What memories, mental pictures, emotions do the words "Gamma Phi Beta" mean to you? Whether you are an alumna or a collegian, surely the song "Remember" evokes an emotion of pleasure, pride, reflection, perhaps even a tear of sentiment, as does your mental picture of working on homecoming floats, rush parties, chapter meetings, and even trimming the chapter Christmas tree.

All of these emotions, good feelings, and pride in Gamma Phi Beta are portrayed in the new slide presentation used for expansion. It will help us "sell" Gamma Phi Beta and make our expansion presentation stand out from all the others. It is said a picture is worth a thousand words. Well, this new visual presentation is worth a thousand pledges!

Our new brochure is also an outstanding addition to our expansion presentation. Because the brochure will often be sent before we are invited to give a presentation, it is vitally important that Gamma Phi Beta information be conveyed in such a way that a college Panhellenic or local sorority will ask us to visit its campus.

These two new additions to our expansion program have been made possible through your donation to the OPPORTUNITY FUND. Through all of your past donations and your future donations, programs such as these can be made available to Gamma Phi Beta.

All of the above means little if you aren't sure just what a presentation is and how we contact colleges and universities. Some of our contacts come from Gamma Phi Betas interested in expansion at campuses near them. Others come from letters of interest received from colleges and universities wishing to expand their Greek systems or from local sororities wishing national affiliation. We may also file letters of interest with selected colleges and universities in the event an opening should occur in the future. After careful consideration of the many requests for information and invitations to make presentations, we select only those campuses with the greatest potential for successful Gamma Phi Beta chapters.

Now, what is a presentation? It is basically our opportunity to present information about Gamma Phi Beta to a local sorority or to a Panhellenic committee. It is not a commitment on anyone's part to colonize on a particular campus. We usually have only one or two hours to present Gamma Phi Beta, meet the young women who may become pledges and make an impression that will be a positive and lasting one.

With our new slide presentation we can call upon the memory of yesterday through our history and traditions; the relevancy of today through our scholastic aid and programs for today's women; and the hope for tomorrow because Gamma Phi Beta is a lifetime experience and AN OPPORTUNITY. This composite of the ideals of Gamma Phi Beta will linger with those who have seen it just as "Remember" lingers with each of us.

Gamma Phi Beta hopes you will continue to make opportunities like this possible by supporting the OPPORTUNITY FUND.

A Letter Of Thanks

By Georgia Buell Adams
Feature Editor

When I sat down at my desk and read a four page letter, a very special Gamma Phi Beta sister began to take shape. What was so unique about this particular letter was the way in which it was signed—"written by friends." Their experiences and memories will enable us all to know Jennie Curtis (N. Arizona), the new Gamma Phi Beta Foundation Camping Chairman.

"Jennie Curtis is what Gamma Phi Beta Sorority is all about. She has given so much of herself to Gamma Phi Beta and is truly proud of her sorority and her membership."

Jennie received her B.S. in 1977 from Northern Arizona University where she was Panhellenic president and served Beta Omega Chapter as president, vice president and rush chairman. She earned an M.S. from North Dakota State University while serving as a graduate counselor for Alpha Omicron Chapter.

"Jennie's favorite song is 'Arizona Morning.'" Everyone she touches learns to appreciate the Arizona desert and mountains. Her love of nature is further demonstrated by her involvement in Gamma Phi Beta Camping."

Campers take a rest on the beach in the warm sun after swimming lessons at Camp Sechelt.

Jennie, better known as "Curt" on the camp scene, served two years as a counselor for the Colorado camp and four years as Director of Camp Sechelt in British Columbia.

"Jennie seems to have a gentle but firm manner in which she commands the respect and attention of counselors and campers alike. She has the rare ability to be liked by everyone without sacrificing discipline."

As International Parliamentarian, Jennie works often with Grand President Karen Wander Kline (Iowa St.). Mrs. Kline said, "Jennie makes it easy to preside over Convention and makes parliamentary procedure enjoyable."

Perhaps one of the most memorable Denver Convention sights was the camp canoe which traveled atop Jennie's car on its trip to Denver. After the presentation, the canoe was loaded again atop her car for its ride to Camp Sechelt.

"One of Jennie's greatest talents is her ability to make others feel more confident in themselves up to and beyond their own expectations. She does this in such a way that one hardly realizes the influence she is receiving from this outstanding and enthusiastic Gamma Phi Beta."

Thank you, too, to...

Lori Montigel (Cal.-Riverside), returned to Camp Sechelt for her second year to serve as Waterfront Director. A recent graduate, she is from Riverside, Calif. and hopes to secure a position in the year round camping field.

An Escape . . .

From Lonely Reality To Mountains of Full Potential

Far beyond your chapter walls, for 30 years Gamma Phi Beta has been in the mountains of Sechelt, British Columbia. Together with the ocean, the mountains cradle a camp, a world of growth.

Gamma Phi Beta campers have the opportunity to grow through the challenging but safe environment surrounded by a warm, loving atmosphere. Camp is a place where children interact with peers on a non-competitive level and are encouraged to experience life to their fullest potential.

Young girls are able to leave their congested inner-city homes for a nine day vacation to enjoy the wilderness of the Sunshine Coast. Here, campers are able to escape the reality of their lonely, independent lifestyles and enjoy themselves during their carefree visit. Camp allows 36 girls at each of four sessions to actually act like kids for the first time in their lives.

Whether swimming and dodging the chilly ocean waves, or taking time from huckleberry picking to swing as high as possible to touch the pines with their stretched legs, or letting their imaginations run wild as they rummage through fanciful costumes in the drama room, the girls experience life as a kid.

And kids they are indeed. At 9:00 PM counselors look forward to their well deserved night's sleep, which for the most part is only wishful thinking. Each camper's three "biffy" (bathroom) runs, pleas for more calamine lotion on their itchy mosquito bites and the toss and turn of fearful, wide-eyed campers waiting for the ghost who is lurking in their minds from a bedtime story keep the counselors on the run.

Just as the counselor is catching a few winks, three Gamma Phi Betas dressed as jungle natives burst through the cabin door. After hearing the beat of the drum, the counselor remembers that this morning campers find their breakfast cereal boxes hanging from trees and pieces of fruit nestled in tree trunks—it's Jungle Breakfast.

Easter in June? Christmas in July? Halloween in August? You bet! The campers spend the morning dyeing eggs for their hunt with the Easter Beagle, decorating the tree while anxiously awaiting their turn to sit on Santa's lap, or getting chills up their spines as each goes through the haunted house hoping she'll live to see the Great Pumpkin.

Whether up the mountain or down the beach, hikers return with pockets bursting with treasures such as buttercup seashells, wishing rocks and wild daisies. Many of these relics are given secretly to Beta Buddies, whose identities are concealed until the last night of the session. Campers and counselors then reveal their secret pals and each camper receives a Camper's Certificate and a decorated T-shirt donated by a Gamma Phi Beta chapter.

Fifty years of camping have provided needy children with an exciting and worthwhile holiday. Hearing their definitions of Gamma Phi Beta such as "friends getting together having fun" and "learning to say please and thank you" really seem to give meaning to what we are doing. What are you doing?

'...the Business of Enriching...'

As my fourth year in service to Gamma Phi Beta as Camp Director draws to a close, I feel intense pride for the work in which we are involved.

More than 400 "special" girls have crossed our threshold at Camp Sechelt during my tenure. In those four years I have had the privilege of working with 22 Gamma Phi Betas from all over the United States and Canada who came to camp and gave a part of themselves to the girls whose lives they share for a short but everlasting moment.

At Camp Sechelt we are in the business of enriching young ladies' lives. We are creating a safe and comfortable environment, where each camper can grow, and learn and share. We are making an impact in this world. We are touching children's lives with hope and sunshine and love.

In this, the first few days of my new office, I reflect upon the immense amount of time, effort and money that have gone into our camping efforts over the last 52 years.

I recently viewed films of our Vancouver and Colorado camps from as early as 1929. Seeing counselors from collegiate chapters giving so much of themselves to those little girls fills me with pride.

In our early years of camping the main activities were sewing, swimming, hiking and housekeeping. In the summer of 1981 we were busy with many of those same activities. Our purpose for offering this experience to young ladies has not changed. We are giving these girls an opportunity, a health renewing and happy holiday away from the everyday pressures of home life.

Now as we look to the future and what our role in camping is to be, we find a renewed commitment among Gamma Phi Betas all over the country. This past year the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation donated more than $5,000 in camper-ships, allowing many young ladies the opportunity to go to summer camp. We sent 144 girls to our camp in Vancouver. Many of our collegiate and alumnae chapters sent campers to local camps and gifts and additional funds to the Foundation or Vancouver for the camping effort. Without this effort on the part of our membership, we could not continue our work in the camping philanthropy.

The Foundation camping committee will be meeting soon to wrestle with some major questions: What will be our role in the next 50 years in camping? Should we expand to a year round operation? Where should we locate in the United States? How will we continue to finance our ever growing efforts in this field?

These questions and many more are the task we have to deal with at our next meeting. Therefore, we the Foundation Camping Committee are asking each and every one of you to consider our record in the camping world and the possibilities for the future and give us some idea of where you would like to see us go from here.

ΓΦΕΣΤΑ '82

The fun will have just begun when the 1982 Convention Committee greets you in Phoenix in July. They have planned time for stimulating workshops, beautiful banquets and a trip to the Grand Canyon.

1982 Convention in Valley of the Sun

An exciting southwestern fiesta awaits Gamma Phi Betas attending the 60th International Convention, July 27-31 in Phoenix, Ariz., the ninth largest city in the nation.

Mignon Phipps Michele (Oregon), Convention Chairman, extends a warm western "howdy!" to all sisters on behalf of the more than 800 Gamma Phi Betas in the greater Phoenix area.

Mignon is a remarkably energetic lady with Gamma Phi Beta conviction and dedication, committed to bringing her sisters five fun filled days and nights in fabulous Phoenix, "the air conditioned capital of the world." She has been active in the Phoenix Alumnae Chapter for the past 30 years, serving in every capacity on the executive board, and as Province XIV Alumnae Director for six years. Mignon has watched the city of Phoenix grow and prosper in the 33 years she has lived there and is anxious to share the Valley of the Sun with her sisters.

She and her 35 Convention Committee Chairmen selected as the Convention site The Arizona Biltmore Hotel, winner of the coveted Mobil Travel Guide's Five Star Award for the 22nd consecutive year—a record unmatched by any establishment in the nation. The luxurious Biltmore offers spacious, beautifully appointed rooms and a multitude of facilities and recreational activities. With a backdrop of magnificent mountains, the hotel is the desert green spot located in the heart of Phoenix.

The spectacular splendor of the Grand Canyon awaits Gamma Phi Betas as a tour to the high country winds through the golden deserts into the evergreen forests. Sweeping views across the jagged canyon walls reveal ever changing hues and below lies the mighty Colorado River. It appears to be but a thread winding 217 miles through the majestic Grand Canyon, but ranges from four to 18 miles wide.

Arizona's famous "Cs" will provide the theme for many of the Convention activities. Cacti, cowboys, copper and cotton tell the story of the history, growth and prosperity of the state. Ingenious centerpieces, displays and decorations reveal the imagination of Gamma Phi Betas in working with the versatile local natural resources.

Brightly colored paper flowers are a must for an authentic Mexican dinner. A palate pleasing adventure is in store during the Convention fiesta dinner.

Although  $\Gamma\Phi$ esta is the theme for the 1982 Convention, daily workshops, seminars and study groups will afford sisters the opportunity to exchange ideas in all areas of the sisterhood and greatly multiply the capacity for growth within each individual chapter.

Plan a holiday in the sun with Gamma Phi Betas. Join Mignon Michele, the Phoenix alumnae and Beta Kappa collegians at the 60th International Convention, July 27-31.

In front of Merrill House, colony members leap for joy in celebration of their pledging.

ΓΦΒ Pioneers at Colgate

On September 13, 1981, Delta Tau colony was formally pledged at Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y. Our newest colony is less than a one hour drive from Alpha Chapter at Syracuse University.

Colgate University, on the "hill," is situated in the rolling hills of upstate New York and was founded in 1819 by William Colgate, the wealthy soapmaker. Today it is a highly selective, independent liberal arts school which also offers a graduate program in several academic fields, a teaching intern program which leads to the M.A.T. degree and a M.A. program in counseling.

Colgate became a co-ed university in 1970 and interest in sororities came to the forefront several years ago. Gamma Phi Beta is the first National Panhellenic Conference sorority to colonize on campus. There are nine fraternities.

The pledging ceremony was held at historic Merrill House which was built in 1899 as a gift from James B. Colgate. It was the president's house until 1962 and now serves as the faculty club and guest house of the University.

Twenty-three members of Delta Nu local sorority and seven alumnae initiates were pledged to Gamma Phi Beta under the guidance of Nancy Donovan (Bowling Green), Expansion Supervisor. She was assisted by Mary Neel (Drake), Collegiate Consultant, and members of Alpha Chapter, Syracuse University.

Others present at the ceremony included Director of Expansion Mary Alice Adams Betts (William and Mary), Province Alumnae Director Dorothy Roberts Matheson (Boston) and Alumna Field Representative Gretchen Meier Oostenink (Iowa). Also present were Nancy Crowe Heck (Bowling Green), Elizabeth Kroupa Rembert (Vanderbilt) and Jeanne Cramer O'Brien (Syracuse).

An informal reception was held after the pledging ceremony on the porch of Merrill House. Honored guests included Mrs. Langdon, wife of the University President, Dr. and Mrs. Williams Edmonston, and Assistant Dean of Students Joe Caprio.

Welcome Delta Tau! Gamma Phi Beta is proud to join Colgate University's Greek system. We all look forward to a long and rewarding association.

Messages of welcome may be sent to Gamma Phi Beta Alumna Field Representative Gretchen Meier Oostenink, 52 Brookview Dr., Hamilton, NY 13346.

Collegiate Experiences Contribute to Alumna's Career Success

By Corey Nason
(Kansas)

In the position of vice chancellor for academic affairs, Deanell Reece Tacha (Kansas) reflected on what she had gained while living at the Sigma Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta.

"It's the opportunity for leadership in the small living group, where you live with the same people that you govern," Deanell said. "In most other organizations, you don't have that situation."

"Conflict resolution. Nobody always gets along. There are small conflicts. As both pledge director and president, I got all types."

Deanell has utilized her early training in leadership to help boost her to higher positions. Before she was promoted last April to vice chancellor, she had held the position of associate vice chancellor for academic affairs, also at the University of Kansas.

Reaching these positions involved hard work and some crucial decision making times in her life. One such time was during her senior year at the University of Kansas.

"It was March and I was very serious about a young man. I was heading down the typical path of getting married after college. I had this terrible feeling and thought, 'Oh my gosh, I have to change the process of my life.'"

Deanell said that she had had the foresight to take the law and graduate school's entrance tests. In the spring of 1968 instead of getting married, she decided to go to law school. She laughed when she described her father's reaction to her decision.

"It was on Sunday night that I called my dad. He just said, 'Oh that's nice.' I remember thinking that he was very quiet."

"I didn't think any more about it, did my studies and went to bed. In the middle of the night our housemother awakened me and said my father was there."

"It's a four hour drive from Scandia, Kan. He took me out for coffee and spent the rest of the night trying to convince me not to go to law school."

"He said, 'Why would you choose a career in which you could never succeed?' He laughs about it now."

And succeed she has. Deanell attended the University of Michigan Law School. Her senior year was a busy one. In addition to law school she was a resident director of a large coed residence hall which housed the freshmen women and the football team.

Also during her senior year of law school, Deanell applied for the White House Fellow Program. She said she didn't think she had a chance. In the spring she went to St. Louis for the regional selection.

In May of that same year (1977) she was asked to come to Washington, D.C. as one of 30 semi-finalists. She had to miss her law school graduation.

"I had to take an exam early," Deanell said. "My parents came and packed my car. I had to check everyone out of the residence hall."

"I stayed up all night long and flew to Washington the next day," Deanell said grinning. "I still think that's why I didn't get nervous. By that time I was numb."

In the three day final interview, Deanell was interviewed by a group of 20 judges. She was selected as one of the 16 finalists.

During her year as a White House fellow, Deanell said she met virtually every official involved in Washington politics. She worked for Secretary of Labor James Hodgson. When her fellowship ended she worked as a lawyer in Washington, D.C.

During her two year stay in Washington, D.C., Gamma Phi Beta honored her at a city Panhellenic luncheon. The local Gamma Phi Beta alumnae chapter chose her as their outstanding alumna.

Deanell's story then takes her back to Concordia, Kan., only a short distance from her hometown of Scandia. There she married John Tacha who had been waiting five years for her to return to Kansas. She was hired as a lawyer but soon began commuting 200 miles each way to teach at the University of Kansas Law School.

Deanell and her husband left Concordia when she was offered a professorship and later the position of associate dean for the law school.

In addition to her career achievements, she has three children, the youngest born only two years ago. Deanell joined the Lawrence Alumnae Chapter when she returned to Lawrence in 1977.

Texans Raise Sizable Contributions to Fight Children's Disease

By Kelle Banks
(Texas)

Texans have a reputation of doing everything in a big way, so when Alpha Zeta Chapter at the University of Texas decided to sponsor a philanthropy project to benefit the Texas Society for Autistic Citizens, the members went all out.

The project, coordinated by Philanthropy Chairman Cheryl Luedecke, required a semester to plan and involved more than a week of fund raising activities. But when all the work was finished, $8,000 had been raised for autistic children and many people were made aware of autism's destructiveness.

Gamma Phi Betas publicized the theme, "Shed A Little Light on Autism," by wearing buttons and T-shirts around campus. Throughout Austin, fliers and posters advertised the fund raising events. Austin Mayor Carole McClellan declared April 19-28 "Austin Shines for Autism Week."

Additional promotion came in the form of newspaper advertisements and public service announcements on six Austin radio stations and three television stations. Gamma Phi Beta received unexpected exposure when one of the television stations asked a representative of the Texas Society for Autistic Citizens to do an interview about autism and our philanthropy project on "Good Morning Austin."

The fund raising events for autism included benefits at four Austin clubs and a car wash-a-thon. The clubs donated their premises to Gamma Phi Beta for an evening and to attract a variety of people, bands played an assortment of music from country western to rock and roll. Band members donated their time and Gamma Phi Betas served as cashiers.

For the car wash, members sought monetary pledges from parents, friends and businesses and then spent a fun day in the sun splashing soap and water on cars, trucks, a fleet of taxis and each other. Because Sorority members had pledges for each car they cleaned, the car wash didn't cost drivers anything. Advertisements of a "Free Car Wash" attracted quite a few curious and skeptical people as well as a lot of dirty cars. As dusk approached, the women passed their goal of 300 cars and ended the day by sudsing a motorist's German shepherd.

The week of fund raising is now over, but the results of the project continue. A health bill of $1 million went to the Texas Legislature and because of Alpha Zeta Chapter's hard work, a percentage of the funds will benefit autistic children. Through the efforts of Public Relations Chairman Tina Yampanis the Texas Senate has passed a resolution recognizing Gamma Phi Beta for its part in battling autism.

But best of all, because of a lot of caring young women, autistic children throughout Texas are receiving medical attention that they wouldn't otherwise have had.

Women Drinkers: The Other Side

By Georgia Buell Adams
Feature Editor

Women of today have a totally different set of problems than any other past generations. Many women feel the pressures of living up to the "Superwoman" role given them. The unrealistic expectations of being a perfect careerwoman, mother, wife, homemaker and being faced with many of the same pressures as their male counterparts, has increased the use of alcohol by women.

The subject of women and alcohol has been explored in a proliferation of studies and articles in periodicals and journals. The most recent research concerning women and alcohol has been the study of the effects of alcohol on the unborn fetus.

While teaching at the Child Development and Mental Retardation Center at the University of Washington I first learned of the harmful effects of alcohol on an unborn fetus. Dr. David W. Smith of University Hospital referred a child to my program diagnosed as having fetal alcohol syndrome. He also gave me literature to read describing the physical characteristics as well as the extent of mental retardation to expect. This information helped immensely in planning an educational program for the child. That same year I subsequently had two other children referred to my program diagnosed as having fetal alcohol syndrome.

The following information is part of a report from the U.S. surgeon general's office. I felt the information was pertinent to the subject.

Women who are pregnant or considering pregnancy should not drink alcohol, and should avoid foods and drugs containing alcohol.

"Sizable and significant increases in spontaneous abortions have been observed at reported alcohol consumption levels as low as one ounce of absolute alcohol twice a week," the surgeon general's advisory committee warned. (Two standard shots of hard liquor contain an ounce of pure alcohol.)

The report also noted that women who drink an average of an ounce of absolute alcohol a day while pregnant risk bearing children who are significantly underweight.

Edward N. Brandt, MD, the assistant secretary for health and acting surgeon general, urged physicians to pass the following warnings on to their patients:

- A woman who drinks enough to be diagnosed as an alcoholic risks bearing a child with fetal alcohol syndrome (FAS), a collection of birth defects associated with mental retardation, central nervous system disorders, growth deficiencies, and a cluster of facial abnormalities and other malformations.

- A woman who drinks heavily, even if she does not bear a child with FAS, risks bearing a child with one of the individual defects included in the syndrome.

- Heavy alcohol consumption is known to decrease mother's milk, and alcohol is transmitted to nursing infants through breast milk. The advisory committee said the effects of alcohol consumption on pregnancy appear to be independent of variables such as maternal nutrition and smoking habits.

Information on the effects of alcohol on an unborn fetus can be obtained from the National Clearing House for Alcohol Information, P.O. Box 2345, Rockville, MD 20852.

Pat Witt (Indiana) burns the mortgage for Beta Phi Chapter at Indiana University. Sharing the moment are Kathie Holland (Indiana) and Myra Baker (Southern Methodist).

Alumnae chapters are meeting monthly, raising funds for their philanthropies, aiding collegiate chapters, and keeping up to date with the changing world through programs from aerobic dancing to the stock market to time management.

Reading through the alumnae letters, the sisterhood and vibrancy of each group leaps off the page, and your alumnae editor wishes she could journey from one to the next, sampling a little from each unique group.

While THE CRESCENT wishes to share alumnae letters with you in their entirety, we will no longer be able to do so due to size limitations. This new column will feature alumnae chapter news and will be run from time to time when sufficient copy is received. Please let us know about your programs, fund raisers, social events and philanthropic projects.

Arlington, Tex. alumnae established a new scholarship to be awarded each year to an outstanding member at Texas Wesleyan.

Virginia Thompson, Franca Dyer, Margaret Simms and Carolyn Simpson (all Oregon) admire the stained glass window given to Nu chapter at Oregon.

Their programs included fabric crafts and antiques, wardrobe planning and time management.

Riverside, Calif. alumnae sent life jackets, clothing and an ice cream freezer to Gamma Phi Beta Camp Sechelt. Programs for the year featured a barbeque, microwave cooking, a needlework demonstration and a progressive dinner.

Each year Balboa Harbor, Calif. presents a $500 Betty Luker Haverfield Memorial Scholarship to a deserving senior continuing in graduate school. This group's largesse ($1,000) was also shared with a county facility for abused and neglected children.

Lafayette, Ind. alumnae are making plans for their fashion show and luncheon in April. A breakfast in honor of graduating seniors at Purdue and a salad luncheon and pool party are other events planned for spring.

Many of the Atlanta meetings involved Delta Omicron Chapter at Southern Technical Institute. A self-improvement seminar on "Today's Woman" and a white elephant sale were among their varied programs.

odist University. Many alumnae become Gamma Moms to help the pledges feel a part of Gamma Phi Beta.

Birmingham, Ala. alumnae planned a Saturday noon salad luncheon in addition to their regular meetings so that working Gamma Phis could attend. They had a holiday freezer auction and invited the local Girl Scout Council to a meeting to tell about their needs.

A speaker from the League of Women Voters provided information on local elections and the Asian Art Museum presented a program on its jade collection for San Francisco alumnae. They enjoyed "Shakespeare Set to Music," followed by a picnic.

A phone membership drive during the summer revitalized the Des Moines alumnae as they looked forward to a year sharing sisterhood with collegians at Drake. Programs included a trip to a racquetball and health club and a talk on women and fitness.

Staging hugely successful antique shows isn't all that happens in Kansas City. They also studied aerobic dancing and historical figurines, and had a book review, salad luncheon and fashion show.

Cleveland East alumnae ended the year with a lucheon at the Cleveland Skating Club. New officers were welcomed.

Lubbock alumnae had a happy, hectic year with each other and Beta Tau Chapter. Much love and help is lavished on the collegians at Texas Tech by these alumnae who helped celebrate the chapter's 25th anniversary by sharing the highlights of their college days.

Artist, Volunteer Frances Washburn

Colonel Washburn and his lady retired to Colorado Springs in 1974, where, despite Pat's interest in antiques through the years, they built a solar house.

Pat and Walter Washburn's amazing family includes Terry, a Stevens College graduate who joined the Peace Corps, later married, and now resides in New York. Second daughter Molly Bartholow (Texas) has a law degree and she and her lawyer husband both practice in Dallas. Molly is also active in Junior League, is a docent at the Dallas Art Museum, and is active in Sponsors for Educational Opportunities. She has two children.

Daughter Grace Fucillo (Colorado) received a degree in business administration and is an Air Force lieutenant. She and her fellow Air Force officer husband are stationed at NORAD headquarters in Colorado Springs. Grace coached a competitive swim team and was a member of the base tennis and golf teams when stationed in Ohio.

Walter R. Washburn III is an Air Force Academy graduate stationed at Calumet Air Force Station, Mich., and youngest daughter Anna Mary is at the University of Colorado, Boulder.

"One of the happiest things in my life was to have Grace and Molly Gamma Phi with me," said Pat. "Any Gamma Phi Beta mother will understand my delight."

After the rigors of life as an Air Force wife and rearing five active children, including two Gamma Phi Beta daughters, Frances Quirke Washburn (Illinois) has embarked on a new life of her own.

"Until the last child was almost through university, I waited to take up painting and study," said Pat (a nickname she is known by). "As wife of an Air Force officer and mother of five, I was totally involved." Soon she was spending most of her time painting in oils and working on her master's degree in history of fine arts, specializing in the Middle East and Turkey, at the University of Colorado, Cragmount.

She was awarded a prestigious Fulbright travel and study grant to spend a year studying and researching Ottoman art at Bogozici University in Istanbul, Turkey.

The Washburns made 27 moves in 30 years of military life, two of which were overseas to England and Turkey. Through the years Pat started many programs for teenagers, mainly so her own children could become involved at their various duty stations. She spent many hours as a swimming instructor, coach and judge, and with Girl Scouts and Officers' Wives Clubs everywhere.

Teaching Award Sybil Abbott

Sybil Abbott (Nevada) has received an award for outstanding service and contributions to the 20,000 member National Council for the Social Studies (NCSS).

Sybil is a social studies teacher at Clayton Middle School in Reno. She also taught in California, and has traveled frequently to Europe, bringing back many personal experiences to enliven social studies classes.

One of her major activities for NCSS has been a study of U.S. and U.S.S.R. textbooks. "The purpose of the study is to identify—with the goal of ultimately eliminating—errors and statements of bias that contribute to misunderstandings, misconceptions and hostility on the part of students," said Sybil.

The study has unearthed some surprising errors. Soviet texts, for instance, portray the assassination of Abraham Lincoln in this manner: "He was killed by an actor who was a hireling of northern capitalists." Soviet texts also state that many Indians were killed by bacteriological warfare during the expansion of the western frontier by planting smallpox germs on the blankets given to Indians.

Our texts were found in error, too. "Many American texts say that Soviet citizens cannot move freely within their own country." This is untrue, according to Sybil. "Both sides seem to depict the other as the aggressor in their texts," she said.

Sybil is an active member of the Reno Alumnae Chapter, and has served twice as Panhellenic president.

Campus Sights and Sounds

TO COMBAT GROWING THEFTS, university libraries are starting to list their missing volumes in a new computerized register that will enable booksellers anywhere in the country to check for "hot books" before they purchase old or rare volumes. (Chronicle of Higher Education)

BALLET STAR Edward Villella taught some ballet exercises to the West Point football team to avoid back strain and pulled hamstrings.

THE COLUMBUS SCHOOL OF LAW at Catholic University will soon offer a program in media law. The university announced creation of the Institute of Communications Law Studies which will provide intensive training in the theory and practice of communications law. (Collegiate Hedlines)

PRIORITY PARKING is granted to car-poolers by Marshall University (W. Va.). A single passenger car driver has to wait several semesters for a parking permit.

A SCHOLARSHIP RESEARCH service links students with about 50,000 private educational grants. Some are unusual, such as the one at the University of Arizona which offers $500 to a student with high grades who can also rope cattle. (On-Campus Report)

Gamma Phi Betas care...

The response to the 1981 fund raising drive has been heartwarming, and our thanks go out to all of you whose names appear on the following pages.

A gift to the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation is our way of saying we care about camping for the "special girl" and for the continued education of our women students. Through our gifts we help insure that these programs remain steadfast. What greater satisfaction is there than knowing that what we give, whether large or small, makes a real difference.

For your convenience your gift of caring may be mailed with the form below to Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, 7503 Marin Drive, Englewood, CO 80111.

Sisters Speak

Dear Sisters,

Rush is a difficult time for all sorority members. The hustle and bustle of preparations, the seemingly endless stream of parties, and the agonizing over bid lists produce raw nerves and wounded feelings. Add to these conditions the question of legacies and the problems seem to double. With the growth of sororities, legacies are going to be an ever growing issue. Therefore, ways and means of addressing the concerns of the chapter members, the alumnae, and the legacies need to be found.

At the present time, Gamma Phi Beta recommends that legacies be given fair and serious consideration. If they are not to be issued a bid they should be dropped before the party prior to preference. In any case the notification of relatives is left to the legacy.

These recommendations are not as helpful as they might be. For instance, what is "fair and serious consideration." Oftentimes a legacy is more familiar with Gamma Phi Beta than the other sororities on a given campus thus giving Gamma Phi Beta an advantage. This familiarity may be enhanced by the positive manner in which relatives have spoken of Gamma Phi Beta. There is also a pressure, be it overt or covert, from family members for the legacy to pledge Gamma Phi Beta. Since Gamma Phi Beta is given an edge, it is only fair that the legacy not be treated as "just another rushee." An attempt to get to know the legacy by all members of the chapter seems to be warranted, thus preventing the legacy from getting lost in the rush process and making possible an informed decision on the part of the chapter members.

Notification of the relative when a legacy is dropped can be a very delicate issue. Leaving it up to the legacy may not be in the best interest of both parties. For a number of reasons the legacy may be too embarrassed to inform her relatives. Furthermore, the legacy does not know on what basis the decision was made and will not be able to answer questions. This leads to misunderstandings and may result in angry letters and telephone calls to the chapter. In the case of an undergraduate member whose sister is not pledged by her chapter, it may be best to discuss the dropping of her sister with the member.

No one questions the need for the chapter members or the legacy to choose with whom they wish to live and associate. The question is how to extend to both the courtesy that should be granted them. This is an issue that Gamma Phi Beta must examine and try to solve in the coming years.

Dear Sisters,

It is not often that one gets the opportunity to thank one's sisters for everything they are and everything they have done. I'm sure I speak for all of Theta Chapter when I say "thank you" to our 1981 senior class.

These women were special in that they were one of the prime reasons our chapter is alive today. With the help of strong supportive alumnae, they helped the chapter grow to twice the size it was when the majority of them pledged four years before.

Due to their determination and strength in diversity, ours went from being a floundering chapter to being the largest (and of course) best chapter at the University of Denver. Because these women cared, our chapter is now strong as seen from both within and without.

To these seniors, we'll miss you. You gave humor, wisdom and especially love to this chapter—to us, your sisters. Lucky for us, many of your memories are our memories.

Thanks again for sharing those special years with those of us who'll love you always truly in IIKE.

Advice on Staying Young

America, we are told every day, is a land devoted to the youth culture. Graybeards wear sporty clothes, matrons stroll about in bikinis, everyone is anxious to look like a youngster. Sometimes it becomes downright pathetic.

If you really want to stay young, exercise alone won't do it. Wearing clothes 20 years too young for you won't do it. Smoking pot, using the latest slang expressions won't do it. To stay young you have to be in touch with youth, to understand what's happening in the land of the teenager and the young adult.

If you want to stay young mentally, there is no better way than involving yourself in the work of your fraternity. Do you want proof? What is it that your friends say when they hear you are active in your college fraternity? Don't they say that you haven't grown up, or that you are the eternal sophomore? Without realizing it, they are paying you a compliment. You have achieved what they are looking for, a mental outlook that is youthful, that comprehends the problems of the college age crowd, and you have truly found the fountain of youth.

You don't have to be Ponce de Leon. Get busy. Work with an undergraduate chapter near you as an advisor. Work on a regional level. Get involved in national work. You will find it challenging, not always easy, but it can be rewarding. Best of all it will keep you young. I guarantee it. (Reprinted from The Lion of Alpha Epsilon Pi and written by George S. Toll, Editor Emeritus.)
