THE CRESCENT of Gamma Phi Beta

SEPTEMBER 1974

The Grand President's Message

Excerpts from the Grand President's Message at Convention

As Grand President of Gamma Phi Beta, it is my charge to report to you the changes and accomplishments of this past biennium.

The enthusiastic way in which our members have embraced our TranSISter Service is one of the most heartwarming things imaginable! We now have 151 eager TranSISter Service volunteers waiting to be of help to our sisters. This includes 42 states, the West Indies, the Canal Zone, West Germany and Montreal. All the other sororities are green with envy at this unique copyrighted service we have to offer. Now it is up to us to use it!

Another service which was inaugurated last November which I believe is also unique to Gamma Phi Beta is our International Clippina Service for collegiate members. Ann Bronsing, the chairman, and her alumnæ volunteers have started with academic topics: education and special education, law and women's rights under United States law. Additionally they have assembled material in the following four areas: pro-Greek articles, suggestions for rush, suggestions for philanthropic projects, and a list of regional speakers available for Greek workshops. Ann is hoping for more feedback from all collegiate chapters. The committee is willing to expand the service to meet your needs. All you have to do is communicate!

We had very high hopes for Gamma Phi Beta's Encore, a mini-newspaper designed with our older members in mind. This ambitious project was undertaken by Alpha chapter and it was hoped that the paper would prove to be a vehicle to which these ladies would contribute of themselves, not only with feature stories, news items, cartoons, etc., but that they would also be willing to support it financially. The first issue was published in March of 1973, and the Alpha Encore staff did a magnificent job. Unfortunately, the hoped for financing did not materialize and Grand Council did not feel that it would be possible for the Sorority to subsidize further issues. If there is interest in the future, perhaps the project can be revived. It would seem that with a membership as large as ours, there would be a need for "a call to older alumnæ for a 'second performance.' '

There was also an attempt to use our Vancouver camp during the off season as a place for an alumnæ creative camping retreat. The Vancouver camp board was most cooperative in trying to help set up such a program, but after some preliminary investigation, it was felt that it would be too costly to finance at this time and the project was abandoned for the present.

Our chapter development program got off to a fine beginning with a striking presentation by the committee in January of 1973. Since that time several additional bulletins from the various chairmen for pledge, collegiate and alumnæ development have been sent to the membership. This concept fills a great need at the present time and we urge both collegiate and alumnæ chapters to learn more about it and adopt a good chapter development program at once.

A new alumnæ award will be presented for the first time at this Convention. It is called the "Carnation Award" and recognizes outstanding individuals who have won honor and distinction in fields outside Gamma Phi Beta. This is a fine way to pay tribute to our prominent members who, through their efforts, make our sorority known to others.

Boundary changes have been inaugurated twice during the biennium. Both of these changes were necessitated because of great inequities in the work load carried by some of the province officers, and because of the long distances involved in travel. The first changes became effective in August 1973 and involved Provinces VII, IX, XI, XII and XIII. As of June 1, 1974, Province XIV was divided and a new Province XVI was created.

Many times in the past an opportunity for expansion has come to our Sorority but because of insufficient numbers of alumnæ to act as advisers to the chapter, we have been unable to accept invitations to colonize. In order to overcome this handicap, Grand Council adopted a new program for special initiates. A manual was hurriedly compiled and a greatly enlarged program of training began. The special initiates met each week with the field secretary supervising the new colony for training similar to that followed by the new collegiate pledges. After this prolonged period of training, the special initiates feel much more confident in assuming their advisory roles. The plan has proved to be successful and now we have a device by which we will be able to expand into areas which have heretofore been closed to us. A terribly exciting prospect for our future.

It has been felt for a long time that some kind of a loosely organized alumnæ group aside from a chartered alumnæ chapter is needed. A pilot plan was begun for Crescent Circles and it has proved to be most successful. Crescent Circles are made up of alumnæ in scattered locations who are otherwise unable to function as an alumnæ chapter, but who have expressed a willingness to support and participate in limited activities of the Sorority. This is a means of drawing in unaffiliated alumnæ and should reflect favorably in an increased number of paid members.

Thanks to our remarkable field secretaries who have represented us so capably, every single collegiate chapter has been visited this biennium. This is a goal we always try to reach, but this is the first time it has been accomplished in many years.

In addition to the field secretaries, this past year Grand Council inaugurated a graduate counselor program. This program was designed for the chapter which would benefit more from full time assistance rather than just a short visit usually made by a field secretary. The graduate counselor performs all the duties usually handled by a field secretary, while living with the chapter and working on her master's degree.

With the emphasis on leadership which Grand Council has tried to maintain, the name "Province Conference" was changed last spring to "Area Leadership Conference." A start was made toward providing better leadership training for officers and advisers and with this in mind, all alumnæ advisers were sent to the Area Leadership Conferences at Sorority expense. Most of them took advantage of this opportunity and we hope it can be continued in the future.

During an era when building costs have sky rocketed, most sorority and fraternity construction has come to an abrupt standstill. However, Gamma Phi Beta has had building projects going on at two places: at Alpha Xi chapter house at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, and at Beta Psi chapter, Oklahoma State University, Stillwater.

One of the most heartwarming accomplishments for this biennium is the increased scholarship and camping programs made possible as a result of our Centennial. Centennial contributions to the Gift Fund have also enabled us to increase financial support to chapters in need. The Centennial has also served to stress collegiate-alumnæ relations which has proved that the so called "generation gap" is not so great after all.

Change-or not to change. We have changed in numerous ways in just the last two years. Gamma Phi Beta is not a static organization. When Helen Dodge and Fanny Haven, the last two remaining Founders, attended the fiftieth Convention at Lake Placid in 1924, they expressed amazement at the size and strength reached slowly but surely by this vast sisterhood which had such a tiny beginning. Proudly we now number more than 64,000 members throughout the United States and Canada. In our first 100 years we have grown into a young giant which has only just begun to flex its muscles. Gamma Phi Beta has a bright and glowing future. It is imperative that each of us does her bit to make this future a reality.

1974 Gamma Phi Beta Spans the Centuries

It was a beautiful week in Kansas City. The excitement and anticipation of a four-day long birthday party filled the awesome Crown Center Hotel, where more than 1000 Gamma Phi Betas came and went. About 800 were full-time registrants; the others took in various parts of the program or just dropped by to meet old friends.

As we pulled up to the hotel, a gigantic cossack-hatted doorman jovially administered to the handling of our baggage and led the way to the registration desk where we were warmly welcomed by the hotel staff and our Kansas City hostesses in long calico aprons.

The Crown Center hotel is built into the natural formation of a mini-mountain. The natural rock forms the background of a five-story high waterfall in the lobby. It was the right place for the Gamma Phi Betas to meet; we were both founded upon a rock.

VIPs Arrive Early

While Grand Council had been in session since Monday, June 10, to transact the business of the Sorority, other national officers arrived on Thursday. The Province alumnæ and collegiate directors met during the afternoon and evening for briefing sessions with Bennie Jo Wilson Burkett (SMU) Collegiate Vice President and Virginia Geiger Hustad (Minnesota) Alumnæ Vice President. In the evening Audrey Weldon Shafer (Missouri) Grand President, entertained the assembled officers at a reception and dinner in the Shawnee Room. After a delicious repact of Kansas City steak, Mrs. Shafer warmly welcomed her guests to Gamma Phi Beta's fifty-sixth Convention. Joan Lewis McCoy (Ohio State), Convention chairman, welcomed everyone to Kansas City and the new Crown Center hotel.

During the afternoon and evening, the early arrivals registered with the Convention committee, headed by Adelaide Francis and Sue Ott. Each received her Convention kit, a ticking bag, made by students at the School of the Ozarks. In a pocket of the bag was a colorful calico apron that buttoned into an Ozarkian sunbonnet, which each member was to decorate with pink carnations for the Birthday Party on Saturday night. The interior of the bags were filled with pencils, pens, Convention program, notebook and note pads.

That evening the finishing touches were being put on the historical display and the boutique. Compiled and arranged by Mary Glenndon Trussell (Northwestern) Gamma Phi Beta historian, the historic presentation was a wonder to behold. Through careful research, Mrs. Trussell traced the history of the organization from 1874. Mannequins were dressed in gowns worn by early members, loaned for the occasion by loving relatives. Pictures of early officers and activities lined the handsome display boards; shadow boxes showed old, beautifully jeweled badges arranged on black velvet; early books and records lined a cloth-draped table. It was a room for browsing, learning and recapturing old memories.

Next door to the historical room was Gamma Phi Beta's own boutique, which featured items made by many alumnæ chapters for souvenir sale. The Centennial charm playing cards went like hotcakes; little Gammy Bugs in felt and yarn were the ideal gifts to take home to the children; hand-painted miniatures of the coat-of-arms, greeting cards, blazer emblems, needlepoint and crewel designs of the pink carnation and the coat-of-arms, Centennial charms and seals were just a few of the items on display. Mary Kay Dorman Kabler's (Kansas) "Nostalgia" articles had been reprinted in booklet form by the Denver alumnæ and the author graciously autographed copies.

The Delegates Arrive

On Friday morning, the delegates began to enter the lobby. They came by plane, train, and car. More than 40 women from southern California occupied an entire car on Amtrack and arrived at the hotel with mounds of luggage and high spirits.

Registration for delegates and guests continued from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. At 12 noon one large bus took a group of non-delegates to nearby Lawrence, Kansas, for a visit at the Sigma chapter house at the University of Kansas. The tour was arranged and directed by the Sigma Corporation Board and Marynell Dyatt Reece (Sigma) was official hostess at the event. Members from all over the countries enjoyed seeing a midwestern sorority house and college campus, where tea and light refreshments were served to the guests.

During the afternoon delegates and guests met in workshops to learn more about the inner-workings of the Sorority. Virginia Hustad presided at the workshop for alumnæ where Sheila Gallagher Sullivan (Penn State) talked about our TranSISter Service and Lynn Thompson (Memphis State), retiring collegiate consultant, spoke on "Let's Take a Trip With A Field Secretary."

B. Bo Burkett led the workshop for collegians where she explained the various aspects of the Convention program and provided a list of resource people available. Mary Jane Hipp Misthos (Colorado College), executive vice president of the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, talked briefly about the Foundation and scholarships and financial aids available to collegiate members. Eleanor J. Sieg (Iowa), Executive Secretary-Treasurer, told about the Central Office and explained the importance of officer reports.

Mary Melton Nicely (Vanderbilt), Director of Finance held a workshop for all members to explain the financial structure of the Sorority. The two-hour session was filled with questions and answers.

The Calico Welcome Banquet

"Old Times, Old Friends" was the theme of opening banquet and it was truly a time of reminiscence as members gathered in small groups of 10 at round tables colorfully decorated with calico floral arrangements.

Joan McCoy welcomed the 800 assembled guests and Betty Hailey Crooker (Kansas), president of the Greater Kansas City alumnæ chapter introduced Audrey Shafer.

Barbara Burns Hiscock (Washington), Centennial chairman, reported on the workings of her committee during the last two years. She said, "Our assignment was to pull together all aspects of Centennial: a great Centennial Convention, which we are beginning tonight under Joan McCoy's direction; a memorial historical display planned and executed by Mary Trussell; a film to point up our history and our future, produced and directed by Joyce Overhoff; a kick-off for Centennial at Syracuse, New York, on Founders Day 1973 carried out by Barbara Conklin (Syracuse); and, of course, we needed to plan a fund raising campaign that would benefit our Foundation scholarships and camping program as well as the Sorority Gift Fund. This assignment was the largest joining of talents of our entire program. Countless state and chapter gift chairmen, appointed by Virginia Forsythe Vint (Missouri) assisted us. Our Central Office kept excellent financial records under Eleanor Sieg's direction.

"Two years ago, I felt that a realistic financial goal in just two short years would be around $50,000. There were several reasons for my thinking that $50,000 would be a realistic goal. First, two years is a very short time in which word can be sent to our membership of needs, and, more importantly, although we were an old organization in 1972, our chapter roll, until 1939, was very small in comparison with the numbers on the rolls of other sororities.

"With these two factors in mind, I am more than gratified at our astonishing and outstanding success in giving. In the two year period from April 1972 through April 1974, we have received $83,571.69. Since our April cut-off date, many more sizable contributions have been received. What a remarkable achievement this is and how proud I am to be able to give these figures which demonstrate to me that our loyalty and devotion to Gamma Phi Beta is based on friendships that have been enduring. It also indicates that our members have great faith in our future and continued growth in the next 100 years."

Following Mrs. Hiscock's talk, Frances Atwater Lindloff (Oklahoma), Centennial song chairman introduced the winners of the song contests: Beta Upsilon chapter and individual awards to Elsie Frisbee Norman, Tress M. Journey, Alison Shafer Bond and Rosamonde Zinzer Parker.

To conclude the festive evening, Beta Upsilon of Kansas State University sang their original song, written for Centennial, "A Bond of Love."

The Workshops Continue

Following the banquet, alumnæ, collegians, house corporation officers and alumnæ advisers met in separate sessions to learn more about their jobs.

At the collegiate workshop, Marjorie Speidel Lundin (Washington), National Panhellenic Conference Delegate, talked on "How To for College Panhellenics" and Bette Grimm Murray (Denver) discussed our chapter development programs. The alumnæ were divided into two groups: one for alumnæ chapters sponsoring a Greek-letter chapter and another for those chapters who do not sponsor a collegiate chapter. The first group was headed by Virginia Hustad and heard reports from national officers on various facets of the sponsoring alumnæ chapter's goals. Jeanne Murphy Cribbins (San Jose State) spoke on the alumnæ advisory committee; Bette Murray on chapter development; Helen Berg Towne (Idaho) on alumnæ-collegiate relations; Elise Berthon (Birmingham Southern) on recommendations, Mary Jane Misthos on the Foundation and camping programs and Audrey Shafer on City Panhellenics.

The non-sponsoring chapters' meeting was headed by Elizabeth (Kiki) Sloan Phillips (Washington-St. Louis), incoming Alumnæ Vice President. Other officers addressing the group were: Bette Murray on chapter development, Elise Berthon on recommendations, Mary Jane Misthos on the Foundation and Janice Lee Huston Romerman (Oklahoma) on programs and ideas.

At the workshop for house corporation officers, Jane Lambert Bellinger (Minnesota), area financial adviser, spoke on how to set up a corporation board to function most efficiently and Gloria Swanson Nelson (Oklahoma), incoming Director of Finance, spoke on contracts. Patricia Strickler Jennings (Washington), area financial adviser, discussed house directors.

Grand President Audrey Shafer pins the diamond badge of office on the newly elected President. Both ladies are wearing pink carnation leis, gifts from the Hawaii alumnæ chapter.

After the Sunday luncheon, helium-filled balloons imprinted with "Gamma Phi Beta Centennial," were released from the balcony of the hotel.

Chapter alumnæ advisers met with Karen Wander Kline (Iowa State), incoming Collegiate Vice President, to talk over their goals and procedures.

Then far into the night collegians met with the field secretaries to talk over their common interests and to exchange ideas. Alumnæ met in buzz groups to delve into the problems of fund raising, public relations and communication, participation and motivation and long question and answer periods.

The Business Sessions Begin

It was a late night on Friday, but all the delegates were at breakfast by 7 a.m. and ready for the parliamentary procedure class that began at 7:30, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Fullerton.

At 8:30, hundreds of Gamma Phi Betas, attired in white or pastel dresses, entered the Century room to watch Audrey Shafer call the fity-sixth Convention to order. After the opening exercises, Sally Gray Cass (lowa) conducted the memorial service, dedicated to the memory of those Gamma Phi Betas who are no longer living. The choir was under the direction of Frances Lindloff.

At the roll call of chapters by Eleanor Sieg, 98 alumnæ chapters and 90 collegiate chapters were present. It was the largest number of alumnæ chapters represented at any Gamma Phi Beta Convention. After the credentials report, the approval of Convention rules and program and the appointment of Convention committees, Mrs. Shafer introduced the international officers of the Sorority. The Message of the Grand President is excerpted on the inside front cover of this issue.

International Officers Report

In her report to the Convention Assembled, Mary Jane Misthos, executive vice president of the Foundation, announced that $375,000 had been raised in the 15 years that the Foundation had been in existence. Of that, $139,000 is on hand, including $90,800 in permanent scholarship funds, $11,765 in revolving student loan funds and $28,900 in the camp fund. The camping program has received $150,000 of the $236,000 that has been spent since the Foundation was established. Another $51,900 went to the financial aid program.

Mrs. Misthos explained that, besides our two Gamma Phi Beta camps, the Sorority endorses and contributes to other camping organizations: Campfire Girls, Easter Seals, Girl Scouts and Girl Clubs. She said, "We need more local philanthropy tie-ins to camping. We urge you to become more familiar with the camps in Denver and Vancouver. Local chapters could sponsor a counselor or a girl for a week at a Gamma Phi Beta camp. Or, local alumnæ could sponsor needy youngsters for a camp in their cities or donate time or articles to local camps.

"Since camping is our international philanthropy, we are asking every chapter to support some camp. We need a more united philanthropic effort during our second century," she said.

Following Mrs. Misthos' report, Beverly Cummings Adams (Colorado State University), camp supervisor, presented slides showing our camp activities in Colorado and Vancouver.

Elna Magnusson Dimock (Idaho), Director of Expansion, told of our current efforts to establish new chapters of Gamma Phi Beta on campuses across the country. She presented silver baby cups to the three new chapters who have joined our roles in the last biennium: Delta Epsilon at Texas Wesleyan College, Delta Zeta at Southwestern College at Weatherford, Oklahoma, and Delta Eta at the University of California at Irvine.

We Share With Panhellenic

Representatives from all of the 26 members of the National Panhellenic Conference attended a luncheon in the Centennial rooms on Saturday noon. Marjorie Lundin, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate presided at the affair which was hostessed by the Kansas City, Kansas alumnæ chapter under the direction of Gloria Nelson Castor (Kansas). Table decorations were Williamsburg arrangements, each centerpiece containing the official flower of each National Panhellenic Conference sorority. Mrs. Lundin presented the Panhellenic Award to Delta Gamma chapter at the University of Nebraska, Omaha.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, one of the nation's outstanding guest lectures, gave an informal talk about the value of leadership, the importance of meetings and the rewards of education and experience. He stressed his thoughts on law and order and the American way of life and urged his listeners to be vocal in expressing their beliefs in the great advantages of democracy in America. Dr. McFarland appeared through the courtesy of General Motors.

General Meeting Reconvenes

Grand President Audrey Shafer opened the second general meeting by reporting congratulatory messages from President Richard Nixon, Governor Christopher Bond and Senator Thomas Eagleton.

First business of the session was an in-depth financial report by Mary Melton Nicely, Director of Finance, illustrated by slides. In her analysis of the need for increased revenues, Mrs. Nicely pointed out that while dues have not been raised since 1966, the dollar value has steadily declined. She emphasized that, while the financial position of Gamma Phi Beta is strong, there must be either cuts in services or increases in revenue in order to maintain that status.

Grim financial data was interrupted from time to time with slides of Mrs. Nicely's infant son, John Christopher, reacting to the figures, and there was even a picture of Betty Luker Haverfield (Missouri), editor of THE CRESCENT, with her granddaughter, Becky Beaupre, to add a lighter touch.

The credentials report followed: 98 alumnæ and 90 collegiate chapters were qualified to vote; 100 votes required for a simple majority and 133 votes for a two-thirds majority.

Ernestine Dobler McDonald (Northwestern), bylaws chairman, read the changes proposed by her committee two months prior to Convention.

There was a discussion of a new alumnæ group category, Crescent Circles, to be comprised of small numbers of alumnæ living in areas unable to support a traditional alumnæ chapter. These circles would gather at least once a year in support of Gamma Phi Beta. In answer to a question from the floor, Virginia Hustad said a Crescent Circle might support a Greek-letter chapter, but the strength of a chartered alumnæ chapter is to be preferred. Crescent Circles would have no vote at Convention.

An article requiring twelve members for an alumnæ group received objections from the floor; the article was turned down by vote and sent to the resolutions committee for further study.

Collegians debated an amendment raising the initiation fee to $40 plus $11, the cost of the least expensive Gamma Phi Beta badge. The badge fee may also be applied to the cost of a badge of one's own choosing within six months after initiation. Objections centered on the accumulated costs of pledging and membership, and the possibility of being given badges of relatives or friends. Arguments supporting the proposal were directed at the new initiates who never purchase the badge, and the need for member identification during rush and other Sorority functions.

Happy Birthday to Us

Lawrence alumnæ chapter, under the leadership of Nancy Callahan Zimmerman (Kansas) and Sigma chapter, under Cyndi Woody and Debbie Kruenegal, were hostesses at the Birthday dinner, titled "School Daze" Members dressed as they did during their college years and the gowns ran the gamut of style from 1910 through 1974. Huge paper mache apples, made by the Lawrence alumnæ, centered each table; the place cards were miniature framed slates with chalk; red napkins, tied in gay plaid, held a ruler and pencil, appropriately engraved with Gamma Phi Beta.

Audrey Shafer acted as toastmistress and introduced all of the past Grand Presidents who were in attendance: Lois McBride Dehn (Washington), Evelyn Gooding Dippell (Illinois); Elizabeth Fee Arnold (Colorado State University), Beatrice Hill Wittenberg (Stanford), Orra Spencer Reid (Michigan), Ardis McBroom Marek (Northwestern) and Barbara Burns Hiscock (Washington). Each past president told the highlights of her term in office.

The showing of the Centennial film brought rounds of applause from the audience. The 12-minute sound-on-film depicts the history of Gamma Phi Beta and the world from 1874 to 1974 and was produced and directed by Joyce Brooke Overhoff (Michigan State), who works with Summus Films in San Francisco. The film will be available for rental by chapters after September 1, from Central Office in Kenilworth, Illinois.

After the viewing of the Centennial film, Mary Kay Dorman Kabler (Kansas) led the march of the Confirmed Conventioneers, accompanied at the piano by Debbie Knight (Oklahoma City University) Convention pianist. All members who had attended more than five international Conventions were eligible to participate in the march.

On the high note of joviality, the members left the banquet hall and dashed to the Century room where Alpha Delta chapter presented the exemplification of the ritual. The ceremony was directed by Sally Cass assisted by Helen Fling (Missouri) and the choir director and her assistant were Frances Lindloff and Ann Johnson Alexander (Missouri).

And, far into the night again, collegians and alumnæ met in informal "swap shops" and exchanged information and ideas for better chapter programming.

Let's Train Leaders

After a hurriedly ordered breakfast, alumnæ and collegians met in the Centennial room for a day long session on "Leadership Training" under the direction of Robert T. (Sonny) Davis, president of National Leadership Methods of Austin, Texas. Many who meant to drop in to see what the sessions were all about, were captivated with this new approach to leadership—and remained all day.

At noon the sessions broke to attend a luncheon, titled "Flying High" and hostessed by Karen Coulter Rawlings (Missouri) and the Columbia alumnæ and Pat Garvey and the Alpha Delta chapter. The few Columbia alumnæ and one energetic and empathic husband, David Rawlings, spent the morning filling helium balloons tying them securely, attaching strings and filling colorful small shopping bags for the table centerpieces. The balloons, in all colors, were imprinted with "Gamma Phi Beta Centennial." After the luncheon, all of the balloons (about 1,000) were sent aloft from the balcony of the hotel, where they soared over, and drifted down upon Kansas City.

We Spotlight Success

At 7:30 Sunday evening about 800 members attended the Honors Banquet, titled "Spotlighting Success," planned and executed by the St. Louis alumnæ chapter headed by Dorothy Volmer Schnebelen (Missouri) and Phi and Gamma Tau collegiate chapters. The round tables were centered with circles of crushed black fabric on which were placed crystal votive candles in varying heghts. The head table was flanked by huge wrought iron candelabra and enormous portraits of the Four Founders formed a background for the podium. Patricia Schell London (Missouri), Province X collegiate director, was toastmistress for the event.

Virginia Hustad presented awards to the following alumnæ chapters for outstanding service to the Sorority: Alumnæ chapters sponsoring Greek-letter chapters—Balboa Harbor, California and Lawrence, Kansas; Non-sponsoring chapters: Fairfield County, New Jersey and Philadelphia North Suburban.

Betty Haverfield presented CRESCENT awards to Sigma (Kansas) and Alpha Theta (Vanderbilt) collegiate chapters; Houston and Syracuse, New York, alumnæ chapters. Special Centennial CRESCENT awards went to Judy Hubbard White (Kansas State), for her outstanding coverage of the Convention plans and to Mary Kay Kabler for her series of "Nostalgia" articles. Framed covers of the March issue were presented to the cover girls, Laura Frances Cottingham (Missouri), Pattye Wadley Boand (Kansas) and Suzanne Rorvik Caldarello (Missouri).

B. Bo Burkett presented McCormick Medallions to Gamma Alpha, Beta Upsilon and Beta Omicron and Haven awards to Epsilon, Alpha Xi, Beta Psi, Beta Omicron and Omicron chapters.

The Outstanding Canadian chapter award went to Alpha

Alpha and the Collegiate-Alumnæ relations awards were presented to Alpha Xi and Dallas; Beta Upsilon and Manhattan; Beta Sigma and Pullman and Gamma Kappa and Kearney.

Mary Nicely presented the Efficiency awards to Beta Omicron and Beta Eta chapters.

Public Relations awards for the best scrapbooks (alumnæ) were presented to Kansas City and Houston; (collegiate) to Gamma Alpha. An award for publishing the best alumnæ newsletter was given to Kansas City.

Janet Heaton, international philanthropy chairman, presented $50 checks (a personal gift from Mrs. Heaton and her husband John) to the following chapters in recognition of their outstanding philanthropy programs: Gamma Alpha; Springfield, Missouri; Memphis, Tennessee; Tucson, Arizona; Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Dallas, Texas; Tulsa, Oklahoma; Houston, Texas and Kansas City, Missouri.

Audrey Shafer presented the Hall of Fame Award to Kansas City alumnæ chapter.

Dorothy Stark Kenney, international magazine chairman, presented 24 awards to: (1971-72) Kansas City, St. Louis, Lubbock, La Jolla, Everett and New York City alumnæ chapters and Psi, Pi, Gamma Xi, Alpha Omicron, Gamma Kappa and Gamma Xi collegiate chapters; (1972-73) Kansas City, Dallas, Hawaii, Phoenix, Muskogee and Champaign-Urbana alumnæ chapters and Pi, Beta Psi, Beta Omicron, Alpha Zeta, and Beta Theta collegiate chapters. Following the banquet, all members attended a reception honoring the past Grand Presidents in the Century Room.

Again, the collegians and the alumnæ gathered in informal small groups for an idea exchange and further chapter planning.

The Third General Meeting

After breakfast and parliamentary procedure classes, the third general meeting was called to order by the Grand President. Virginia Blackwell Docking (Kansas) gave the devotional. Mrs. Docking is the wife of the former governor of Kansas and the mother of the present governor.

Edith Wells Chapman (Missouri), chairman, gave the report of the nominating committee and Cherie McElhinney Olsen (lowa) gave the report of the resolutions committee.

The business of the convention then turned to further consideration of the proposed amendments to the bylaws and rules and procedures.

It was agreed that field secretaries should henceforth be known as "collegiate consultants," a term more descriptive of their services. The Convention assembled voted to increase collegiate annual dues to $10 (an increase of $5.00 per year) and to increase alumnæ taxes to $7.50 for a regular membership and $10 for a supporting membership (an increase of $2.50 or $5.00 per year).

The Convention approved the recommendation of Grand Council that Carnation Awards be made to members whose outstanding achievements in fields outside the Sorority have brought them honor or great distinction.

Daddy's Little Girls

Tables centered with blooming pink geranium plants, their pots swathed in pink and white checked gingham, pink and white checked gingham napkins and cookie-dough little girl hanging ornaments at each place set the scene for a lovely, very feminine luncheon honoring Gamma Phi Beta's many mother-daughter teams in attendance. The affair was hostessed by the Wichita alumnæ chapter with Jacquie Westbrook Cook (Wichita State) and Beta Chi chapter. Susie McKay (Wichita State) was a delightful and witty toastmistress. Grand Presidents who were present with their daughters included Lois McBride Dehn and granddaughter Diana Hillman Marshall; Evelyn Gooding Dippell and daughter Martha Lyn Dippell; Elizabeth Fee Arnold and daughter Kathy Arnold Ervin; Orra Spencer Reid and daughters Jackie Allee and Pat McCrae; Audrey Weldon Shafer and daughters Pamela Burke and Allison Bond; and Betty Luker Haverfield and daughter Judy Haverfield Beaupre.

The Final Business Meeting

Margaret Lamping Maguire (Washington), international chairman of the awards committee, reported on the new Carnation Award which honors those members who have distinguished themselves in their professions. These awards were presented to: Alice Sims Abell (Arizona), Marian Webb Armer (Arizona), Carol Fisk Bodine (Oklahoma City), Georgianna Metzinger Burt (North Dakota State), Mary Orr Denham (Syracuse), Cloris Leachman Englun (Northwestern), Margaret J. Handy (Goucher), Helen Pickering Thompson Heath (Denver), Shirley A. Hill (Missouri), Maryan Weber Holpp (Denver), AnnDre Schlimgen House (Wisconsin), Mary Beth Peil Kinbbrich (Northwestern), Geraldine Labecki (Vermont), Eleanor Merrifield Luse (Northwestern), Ella Mae Reidy Manwarring (UCLA), Mary Frances Martin (Stanford), Marian Rippeteau O'Leary (Randolph Macon), Marion Kaeser Piper (Illinois), Johanna Cooke Plaut (Minnesota) Charlotte Thompson Reid (Northwestern), Grace Spivy (Oklahoma State), Ralphine Ronald Staring (Idaho) Hope Summers (Northwestern) and Mary Helen Jordan Tobin (Illinois).

New members elected to the International Honor Roll of Gamma Phi Beta are: Barbara Burns Hiscock (Washington), Mary Jane Hipp Misthos (Colorado College), Virginia Forsythe Vint (Missouri) and Louise Robinson Wyatt (Denver).

International officers who will serve on the Grand Council for the next biennium are: Betty Luker Haverfield (Missouri), Grand President; Elizabeth Sloan Phillips (Washington-St. Louis), Alumnæ Vice President; Karen Wander Kline (Iowa State), Collegiate Vice President; Gloria Swanson Nelson (Oklahoma), Director of Finance; Elna Magnusson Dimock (Idaho), Director of Expansion and Marjorie Spiedel Lundin (Washington), National Panhellenic Conference Delegate.

The Pink Carnation Banquet

In the large ballroom of the hotel, more than 1,000 formally gowned Gamma Phi Betas gathered for the sentimental climax to the fifty-sixth Gamma Phi Beta Convention. Round tables were decorated in an Oriental motif with black fans, silver accents and everywhere, everywhere pink carnations. The banquet was planned and executed by the Greater Kansas City alumnæ chapter under the direction of Marilyn Stromquist Congleton (Northwestern) and Jean Embree Peete (Kansas).

Betty Luker Haverfield, retiring editor of THE CRESCENT, served as toastmistress and introduced the honored guest of the evening, Alida Moss Skinner (Illinois), daughter of one of the Founders, Frances E. Haven Moss. Mrs. Skinner spoke briefly about the Founders and the early days of Gamma Phi Beta.

Joan Lewis McCoy, Convention chairman, introduced her committee members and presented them with gifts of appreciation.

Mrs. Haverfield introduced the honored guests of the evening, including Lois Cobb Smith (Syracuse), daughter of Charles Cobb, one of the designers of the Gamma Phi Beta badge, and Hermine Haller Smith (Beta) who was initiated on November 10, 1910.

In keeping with the Oriental theme, Mrs. Haverfield presented a short program entitled "One Hundred Fortunes in Our Gamma Phi Beta Dynasty." The program was interspersed with vocal presentations by Judy Durrie (Oklahoma City), Martha Fly (Kansas State) and Ann Johnson Alexander (Missouri). They were accompanied at the piano by Betty Boddington Reese (Kansas).

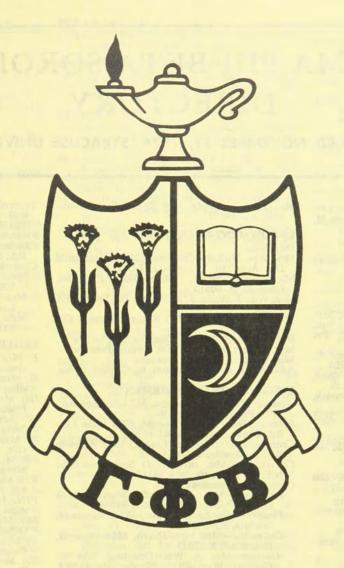

Mrs. Haverfield presented a replica of the diamond-studded badge of the Grand President to Audrey Shafer with words of appreciation for Mrs. Shafer's long and devoted service to the Sorority. Mrs. Shafer presented the farewell address of the retiring Grand President and presided at the installation of the new officers of the Grand Council.

The formal program concluded with AnnDre House, an operatic soloist who has appeared with the major opera companies of the midwest. AnnDre had written original words to the tune of "Around the World in Eighty Days." The words honored the Centennial celebration of Gamma Phi Beta and were a beautiful climax to a gala evening.

Following the banquet, the Topeka alumnæ chapter under the chairmanship of Dorothy Smith Gabel (Syracuse), held a reception honoring the new and retiring members of the Grand Council. Because of the large number of guests, the reception continued until 1:15 in the morning.

On June 18, the lobby of the Crown Center was crowded with 1,000 departing delegates, who crowded on airport buses to wend their ways homeward—filled with enthusiasm, inspiration and myriad ideas to launch their chapters into our second century.

Service is Our Specialty

The TranSISter Service

Have you used our TranSISter service yet? If you are moving to a new city, chances are that there is a Gamma Phi Beta there waiting to help you find an apartment or house or a job, locate a baby sitter, recommend doctors, dentists, lawyers. The names of TranSISters in 115 cities in the United States were listed in the September, 1972 and the March 1973 issues of THE CRESCENT. If you have misplaced those issues, write to Mrs. Richard Sullivan, 8 Hastings Circle, Rockville, Maryland 20850. A complete directory of TranSISter Services will appear in the May issue each year.

House Exchange Plan

Operating as one facet of our TranSISter Service is the newly instituted House Exchange program. It works very simply, like this:

- 1. Tulsa Gamma Phi informs her TranSISter of her interest in a visit to Chicago in July.
- TranSISter writes to Mrs. Richard Sullivan (address above) giving her the dates and the size of accommodations needed.
- Mrs. Sullivan contacts the Chicago TranSISter relaying the information.
- Chicago TranSISter canvasses her group or area for an interested party. Within a reasonable length of time, Chicago TranSISter informs Mrs. Sullivan of her results.
- Mrs. Sullivan relays the data back to Tulsa TranSISter.
- 6. Interested parties work out all details from here. It is possible in the future for TranSISters to contact each other directly, thus eliminating steps 3 and 5. At the present, we feel it desirable for Mrs. Sullivan to work more closely with the program in its initial stages.

B and B Program

Our newest project is titled "B and B," meaning "Bed and Breakfast" and is designed especially for our older members, past 65. Fifteen of our TranSISter services are opening their homes for traveling Gamma Phis seeking a nice, homey, free-of-charge overnight accommodation.

If you would like to use this service, get in touch with the TranSISter in the city you plan to visit and she will make the arrangements. Cities now offering this service are: Tucson, Arizona; Peninsula, California; Denver, Colorado; Wilmington, Delaware; District of Columbia area; Boise, Idaho; Normal, Illinois; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Kansas City, Missouri; Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota; Omaha, Nebraska; Bergen County, New Jersey; Albuquerque, New Mexico; Akron, Cleveland West and Toledo, Ohio; Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and Ladysmith, Wisconsin.

Publications

Gamma Phi Beta publishes a number of books that have proved interesting and informative to our Greek-letter chapters and should have similar appeal to alumnæ groups and individuals. All of these may be ordered from Gamma Phi Beta Central Office, Box 186, Kenilworth, IL 60043.

THE HISTORY OF GAMMA PHI BETA is an accurate record of the important events in the growth of Gamma Phi Beta since its beginning in 1874. Handsomely illustrated, this 64-page book is bound in good quality paper stock. It can be yours for just 65¢.

A LIFETIME EXPERIENCE BEGINS HERE is new, completely revised edition of Gamma Phi Beta's pledge manual, used as a guide for our chapters in developing the highest type of program. Attractively bound in heavy pink antiqued cover stock, this 64-page booklet makes interesting and revealing reading for Gamma Phi Betas of all ages. One chapter discusses the role of alumnæ in the continuing growth of the organization. The cost is $1.10.

THE GAMMA PHI BETA SONG BOOK is a hard back, attractive, 170-page book containing most of the songs that Gamma Phi Betas everywhere sing. So order one now and brush up. The special Centennial price is only $1.25.

GET That's a LOST! No-No

You are a MEMBER of Gamma Phi Beta-not a STA-TISTIC! Please don't become a "LOST MEMBER" statistic!

Included in your initiation fee was a lifetime subscription to THE CRESCENT. This is one of the most interesting and helpful investments you will ever make. THE CRES-CENT is mailed to you, four times a year, for your lifetime, PROVIDED Central Office has a current mailing address

You, individually, are the first line of defense in keeping the national mailing records accurate. Today's society is very mobile and there are frequent address changes; also the post office is now much more stringent in providing forwarding service, so it is up to you, at all times, to maintain an accurate mailing address for the national files.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, so plan ahead so that you will not become "lost." There appears in nearly every issue of The Crescent a form to send to Central Office, indicating your change of address; however, all too many people are prone to toss out their back issues when they move. Please, right now, write the Central Office address, 530 Green Bay Road, Kenilworth, Illinois, 60043, in your personal "address book." Also tear out a copy of the Change of Address form from THIS CRESCENT and file it with your important papers, so that you will have it on hand when you need to use it. If you do not have a form from THE CRESCENT, you may use Form GPO 443-015, furnished by the Post Office to notify publishers of change of address. Check your mailing label on this Crescent to be sure that it is completely accurate: name style, street address, city, state, and ZIPCODE.

During the time you are in college, your CRESCENT is mailed to your parent's address. Since there is usually a time when frequent moves are made between the time you leave college and become more or less "permanently settled", it is probably wise to leave your mailing address at your parent's during this period; however, if THEY move, be sure to send a change. If you marry and send your married name to Central Office, but prefer to leave your mailing address at your parent's, it is wise to show: Mrs. John B. Doe, c/o A. B. Smith, 111 Any Street, Any Town, Any State, 11111. In other words, include your parent's name, inasmuch as many are returned if the name is different from the regular occupant of an address.

When you file a forwarding order (Form No. 524-797) with the Post Office this is good only for a period of three months, and even if you check the block which guarantees that you will pay the forwarding postage for magazines, since our Crescent is mailed usually on a four-month span, by the time the next one comes, frequently your forwarding order has "expired"—the post office will send back to Central Office a Form #3679—a "nixie"—marking it either "forwarding order expired" or "moved—left no address," or "unknown." Central Office has no alternative but to place you in the "Lost File" until a correct current mailing address is furnished.

Each time a change is made on the national computer records, there is a charge of 10¢, and for each returned "nixie" there is a charge of 10¢ (about 300 "nixies" are received after each CRESCENT mailing!). Although the Sorority is willing to pay the cost, it does add to our evergrowing cost of operation.

Please protect your investment—keep Central Office advised at all times of your correct address—and it's a good idea also to keep your initiating chapter advised since they also try to maintain current records on all their members.

THE MOD SQUAD

Collegiate Consultants

Mary Kathryn Anstett

Starting off last month on their year of travel around the United States and Canada are Gamma Phi Beta's three new Collegiate Consultants, formerly known as field secretaries. With their wide experiences as undergraduate members of the Sorority and with the extensive training they received at Convention and in Central Office with the Collegiate Vice President, these young women are uniquely qualified to lend a helping hand.

Mary Kathryn Anstett, a 1974 graduate of North Dakota State University, served Alpha Omicron chapter as pledge trainer, Panhellenic representative for 2 years and Junior Panhellenic president. On campus she was chairman of the first Greek Workshop of the Uppermidwest and chairman of the executive board for the second workshop. She was a sub-chairman for Greek Week, winner of the Panhellenic scholarship and held offices in many student government and student activities organizations. Her honoraries include Sigma Alpha Eta and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

About her new position, Mary Kathryn says: "Working nationally with Gamma Phi has always interested me.

I realized this after attending both the National Panhellenic Conference in 1971 and the International Gamma Phi Beta Convention in 1972 where I was a discussion leader. This helped me to understand how much can be learned by meeting people from all over the country and listening to their unique ideas."

Nancy Louise Parker is a 1974 graduate of Moorhead State College, where she majored in special education and student personnel services. She served Gamma Mu chapter at Moorhead as pledge trainer and president. On campus she served on the homecoming committee, several student-faculty committees; she was the student coordinator on college recruiting and assistant coordinator of Freshman Orientation. She was named the Most Representative Greek in 1973-74, and she has appeared consistently on the Dean's List.

Nancy says: "Gamma Phi Beta has provided an unlimited amount of growth and development for me and now I want to impart some of that knowledge, insight and satisfaction to other girls and other chapters with THE CRESCENT of Gamma Phi Beta."

Graduate Counselors

Joy Ann Kendall

Janet Ellen Montgomery

Linda Marie Pearson

Kaye Elizabeth Scanlon

Nancy Louise Parker

Kaye Elizabeth Scanlon, 1974 graduate of Northern Arizona University, served Beta Omega chapter as Panhellenic delegate, rituals chairman, president and Convention delegate. After her freshman year, she served as a Colorado camp counselor. On campus she worked closely with Panhellenic and was on the Associated Women Students Board of Recommendations. Listed in Who's Who in American Student Leaders, Kay received her B.S. degree in psychology last May.

A wealth of Gamma Phi Beta knowledge, an enjoyment of sorority life and a chance for a master's degree—these factors should be mutually beneficial for three collegiate chapters and the new Graduate Counselors who will provide live-in support while continuing their educations.

Working with Beta Nu at the University of Vermont is Linda Marie Pearson of Terre Haute, Indiana, Indiana State University '73. Joy Ann Kendall (Vanderbilt '74) takes her Gamma Phi Beta exerience to Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge to help the Gamma Lambdas increase their membership. Janet Ellen Montgomery of Newburgh, New York, Syracuse '73 is at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville with the Gamma Xis.

Linda and Jan, who will be working on their Masters in Education with concentration on college student personnel, served as collegiate consultants (field secretaries) last year. Joy will be studying for her MBA.

All three women are excited to be working with a chapter on a full-scale, continuing basis. Joy wants to share her love of the sorority with the chapter and its prospective members. "The sorority is what kept me at Vandy as a sophomore. I want to help others."

After a year as Collegiate Consultants, Linda and Jan know what can be accomplished. They want to share with their chapter the fundamentals of chapter life that are essential for a prospering sisterhood.

Joy served her chapter at Vanderbilt as vice president, social chairman, house manager and philanthropy chairman. As house manager, she started chapter dinner before weekly meeting. When Joy was social chairman, she provided mixers and snacks so all the Alpha Thetas and their friends could enjoy Friday evening Happy Hours. She feels all the cooking and preparation were worthwhile because the chapter grew closer each week.

Her other activities included serving as recording secretary of Greek Council, math tutor and Vuceptor, freshman counselor during orientation. Joy was a math major.

Before her year as Collegiate Consultant, Linda served her chapter Beta Pi as pledge director and recording secretary. She was named to Who's Who Among Greek Fraternities and Sororities.

It's understandable that Linda wanted to continue working for Gamma Phi Beta another year. She lists the sorority as her favorite hobby. "With the training from the national headquarters, I feel I can help build Gamma Phi Beta chapters that are as strong within the chapter house as they are on the outside," said Linda. She is also a hat collector and a sports enthusiast.

Linda received her B.S. in secondary education, majoring in speech communications with minors in journalism and English. At Indiana State, she was president of Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism society and a member of the National Forensic League.

Before moving to Knoxville, Jan worked as a counselor at the Gamma Phi Beta camp in Colorado last summer. She was happy to be returning to Colorado where she had enjoyed visiting chapters as a Collegiate Consultant and a skiing holiday. Jan is looking forward to skiing in the Knoxville area and her other favorite sport, horseback riding.

Although Knoxville is quite different from New York, Jan has been looking forward to working with the Gamma Xis since she visited them for a week in April. "I am hopeful that we can develop more alumnæ support. There are so many things alums can do to help and it would certainly be a boost to the chapter. The Gamma Xi suite is very pretty and I am sure we will be using it more and more," she said.

In college, Jan was a member of the Color Guard of the Syracuse Marching Band and a flutist in the Symphonic Band. She was also a member of the University Academic Tutorial Program and active in volunteer work with children. Her major was early childhood education/psychology. Besides her busy schedule, she remained on the Dean's List her last two years at Syracuse.

Despite her well-rounded interests, Jan's leadership greatly benefitted Alpha chapter. She served as president, membership chairman, social chairman and pledge class president.

These three young women are joining another Graduate Counselor who is beginning a second year with Beta Delta chapter at Michigan State University. Debby Block is a 1973 graduate of Wisconsin State University-Platteville where she majored in French.

A New Face for Beta Gamma

The Gamma Beta cottage at Bowling Green State University.

Bowling Green (Ohio) State University's Greek organizations, including Beta Gamma chapter of Gamma Phi Beta, have "put on new faces" this year, as part of a nearly two million dollar renovation program.

The twenty oldest units—built between 1941 and 1951—have been totally renovated from the inside out, including heating, writing, and plumbing, and those units, plus eight newer small group units built in 1960, have been completely redecorated, including new carpeting, drapes, furniture, kitchen appliances, bathroom fixtures and paint.

Nineteen groups are housed in the older units, along with the University's French House. Those units include five sorority cottages; six smaller units which house five sororities and the French House; two large fraternity dorms and seven smaller fraternity units. Gamma Phi is housed in a sorority cottage.

The units had received no major renovation since their construction during the post-war period. "They were built as economically as possible," according to David Neuman, assistant to the University architect.

Major problems included poor heating systems, poor lighting, difficulties with water pressure, plus general rundown appearance after years of use. More recreation-study space was needed, laundry facilities were lacking and housemother's facilities were cramped. Furniture in student rooms (provided by the University) was in poor condiiton.

As part of its commitment to the Greek system, University officials began planning ways to solve these problems. A study was launched to determine what was needed and how it could be done, and meetings were held with members of each Greek organization. It was found that it would cost twice as much to replace the units as it would renovate them, and planners began to move in that direction.

Residents of each unit were closely involved as plans were made, and chapter members turned in lists of what specifically needed to be done in their house. Each house was treated as an individual unit, rather than making one list of improvements for all houses.

Work on the project was completed over the summer of 1973, but some additional work was done after fall quarter began, due to delays in obtaining needed materials.

Among the improvements: all new shag carpeting throughout the house, including each student's room; new drapes; new heating, plumbing and electrical systems; new roofs in some cases; new kitchen appliances (stoves, refrigerators, freezers and dishwashers); fully remodeled bathrooms; remodeling of large, dormitory-type student rooms which housed 4-6 students into smaller, more private rooms; new windows, doors, plaster and paint.

The University purchased new, moveable furniture for student rooms, so that residents of each room can design the furniture arrangement themselves. The University also provided new dining room furniture and, in cases where needed, new furniture for housemothers' quarters, which were greatly expanded.

Each individual organization and, in most cases, its alumnæ group, renovated or purchased new furniture for formal living rooms and for study-recreation rooms, bringing the entire house up to top standards.

Jan Dickson, Panhellenic Council president and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, said the improvements are "a big uplift for the system, a real morale boost." Miss Dickson noted that the renovation program was part of a University-wide program which had included renovation of residence halls on campus two years ago.

"We're now on the same levels as the dorms in terms of nice living quarters" she said, praising University officials and trustees for their efforts.

Bowling Green has an historic commitment to its small units, which were built during the presidency of Frank J. Prout. President Prout, who was a member of a fraternity himself, built the units with the expectations of attracting national fraternities and sororities to the campus.

Today all units are filled with Greek organizations, except for the French House. Five fraternities maintain their own off-campus housing, and one fraternity and one sorority are located in University-owned off-campus houses.

Since all campus space is filled, and, in addition to the groups off-campus, there are several national organizations interested in colonizing at Bowling Green, a committee is looking into the possibility of allocating space being used for other purposes at the present time, for Greek housing purposes.

The beautiful newly-decorated living room.

The benefits of living in the units are numerous. Housing contracts, maintenance, renovation, etc., are handled by the University, rather than being the responsibility of each group. The variety in student room size allows for individuality and the house serves as a focal point for members who are scattered in dormitories and apartments.

The on-campus location is rated as a plus by members in terms of getting to classes and other activities.

Fraternity and sorority advisers Tim Smith and Linda Ogden noted that the small group units add a "homey" look to the campus, as well as providing an alternative lifestyle to large residence halls or off-campus apartments.

Historically, fraternities and sororities are a fairly new thing at BGSU, in comparison to schools which have had Greeks for 70-100 years.

The first local fraternities began in BG in 1916, just one year after the University's founding, with local sororities appearing in 1923. But it wasn't until 1942 that a group became affiliated with a national organization. Gamma Phi Beta was founded at Bowling Green in 1943.

The system is "strong and stable" according to Mr. Smith and Ms. Ogden. The number of women going through rush each year is stable, with the percentage of women pledging (as compared to the number going through rush) growing each year. Last spring 50 per cent of all women going through rush pledged.

The fraternities are experiencing a steady upswing, too. "We pledged 200 more men last year than we did the year before, and that's 350 more than three years ago," said Mr. Smith.

The University's support of the system has helped its growth, and that support is evidenced by the existence of the positions held by Mr. Smith and Ms. Ogden. The fact that the University has staff members to assist and coordinate Greek affairs is a direct indication of the value which the school finds in the Greek system.

The system today is 2,000 members strong, with 12 sororities, 22 fraternities, and three sororities in the process of establishing chapters at Bowling Green.

Chapter sizes range from 10, for the youngest and newest groups who have chosen to maintain small chapters for the present time, to 95 for the largest groups.

Hope Chamberlin (Oregon '38) ponders a question put to her at a meeting with Women in Communications at Oregon State University shortly before her death.

Hope Chamberlin, 1918-1974

"It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness."

This motto is inscribed on the bronze medallion awarded by The Christophers to Hope Chamberlin (Chi, Oregon State University, '38) for her book, "A Minority of Members: Women in the U.S. Congress."

The awards recognize individuals "who have used their talents constructively, in the hope that they—and others—will continue to produce high quality works that promote sound values."

Hope was to have been formally presented the 1974 Christopher award at a ceremony February 28 in New York City. During a trip to the West Coast earlier in the month, however, she became very ill, and her career was abruptly terminated by cancer in a Washington, D.C., hospital March 11.

Hope attended Northwestern University, Evanston, on the first scholarship ever granted a woman by the Medill School of Journalism.

With her master's degree in hand, the energetic young alumna returned to Oregon to work as reporter and photographer on the Oregonian for nearly two years. A succession of impressive jobs followed.

First she was woman's editor of Western Newspaper Union, the country's largest syndicate serving small-town weeklies. She was on the public relations staff at Swift & Co., later went with an advertising agency as assistant public relations director. She was a public relations director for the USO, and was with the Army of Occupation in Europe, heading a newspaper published in Bavaria. She was career council editor on Glamour, worked in college public relations, and with NBC on Continental Classroom.

Since 1961, Hope had been in Washington, D.C., primarily doing freelance writing. Her book on women in Congress was her first—and has been nominated by its publisher, Praeger, for the Pulitzer prize.

She was gathering data for a new book on her visits to Portland and Corvallis in mid-February—a trip highlighted by gettogethers in her honor with Chi sisters, other classmates and old friends.

As a tribute to its member, Women in Communications (formerly Theta Sigma Phi) at OSU has established the Hope Chamberlin award, to be awarded annually to the outstanding woman student journalist at the University.

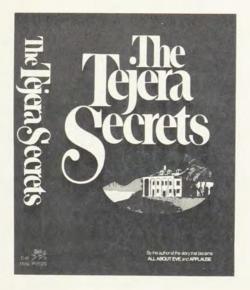

Mary Tom McCurley

Mary Tom McCurley (Zeta '10) passed away unexpectedly last May in Baltimore, Maryland. For many years a teacher at her alma mater, Goucher College, Mary Tom has given almost continuous service to Gamma Phi Beta since 1915. She served on the advisory board from 1915 to 1924; as secretary-treasurer of the Grand Council from 1924 through 1927, as International Vice President and Alumna Secretary from 1927 to 1929. In 1958 she was elected Director of Expansion, a position she held for two terms, and she served as scholarship chairman on the Foundation from 1966 to 1973. She was named to the International Service Roll in 1952 and to the Honor Roll in 1964. She compiled and edited "This Is the GPB Story."

Mary Tom was known widely throughout Gamma Phi Beta. Her wise counsel, delightful sense of humor and great capacity for friendship will be sorely missed.

Mary Orr

Books by

Gamma Phi Betas

THE TEJERA SECRETS (The Dial Press, $7.95) by Mary Orr (Syracuse) takes place on a sinister island in the Lesser Antilles chain. The heroine is a modern young girl of 25, Isobel Tejera, the daughter of a wealthy planter of Spanish origin.

Summoned by her dying mother, Isobel returns from Australia to the island of her birth to assume her place as the heiress of the vast Tejera fortune. She is determined, after all these years, to resolve the tangled fifteen-year-old mystery surrounding her father's unexplained suicide.

Unable to learn anything from her mother, confused by the hostile relationship between her brother and her mother's companion, Isobel becomes convinced by local rumors that her father was no suicide; he must have been murdered.

She meets two men who are attracted to her and help her to unravel the shocking story. One is a charming English diplomat, the other a young American doctor who attends her mother. By the time she unravels the truth, she has found that suicide was murder and that nothing at the Casa De La Vista plantation is as it appears to be on the surface.

Mary Orr has long been an accomplished actress and author. In addition to her popular novels, A Place to Meet and Diamond in the Sky, she has written four plays together with her husband, famed writer-director Reginald Denham. Her novelette, The Wisdom of Eve, became not only the Oscar-winning movie, All About Eve, but the recently successful musical, Applause. Her short story credits and television adaptations are numerous.

Merry Ann Ottosen Leftwich

PATHOLOGY LABORATORY CAREERS FOR TISSUE TECHNICIANS

(available from the author, $6.50 cloth bound, $3.75 paperback) by Merry Ann Ottosen Leftwich (Goucher '39) was written and designed to develop interest among young people seeking professional job opportunities in the histologic field of pathology laboratory work. The book is illustrated with photographs and the text describes each stage of tissue processing work.

Mrs. Leftwich's book is the result of nearly 20 years of pathology lab work in King County Hospital in Seattle and Scripps Hospital in La Jolla.

The book may be ordered from Mrs. Leftwich at 2056 Torrey Pines Road, La Jolla, CA 92037.

Gamma Phi Betas of Distinction

One audition led to the whole world for a Gamma Phi Beta from Arizona. Chris Hernandez, a Beta Omega, was the only student from Northern Arizona State University selected for the Up With People singing company last year. What a dream come true for a college junior anxious to give of herself to promote a better world.

Up With People is a non-profit private corporation that sponsors three casts for worldwide singing tours to create goodwill and friendship with America's world neighbors.

After a month of training at Irvine, California, each day brought Chris to European concert houses and outdoor plazas in new countries for singing about love and freedom. To increase the friendship bond, the Up With People members stay in the homes of the host city.

Chris said her experiences ranged from falling in love with her tour director to staying with a fascinating Spanish family who could not speak English. Otherwise, she had few language barriers during her sixmonth tour. In February she returned to Tucson with memories, friendship and experiences that will color the rest of her life.

With her dream realized, Chris plans to return to Northern Arizona State and her Beta Omega sisters in the fall.

You Are Cordially Invited . . .

Dear Sisters,

The Alpha Tau chapter of Gamma Phi Beta is planning a special celebration for Founders Day, 1974, as it will be our centennial. We would like to invite all Alpha Tau sisters and alumnæ and Gamma Phis from any other chapters who are near the Montreal or Quebec area. We are planning this celebration for November 9, 1974, hoping that more sisters can come to Montreal on a weekend. We can provide accommodation for some. The cost will be $3.00 per person for a formal buffet din-

We would appreciate hearing from any sisters who plan to attend. If you have addresses of Alpha Tau alumnæ we may have lost track of, please let us know. This is a chance for all Gamma Phis near Quebec to get together for a 100-year anniversary celebration we will all remember!

Please address any inquiries to Miss Sandi De la Ronde, 433 Prince Albert Avenue, Montreal H3Y 2P6. Thank you. In HKE,

Judy Blood

How to Grab a Great GPA

Beta Omicron at Oklahoma City University has an unbeatable track record for outstanding scholarship. This chapter has maintained the highest overall grade point among the Greek groups since 1952, the first year Gamma Phi was on the campus.

Susan Lafond of Russell, Massachusetts, president of Beta Omicron, said the cumulative overall for the chapter is between a 3.1 and 3.3 on a 4.0 system. More than one-half of the members have earned scholarship dangles, which requires at least a 3.25 grade point, in the last two semesters.

How have the members reached such an enviable mark in scholarship? "Mainly, we only pledge girls with good grades from high school. Actually, we don't think about our scholarship that much. The tradition is long standing so new members simply accept that they too will make top marks," said Susan.

As Susan said, the process begins during rush because only girls with high school grades of 3.0 or better are pledged. The Beta Omicron scholarship standard for initiation is 2.5 which is higher than the national requirement of 2.0.

Other incentives include a $12.50 scholarship for the highest pledge grades, scholarship competition between big-little sister pairs, and a traveling scholarship ring for the member with the highest semester grades.

Pledges of Beta Omicron develop good study patterns and the Scholarship Chairman keeps track of their grades. During her pledge program, a girl is expected to study at least 20 hours a week and she is tutored in troublesome subjects.

The program works. The last pledge class had a higher overall than the membership, said Susan.

Her advice to any chapter that wants to improve its grades are to develop good study habits in the pledge program. If a girl develops a good study foundation at first, the rest usually takes care of itself.

Susan also cautioned that a girl, especially during her pledgeship, should not be so burdened with activities and sorority work that she can not devote an adequate amount of time to her studies. "Always remember that her course work is the main reason your member is at college."

A magazine gift subscription

The perfect Christmas gift!

Here's why:

IT'S PERSONAL. A magazine gift subscription says "Merry Christmas" every month of the year. It makes pleasing everyone on your gift list easy because of the wide variety of popular titles from which to choose.

IT'S ECONOMICAL. Because most people have long Christmas lists and limited funds, a gift subscription is the sensible way to stretch each dollar and gift a unique gift . . . one that is remembered and appreciated all year long.

IT'S CONVENIENT. Gift subscriptions may be selected in privacy at home, and leisurely selection helps insure a wise choice of gifts. No more last minute shopping, fighting crowds or spending more than intended. Avoid the worry of selecting sizes, or colors, or exchanges. Save time and money by selecting a gift subscription for everyone on your Christmas list.

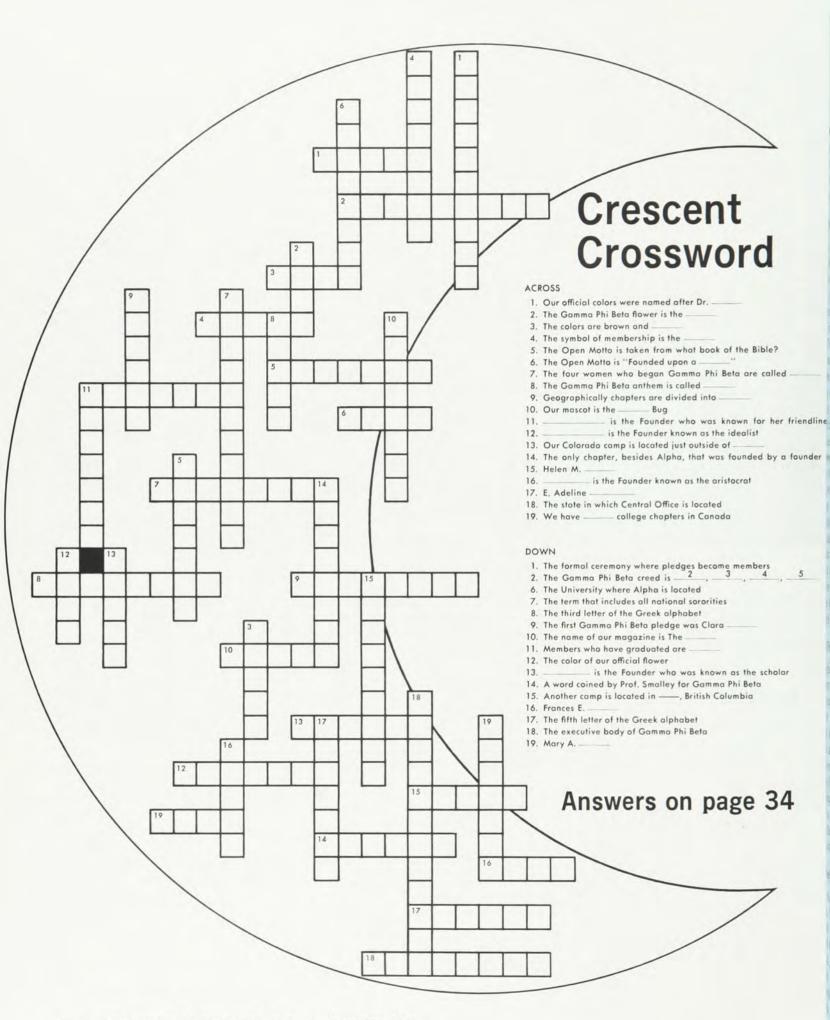

IT HELPS GAMMA PHI BETA. The profits on all magazine sales, placed through our magazine agency, go to the Gamma Phi Beta Gift Fund and to your local chapter treasury.

Christmas rates are effective from September 1 through December 31. The donor's name and address must be given on all orders. Publishers now require eight to twelve weeks to process orders. By the light of the Crescent Moon

Ten years is a long time. Ten years is a short time. Anyway you look at it, it has been a glorious ten years editing The CRESCENT. There have been rewarding things, sentimental things and hilarious things...many worth recounting.

Big Deal at O'Hare

On my way to our printing plant in Menasha, Wisconsin, I had a three-hour stopover in Chicago. At one of the airline clubs at O'Hare I tried to put through a call to our Central Office in nearby Kenilworth. New touch-tone telephones had been installed and, since I wear my fingernails very long, I simply couldn't connect on the second deck of numbers. There was a group of men in conference at a nearby table and I asked if one of them would dial the number for me. One tall, distinguished gentleman leaped to his feet and, looking very concerned, asked, "Is there something wrong with the phone?" I explained my problem and he graciously put the call through for me. When I finished my conversation, one of the men at the table stood up and said, "Lady, when you need assistance in dialing, you go right to the top. I'd like for you to meet the president of Illinois Bell." We had a good laugh together.

When I arrived at the printing plant in Wisconsin, I immediately regaled them with this funny, funny story. What was even funnier is that when I returned home two days later, I had a call from the vice president of the printing plant, in the Chicago office, who laughingly exclaimed: "I hear you really go to the top for assistance in dialing. Imagine having your call put through by the chairman of the board of AT&T!"

Instant Friendship

One night, about 11:30, the phone rang. It was a personto-person call from the far western part of the country. The voice on the other end of the line, crying softly, said, "I know you don't know me, but my husband has been recently transferred to this western city. He travels a lot and I'm at home with two small children. I'm so homesick and when I picked up The Crescent, your name was the first one I saw. Do you mind if we talk?" Well, she had been a Gamma Phi at one of our Colorado colleges and truly needed a friend. I gave her the name of the alumnæ president in her new city; the alumnæ took it from there. What's wrong with instant friendship? That's what it's all about.

Hell Week at Home

When our son was a junior in high school, his English teacher, Betty Stout Poehlman (Missouri '68), brought a copy of THE CRESCENT to class with her one day. She showed her students some of its good points and then remarked, "David, it's evident from the content that your mother really loves her job. Doesn't she?" David's laconic response was, "You oughta see her at deadline time." They agreed that it was sort of a Hell Week at home.

Shine on Crescent Moon

One of my most poignant memories occurred in 1966, shortly after our daughter, Judy Haverfield Beaupre (Missouri '69), had been initiated into Alpha Delta. The special delivery man came to the door with an envelope addressed in familiar script. The contents read: "When the arrow starts missing its target . . . And keeps going amiss and astray . . . When the key won't fit in the keyhole . . . And the Alpha Chi lyre won't play . . . When the anchor won't sink to the bottom . . . and the kite won't fly very high . . . Remember The Crescent of Gamma Phi Beta . . . Is always up there in the sky." It was signed, "Your sister, your daughter and your newly-elected Crescent Correspondent."

Well, brushing away the motherly tears of appreciation, I sat down at my hot little typewriter and answered her in kind. My message said: "When The Crescent starts missing its deadlines . . . Because the copy has gone amiss and astray . . . When our printer calls up from Wisconsin . . . And says 'You forgot Alpha Delta. Okay?' . . . When the Grand President writes from New Jersey . . . And notes that your chapter is not on the list . . . Then, like the arrow that misses its target . . . The Crescent goes into partial eclipse . . . It takes many sisters to put out our journal . . . And keep our editorial standards high . . . It's you (and each Crescent Correspondent) . . . Who keeps The Crescent up there in the sky."

And, ladies, that's still our message. Keep submitting the news of your marvelous accomplishments to our new editor, Geraldine Epp Smith. Show her all the love and consideration that you have always shown to me and she, too, will thrive in serving in the very best job in all of Gamma Phi Beta.

Thanks for the Memories

As you have probably guessed, I wouldn't trade the last ten years for anything. I've met the most beautiful people in the world, from the youngest rushee to ladies who have passed the century mark, and it has been great.

My sincere thank-yous go to Orra Spencer Reid (Michigan), Grean President 1966-68, who gave me the chance to edit The Crescent; to all the members of five Grand Councils who were always encouraging, helpful and gracious; to all the five Convention committees who never refused an assignment; to all the international officers who were quick to praise and reluctant to criticize; to all the members of the National Panhellenic Editors' Conference who took me under their wing from the very beginning; and, of course, to the bouncing boys from Banta who, since 1910, have printed The Crescent.

Thank you for joining us; thank you for listening, read THE CRESCENT—and do keep in touch.

Pam Bernhagen Miss Minnesota

She Debbie Knight Miss Oklahoma Comes... Miss America

Stay close by your television sets next September when the Miss America pageant fills the screen. The new Miss America may well be a Gamma Phi Beta. As THE CRESCENT goes to press. we have at least two candidates for the title.

Debbie Knight, a member of Beta Omicron chapter at Oklahoma City University, was graduated in May with a bachelor of music degree. While in college she was president of the Gamma Phi Beta chapter for two years, won several campus queenships, and was elected to Sigma Alpha lota (music) and Cardinal Key (academic honorary). Her talent as a classical pianist. her beauty, poise and charm enchanted the judges and she was named Miss Oklahoma in the state pageant last spring. Conventioneers will remember her as the beautiful blonde who was the official Convention accompaniest.

While Convention was in session word came from Minneapolis that a member of Kappa chapter had just been named Miss Minnesota. Pam Bernhagen, a member of Kappa chapter at the University of Minnesota, is majoring in recreation for special groups. A part-time model while in school, Pam has studied dancing for eight years, taught for two and has entered AAU gymnastic competitions for six years.
