Columbia, Missouri, for 17 years, that may be some sort of a record. However, it is a background Dorothy wouldn't change if she could for she has made many friends this way, and many of these friends have been Gamma Phi Betas from all over the country.

In her student days in Alpha Delta chapter, Dorothy was active in campus organizations and served on Alpha Delta's executive board three years. She has held all the offices in the Columbia alumnæ chapter, was Alpha Delta's chapter adviser for two years, and was on City Panhellenic four years.

Her husband, R. J. Martin, is the Director of Construction for the University of Missouri four-campus system. He is also a retired officer of the U. S. Corps of Engineers. The Martins have one Pi Kappa Alpha son, Charles, a graduate of Southern Methodist University and the University of Michigan, who is an officer in the Air Force.

The Martins are active in church and community affairs. Dorothy's favorite volunteer duty is serving as a Red Cross worker at the University Medical Center. She was in Columbia's first Gray Lady class organized 14 years ago, and she still finds the work rewarding. She is a member of P.E.O. and is past president of the Missouri State Chapter.

In listing her hobbies, Dorothy says she likes collecting antiques for her husband to refinish, playing bridge and reading. Mostly she enjoys people—mainly Gamma Phi Beta people.

Karen Tucker Carpenter

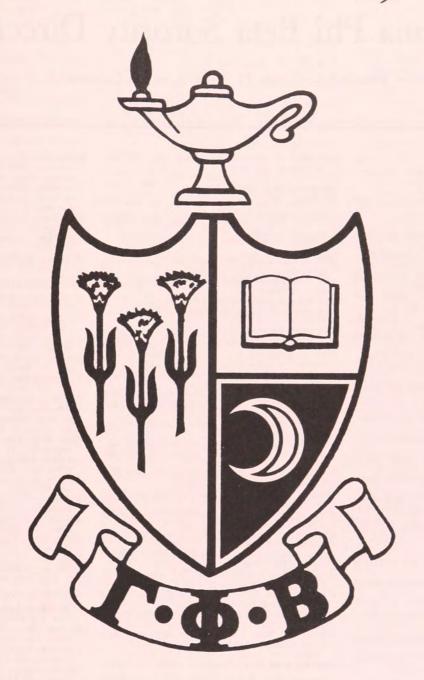

A former traveling secretary for Gamma Phi Beta, a former assistant to the dean of women at Memphis State University, a former alumnæ adviser to Gamma Alpha, a beautiful and talented young wife and mother. What better qualifications could Karen Tucker Carpenter (Memphis State '63) bring to her new job as collegiate director for Province VIII?

As an undergraduate member of Gamma Alpha, Karen served her chapter as song chairman, membership chairman and Panhellenic treasurer. Her musical talents came to the fore when she was named chairman of the University's All Sing and became the recipient of a band scholarship. She was graduated with a major in French and minor in sociology and later completed some of her graduate work in guidance and counseling.

During her year as a field secretary (1963-64), she assisted in the colonization and installation of Gamma Mu (Moorhead State College), Gamma Nu (Lamar State College of Technology) and Gamma Xi (University of Tennessee). In 1964 she became assistant to the dean of women at Memphis State University and acted as Panhellenic adviser to stray Greeks on campus. Later she served as associate director of University housing and coordinator of residence hall reservations. She retired from Memphis State in 1969 to become a full time wife and mother.

Karen is married to C. V. "Vic" Carpenter who is a city salesman for Phillips Petroleum Company. Their little legacy, Carole Allison, arrived in April, 1970, just six months before Vic was transferred to Nashville. Now happily settled in a new home, Karen says she is looking forward to renewing old acquaintances and meeting new collegians and alumnæ in her challenging new job as collegiate director.

DIRECTORY 1971-72

Attention: All Members of Gamma Phi Beta

This eight-page insert on pink paper is your Gamma Phi Beta Directory, listing all international, province and local officers of the Sorority. It contains a list of all Gamma Phi Beta collegiate chapters, the list of officers' duties and pertinent information about contributing to The Crescent.

Please lift up the staples in the center of the section, remove the eight pink pages and insert them in your permanent officers' notebook for ready reference throughout the year.

cil meeting. By December 1, send check with Form #A-225a for total number of Int'l taxes paid through chapter treasurer—to CO. Make check payable to Gamma Phi Beta. These payments may be made any time during the fiscal year, August 1 through July 31; chapters are considered delinquent if partial payments are not paid by January 1.

By January 1, send Province dues to PAD.

By February 1 of the year in which convention is held, send Int'l chairman of the nominating committee the names of any members chapters wish to suggest for an Int'l office. Include candidate's qualifications. By February 20, send name and address of membership chairman to CO for listing in May CRESCENT.

By February 25, send Grand President business for consideration at spring

Council meeting.

Immediately after election, send roster of chapter officers on Form #A-222b to CO, PAD and PCD. Send name of magazine chairman to Int'l magazine chairman. (Notify CO of any change of officers between elections.) By May 1, send prior year's chapter history (written by retiring president) to Int'l historian.

By May 15, send list of members deceased since previous May 15 to CO. Include married and maiden names, Greek-letter chapter, address and date of death, if known, and newspaper announcement if available.

By June 1, notify Int'l magazine chairman if chapter's magazine sales profit is to be contributed to the Gamma Phi Beta Gift Fund or returned to the chapter.

By June 15, send one copy of each alumnæ chapter president's report (A-215a) and membership list or directory to the Alumnæ Vice President and the PAD.

HOUSE CORPORATIONS:

Treasurer: By November 1 annual audit due CO.

President: Immediately after election send roster of House Corporation Board officers to CO.

Crescent Correspondents

What You've Always Wanted to Know About THE CRESCENT —and Were Afraid to Ask!

THE CRESCENT is published quarterly in March, May, September and December. Both alumnæ and Greek-letter chapters are invited to submit articles to any or all of the four issues. For your convenience in preparing copy, the following instructions will help insure the prompt processing of your material.

Please submit your copy, typewritten and double-spaced, on $81/2 \times 11$ paper. Write on one side of the paper only. In the upper right hand corner, type the name of the Crescent correspondent, her address, the chapter which she represents and the date article is submitted. Sign the article (typewritten) with the correspondent's name and the college where she was initiated: i.e., Lynn Wolfe, Illinois or Charlotte Hamilton Mason, Michigan.

When sending photographs, be sure that they are black and white glossy prints, preferably 8×10 or 5×7 . Color prints do not reproduce well. Identify each picture on the back by writing names (in left to right sequence) with a china pencil or very soft lead pencil. Do not use a felt tip pen or a ball point pen; they mar the surface of a picture. If at all possible, employ a professional photographer for your important occasions: Founders Day, Province Conference, installations, important chapter functions.

Special instructions for alumnæ chapters:

Alumnæ letters are carried once a year in the December issue. These letters should contain a synopsis of the alumnæ chapter's entire year's activities. In reporting names, use this form: given name, maiden name, married name, college: i.e., Dianne Burdick Edmondson (Oklahoma State). Please check the correct spelling of all names. Mail chapter letters to the alumnæ assistant editor, Mrs. Kernitz. (See page 1.)

Pacesetters (profiles), biographies of outstanding alumnæ members, may be submitted for any issue. Please try to send a black and white glossy print with each pacesetter, if possible. Mail to the editor, Mrs. Haverfield. Feature articles may be submitted for any issue. Send to the editor, Mrs. Haverfield.

Be constantly on the lookout for special articles. Our readers want to know about successful money-making projects, special chapter programs that may be adapted to other chapters' use; members who have unusual and interesting careers. These articles need not be long. Send to the editor, Mrs. Haverfield.

Province Conference reports should be sent to the editor, Mrs. Haverfield, before June 1, 1973.

Founders Day reports should be sent to the alumnæ assistant editor, Mrs. Kernitz (See page 1.), before January 1.

Special instructions for Greek-letter chapters:

Collegiate chapter letters are carried in the March issue only. Please prepare a resume of the entire year's activities and send to the collegiate editor. (See page 1.)

Chapter honors are listed in the September issue only. Send a list of honors awarded to the chapter and individual members, with accompanying photographs, if possible. Remember that this is a chapter honors list, not an activity list. Include members of honoraries, officers of campus organizations, queens (no runners-up, please) and special scholastic awards. Identify the honoraries. Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Mortar Board are well known, but identify others: i.e., Theta Sigma Phi (journalism). Send honors lists to the collegiate editor.

Colossal Collegians may be submitted for any issue. Please try to include a black and white glossy print. Send to the editor, Mrs. Haverfield.

Special feature stories may be submitted for any issue. Any special project in which you have participated may serve as a guide for another chapter in formulating its chapter program.

Send Founders Day reports to the alumnæ assistant editor, Mrs. Kernitz, by January 1.

Gamma Gamma at Psi

Greeks on college campuses are rumored to be in trouble because people are beginning to question their merits and their relevance to campus life. But Psi on the University of Oklahoma campus is trying to prove that Greeks are Great—especially Gamma Phi Betas! The selection of five Gamma Phi Betas to Gamma Gamma honorary, seems to confirm our belief that we're contributing something—ourselves—to the campus and the Greek system.

Gamma Gamma honors only the top two per cent of the junior and senior Greeks on campus. Selection is based on service to each applicant's individual house and to the campus as a whole. The selection of Cathy Edwards, Margaret Lowry, Ethel Moore, Diana Snyder and Suzanne Williams boasts membership in the group to six living in the Psi chapter house. The sixth is Sally Livermore who was chosen during her junior year and remains a member.

Cathy, a junior at OU, is majoring in journalism and has voluntarily donated untiring time working on the Oklahoma Daily, the campus newspaper. Presently she is serving as Features editor for the paper and often works late into the night in the newsroom.

She has just completed a term as vice president at Psi, and has served as Crescent correspondent and public relations chairman.

Cathy is also listed on the president's (straight A) and dean's honor roll (above 3.0). She is a member of Tassels, a national honorary for junior women, and was editor of Cwens, a national honorary for sophomore women.

Margaret has served the house as rush chairman and works vivaciously to promote Psi on campus. She is also a very pretty girl and was honored as Sooner Yearbook Beauty semifinalist and is a Phi Kappa Sigma Little Sis. Margaret is a senior majoring in Home Economics.

Ethel, is a short, pert junior majoring in accounting. She was her pledge class president and was recently elected treasurer of Psi. As a pledge, she was voted outstanding pledge, based on her campus activities and her service to the house.

Diana is a well-rounded, enthusiastic junior who is majoring in home economics. Her service to the house is unending. After barely completing a busy year as membership chairman, Diana was recently installed president of Psi for the coming year. She has been listed on the dean's honor roll and is a member of Tassels and Cwens. She has worked on several campus committees and has cooperated closely with Panhellenic officers in preparing for last fall's rush week.

Suzanne, a senior majoring in fashion merchandising, is presently secretary of Mortar Board, a national honorary for senior women. She is a member of Omicron Nu, home economics honorary, and is comptroller for Angel Flight. Last year, Suzanne was pledge scholarship chairman and before that served the house as parliamentarian. She was Tassels historian in her junior year and as a sophomore was a member of Cwens and Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Beta Kappa.

Sally, a senior majoring in journalism, was chosen to Gamma Gamma during her junior year and helped in the selection of this year's members. Taking her major seriously, Sally was chosen editor of the Oklahoma Daily and had previously worked on the staff as assistant news editor. She also served on the Sooner Yearbook editorial board. Sally is currently a member of Mortar Board. She has also been a member of Tassels and Pipers (the equivalent of Cwens) where she served as editor. She was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and is listed on the dean's honor roll. She also served as Panhellenic scholarship chairman.

Though the activities of these girls is abbreviated, the evidence of their involvement is easily seen. Girls with so much enthusiasm are a valuable asset to the Greek system.

DONNA VANDERBURG, Psi

Rhonda Reed, Gamma Zeta

Rhonda Reed won the Miss E. T. talent competition this year with the well-known song "Fly Me to the Moon." And, that's exactly what she has been doing all year—flying to keep up with all her responsibilities and busy schedule.

When Rhonda was a freshman, she wanted to become involved on campus because she feels it is very beneficial, rewarding and necessary to be involved with people. She began her long career of involvement by joining the Association of Women Students and obviously she has done an excellent job because last spring she was elected president. Being AWS president for Rhonda means preparing programs for women students, taking care of their general welfare and presenting new and creative ideas to them.

Rhonda followed through her involvement policy in the spring of her freshman year by pledging Gamma Phi because she wanted to meet more people and Gamma Phi gave her the opportunity for complete involvement in the sisterhood. She finished her active pledgeship by being named "Best Pledge."

Once again her loyalty to her involvement policy was proved by her activities and honors of her junior year. She was voted AWS Woman of the Year, which shows how highly girls all over the campus regard her. Rhonda ran for Student Senate because she felt many changes on campus needed to be made and she felt she might be able to help. Many other people felt the same way for she was elected to the Senate.

Yes, Rhonda was busy this year working for improvement of the campus, but she was never too busy for involvement in Gamma Phi Beta. This year alone she has served as parliamentarian, alumnæ relations chairman and house president. And, after Rhonda was named house president, there was not a cleaner or neater sorority house on campus.

Just to throw in a little additional involvement, she was one of the most active participants in intramurals.

on Campus

This year Rhonda has proven that besides being a willing worker, she's a real beauty with a fantastic talent. She was chosen one of the eight E.T. University Beauties. For more than a month Rhonda worked long and hard for the Miss E.T. Pageant. On the night of the show, whe was chosen winner of the talent competition and second runner-up.

All the work proved worthwhile. Somehow between going to AWS and Senate meetings, playing intramurals and going to Miss E.T, practices, Rhonda managed to remain one of the closest members of Gamma Phi and a friend to many other Greeks and independents. By being involved and making so many friends, Rhonda was named All School Favorite.

Rhonda Reed is a Colossal Collegian because she dared to become involved on campus and in Gamma Phi Beta.

VICKI GULICK, Gamma Zeta

Rosaline Kratochwill, Gamma Omega

Rosalind Kratochwill has been selected by the Association of Women Students as the Most Outstanding Girl on Campus and will represent Wisconsin State University-Platteville in Glamour Magazine's contest to find the Ten Oustanding Girls of 1971. She was selected because of her leadership ability, fashion know-how and outstanding achievements beyond academic requirements on campus.

Sponsored by the Gamma Omega chapter of Gamma Phi Beta in the campus competition, Rosalind is a junior, with a double major in English and French, from Madison, Wisconsin. She is a member of the Student Senate Executive Board, the Student Activities Board, Publications Board, Improvement of Learning Board, a resident assistant, feature writer for the Exponent, a member of the University orchestra, Modern Foreign Language Association, Environmental Crisis, and Karate Club.

The Ten Outstanding College Girls of 1971 were photographed by well-known New York photographers and featured in Glamour's August College issue. During summer vacation, the ten winners were invited to New York to meet the Glamour staff. Last year the winners were the guests of the magazine for a trip to Spain and Portugal.

Tammi Furnas, Beta Alpha

The passing of the "pinning candle" turned out to be a tremendous surprise when Tammi Furnas at the University of Southern California was pinned by the entire Σ A E House to be their Sweetheart for 1971. Through her enthusiastic interest in the fraternity, Tammi has been their 'Big Sister Confidant' for two years and Little Sister.

Although Tammi spends a lot of time planning surprises for the Sig Alphs she stll finds time to be active on campus. Maintaining a 3.5 grade point average, Tammi was a Helen of Troy finalist, and recently she has been working diligently as stage manager for a Mainstage Campus Production. Her exposure to the stage has increased her desire to teach drama and one day write and illustrate children's stories.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilons chose a Sweetheart who truly lives up to all their expectations; she's attractive, intelligent, involved in campus activities, and most important she's not only a Sweetheart to the Σ A E's, but she's a real sweetheart to everyone!

MARY McRoskey, Beta Alpha

Linda Barsetti, Gamma Psi

What is it like to be a graduating senior who is leaving her chapter? Her feelings must be a mixture of excitement, anticipation, a feeling of achievement, and an abundant supply of memories accompanied by some tears. Her sisters also feel excitement for her, sadness because in many ways we know no other person can ever quite replace her; nor do we want that to happen. Every individual Gamma Phi is unique and leaves behind her own special touches and contributions.

Here at Gamma Psi at the University of Northern Iowa, some great seniors graduated last spring. Linda Barsetti, one of our graduates with a major in English, meets the ideals of our sorority to the fullest, and she has set an example that will prove to be a real inspiration and challenge for younger members to follow. Linda can be described in most concise terms as an "ACTIVE active!"

Linda pledged Delta Delta Phi, a local sorority on our campus in the spring of her freshman year and held the office of treasurer of her pledge class. The Delts were then pledged to Gamma Phi Beta. Linda's activities increased in her sophomore year when she became ritual chairman of Gamma Psi, a freshman counselor in the dorm for the Association of Women Students, secretary-treasurer of Student Senate, and she worked on the All-Greek Sing. As a junior, she was involved in numerous groups. Her office in Student Senate carried through the fall; she was on Senior Panhellenic and served as vice president of Panhellenic and as Panhellenic rush chairman. Linda was also chosen to be a BeeGee, little sisters of Delta Upsilon fraternity, and received the honor of being a candidate for Greek Week Queen. Second semester of her junior year, she was elected president of Gamma Psi and attended International Convention in Dallas in the summer of 1970 along with four other UNI delegates. Linda did a fantastic job in the office of president and was also on Senior Panhellenic her senior year. All this work and dedication led to her candidacy for Outstanding Greek on the University of Northern Iowa campus.

Linda's shoes will indeed be hard to fill. She has made many improvements in our chapter and has undoubtedly grown through Sorority because of all the effort and work she has put into it. As with many of the graduates, Linda was married at the end of summer in Arizona. Another happy ending and beginning for a Gamma Phi.

COLETTE PENNE, Gamma Psi

Midge Brooks, Epsilon

Epsilon's Midge Brooks has a campus personality. To be more precise, she does a lot for Northwestern.

A senior speech major from Shreveport, Louisiana, Midge is currently chapter president. She calls structured rush "archaic" and is initiating a new approach, trying to keep all activities as much on a human basis as possible. "Glitter and gush" is being replaced by more personal contact. Midge also has strong feelings about Greek government: "I think that as long as a group of women who are unfamiliar with the local chapter maintain an authoritarian stronghold, then the sorority is not going to be a progressive, modern association."

Midge's intentions after graduation are to instruct in communication education and oral interpretation, an art which she calls both "intellectual and emotional." She has already had some experience working with a first grade class on creative dramatics.

Midge was influential in getting coed housing at Northwestern. As a freshman she worked on an Associated Women Students committee and was chairman of a Student Government subcommittee on coed housing.

As a sophomore she became a charter member of the Student Hearings and Appeals Board. After the Spring, 1970, strike at Northwestern, the Board conducted extensive trials for seven hours a day and published a 600-page transcript.

Another of Midge's pet projects is the annual May Week. This year she was chairman of the May Court activities and next year will be co-chairman of all festivities. Midge was, in fact, chosen a member of May Court this year, an honor which recognizes service to Northwestern.

Since her freshman year, Midge has been a member of Wildcat Council, a public relations organization active on campus. She also holds a seat on the Student Activities Funding Board, is secretary of Shi Ai, a junior women's honorary society, and was tapped for Mortar Board.

Through the national Big Sister program, locally known as Operation Outreach, Midge has obtained a foster child, Susie, whom she visits regularly. In a sense, Susie has been adopted by the entire house, which earned money to help send her to camp over the summer.

Although she says that luck and optimism have helped, Midge typifies her horoscope: "a goal-setter and a goal-reacher."

EVELYN RICHARDS, Epsilon

Easter Seal Convention

The Easter Seal Society, whose camps have frequently been given support by our Greek-letter and alumnæ chapters and the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, will hold its next national annual convention in Portland, Oregon, from November 10 through 13. A special exhibit on camping for the handicapped will be one of the highlights of the meeting. Miss Jayne Shover, acting executive director of the Easter Seal Society, has cordially invited members of Gamma Phi Beta, especially those in the northwest, to attend the convention.

Information about the program plans may be requested from The National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 2023 West Ogden Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60612.

50 Years—From Flappers to Freedom?

May 14, 1921. Good grief! That was a long time ago, wasn't it? Actually, in the 50 short years since its installation date, Alpha Gamma chapter in Reno, Nevada, has come a long way and seen quite a few things. Born in the era of the "flapper," the girls of Alpha Gamma carry on this tradition with a costume dance each spring-a Flapper Dance, naturally. The Golden Anniversary, held May 14-16, combined not only the Anniversary, but also the Annual Senior Breakfast and Parent's Week-

A get-together barbecue was held on May 14 for all people attending the functions of the weekend. Hot dogs were roasted, along with several fingers, by parents and Gamma Phis alike. Also at the barbecue were packets which contained information about Reno, hospitality coupons for the various casinoes downtown, and an informative history compiled by Inez Walker and her committee. This brief history of Alpha Gamma brought out interesting historical sidelights: the question was once raised as to whether dues should be increased from 75¢ to $1 a month; blue jeans became popular between 1924-28; between 1936-40, skits were first used to "divert attention from the fact that our chapter was so small;" and we broke ground for our new house in April, 1965 and moved in in November of the same year.

The next day a banquet was held downtown at Harrah's Club and all interested people were invited to attend. Many alumnæ attended the banquet.

The Annual Senior Breakfast, held in honor of the graduating members took place on Sunday to end the weekend's activities. Guest speaker was Mrs. G. O. Dimock, collegiate director for Province XIII. Mrs. Dimock gave a light speech about the contributions the seniors had made to the house. She wished them each the best of luck and reminded them of the enormous range that the members of Gamma Phi chapters encompass, adding that each of the seniors would carry on her Gamma Phi spirit wherever she went (and that included one of our sisters who was going to Viet Nam as a nurse.)

It is interesting to note that the women of the 1920's were the stay-at-home type; yet today not only are more women going away to schools, more schools are passing 24-hour visitation rights-a thing that would never have been dreamed of 50 years ago. Also during the twenties was the era of prohibition, which contrasts sharply with the University of Nevada's new trial policy of drinking on campus for people of age. Women's Suffrage, another pressing issue of the 1920's gained women the right to vote. But a glance around 50 years later shows that women are still on the march for equal rights in the Women's Liberation Movement. Styles, also, like the "muscle shirts" that young men are wearing today somehow closely resemble bygone Roaring Twenties' bathing suits for men. Perhaps 50 years is not so long after all. . . .

DAWN CASSINELLI, Alpha Gamma

ATTENTION: Audiology Majors

The Delta Zeta Foundation has established a $1,000 graduate scholarship, to be awarded annually, to assist qualified women students who are preparing for teaching of the deaf, for clinical work with the hard of hearing, or for teaching audiology or a closely allied subject.

Request application from Miss Anne H. Meierhofer, Director of Career Planning, Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Illinois 61701. Application must be made before February 15, 1972.

Charlotte Luporini, a talented member of Epsilon chapter, starred in the 1971 production of the Waa Mu show at Northwestern University. This year's musical production, "Thanks a Lot," was the fortieth production of this nationally famous variety show, all music for which is composed each year by Northwestern students and alumni. It has been featured in Life magazine and was televised nationally this year on CBS.

Sooner Senorita Becomes United States Citizen

Lourdes "Luly" Pons, Cuban refugee, is a sister at Psi, a Sooner beauty and a U.S.

Lourdes "Luly" Pons, a member of Psi chapter at the University of Oklahoma, after fleeing Cuba with her parents nine years ago in search of freedom, became a citizen of the United States last October 15.

"I feel like I've grown up here," said Luly, with a fading Spanish accent. "I feel more a part of the United States than of Cuba, and my (citizenship) certificate shows that I am."

Becoming a citizen, however, was a long and complicated process that began three years ago when Luly was an OU sophomore. At that time she filed for a residency card from the United States government, which is required before citizenship can be granted. Six months after filing she was interviewed in Dallas on why she wanted to be a citizen and how she felt about the United States. She was granted the residency card.

Usually a person has to hold a residency card five years before they're eligible for citizenship but Congress has enacted laws which reduce the time required for Cubans. Thirty months are subtracted from the date a Cuban receives his residency card and this date is listed as their date of arrival in the United States. Thus, Lourdes really only had to wait 30 months after receiving her residency until she could apply for citizenship.

At the end of her 30 months in December 1969, Lourdes filed a petition for citizenship. In September she received a reply from the government scheduling her test over the constitution and history of the United States.

"The government provides you with a little booklet with information about the United States," said Lourdes. "When you go to take the test you have to take two American citizens along as witnesses. They testify on your moral character and background," she explained.

"I signed papers renouncing all legal and mental loyalty to Cuba and declared I wanted to become a United States citizen," she said, smiling. "And I got my first look at my certificate of citizenship."

Finally on October 15 Lourdes traveled to the United States Federal Court in Oklahoma City where she received her certificate for citizenship, a flag and copy of the constitution.

"At the end of the ceremony all the people getting their citizenship had to tell what country they were from," she said. "It was really interesting. We took an oath of loyalty to the United States renouncing any other loyalties and I realized then what it was like to be a citizen of the States."

That night, topping off a memorable day, the members of Psi surprised her with a citizenship party.

"I came home and my two roommates had planned a surprise party," Luly said, smiling. "They had cupcakes, with U.S. flags stuck in them, arranged in the shape of a star. And everyone sang 'America the Beautiful,' and 'God Bless America."

Lourdes, who graduated last June with a degree in modern languages, was born in Cuba, where her father owned a private school. However, her father opposed the regime of Castro, and during the Bay of Pigs invasion was taken a prisoner by the Cuban government. After he was released, the family began trying to leave Cuba.

Finally after two years of trying to secure traveling papers from the Cuban government, her family arrived in Miami in May 1961. The Cuban government allowed them to bring only three changes of clothes and no valuables. "My mother couldn't even bring her wedding bands," Luly asserted.

After one month, Lourdes and her family moved to Weymouth, Massachusetts, under the sponsorship of the St. James Episcopal Church there. Luly was then an eighth grader.

"I learned my first English there," she said, adding, "I knew very, very little."

But Massachusetts' climate proved too harsh for her mother, so they moved to Edmond, Oklahoma, where Luly attended high school and learned more than just "facts."

"I learned culture, which was more important," she said. "And I really got to find out about the different customs."

Luly, however, wasn't the only one who had to get used to American customs. "It was really hard for my parents to get accustomed to dating. In Cuba chaperones always went along on dates," she explained. But Luly caught on fast to the American way of life, and in high school was on the student council, a member of the pep club and president of the Spanish club.

However, even though she caught on relatively fast to English, she had some trying moments learning the language.

"I had most trouble learning idioms," she said, reminiscing. "In class one day some one asked me what I had up my sleeve. I looked at it and said, "Well . . . my arm!"

"I really couldn't tell you when or how I learned English, probably by imitation," she said. "In Edmond High I took Spanish I, but it was like learning English. I spoke to them (her classmates) in Spanish and they spoke to me in English."

Luly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Pons, Oklahoma City. Last year, as a representative of Psi, she was named one of six Sooner Yearbook Beauty runner-ups. She is listed on the Dean's Honor Roll and belongs to Alpha Mu Gamma, a national fraternity for language students. She is also a Phi Kappa Sigma Little Sister.

Toni Karagosian

Colossal Collegians On the Nevada Campus

Tonia Karagosian

Toni Karagosian, our girl on the go, did more to bring Gamma Phi Beta onto the campus and into the community than any other ten girls in the house. She began her "career" in the house as public relations chairman, in addition to serving on the Sophomore Class Committee, Women's Press Club, AWS Council (where she was elected Outstanding Council member) and SPURS. She followed this up the next year by being elected AWS vice president (which gave her over-seeing powers concerning Sex Week, a project that gained community-wide fame as well as much community and campus interest), Alpha Gamma vice president, Sagens, Chairman of AWS Judicial Board and the justifiable recipient of the Nevada State Press Association Scholarship.

During her term as Alpha Gamma president, the following year, Toni worked on the Winter Carnival Committee, Senior Class Committee, High School Recruitment, Sigma Delta Chi and was awarded the Sparks Tribune's First Annual Scholarship for her excellence in journalism.

At Women's Night of Honor, Toni again was given recognition amid much, much cheering and many happy faces from her sisters. She was elected to membership in Cap and Scroll, an honorary for distinguished women who have been president of a major campus organization. She was named one of the Ten Outstanding Senior Women by the Associated Women Students at the University of Nevada, and was selected for recognition by being elected the AAUW Outstanding Senior Woman for the University.

It is little wonder that the Junior Class had such a good time making up a skit about Toni. With her trusty bottle of catsup in her hand, Toni is a match for anyone. Since she graduated in June, she went out of the University with a "blaze of glory." She carried 18 units, was working as the Society Editor for the Nevada State Journal and, lastly and naturally most important, she planned her beautiful June wedding to Pat Cunning.

Three-Time Winner: Alpha Gamma

At the University of Nevada, Reno, there are three major events in which groups on campus are involved with competition: Homecoming, Winter Carnival, and Mackay Day. The 1970-71 school year found Alpha Gamma to be a three-time winner, something that has not happened in quite a while!

Our float in the Homecoming Parade in October placed number one with its traditional Nevada Wolf riding in grand style aboard the float. Judy White, float chairman, was rewarded for all of her work in searching out places to get chicken wire, the best paper napkins and lumber.

In February, Alpha Gamma's Snow Sculpture, under the direction of art major Debbie Siri, took top honors up on Mount Rose. Working with the men of Phi Sigma Kappa, Gamma Phis hauled snow around on the mountain to mold what the newspapers called "a giant chipmunk." Winning this event seemed to make up for the red hands, frozen socks and burned soles of shoes which were singed at the warming fires.

To end the school year, Alpha Gamma won the giant revolving trophy for Mackay Day Overall Points, making us the three year winner (the trophy has only been in existence for these past three years!) We also took first place honors in the Dress Competition, where 100 percent of the house appeared on campus wearing western dresses for Mackay Day. Song Team, chairmaned by Marianne Maytan, also brought a first place for Gamma Phi, adding to our total points toward the trophy.

We are looking forward to another winning year in 1971-72. But win or lose, participation draws all of us closer together as sisters.

Miss Reno

True to the Gamma Phi Beta spirit of desiring to better oneself, Helen Marie Bennett, 1969-70 president of Alpha Gamma, decided to enter the Miss Reno contest . . . and won!! After doing her own choreography and designing her own costume, Helen did a ballet dance to "Harlequin in the Street" and finished the evening wearing her queenly crown and a new official title-Miss Reno.

Born November 2, 1948, in Reno, Nevada, Helen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett of Reno and the sister of Mike Bennett, 1970-71 Gamma Phi Beta Man of the Year. She is 5'4" tall and weighs 118 pounds.

Helen felt the most exciting part of the pageant was the actual competition, where every girl, win or lose, "has the selfsatisfaction of knowing that she has tried." Now that she is Miss Reno, she will serve as the official hostess for the city, attending grand openings, riding in parades, working in advertising campaigns, modeling, greeting people from conventions and helping to raise money for charitable organizations. Helen has already had practice in some of her new duties during her term as past-president.

Planning to use her year of service as a chance to build her own dreams, Helen is looking forward to the following year when she plans to attend possibly the University of Utah in Salt Lake City where she would continue her dance training. She plans to use her Miss Reno scholarship money to help her dream come true.

"Be yourself" is the advice Helen would give to prospective contestants in queen pageants. Above all, she feels it is important to "let good taste dictate the selection of your wardrobe."

Helen says she was very pleased to have her Gamma Phi sisters in the audience the evening of the competition. They, in turn, were equally happy to see their hazel-eyed, honey blonde sister crowned Miss Reno! With all of the tears and screams of joy, it was difficult to tell who was more excited.

Have You Tried This?

Because we have been asked to devote space to suggestions from our various Greek-letter chapters on their many phases of campus and Sorority activities, we have compiled a list from our correspondents' reports. If chapters continue to tell us of their successful programs, we hope to make this a regular feature in future issues of The Crescent.

Philanthropy

Gamma chapter, University of Wisconsin:

-gave parties in hospital rooms for cancer patients;

-entertained patients at Mendota State Mental hospital;

-decided to make Homecoming into a charitable cause and conducted a drive with all proceeds going to UNICEF;

-held a "Bash," pledge bake sale, and organized a Slave Day where all the chapter "sold itself" to alumnæ for money to put an orphan in Taiwan through school.

Alpha Nu chapter, Wittenberg University

-registered with the Volunteer Services of Springfield, which delegates specific service projects to registered members. As a result, the Gamma Phis are working in many areas ranging from assisting at the Springfield Art Center to tutoring mentally retarded adults in local nursing homes.

Gamma Upsilon chapter, Drake University

—joined the other fraternity and sorority members during Greek week to help the public become better informed about the needs of the blind. They became informed themselves when blind speakers talked at exchange dinners throughout the week. Later they canvassed the city of Des Moines, distributing pamphlets and telling the public of a special program to be held concerning their sightless citizens and how each person could help.

Social

Gamma Alpha chapter, Memphis State University

-held a successful yell-in to introduce all sorority pledges to the campus (story on this page).

Alpha Gamma, University of Nevada

—holds an annual Roaring Twenties party to honor their founding date, May 1921.

Alumnæ Relations

Gamma chapter, University of Wisconsin

-gave an Easter party for the alumnæ's children

Beta Upsilon, Kansas State

—presents an engraved silver tray each year to the Manhattan alumna who has been most helpful to the chapter.

Chapter Programs

Psi, University of Oklahoma

—had an outstanding series of chapter programs to which guests were invited. Distinguished authorities covered many areas: abortion, drugs, personal appearance, et cetera.

DO YOU KNOW?

—that as soon as you have finished college, you may wear your Gamma Phi Beta badge as a charm on your bracelet or have it made into a handsome ring? A pledge pin or a Mother's Club pin may dangle from your bracelet, too. This change in regulations was made by action of the 1968 International Convention. The important thing is: Wear your badge with pride!

Recipe for a Yell-In

A Yell-In? What's a Yell-In? This is a question that I'm sure must have floated around Memphis State last Fall. Probably everyone pictured the entire Greek system uniting to scream at the faculty, or a huge pep rally. Actually, this was a method designed to introduce all the sorority pledges to all the fraternity pledges, and it was brought to Memphis State by none other than the Gamma Phis. Our delegates to the Convention brought back this sensational idea, so we thought we would try it on our campus. It was a success! On our campus we had had Open Houses, Greek Week dances, and various other activities to which no one ever went. So, the Gamma Phis decided it was time for something new. Thus, the Gamma Phi Yell-In came to Memphis State. Perhaps other chapters whose campuses need a fresh idea to introduce pledges would like to try this. So, here is the recipe for a successful Yell-In.

The ingredients for a Yell-In are a carefully outlined idea, cooperation from other sororities, a convenient place to hold it, and a bunch of enthusiastic girls to put it across. First take your idea and explain it to the other sororities. We told them to have their pledges present a small skit, song, or cheer. The content of their skit was left completely up to them. Some of them did sorority songs and others did skits. Our pledges did a skit about famous women of the world who could have been Gamma Phis, beginning with Eve. After presenting your idea and obtaining their cooperation, find a good place to have the Yell-In. Not having a house, we held our Yell-In in front of our Panhellenic building. We put up a make-shift platform and had a loud speaker system. The next ingredient, the enthusiastic bunch of girls, will be no problem, I'm sure. The Gamma Phis will work hard on this, and enjoy doing it.

Take all these ingredients, mix well, and zap—a good Yell-In. Oh yes, we also fed our audience after our program. Being growing guys, the fraternity boys quickly gobbled up the sandwiches, cookies, and the free cokes! Maybe, this idea can benefit some schools which never had anything like this. At Memphis State, we like to think it brought the Greeks a lot closer. So, when you get your next fabulous pledge class, show them off at a Gamma Phi Yell-In.

KAREN INMAN, Gamma Alpha Memphis State University

Janie Crain, Gamma Alpha, has been a Memphis State Cheerleader for three years and captain of the squad for two.

Great Gamma Phis!

July 7, 1971

Dear Mrs. McMichael:

While doing some tidying up I came across the December 1970 "Crescent" and the article I had marked on Fort Worth Gamma Phis being named "Patron of the Arts."

As an alumna of UCLA and Alpha lota Chapter and as one actively engaged in the spectrum of cultural affairs, I had particular interest and pleasure in reading of your effectiveness. You exemplify well the President's belief in the value of private and public partnership to further develop the arts.

For what interest it may be to you, I enclose a pamphlet containing the President's remarks at the Associated Councils of the Arts annual conference held in Washington, D.C. and a message from Mrs. Nixon on cultural affairs.

With every good wish for continued success,

Carol V. Harford

Colossal Collegians

Linda Lees

Linda Lees, a member of Beta Omega chapter at Northern Arizona University, spent a glorious six weeks in Europe last summer singing her way across the continent with the Shrine of Ages Choir. Music, her first love, has brought Linda many happy adventures in travel and she has made hosts of new friends across the world. Linda is a music education major who graduated from NAU last June and plans a career in teaching music on the elementary school level, either in Arizona or California. In a letter to The Crescent, Linda said: "Music is the major part of my life and my talents vary in each instrument that I play. I've played the piano since fourth grade; I also play the organ, guitar and harp. I've been singing as long as I can remember." This singing talent brought her the opportunity in 1968 to go overseas to the Orient with a USO show called "The Splinters." This was a small group made up from the students in the Shrine of Ages choir and they had a > Angeles on July 21 and landed in Frankfurt, Germany. They traveled on to Italy, Jugoslavia, Greece and Austria, singing concerts all along the way. When they arrived in Vienna on August 12, they gave their final concert, along with 16 other choirs. Before leaving the United States each of the 16 choirs were required to learn a certain, select group of numbers. In Vienna all 16 groups combined to perform as a 1,000 voice choir under the direction of Herr Turling.

Now, this year the entire choir went to Europe. They left from Los fabulous time singing in Japan, Korea, the Philippines and Taiwan.

During their stay in Vienna, the students were allowed to take courses in choral conducting, harmony, foreign languages, etc. The students received college credits for these courses as well as for their entire European trip.

Linda concluded her letter by saying, "We are a fantastic choir and we have a beautiful sound. We feel very honored to be selected among the top choirs in the United States to sing in Vienna."

Linda Funk is presented a copy of the poster for which she posed for Air New Zealand

The girl behind the attractive face on Air New Zealand's "Visit USA" poster is college student, Linda Funk, the typical all-American girl.

Linda, a senior member of Beta Alpha chapter at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, is well-known on campus for her vivacity and school spirit. For two years, Linda has been a song leader spurring both football and basketball teams on to victory by leading cheers at university games. She also was on the field cheering for USC during the 1969 Rose Bowl Game, the country's biggest collegiate football contest.

In the classroom, Linda is studying to be a dental hygienist, but is considering a career with the airlines after graduation so that she can travel and broaden her outlook on life. When not attending classes, she works as a nurse's aid at a medical center where her father, a physician, practices internal medicine.

During her high school days, Linda was a member of the school's homecoming queen's court, a song girl and served as "pep commissioner." In her free time, she studied piano and ballet dancing. In addition, she raised three horses and rode in California horse shows.

Linda spent last summer as a counsellor at a workshop for high school song leaders. So far, her best student has been her 18-year-old sister, Debbie, who also was appointed a song leader at the University of Southern California this year.

Linda, a third generation Californian, resides with her parents, and sisters, Debbie and Barbara, 16, at their home in Downey, some 15 miles south of Los Angeles.

Although she has never been to the South Pacific, Linda hopes that someday when she is a stewardess, she'll have an opportunity to meet the people of New Zealand and personally invite them to visit the USA.

By the light of the Crescent Moon

As you may recall, in the May issue of THE CRESCENT, this column talked about the new pledge policies of Lambda Chi Alpha, proposed subject matter to be included in our magazine and the current status of women. We invited our readers to comment on these three issues and we'd like to share some of the responses with you.

One Californian's View

To the editor:

I don't think The Crescent needs to have articles on ecology, abortion, etc. Most of our members probably read other publications in which these subjects are covered. (But a meeting program on what we can do about pollution would probably be good for many alumnæ chapters.) I would guess that members read The Crescent to find out what other Gamma Phis are doing, both collegians and alumnæ.

It is interesting to know about books by Gamma Phis. Some poetry or essays by members might be interesting.

Associate members: I think pledges should be initiated as soon after pledging as the school will permit.

Status of women: I don't claim to be an expert on children, but from what I see of adults, the happiest seem to be those with a clear self image, not only as individual but as male or female individuals. I don't mean that girls with aptitude in math or science should be discouraged from using this aptitude. But most of the women I know who have jobs that are considered men's jobs, and who seem to be reasonably happy people, either have at least one definitely feminine hobby or have substantial family responsibilities.

On the Status of Women

To the editor:

On page 24 of the May 1971 issue the article on the Conference on the Status of Women ends with "May we hear your view on the current status of women?"

You, yourselves, give the best answer to that question. Your opening statement on the Who's Who in Gamma Phi Beta page states: "Gamma Phi Beta's greatest asset is her members—their talents, their time, their interest." Yet the questionnaire at the bottom of the page begins with Husband's name in full and then Maiden name in full. Isn't a Gamma Phi sufficiently important to have her own present name first, whether she is single, married, widowed or divorced? The questionnaire goes on to such things as Husband's occupation and His business address. Are you going to address a Gamma Phi's correspondence to her husband's business address?

And how about the masthead? Why list your husband's names? Or is the editing of the magazine a social, rather than a business thing with you?

Perhaps I am over-reacting, but don't question woman's status in the same issue that you give her second-rate citizenship.

I have not so far been a women's libber, but I'm rapidly becoming more and more incensed as more and more of this kind of nonsense continues.

JEWEL BRAUN HOLAHAN, Penn State Executive editor

Our assistant to the Alumnæ Vice President, who compiles the information for Gamma Phi Beta's Who's Who, says that we need both the husband's full name and the member's full maiden name for our cross reference file. His address gives us one more check point to find a member, should she move her residence and become lost to our records.

The editors' names are listed with husbands' names in parenthesis on the masthead on page 1 for a very practical reason. Members who wish to reach any of the editorial staff by phone will find the listing in the name of the husband. We in no way feel demeaned because of our marital status. We hope that the quality of THE CRESCENT shows that our editing is professional, not merely social.

We certainly had no intention of conferring second-class citizenship on our members. Please see future issues of the magazine as we pursue current issues.—Ed.

A Collegian Speaks Out

To the Editor:

I found the article "Your Personality Quotient" (page 5, May issue) to be a very tasteless filler for our Sorority magazine. The test itself reminded me of one that would appear in Seventeen or an issue of some television or screen romance magazine. The significance of this type of article is very questionable to me as I find them lacking in validity when concerned with measuring some abstract, intangible trait such as personality. Certainly the constituents of one's personality are difficult enough to determine, test and assess by trained and educated psychologists, let alone by a ten part test which questions one on appearance, manners, and loyalty. I cannot speak from an alumnæ's point of view, but as a collegiate I find much more enjoyment and relavance in articles such as Dorothy Chambers' "How to Get a Job" or Cyrena Harper's poem "A Review."

NANCY NEUMANN, College student

Darien, Connecticut

"Your Personality Quotient" was devised by Dorothy Chambers and was intended to be a part of her article on "How to Get a Job." It was meant to include only those traits most important to employers. The chairman of the Operation Brass Tacks Committee of the National Panhellenic Editors' Conference tells us that both the article and the quiz have brought forth many requests for reprints of the story and the quiz. It is being used by both high school and college classes, a professional recruiting company and at the Pi Beta Phi leadership school. The Alpha Chi Omegas distributed reprints to all of their graduating seniors.

Thank you, Nancy, for writing.-Ed.

Please, keep in touch.

We hope you will continue to send us your comments and suggestions. All letters to the editor should be signed, but we will withhold your name, at your request, if the letter is printed. Unsigned letters will not be considered for publication.

Keep those cards and letters coming!
