Olympic Excellence

The coach of the dazzling synchronized swimming team that won the first gold medals in that new Olympic event was Gamma Phi Beta Charlotte Jennings Davis (Washington). Tracie Ruiz and Candy Costle, both from Seattle, were Charlotte's attentive students and gold medalists.

Charlotte became so consumed with the athletes' Olympic preparation she quit her job at the Seattle Aquatic Club to concentrate on their training. For the past three years she has accompanied them to Japan, Venezuela, Russia, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Canada. Her two charges have not lost a competition in the last two years, and at the recent Rome Open were awarded a first-ever perfect score in international competition. As one Seattle sportswriter put it, "Davis must be an exceptionally good coach."

Charlotte began working with the two women eight years ago. "I'll never forget the first time I knew what their potential was," she said. "They were 13 years old (both are now 21) and I remember sitting the two of them down and telling them they had what it took to become national champions one day." She told them if they listened and stuck with it, they could do it.

Training days included running, weight lifting, aerobics, endurance swimming, dance classes and recording sessions to master the music. Then they went back in the water for a couple of more hours. Wake up calls were frequently for 3:30 am. "Basically, every day we worked on this for seven hours, five in the water and two on the other activities."

Charlotte herself was on a national championship synchronized swim team, the Santa Clara Aquamaids, and was an All American synchronized swimmer. The inclusion of the sport as an Olympic event came too late for Charlotte to participate as an athlete, so she did it as a coach. Her coaching will continue as she has been named the first United States professional synchronized swimming coach.

In duet synchronized swimming the competitors must be perfectly coordinated with each other and with the music. As in some other sports, there are compulsory figures and some improvisations. They spend as much as 50 seconds under water. Tracie Ruiz, who won an individual gold medal, had 13 different musical tempos to adjust to in her individual routine.

Charlotte is from a Gamma Phi Beta family. Her mother is Patricia Stickler Jennings (Washington), former Area Financial Advisor. Her two sisters, Janet Jennings Getzendaner and Susan Jennings Wylie, are also University of Washington Gamma Phi Betas.

Charlotte has two young sons and a supportive and understanding husband, Glen.

Membership in Gamma Phi Beta is an opportunity for personal growth and enrichment. It is an opportunity for each member to share herself and her talents with others.

This issue focuses on the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation and tells a story of thousands of sisters. Each has given and gained from her membership in Gamma Phi Beta.

We invite each Gamma Phi Beta to become a part of the Foundation's circle in 1985. It's a Gamma Phi Beta opportunity!

Gamma Phi Beta Foundation

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation celebrates its 27th anniversary this year. Organized in 1958 to promote and encourage education and camping for "special girls," it is supported solely by individual contributors. The Foundation administers 16 permanent scholarships and fellowships and provides camperships for more than 200 girls each summer. It is governed by a board of directors appointed by Grand Council.

February has been named Foundation Focus Month because Valentine's Day so aptly ties in with the Foundation logo. Alumnae and collegiate chapters are encouraged to plan a February meeting which focuses on the Foundation. A PACE packet with program ideas will be distributed this year.

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation continues to flourish. Thanks to every sister whose contribution will make 1985 the best of all.

Foundation giving tops $100,000

Thanks to the generosity of 4,200 Gamma Phi Beta alumnae, Foundation giving has reached a new level. And, 44 collegiate and alumnae chapters donated an additional $5,860.

Without this support and that from friends of Gamma Phi Beta, the Foundation would find it difficult to continue its financial aid programs and camping for "special girls."

The names of members, friends, and collegiate and alumnae chapters that contributed to the Foundation from October 1, 1983 to September 30, 1984 are listed in this issue. All gifts are recorded and the various "Circles" reflect accumulative giving. Because such records have been kept only since 1980, it is possible some members may find the amount of total giving to be inaccurate. Please let the Foundation know by writing Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, 7395 E. Orchard Rd., Ste. 200, Englewood, CO 80111.

Foundation offers travel opportunities

Fundraising and travel are a winning combination for the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation.

Professional tours meeting individual interests can be arranged to any location for any length of time. And, when 10 or more Gamma Phi Betas, their friends or family members sign up for a trip, the eleventh trip is free. The free trip can be used by an additional person or as a chapter fundraiser, by raffling or auctioning it. A tax deductible contribution will be made to the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation for every trip sold through a Gamma Phi Beta.

For more information contact Gamma Phi Beta Foundation Fundraising Committee member Dorothy Bradshaw, 305 Cervantes Rd., Portola Valley, CA 94025; 415-851-1966.

A will to give

The Directors of the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation have become increasingly aware of the need to provide information to Gamma Phi Beta members concerning wills and trusts. Many talk about giving substantial gifts to various charitable organizations but have not prepared a will.

The Directors advise that an attorney be consulted to draw up the will and that it reflect the donor's specific wishes. Those with a will are urged to check it periodically to be sure it is binding and up to date with current desires.

Gamma Phi Betas, their families and friends who wish to ensure the continuation of Gamma Phi Beta's financial aid programs and camping for "special girls" may wish to consider naming the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation as a beneficiary of their estate. Bequests can help the Foundation expand and meet the growing demand for financial assistance as costs of services and educational expenses soar.

For those considering such bequests to the Foundation, this simple language may be used in a will:

"I, _____, give and bequeath to the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, an Illinois not-for-profit corporation currently having its principal office in Englewood, Colorado, the sum of $_____ for the charitable and educational purposes of said Foundation."

Many Gamma Phi Betas have expressed a wish for such information and it is hoped that it is helpful. The Directors thank everyone who has supported the Foundation and appreciate the consideration given its future.

Lambda scholarship endowed

The Seattle Alumnae Chapter has established a scholarship for collegiate members of Lambda Chapter which honors a different distinguished alumna each year. The first scholarship was named for Lois McBride Dehn (Washington), former Gamma Phi Beta Grand President.

Carrie K. York, a University of Washington junior, received the first scholarship. She has a 3.6 grade average and is a zoology major emphasizing math and science. Carrie volunteers at the University of Washington Dental Clinics and plans to attend dental school. She is chapter scholarship chairman and served as delegate to the Area Leadership Conference and as pledge class vice president. An honors graduate from Mercer Island, Wash. High School, Carrie received the Robert Studebaker Award for scholarship, leadership and service.

The Lambda House Corporation Board conceived the idea and was assisted by Area Financial Advisor Louisa Brown Pierson (Washington). Administered by the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, the scholarship is awarded annually to a collegiate member of Lambda Chapter.

Each year the scholarship will honor a different alumna, living or deceased, who will be selected by a committee of Seattle alumnae. Lois McBride Dehn exemplifies the ideals outlined by the committee: a loyal member who has demonstrated at the local and/or international level a true love of the ideals and purposes of the Sorority. Contributions to the collegiate chapter, alumnae chapter, house corporation board and/or international Gamma Phi Beta are considered.

Mrs. Dehn was president of Lambda Chapter and graduated magna cum laude in 1916. She served as Seattle Alumnae Chapter president, International Scholarship Chairman and was Grand President from 1936 to 1940. Mrs. Dehn was instrumental in raising funds to help build the present chapter house and served as a house corporation board member for 50 years.

The final selection of the scholarship recipient is the responsibility of the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation. A preliminary selection is made by a local review committee which includes the alumnae chapter president or her appointee, alumna advisor, financial advisor, collegiate chapter president and scholarship chairman, and four members at large.

Applicants must be Lambda Chapter initiated members or affiliates in good standing. They are considered on the basis of scholastic achievement, contribution to Lambda Chapter and financial need.

In 1982, Louisa Pierson developed a successful fund raising plan. After contacting alumnae, the scholarship was partially endowed and at Founders Day 1982, a competition "between decades" encouraged members to donate to the fund. In May, 1983, donations received at Lambda's 80th birthday party brought the fund to the required endowment amount of $10,000. The interest earned from the principal is used for the scholarship.—

Scholarship honors Beth Robertson

Vancouver alumnae are raising funds to establish a camping scholarship in honor of Beth Evans Robertson (British Columbia). She is a former Camp Sechelt Director and Camp Board member.

Scholarships will be awarded to "special girls" who are above the age limit for Camp Sechelt. These "special girls" will attend other camps in the Vancouver area.

Gamma Phi Beta alumnae who have contributed to the $5,000 goal to establish the scholarship are listed below.

Scholarship for special alumnae honors Doris Bird Gorden

A scholarship for special alumnae has been established by Bill and Doris Bird Gorden (Bowling Green). Named by her husband, it is the Doris B. Gorden Scholarship for Special Alumnae.

Scholarship applicants must be alumnae in good standing. Other factors for consideration are physical handicap; illness or disability of the alumna, the child or husband; or divorce or widowhood. Financial need and other special considerations are additional criteria.

In 1954, Doris was confined to an iron lung as the result of polio. There were two young children at home and another was born three and one-half months into Doris' eight month hospitalization.

"Our friends rallied and help came from areas that sometimes seemed least likely," Bill said. "We never lost faith and within a few short years Doris was again able to take over the family management without help."

Doris returned to school after her bout with polio, taking night courses at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Then in 1965, she broke her leg and kneecap getting off an airplane and spent 78 days in traction in the hospital and another year in braces. Her fourth child was born two months after the fall.

"Through experience we know that life can change suddenly and create serious challenges," Doris said. "We have appreciated all the help that has been offered to us through the years, especially the friendship and support of our Gamma Phi Beta friends. The Cincinnati alumnae were so kind and caring, transporting me to meetings in spite of all the braces and wheelchair."

The Gordens established the scholarship "to help Gamma Phi Betas who may find themselves in similar circumstances, in need of funds to return to school for refresher courses or a career change," said Bill. "It is impossible for us to ever repay our friends for their help over the years when we needed it except through our efforts to help others."

Doris earned a pilot's license while at Bowling Green and was a DC3 stewardess. She is a member of United Airlines Clipped Wings (retired flight attendants), which raises funds for the mentally retarded. A volunteer at Bryn Mawr Rehabilitation Hospital with nearly 1,000 hours, Doris is a board member and chairman of volunteers. Time permitting, she enjoys needlework and rug hooking.

Doris served the Cincinnati Alumnae Chapter as magazine chairman in the 1950s. She has been a member of the Philadelphia West Suburban Alumnae Chapter since 1960, and has been president, vice president, area recommendations chairman and magazine chairman. Appointed Assistant to the Alumnae Vice President-Bylaws in 1983, Doris gave a bylaws workshop at the 1984 Convention. She was delegate to the 1976, 1980 and 1982 Conventions and a visitor in 1974.

Bill flew "Hellcat" off a Navy cruiser in the Pacific during World War II. A graduate of Wayne State University in Detroit, he was employed by Sun Company for 35 years until retirement in 1983. Bill is now president of Gorden, Inc., a business consulting firm. Doris is secretary-treasurer.

An avid golfer, Bill also fishes and gardens. He is chairman of the annual Country Fair for Bryn Mawr Rehabilitation Hospital.

The Gordens' four children are David, a Lt. Commander in the Navy Seabees; Janet, a realtor; Michael, owner of Journey Electronics Corp.; and Robert, a student and musician. They are grandparents to two boys and three girls, the youngest of whom was born as Doris flew home from the 1984 Convention.

Gamma celebrates 100 years at the University of Wisconsin

Can't you just see it?

The setting was the dining room in Ladies Hall on the University of Wisconsin campus. It was dinner time on November 15, 1885. The small group of coeds (there were only about 100 women students at the time) were chatting happily when it happened.

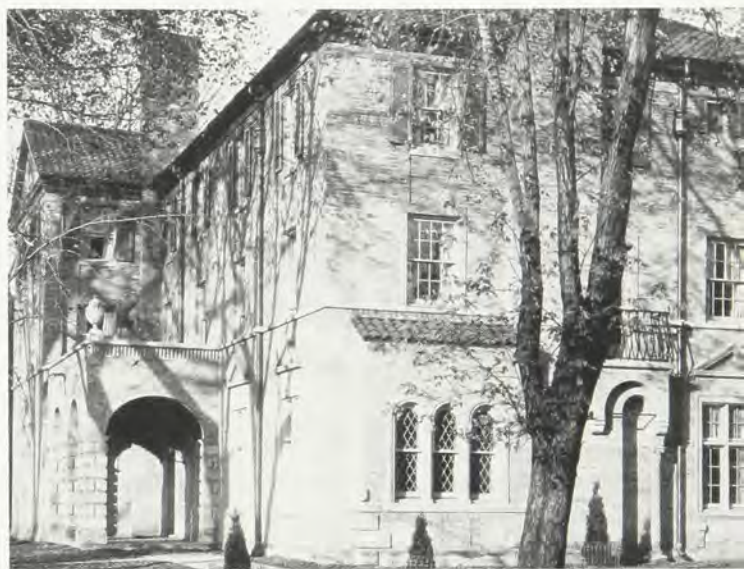

Six attractive young women wearing radiant smiles and shining crescent badges entered the room single file and sat down at one of the large tables. The other young women in the dining room nearly died on the spot, including 16 members of Kappa Kappa Gamma and 20 members of Delta Gamma. An eyewitness reported that one sorority member "was so upset that she put her bread under her plate, excused herself, and rushed off to her room."

The six proud new Gamma Phi Betas were Carrie E. Morgan, Mary Clark, Leora Chase, Zerlena and Mary Knox, and Cora Bennett. Flora Waldo, sister of two Badger football stars, later became the first initiate, after which four "outstanding freshmen" were pledged. The initiation ceremony for the original six was conducted in total secrecy by Grace Darling and Elizabeth Cornell, friends of Carrie Morgan and members of Beta Chapter at the University of Michigan.

Two years after its installation, Gamma Chapter had grown and quarters of its own were desired. Then came a period during which the members lived in a procession of dreary, totally unpretentious boarding houses.

In 1904, Mary Clark Brittingham, one of the charter members, decided it was high time that Gamma Chapter had a house of its own. Mrs. Brittingham organized a fund drive with stock selling at $25 per share, with guaranteed five percent interest. The stock was promptly purchased and it was a happy day May 1, 1905, when ground was broken at 428 Sterling Court for a three story clapboard and stucco house in light and dark brown. The house was ready for fall rush and was completely filled with ecstatic Gamma Phi Betas.

In 1927, the Gamma Phi Beta house had been outgrown and was beginning to show extreme wear and tear. Remodeling was considered impractical. Once again Mrs. Brittingham and other alumnae put on their "fighting clothes" and launched an elaborate fund drive for an "elegant" home for Gamma Chapter. Again everyone rallied and two lots were purchased at 270 Langdon Street. Architect Frank Riley designed the stunning, spacious Italian style brick house which is still the chapter home.

The University of Wisconsin chapter house was furnished and ready for rush in September, 1928.

It has been truthfully stated that Gamma Chapter has always enjoyed great prestige and respect on campus and it is equally true that the chapter has always produced young women to carry on high standards of leadership. However, credit for the chapter's 100 outstanding years should be given principally to Mary Clark Brittingham and Florence Stott Sullivan.

Both were wealthy and had tremendous business acumen. Both were forceful and insisted on the highest standards for Gamma Chapter. Both were willing to work endlessly and tirelessly for their Sorority. When Mrs. Brittingham died in 1929, Mrs. Sullivan was competent and qualified to take over the role of leader and "matriarch." When Mrs. Sullivan died in 1983, just two months short of her 101st birthday, she had devoted more than 70 years of loyal service to Gamma Phi Beta.

Now hundreds of Gamma Chapter alumnae are making plans to return for the gala centennial celebration on April 26, 27 and 28, 1985, in Madison. The celebration will include dinner parties in the homes of Madison alumnae, a bus tour of campus, an open house at the newly redecorated chapter house and an elegant banquet.

The motto above the fireplace in the chapter house library says "Haec olim meminisse juabit," which means literally, "May you rejoice in these memories." Gamma alumnae and collegians intend to rejoice in April for 100 years of unforgettable, happy memories.

Dedication

An interview reveals Grand Council's commitment to a successful future for Gamma Phi Beta

Grand President

Ann Mullen Bronsing (Indiana St.)

Why are you involved in Gamma Phi Beta? "The future of the world rests with today's young people. Responsible, intelligent, caring citizens can make a big difference in the quality of life. Through Gamma Phi Beta, I can have a role in nurturing those qualities."

What are your other interests? "I enjoy reading fiction and being with family and friends, and I'm a big fan of the St. Louis Steamers indoor soccer team. I also work part-time for Pepsi-Cola doing special promotions."

What is your most memorable Gamma Phi Beta experience? "It is in two parts. While attending my first Convention in 1962, as Beta Pi Chapter delegate, I was among the collegians who serenaded Grand Council. At the close of the 1984 Convention, I walked into the lobby of the O'Hare Hyatt to find the balconies lined with sisters singing to Grand Council. Both were extremely moving experiences and ones I will never forget." (Ed. Note: Other members of Grand Council also mentioned the 1984 Convention serenade as a memorable experience.)

How do you manage your time? "Managing my time is my biggest challenge. The office of Grand President is extremely demanding, both in time spent traveling and in the work load from my desk at home. Most days find me juggling laundry and other household duties between the telephone, typewriter and file cabinet. Both my husband Rex and my daughter Holly are extremely supportive and cooperative."

What do you see in the future for sororities and Gamma Phi Beta? "Gamma Phi Beta must hold on to its dream of excellence and sisterhood, while maintaining a keen awareness of sound fiscal and business management."

Alumnae Vice President
Phyllis Donaldson Choat
(Nebraska)

What would you like alumnae chapters to achieve? "To be in tune to their members' needs when developing programming so that more sisters will want and be able to participate in meaningful activities, primarily enjoying sisterhood."

What are your other interests? "I am the leader of my daughter's Girl Scout troop and while still a novice, I think I'm going to enjoy it very much. I also volunteer for Big Brothers/Big Sisters and am involved in Junior League and church activities. I recently took up golf and although I enjoy it, I am worse than terrible!"

Why are you involved in Gamma Phi Beta? "Gamma Phi Beta is the most challenging and satisfying organization I am involved in. It has given me so many opportunities to develop skills and I am proud to be able to serve such an organization with principles that have stood the test of time and programming that can impact its members' lives forever."

What do you see in the future for sororities and Gamma Phi Beta? "During this boom time for the Greek world, sororities should take every opportunity to further enhance their public image and eliminate excessive behavior and hazing."

Rex and Holly Bronsing are "extremely supportive" of Ann's involvement in Gamma Phi Beta.

The Choat family visits the Grand Canyon on a summer vacation.

As a Gamma Phi Beta owned Central Office becomes a reality, I think we will see an increased spirit of dedication and enthusiasm for our sisterhood."

How do you manage your time? "To accomplish everything, I fortunately have night owl tendencies. It's easier to work then when the house is quiet. I also use lists to keep me on target. I have a very patient, supportive and self-sufficient family and my husband Norm is great with the children when I'm gone."

Collegiate Vice President
Randall Stevens Guerra
(Cal. St.-Long Beach)

What is your most memorable Gamma Phi Beta experience? "I still feel my initiation in 1964 was a fantastic experience. I knew then that the Sorority and what it stood for would always play a part in my life."

What are your other interests? "My family and the activities that come with having three boys provide lots of outside interests. I love to read, travel and cook and am hoping to spend lots of time in the kitchen this winter really perfecting my bread making skills."

What do you see in the future for Gamma Phi Beta? "I see continued emphasis on chapter and individual excellence, more leadership training for collegians and bigger and better chapters!"

What would you like all collegiate chapters to achieve? "I would love to see each chapter pledge quota every year, initiate 100 percent of the pledge class, reach chapter total and stay there, and provide a meaningful Sorority experience for every member."

Why are you involved in Gamma Phi Beta? "The Sorority provides an opportunity to develop leadership qualities in a supportive atmosphere. I love working with college age women and feel fortunate to be able to watch them grow and mature during their years as undergraduates and later. Working with the Collegiate Consultants is a very gratifying part of my position."

Director of Finance
Leona Davis Drouet (S. Methodist)

Why are you involved in Gamma Phi Beta? "The ladies with whom I've worked have enriched my life, so I contribute my time as a means of sharing and continuing the guidance and training that my Sorority gave me. Gamma Phi Beta is so much more than a social group. It is a very special sisterhood with so many opportunities for all of us."

What is your most memorable Gamma Phi Beta experience? "After I was elected Director of Finance, the Baton Rouge area alumnae gave a luncheon in my honor at the Louisiana State University Faculty Club."

How do you manage your time? "I attempt to set priorities, organize and schedule as much as possible. I try to deal with matters as they occur so I handle them only once and won't procrastinate on the more difficult ones. I want to have everything finished and up-to-date and have to be reminded at times to leave my work and enjoy my renewers—tennis, plants and my greenhouse."

What do you see in the future for sororities and Gamma Phi Beta? "I see additional and expanded programs to assist sorority women in career and community activities. There is a need for more alumnae involvement on the international level and a larger office support staff due to the increasing number of women working full time."

What would you like Gamma Phi Betas to give to the Sorority? "I would like them to make a commitment to giving time to help improve the quality of the chapters, thereby improving the interrelationships between collegians and alumnae and overall quality of life, individually and for Gamma Phi Beta."

GRAND COUNCIL

National Panhellenic Conference Delegate

Janet Heft Wright (Wichita St.)

What is your most memorable Gamma Phi Beta experience? "I have worked with three chapters, organizing and executing rush week.

It was a lot of hard work but I think I had my faith in our sisterhood renewed a thousand times over. We all gained a great deal by being committed to the same goals and developing lasting friendships because we were Gamma Phi Beta sisters."

What do you see in the future for sororities and Gamma Phi Beta? "I see a very positive future but I think we must continue to strive to help our members reach their full potential and show those outside our system that we are a solid contributor to our young people's future. I do think some challenges lie ahead of us, but by being prepared for change and with the development of long range goals, we can continue to prosper."

What would you like all chapters to achieve? "I would like to see each chapter develop a program that would encourage pride in Gamma Phi Beta and the things it has to offer. I want each one of us to speak up proudly to let people know we are Gamma Phi Betas."

What are your other interests? "I am a member of the Wichita Junior League and am involved with our symphony orchestra. I enjoy playing tennis, gardening, working on our house and being involved in our children's school and activities."

How do you manage your time? "I have a calendar that goes everywhere with me and I am a constant list maker to remind me of what to do when. I also have a terrific husband who is there whenever I need him."

Executive Secretary-Treasurer Marjory Mills Shupert (Colorado St.)

Why are you involved in Gamma Phi Beta? "The people! Gamma Phi Betas are wonderful, talented, creative and thoughtful. They continue to amaze me and I am so proud to be a member."

What is your most memorable Gamma Phi Beta experience? "The mystic circle at my first Convention in 1980 was beautiful. I thought it was very moving to consider our circle is so great. It had never seemed so all encompassing to me before that time."

What do you see in the future for sororities and Gamma Phi Beta? "The support system is so tremendous that there will be continued growth in networking, an area in which we have only scratched the surface. For Gamma Phi Beta, I see an international headquarters of which we can all be proud."

What would you like chapters to achieve? "I see this on two levels. On one hand I would like both alumnae and collegians to reach out to extend the Gamma Phi Beta opportunity to many, many more women. Closer to home and my everyday involvement, I would like chapters to keep Central Office updated on officers and advisors so they can be reached the first time something is mailed to them."

What are your other interests? "Right now I am enjoying my first grandchild, Lindsay Kay, who is not only beautiful but a genius as well! I also needlepoint and am in the bell choir at church."

Randy Guerra and her family live in Aurora, Colo., a suburb of Denver.

Feature

SisterLink is Gamma Phi Beta's exciting new career networking program designed to assist members with their career goals. It has opportunities for participation by all Sorority members.

Introduced at the 1984 Convention, SisterLink began in 1983 with a pilot program in four collegiate and alumnae chapters. It was successful in providing members with information, advice and personal contacts. Now it is available to all Gamma Phi Beta chapters.

Let's take a look at how Gamma Phi Betas in various situations can participate in SisterLink.

Sally is a college senior at the University of Missouri majoring in journalism. She has been active in Alpha Delta Chapter and will soon graduate. She would like a position with a major metropolitan newspaper. She knows it's a competitive market, but she has good grades and has been a newspaper intern in her hometown. She's worried that her resume will get lost in the shuffle and wishes she had some personal contacts for advice.

SisterLink can help Sally get those contacts through the alumnae chapter SisterLink chairman who has a file of members' careers. Sally can contact the SisterLink chairmen in the cities she chooses to learn the names and addresses of Gamma Phi Betas in her field or who have newspaper contacts.

Laura and her husband were just transferred to Chicago from Des Moines. She's been teaching school, but isn't sure she wants to continue in that field. Her husband suggests that, with her skills, she might enjoy a training position in business. She wonders if her teaching skills will be valuable, how to sell her experience and where she should begin to find that kind of position.

Laura can turn to SisterLink to answer her questions, to learn how to translate her teaching skills into an effective resume for a training position, and for contacts in the Chicago area to begin her job search. First, she should contact the alumnae chapter's SisterLink chairman, who will know members employed in the training field and be able to suggest resources Laura can use to land a position.

Barbara and her husband, both Texas natives, have lived in Dallas all of their married life. They have two married sons and are thoroughly enjoying their grandchildren. She has been active in the alumnae chapter, the hospital auxiliary, committees on education and many other volunteer organizations over the years. Her husband has been a member and officer of various service organizations.

Recently, the alumnae chapter elected a SisterLink

Link

SisterLink program author Cam Cestone (Bowling Green) and Cheryl Perl (Northwestern), Epsilon Chapter's SisterLink chairman, attend a networking event for Epsilon and the Chicago Alumnae Chapter. Julie McConnel (Iowa), Christine Silk (UCLA) and Jennie Adams (William and Mary) also were SisterLink chairmen for their chapters during the pilot program.

chairman. Barbara filled out an information sheet listing a number of companies and career fields in which she, her husband and sons have friends and contacts. She indicated she'd be happy to talk with other Gamma Phi Betas looking for positions in those fields.

These three situations illustrate how SisterLink operates. Other questions to be answered are: What are the goals of the SisterLink program? How is SisterLink set up? How can a member volunteer to be a SisterLink contact? How does a chapter start a SisterLink program?

The goals of SisterLink include providing members with career information, programming and contacts; bringing alumnae and collegians together through shared goals and involvement; tapping alumnae talent and resources; being an attractive benefit of membership; and addressing future needs of members in areas such as career planning, reentry to the work world and other related topics.

SisterLink is set up in three parts. First, the network of volunteers throughout the country who will answer questions, give advice, make referrals and act as resources for other members. This network will also include a computer database, which will furnish contacts by location, by occupation, or both, and is to be in operation by 1986.

The second part is made up of alumnae and collegiate SisterLink chairmen. Those women will gather member information and resource material, as well as answer inquiries from other members. The Sorority will provide information and guidance for SisterLink chairmen.

The third part of SisterLink involves International Gamma Phi Beta and administrative support from Central Office. This will include forms, printouts, the computer database and other support materials as SisterLink evolves.

Any Gamma Phi Beta can volunteer to be a SisterLink contact. A member may submit information now, or wait to respond to the request that will be made next fall to set up the database. Any collegiate or alumnae chapter can start a SisterLink program using the packet that was sent to all chapters in the fall.

For more information or to volunteer (please send your name, address, occupation, office address, and the kinds of contacts you will accept, e.g. mail, phone, personal) contact Camille Cestone, 1120 N. LaSalle St. #12M, Chicago, IL 60610.

Gamma Phi Beta welcomes Alma College

Gamma Phi Beta is the first National Panhellenic Conference sorority to colonize and install a chapter at Alma College, Alma, Mich. Alpha Theta local sorority, founded in 1890 as a literary society, was pledged to Gamma Phi Beta in March, 1984. Epsilon Beta Chapter was installed September 22, 1984. There are three local sororities on campus.

Founded by Presbyterians in 1886, Alma College has a strong undergraduate curriculum with a 15:1 student-faculty ratio. It is regarded as one of the best small liberal arts colleges in the United States. Degrees offered are B.A., B.S., B.F.A., B.M. and B.S.W. Enrollment is 1,000 students.

Epsilon Beta Chapter members are active, involved campus leaders. They participate in marching band, choir, varsity athletics, cheerleading and other campus organizations, and are resident assistants. This year's Panhellenic president is a Gamma Phi Beta.

The chapter is the largest on campus and ranks first in scholarship. Campus activities include Greek Week, Songfest (1984 winner) and a fundraising dance for a local hospital. For 10 years, the chapter has supported an underprivileged foreign child, and, locally, the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program.

Installation weekend began with a Friday evening reception in the Van Dusen Campus Center. It was attended by colony members, local alumnae, alumna initiate candidates and international officers. The Saturday afternoon initiation ceremony was conducted by Delta Omega Chapter, Oakland University, Rochester, Mich. in the College Chapel.

That evening, Gamma Phi Betas celebrated their initiation at the installation banquet in the Van Dusen Campus Center. Prime rib and ice cream sundaes were served. Guests in attendance were parents of the initiates, alumnae, friends and Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Remick. Dr. Remick is president of Alma College, and spoke on the role of Gamma Phi Beta at Alma, emphasizing "excellence with relevance."

Gifts presented to Epsilon Beta were a silver punch-bowl and ladle from the Sorority; a silver platter from Province IV; and the president's badge from Kathy Calahan (Indiana St.), Alma College assistant dean of students and Panhellenic advisor, and Epsilon Beta financial advisor. Other gifts were a president's badge guard from Province IV alumnae chapters; a brass candlestick from Delta Omega; a silver bowl from Dr. and Mrs. Remick; and a silver baby rattle from Joanne Shafer, Epsilon Beta Extension Supervisor.

Grand President Ann Mullen Bronsing presented the Epsilon Beta charter to Linda Wardhammar, chapter president. Mid-Michigan Alumnae Chapter president Marsha McCollum Schumacher (Oklahoma St.) received that chapter's charter from Jolene Lessard Stiver, Province IV Alumnae Director. The evening's events closed with Epsilon Beta Chapter members singing "Qui peut faire," the song with which they won Songfest.

Charter members are Jane Acton, Lori Audrain, Amy Barr, Leslie Bauman, Johanna Berry, Phoebe Bibbee, Louise Booker, Deb Burzyck, Carrie Churchill, Martha Davis, Theresa Dean, Karen Dembny, Phyllis Ellis, Missy Entner, Andi Eskelinin, Tammy Feenstra, Kristie Ford, Linda Funk, Tara Hardy, Aj Heindel, Jeanie Herzog, Julie Hubbard, Sue Jansen Larner, Cindy Johnson, Margot Kinnear, Mary Beth Knapp, Deb McGuire, Patty Mitchell, Kim Niemeyer, Linda Parmeter, Cindy Paullin, Cindy Pierce, Donette Richardson, Zabrina Santiago, Carolyn Schultz, Kim Seelye, Mary Stoll, Laurie Swanson, Barb Taylor, Tammy Taylor, Theresa Terry, Michelle Teska, Kathy Topping, Linda Wardhammar, Pam Wilson, Martha Woodruff and Tracie Young.

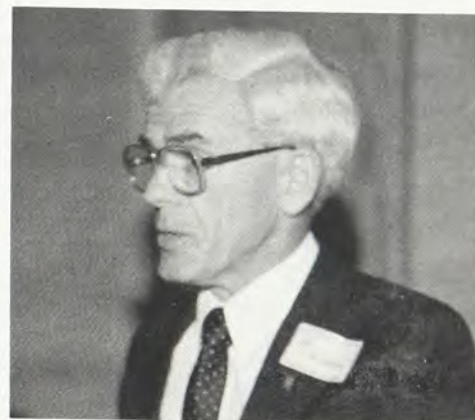

Epsilon Beta Chapter members were initiated on campus September 22, 1984.

Alumna initiates of Epsilon Beta Chapter are Dorene Lewis, Diane Veldheer, Rose Peck, Shirley Hopper, Chris Stewart and Beth Harvey.

International officers who attended the Epsilon Beta installation are Ritual Chairman Audrey Weldon Shafer (Missouri), Province IV Collegiate Director Susan Smith (Indiana St.), Province IV Alumnae Director Jolene Lessard Stiver (N. Dakota St.), Director of Extension Karen Wander Kline (Iowa St.), Grand President Ann Mullen Bronsing (Indiana St.) and Field Director Betty Ahlemeyer Quick (Indiana).

Extension Supervisor Joanne Shafer presents a silver baby rattle to Linda Wardhammar, Epsilon Beta president.

Dale Lawson is Teacher of the Year

Dale Green Lawson (Colorado St.), named Michigan Home Economics Teacher of the Year, participated in the Curriculum Showcase at the American Home Economics Association annual conference. She was one of 10 finalists considered for the national Teacher of the Year title and was recognized for her "outstanding and innovative" work with the What's Happening class, a ninth grade home Economics course. The course is used in Rochester, Mich. junior high schools.

The major thrust of the What's Happening course is to give students a life long value for time invested in class. During the year students manage a children's playschool; learn about choosing clothes, makeup, hair care and style; produce a fashion show; plan and host a brunch; watch a guest chef cook, create crafts for a craft show; design and make original clothing; construct a miniature room; move into the marketplace as researchers; and plan and host a party.

Work skills, both necessary and valuable on the job, are integrated into the daily classwork. Students learn to manage time, meet deadlines, follow directions, organize and complete an activity. Evaluation is a continuing part of the program and students write their recommendations for future classes. Designed to be the young teen connection to the outside world, this classroom without walls hosts guests professionals from the community who share expertise and information about careers.

Before returning to teaching seven years ago, Dale was a feature writer and fashion editor, department store fashion coordinator, public relations director and teacher in high school completion and adult education programs.

An active volunteer in many community organizations and her church, Dale designed costumes for an Oakland University dance troupe for several years. She is a member of the new Rochester Alumnae Chapter.

Jellybean clowns

Remember when you were a child and went to the carnival or a parade? The big hit was always the carefree, amusing clowns with their painted smiles, loud honking horns and colorful costumes. University of Western Ontario Gamma Phi Betas had that same feeling when Kathy Harrell, alias Jellybean The Clown, went into action.

Kathy started clowning in high school when she and a friend set up their own company, Smiles, Inc. They performed at birthday, Halloween and school parties and Jellybean was always a success because of her clowning talents and bubbly personality.

Kathy learned magic tricks from a close friend who is a professional magician. When Jellybean gets out her basket of playing cards, straws and flowers, the audience is in for a good show. Besides magic, Jelly-bean entertains the crowds with her talent for juggling. Pins, scarves, tennis balls and fruit are all a part of the show.

Kathy entertained her Alpha Omega sisters, although not intentionally, when she was learning to ride a unicycle. She had a regular workout after dinner when "click, click, click, crash!" was heard over and over again. Persistence paid off and Kathy now rides the bike well.

Kathy has performed at many charity events at orphanages, hospitals and the Special Olympics. And, of course, she has entertained at Gamma Phi Beta parties.

Kathy is a Gamma Phi Beta Collegiate Consultant, visiting chapters during the 1984-85 school year. Jellybean will be traveling with her and could surely be convinced to perform now and again.

'The Race' is a winner

Ginger Kathrens (Bowling Green) won the Bronze Award in the Houston International Film Festival for her dramatic screenplay, "The Race." The feature film script was singled out for creative excellence from a field of more than 80 entries.

"The Race" is a political thriller set against the backdrop of the exciting Pikes Peak Marathon. Colorado's charismatic Governor David Barnett is running for his political life and to pull a political victory from the jaws of defeat, he enters the grueling 26.2 mile marathon run up and down Pikes Peak. His media consultant believes TV commercials shot during the race can turn the campaign around, but a killer stalks the high country, bent on destroying the controversial politician.

Ginger's experiences as a political media consultant and director and writer of sports documentaries combine to give "The Race" a quality of chilling realism.

Ginger is president and founder of Taurus Productions, a 12 year old company which recently purchased new facilities in Colorado Springs. "Taurus produced a documentary film for TV in 1981 called 'The Ultimate Challenge—The Running of the Pikes Peak Marathon,'" said Ginger. "From the moment I saw how isolated the runners are on that trail in a wilderness environment, I thought, 'what a perfect place for a murder.'"

What kind of future does her award winning script have of being produced? "It's tough to sell a script if you don't live in Los Angeles and aren't related to the studio heads. Tough, but hopefully not impossible," she said.

A cum laude graduate of Bowling Green, Ginger holds a master's degree in mass communications from Florida State and was listed in Who's Who. She was selected an Outstanding Business Leader of Colorado and an Outstanding Young Woman of America.

Betty Bulkeley returns to acting

For more than 50 years, Betty Bichler Bulkeley (Missouri) has been performing with local theater groups. She confesses that as a child she always wanted to be an actress and, at the age of "over 65," she again is seeing her dream come true.

In 1934, after she completed her bachelor's degree in education, she appeared in "The Devil Passes." The next year she was in "The Road to Rome" and wore several creations designed for Claudette Colbert for "Cleopatra."

After a period devoted to a business career, marriage and motherhood, she wrote, produced and directed a 1952 Founders Day skit that triggered her return to the theater. Daughter Priscilla Bulkeley Tudor (Kansas) sat in on rehearsals.

Betty's "comeback" role in 1953 was that of Sylvia in the delightfully wild rendition of "The Women." This play also marked Priscilla's debut. She played alongside her mother as a child of the central characters.

That experience led to their association with the Barn Players. Betty appeared in 12 plays in three years.

Again, she went into retirement and acquired a master's degree in library science. "Returning to school after 31 years was an intimidating experience," Betty said. For the next 12 years she was a junior and senior high school librarian.

It was after retirement from the library that Betty became a member of the Senior Acting Program, which is affiliated with the Barn Players. The troupe performs one act plays for various organizations in the Greater Kansas City area. Now in its sixth year, the troupe has averaged 100 performances to more than 7,000 people each year.

Betty has found the program to be a challenging and rewarding outlet for her talents. One play she has appeared in, "Save Me a Place at Forest Lawn," is about two long time friends who engage in a hilarious discussions of life after death, mutual trust, the infidelity of one with the other's husband and forgiveness.

As a result of her appearances with the troupe, Betty was offered a part in a children's theater production. She said it was an exceptional theatrical experience, not only because of the creative talent of those involved, but also because it marked the first time she was paid for acting. —Nancy Hansen Jones (Kansas)

ALUMNAE

Eta Chapter's (University of California) 90th birthday was celebrated at a luncheon at the Concord Hilton. More than 200 collegians and alumnae attended, six of whom were from the class of 1920. Mrs. Phyllis Casburn, Eta Chapter housemother for 15 years, was the honored guest. Eta collegians put together a slide show for the event, and recognized several outstanding alumnae. A lovely 90 year Eta Chapter history book was compiled by Barbara Watts Lasell and edited by Mary Sperry Frederick.

The Philadelphia West Suburban Alumnae Chapter is celebrating the 50th anniversary of its founding this year with an exciting and varied program of monthly dinner and dessert meetings. Included are a Chinese dinner and Bette Agnew Alburger's presentation of slides of her trip to China, Founders Day banquet, annual Christmas dinner and ornament exchange, a Super Bowl party with husbands and friends, and the monthly bridge marathon. A 50th anniversary banquet will be held in June. Gamma Phi Betas new to the western suburbs of Philadelphia are invited to call Margaret Rogers at 215-688-9425.

Denver got off to a fast start for the year with their annual Art Auction in early October. This year's auction benefitted the American Diabetes Association, autistic children and Denver Girls. Denver has its own needlework guild, as well as a couples bridge group. Last spring, alumnae had an ice cream social. While everyone ate homemade ice cream and pie, $600 was raised by auctioning condo weekends.

Divided into two groups, evening and daytime, Houston had a busy fall learning about the latest look in cosmetics and casual clothes. The chapter participates in Panhellenic's Sorority Sampler by selling baked goods, monkey bread, Mexican seasoning and sauce, home canned pickles, and spiced tex mix attractively packaged. Mary Jane Carothers McDaniel (Texas) is president of Houston Panhellenic.

The wildlife of the Galapagos Islands was the subject of Northern Virginia's first fall meeting. Edie

Washington, D.C. Alumnae Chapter 50 year members are Evelyn Gooding Dippell (Illinois), Ruth Folwell Studley (Iowa), Aimee Brown Williams (Minnesota), Florence Barrett Lehman (Boston) and Barbara Briggs Payne (Wisconsin).

New York City alumnae celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Brooklyn Bridge are Mary Ann Baiyor, Tracy Tiffen, Sarah Bachman, Dorothy Dunkle, Julie Bertsch, Anne Hartje, Maggie McQuown (standing) Vanessa Valot and Henrietta Barnes.

Dorothy Henry Phillips (Oklahoma) and Florence Whyte Parsons (Illinois) are the newest 50 year members in the Dallas Alumnae Chapter.

Joyce Chesier (left), wife of the president of Southern Technical Institute, visits with Honora Warren Wimer (Denver), Atlanta Alumnae Chapter president. Mrs. Chesier encouraged Gamma Phi Beta's extension to the campus in 1980.

McChesney Ker (William and Mary), who has lived in Africa, showed magnificent slides of sea lions, pelicans, albatross, marine and land iguanas, nesting frigate birds and all sorts of other things from this "enchanted" island. The chapter toured historic Occuquan, Va. and helped a local Bloomingdale's branch with inventory, earning $919.66. A successful summer crab feast was held with area collegians. Andrea Woolard (Northwestern) is serving as Northern Virginia Panhellenic president.

A telephone survey got Albuquerque started out on the right track this year. The chapter had a musical program in September and went to Gran Quivera in October.

Kansas City was counting down to its September Antiques and Arts Show. This was the 24th annual. For their September meeting, they had speakers from several of the charities the show benefits, notably the Kansas City Eye Bank, Kansas City Love Fund for Children and the Harvesters Association of Kansas City.

The Spokane Alumnae Chapter has four Saturday luncheons each year with extra events scheduled separately. A plaque was presented to Beta Sigma Chapter at Washington State to be awarded each year to the pledge whose grades have improved the most between midterm and year's end. More revenue has been raised through No Bake Bake Sales, No Rummage Rummage Sales and No Garage Garage Sales than was ever made when they had actual sales, according to Marjorie Biswell Watson (Oregon).

Balboa Harbor alumnae chose two deserving seniors from Delta Eta Chapter at the University of California-Irvine to receive the Balboa Crescent Awards of $500 each. They are Tammy Hartley and Nancy Preston. The awards were presented at a luncheon honoring graduating seniors. The scholarship amount was increased to $1,000 this year due to the success of the chapter's annual nut sale.

Hawaii alumnae celebrate Founders Day on Waikiki Beach. Each year the chapter uses flowers and greenery in the shape of a crescent for the traditional ceremony.

ΓΦΒ thrives in Hawaii

The only alumnae chapter off the mainland is Hawaii, chartered in 1938. Hawaii is a unique state; the Hawaii Alumnae Chapter is a unique chapter. Still a territory only 25 years ago, Hawaii is a fascinating melting pot of East and West and the chapter reflects that.

Like most alumnae chapters, Hawaii elects officers, sponsors camperships and participates in other philanthropies, and is active in Panhellenic. But there have been some adaptations such as the Founders Day ceremony which is usually somewhat informal, in keeping with the ways of the islands. Held at the Hale Koa Hotel on Waikiki Beach in the Semi-outdoor lanai dining room, the Founders Day crescent is an original, designed by Ann Sasaki Furukido (Colorado College) and made of fresh Hawaiian greenery. In deference to the trade winds, the chapter does not light candles. Instead, a vanda orchid is placed in the crescent for each chapter represented. Pink carnations are inserted as the Founders' roles are read, and the crescent becomes a lovely and unique arrangement.

The chapter's first camperships were awarded to 11 girls in 1940 for a local camp. Alumnae have continued awarding camperships, have assisted counselors in training with room and board grants, and have made annual cash donations to Camp Sechelt. They also sponsor a scholarship program for women attending the University of Hawaii, Hawaii Loa College and Kapiolani Community College.

Among the 13 Golden Crescent recipients are three charter members. They are Betty Boone Lowson (Stanford), Beatrice Nicole Savage (Wisconsin) and Jean Loring Pearse (Arizona), who was recently named Panhellenic Woman of the Year.

"We are proud of our outstanding membership of accomplished, versatile women who are interested not only in betterment of themselves as individuals, but in the betterment of their fellow men in all walks of life," reported Mary Graham Connelly (UCLA). "Our backgrounds vary, but in our corner of the world we have far reaching opportunities for development. No matter where in the world a Gamma Phi Beta goes, she will make her place, adjust and become her own woman."

BOOKS

Activity cookbook features seasonal treats for children

Jackie Jundt (Wash.—St. Louis) turned her natural organizational skills, innate common sense, love for young children, and mathematical and culinary ability into a wonderful activity cookbook for children aged three to eight.

She claims the book, Cooking Up Learning, was "just a happening." While studying for her masters degree she used a recipe to demonstrate math to children, and a friend, Lucy Rumpf, suggested a collaboration. "I'll do the printing and art work," Lucy said, and Jackie found herself in the book writing, publishing and distribution business. So far, with only word of mouth promotion, the book has sold in every state, including Alaska and Hawaii, as well as several countries overseas. She is looking for a national distributor.

Cooking Up Learning is charming. It is keyed to seasonal favorites, is artistically eye-catching with hand lettering instead of the usual printing, and gives recommendations for additional reading, special projects and field trips. Recipes and activities for young children prove that "cooking is an exciting and pleasant sensory experience and provide avenues for the development of concepts in mathematics, language, science and social studies."

For fall Jackie suggests Jack O'Lantern Cookies, made with graham crackers, orange frosting and raisins for faces. Simple! And the accompanying reading list is a potpourri of Halloween hauntings that children love. Pumpkin bread is a little more complicated, but ingredients are carefully counted, illustrated and numbered as many times as necessary to show quantity by individual cupfuls or spoonfuls. As all Jackie's recipes, it can be done on a one-on-one basis or in a group.

A field trip to accompany pumpkin bread is an expedition to a pumpkin farm. Math projects using the pumpkin involve weighing and measuring it and making geometric shapes for its facial features. For science projects, try planting pumpkin seeds in a flower pot and watching them grow, or, after Halloween, let your Jack O'Lantern grow old and moldy. Examine the mold under a magnifying glass.

The other seasons are just as enticing. A winter science project coordinated with Snow Crackers is checking on a plastic bowl full of water that has been placed outside.

Look at it at intervals. After it has frozen, have children bring it inside and watch what happens and why. The saltine crackers frosted with a combination of beaten egg whites, vanilla and sugar are broiled until golden and can be eaten while children are introduced to four books about snow.

Jackie had spent 17 years in early childhood education at the time the book was written, teaching three year olds through fourth grades. She also headed the Ronald Beasley School. During her experience she found that children need to have total development, i.e. not favoring the right or left side of the brain. The book's activities are geared for that kind of full development. Cooking helps children become well organized and following a recipe requires planning ahead and working step-by-step, Jackie said. The result is a goodie to eat.

Since the book's publication, Jackie has left education to work as office manager for a law firm with 170 attorneys. "Education is too political," she said. "I would only go back to it by starting my own school that would be private for students aged three through sixth grade with no board of directors." In the meantime she is working on a new project, a book for retarded people.

For more information or to order Cooking Up Learning which sells for $6, contact Jackie Jundt at 2340 St. Clair Ave., St. Louis, MO 63144.

Strategy for CBEST

Prospective teachers in California cower before the rigorous requirements of the California Basic Educational Skills Test (CBEST), so Elna Magnusson Dimock (Idaho) has written a concise instructional guide to help them prepare their students. Pass the CBEST is a fact filled 150 page volume with three complete practice tests similar in content, length and degree of difficulty to the actual CBEST, along with reviews and explanations of answers.

'Strategy' is a word that appears often, and the section on test taking techniques spells out the way to arrive at logical answers. Scoring and evaluation sheets show the student where improvement is needed.

Elna thinks the most comforting section of the book explains what to expect on the fateful test day and presents a timetable of preparatory steps to meet the challenge calmly and in complete control.

An educational consultant, Elna credits her Gamma Phi Beta experience as Director of Expansion (1972-76) and Province Collegiate Director before that for preparing her for her work. "I visited and evaluated numerous campuses throughout the country, and I can tell students about these schools with more authority than I would otherwise," she said.

Elna conducts classes and individual consultations to help students choose careers, apply to colleges and prepare for SAT and GRE tests, as well as the CBEST. Her book is an attempt to reach students who are not enrolled in such classes, as well as provide a usable manual for CBEST classes in teachers' colleges. Information about Pass the CBEST is available from Educational Development, 83 E. Shaw Ave., Ste. 250, Fresno, CA 93710.

Early one morning on the University of California campus, Gamma Phi Betas kidnapped their favorite fraternity men for breakfast at the house. Ransom notes were left at each fraternity house. The chapter also had a father-daughter dinner dance with a jazz band and a mother-daughter weekend. The latter included a picnic, modern dance performance, movie and brunch. Mothers were given "Gamma Phi Beta Mom" mugs.

Sisters at Kansas State invited their little sisters to visit for Legacy Weekend and mothers enjoyed Mom's Weekend, held during University Open House with special events on campus. Philanthropic projects included assisting the Red Cross with its blood drive and taking children to the zoo for a picnic. The chapter sponsored a dance-athon fundraiser.

Beta Chapter at the University of Michigan had a ski trip, and visited sisters at the University of Western Ontario. Little Siblings Weekend was a great success, as was the annual Hawaiian party.

Bradley and Illinois State Gamma Phi Betas got together for a hayride exchange. The chapters met halfway between the universities. After the hayride, members of both chapters sat around a bonfire roasting hot dogs and sharing Gamma Phi Beta songs and stories.

Washington State Gamma Phi Betas held a golf tournament and raised $100 for Camp Sechelt. Fraternities competed in teams of four with a combined score determining the winners.

University of Illinois sisters have a new pledge study program. Every time a pledge receives an "A" on a test, paper or project, she earns a "scoop" of ice cream. When four scoops have accumulated, her study buddy takes her out for a treat. The chapter finds this to be a good incentive for pledges and a great way for study buddies and pledges to get to know each other better.

Gamma Mu Chapter at Moorhead State celebrated its 20th anniversary with an open house, brunch, banquet and dance. Philanthropic projects for the year included a fundraiser for Camp Sechelt and a Christmas food drive.

Gamma Phi Betas at North Dakota State sold bags of candy for Halloween. Buyers attached secret messages and chapter members delivered the treats. The chapter also sold stuffed animals for Christmas gifts and fruit. Keeping in touch is another project for Alpha Omicron, which now sends a quarterly newsletter to its alumnae.

Inspiration Week activities at San Jose State included dinner and movies with alumnae, a Super Bowl party and a green eggs and ham breakfast. The chapter participated in Sigma Nu's fundraiser, a swing-athon for its philanthropy.

San Diego State sisters hosted a fashion show and competition with fraternity members modeling sportswear, formal attire and business dress. Held at a local restaurant with campus Greeks in attendance, the models were judged by professors and athletes. Proceeds are donated to the chapter's philanthropy.

Big sisters at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee were revealed in a Gamma Phi Beta circle. Members formed a circle and sang while each pledge walked around the circle holding a candle. When the pledge walked by her big sister, the big sister blew out the candle.

A new and larger suite with new furniture created much excitement for Beta Epsilon Chapter at Miami. Chapter events are a luau party and a tennis tournament fundraiser.

Alpha Upsilon Chapter at Penn State launched a new fundraiser, the dating game, and raised $600. The event was open to all Greeks and contestants were awarded prizes.

University of California-Santa Barbara sisters baked and delivered cookies and sang carols for the residents of Friendship Manor. The chapter also has been collecting aluminum cans to help the Home's Garden Club raise funds for seeds, tools and supplies.

Big surprises for California State-Fullerton sisters were pillows and stuffed animals. Members presented handmade pillows to pledges and pledges gave stuffed animals to their big sisters. Pledges provided clues to the chapter's Christmas party and upon arrival, dressed their big sisters as Santa's helpers.

Delta Omega Chapter set up an information table at Oakland University's Student Organizations Day to acquaint students with Gamma Phi Beta. To get better acquainted with alumnae, the chapter had two luncheon retreats.

Adopt-a-Grandparent is a new project for Washington-St. Louis sisters. The chapter adopted two grandparents through the Maplewood Senior Citizen Center and keeps in touch with them through letters and visits.

Delta Kappa Chapter at Lehigh sponsors a Girl Scout troop for 25 underprivileged children. During football games, chapter members sell corsages to raise funds for Camp Sechelt.

She initiated a series of alumnae-collegiate socials and workshops to get things moving, and held a major fundraiser so the group could award scholarships. Greek Pride Day honored the achievements of sororities and selected sorority women, in an effort to increase visibility. "She'll be a hard act to follow," remarked one delegate.

Captain Grace Q. Washburn (Colorado) was one of only five women officers selected for Air Staff training during fiscal year 1985. She will spend one year at the Pentagon for the special training. One of only 75 Air Force officers selected, Grace was the only one from Air Force Space Command, Colorado Springs.

Linda Liston Darnaby (Missouri) was elected president of Young Matrons of Kansas City.

Pam Macpherson Brouder's (Gettysburg) wedding looked like a Gamma Phi Beta Convention. Three of her attendants were Gettysburg Gamma Phi Betas and many other Gettysburg sisters were in attendance. Also around for the occasion were Margaret Gage Lamont (Michigan), Leila Anderson Mahan (Michigan), Tenna Head Pomper (Rollins) and Shirley Gordon Hansen (Ohio Wesleyan). "Pam grew up knowing all these people and naturally they shared my joy when she joined Gamma Phi Beta," Kathryn said. None of us realized then how exciting it would be when we all came together for the joyous occasion of Pam's wedding—Pam's friends, my friends, our friends—all sisters in Gamma Phi Beta."

Initiation was extra special for Jocelyn Clark (Illinois) as her grandmother, Martha McCammon Clark (Illinois) was in attendance. Mrs. Clark was initiated in 1914 as an Omicron Chapter charter member. Other Clark family Gamma Phi Betas are daughters Janice Clark Impey and Kathy Clark Allen, and daughter-in-law Beverly Bebb Clark (all Illinois).

Latane has been active in the Guild for 15 years, serving most recently as president. Professionally, she has 30 years of real estate experience and was named a multi-million dollar producer. Latane is also a broker associate, a certified senior appraiser and has taught real estate courses. Billie Jean Allen Ward (Oklahoma St.) was elected district governor of Altrusa International. The international organization supports education for women, and has as its members executive and business women in a cross section of careers. Billie Jean is office manager of the Animal Husbandry College at Oklahoma State. She served as secretary of the Beta Psi House Corporation Board for three years.

Three Northwestern University Gamma Phi Betas are enrolled in the honors program in medical education. Michelle Edelman, Jill Lindstrom and Neelo Rahman will complete the usual eight year course of study in six years. The first two years are spent in accelerated study on campus, with four additional years at the university's medical school. Undergraduate degrees are granted after the first two years of medical school.

the Athens, Ga. Regional Attention Home. The Home offers a positive alternative to adolescent girls needing temporary emergency shelter during times of family crisis. Martha is responsible for the overall direction, leadership and coordination of the Home's operations and activities. She has an M.A. from the University of Georgia and credit toward a Ph.D. in management. Martha is alumna advisor for Delta Upsilon Chapter at the University of Georgia and was the only alumna in 1984 to be initiated into Order of Omega Greek Leadership Honorary.

Among several Gamma Phi Betas running for public office last fall was Michele Edwards Golden (W. Virginia), Republican nominee for West Virginia secretary of state. Michele spent three summers after graduation in Cannes and Paris studying pipe organ and performing with world renowned organists and composers. She was organist at Notre Dame des Pinnes and played Langlais works on his great organ at the Cathedral St. Clothilde in Paris. Michele went on to earn an M.A. from Carnegie Mellon in fine arts organ performance. She now teaches piano privately, and has been treasurer of the county Republican executive committee. Michele was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Dallas and attended a White House luncheon with President Ronald Reagan and Vice President George Bush.

South Orange County, Cal. Alumnae Chapter treasurer Sue Goode "found" "lost" friends Mike and Sheila Ranta Hoyles, Balboa Harbor, Cal. Alumnae Chapter president. They had "found" each other years ago in Wisconsin when each couple was newly married. Living in the same apartment house, one day Sue's CRESCENT was mistakenly delivered to Sheila's mailbox. Sheila delivered the issue and the friendship grew. They had "lost" each other over the years and now have renewed their friendship.

At the University of Illinois, Sue Farrell is a health advocate for the campus' McKinley Hospital and a member of the McKinley Health Center board. She will study in Vienna spring semester. Diane Meyer is a reporter and copy editor for the Daily Illini. A member of Volunteer Illini Projects, she serves that organization as an English tutor and soccer coach.

Eta Scholarship

A bequest by the late Ellender Wills Dickson has made it possible for all members of Eta Chapter in good standing to apply for a scholarship for either graduate or undergraduate study.

Mrs. Dickson was a graduate of the University of California and was the first woman to graduate from Harvard Business School. She resided in San Diego, Cal. and was a member of the San Diego Alumnae Chapter.

Applicants will be judged on merit, academic record, activities and financial need. The scholarship covers tuition, room and board costs for one year.

A committee of Eta Chapter members in good standing will administer the scholarship. Three Eta Chapter members who have been graduated at least 15 years, three members who have graduated within the last 15 years, one alternate and one member of the University of California, Berkeley faculty will be the elected directors.

The committee hopes to award the first scholarship for the 1985-86 academic year. For further information and an application contact President, Board of Directors, Eta of Gamma Phi Beta Scholarship Fund, 2732 Channing Way, Berkeley, CA 94704. Please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope with inquiries.

Reagan Honored

President Ronald Reagan, a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, received awards from the National Interfraternity Conference and his fraternity. Presented at a White House luncheon, President Reagan was awarded the National Interfraternity Conference Gold Medal and the Tau Kappa Epsilon Order of the Golden Eagle.

"Tau Kappa Epsilon has been an important part of my life since my initiation in 1929," said President Reagan. "College fraternities are an important ingredient in higher education. Fraternities place an emphasis on scholarship, leadership and service to alma mater and community. Fraternities strive for the ideal and work for the common good."

Suzy Kellems (USC) recently set a University of Southern California record in women's gymnastics. She won the all-around with a score of 38.00 out of a possible 40.00.

Two presidents live in the same room of the Gamma Eta Chapter house at California State-Long Beach. Kendra Gates is chapter president and Lorene Morgan is Panhellenic president. They both believe in Gamma Phi Beta's ideal of striving to promote the highest type of womanhood. As Kendra said, "Gamma Phi Beta has definitely been more than a sorority to me. It has been an opportunity to improve my relations with others, my leadership potential and let me grow as a woman through knowing and working with other Gamma Phi Beta sisters." Lorene agreed and added, "Gamma Phi Beta really is a great opportunity. I would never trade it for anything, especially this past year with both of us serving as presidents. It has been a special and unique experience, one which we can both share, learn and grow from."

ΓΦΒ celebrates the Olympics

More than 150 Gamma Phi Betas, many with husbands and escorts, enthusiastically gathered in Helen White Findlater's (UCLA) lovely Brentwood garden to celebrate the opening of the XXIII Olympiad, due to begin the next day.

Guests enjoyed a delicious cornucopia of summer fruits and cheeses, along with an international variety of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres. There was an opportunity to view two slide shows on past Olympics, to bid on several selected Olympic posters and to meet southern California Gamma Phi Betas. A torch used in the relay through Los Angeles was there for all to admire, with its leather handle and engraved brass head.

The balmy evening seemed to compliment the garden which was dressed in the bright hues of "festive federalism," the name given to the color scheme of the Los Angeles Olympics. Among those attending were UCLA collegians who acted as hostesses and at least two sisters in their eighties. And, as a portent of things to come, the Olympic spirit was passed from sister to sister.

Each guest was given an Olympic poem written by Judith Flint Detamore (UCLA) and had the opportunity to take the Olympic flame home on a candle.

Collegians bearing the Olympic torch welcome visitors to Los Angeles.

Julie Kral and Rhonda Mehlman visit Notre Dame in Paris. The University of California students spent a year abroad, Julie studying in England and Rhonda in Paris.

Four Gamma Phi Beta PACE packets are now available to alumnae chapters.

The packets, Alcohol: A Responsible Approach, Anorexia Nervosa/Bulimia: Becoming Aware of Eating Disorders, Etiquette: Basic Manners for Business and Social Occasions and International Gamma Phi Beta: Services Available for Members, can be used to plan and structure PACE programs.

Each one has instructions for use, programming ideas, a list of resources and extensive bibliographies. Any or all of the packets may be ordered by writing Gamma Phi Beta Central Office, 7395 E. Orchard Rd., Ste. 200, Englewood, CO 80111.

Volunteers Cash In

Volunteer work has "paid off" for many Gamma Phi Betas with responsible, challenging positions in the work force, and several women have related their backgrounds and experiences.

Lucia Long Causey (Arizona) used her United Way experience to move from volunteer to professional in the same agency. Now assistant director of the Volunteer Bureau of Maricopa County in Phoenix, she trains coordinators of volunteers and gives pep talks to local groups about the benefits of volunteering. She claims her years of experience in Sunday school, Girl and Boy Scouts, American Red Cross, Gamma Phi Beta alumnae groups, Panhellenic and American Association of University Women gave her the leadership skills as well as contacts to be a successful trainer.

Lucia, a retired Army wife, says a secondary by-product of all her volunteer work is "in this mobile society belonging to a group and helping others brings some stability and meaning into one's life."

Verona Dilbeck Lynam (Oklahoma City) is another military wife who used her 28 years in Officers Wives Club, Scouting, 10 years as a Red Cross volunteer and four years as volunteer coordinator for the Easter Seal Telethon in New Mexico to find a paying position. She directed activities of the Mid-Rio Grande Chapter of the American Red Cross and recently became field service manager for central and southern California, working with 25 Red Cross chapters around Fort Ord, Cal. This is a totally new program that she is developing.

Her friend, Jo Anne Anderson Abbott (N. Dakota St.), wrote that Verona was given Red Cross financial assistance to study for her master's degree, which Verona credits as helping her land her California job.

Jo Anne herself has turned volunteering into a paid job. "For years I have helped in the church office and now share a secretarial position with another woman, each working 20 hours per week and all I want."

Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae PACE Chairman Betty

Kurkjian (San Diego St.) is a learning skills specialist who saw her consulting business grow like topsy right off her kitchen table into one-half of her guest room and "as business continues to grow, I can see the demise of the guest room altogether." She credits her experience in Gamma Phi Beta as an asset in five areas: learning the needs of current college students through work as a chapter advisor; plenty of public speaking and organizing experience while chapter president; many contacts through work in Gamma Phi Beta and Panhellenic; excellent programs offered through her alumnae group and at Area Leadership Conferences and Conventions; and many good wishes and moral support.

Specifically her job is the design and presentation of professional level training in various aspects of time management, listening skills and study/learning efficiency (reading, notetaking, listening to lectures, planning study time, preparing for and taking tests). She markets her services through junior college community services departments, community organizations, business and industry. Clients come from all areas, especially college preparatory students, college students, reentry adults, community volunteers, managers and educators.

All of this grew out of her volunteer work as a tutor at the Learning Assistance Center at California State-Long Beach, whose director recognized her talent and offered her the opportunity to complete an internship "usually reserved for college learning center personnel sent by their educational institutions for unique training that is available nowhere else in the country."

Her advice to those considering establishing their own consulting business: "Go for it! It is perfect for those who want to be in charge of their own work time. Family is easily accommodated this way."

Barbara Trites Levy (Nebraska) says the privilege of serving as Province XI Collegiate Director gave her a vehicle for travel, meeting new people and growing in a very personal way. Her strongest influence was the motto that emerged from the Kansas City Convention, "People Support What They Help Create." She uses her goal setting skills to rear her two sons and in a small ing the past week. The concluding 10 minutes are spent in validating each other's growth as a mother, wife and career woman.

Barbara's career took off at about the same time. Although her resume shows active professional roles as teacher and classroom coordinator, her life took a new turn when she became a realtor. Most recently she has been a commercial real estate agent dealing in land for site selection and in the sale and leases of investment properties.

Her list of volunteer projects is impressive. As Province Collegiate Director she introduced time management concepts to her chapters and provided leadership training, increasing chapter membership by 40 percent in one chapter. She has been a member of Salt Lake City Junior League and worked for the Utah Heritage Foundation where she was Guild founder and developed board guidelines and an evaluation manual. She has also been active in the Utah Museum of Fine Arts, the Salt Lake Jaycee Auxiliary, Ballet Guild, Children's Center, Salt Lake Art Center and public school system.

The theme underlying the success stories of all these women seems to be that a career is out there if one wants it and a volunteer job can pay off by instilling the organizational, public speaking and leadership skills valid in any endeavor. As Barbara Levy wrote, "I would encourage each of you to take risk and try a new experience."

An Opportunity

Sisterhood spans 70 years

Helen Johns was initiated February 13, 1914 at the University of Oregon, and was Nu Chapter president in 1917. Her sister, Mary, was also a Gamma Phi Beta.

A niece by marriage, Marilyn Murphy Johns (Oregon St.), is a close friend of Maggie Parsons who pledged Gamma Phi Beta at the University of California in 1983. Miss Johns wanted someone special to wear her Gamma Phi Beta badge and Marilyn felt that Maggie was the right person. Initiated January 27, 1984, Maggie proudly wears Miss Johns' badge.

Ed. Note: A Gamma Phi Beta who wishes to wear the badge of another member, instead of purchasing her own, must first request and receive permission from Central Office before initiation.

Gamma Phi Beta in 1914 and 1984 was the topic of conversation when Helen Johns and Maggie Parsons met last summer.
