Today's Children Are Tomorrow's Leaders—

Camping Makes A Difference

By Stephanie Hearn (Kansas),
Foundation Director and The Crescent
Editor

When you were 10, did you know how to roast a marshmallow? Sure, everyone knows how to do that. Not every 10-year old. Jennifer knows how to avoid the blows of her frustrated father, comfort her frightened mother, and care for her younger siblings. But she never in her life squashed a marshmallow onto the end of a stick and sat beside a fire watching it turn golden.

At Gamma Phi Beta-sponsored camps a girl has the chance to roast a marshmallow, paddle a canoe—to be a child for at least a few days of her life. For kids like Jennifer—kids who have been abandoned, neglected or hurt by abuse—camps are a safe and wonderful place to be, a world away from the difficult circumstances of everyday life.

Camping has endured as Gamma Phi Beta's international philanthropy since 1929 because it offers:

•Diversity and vision—While some philanthropies go out of style or actually become obsolete, camping for girls can be adapted to meet the needs of current societal issues and concerns. Chapters may choose to send girls to camps that support specific issues, such as sending a homeless child or one with a specific disease like cancer or diabetes to camp.

•Preventive programming—Camping for girls is a proactive means to preventing problems. The wholesome, nurturing experience of camping for young girls can have a positive impact on lives during crucial formative years. Recent studies have shed light on the positive benefits of camping experiences for children at risk.

•Aid to women—Historically, more dollars are spent on camping for boys than girls. By focusing on camping for girls, Gamma Phi Beta helps narrow the gender gap.

•Local involvement—Every Gamma Phi member or chapter can be involved in camping for girls. All communities offer camping experiences. Members and chapters can select from a wide range of camps and campers to support with "hands on" service or through monetary gifts. (For information on camps in your area, contact the Foundation Office at International Headquarters.)

•Environmental appreciation—As our society becomes more urbanized, a camping experience may be the necessary link to nature for young girls.

This issue of The Crescent honors and thanks our members and friends who have given from their hearts to help others (see the 1993-94 donor list beginning on page 10).

Gifts to the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation have given Jennifer and young girls like her a taste of a roasted marshmallow—and of security, caring and self-esteem.

The future is in the hands of today's children. ●

In addition to supporting the Sorority's philanthropy, special camping for girls, the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation supports:

Financial Aid

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation assists Sorority members in reaching scholastic success with scholarships, fellowships and grants. The Foundation annually awards at least 35 scholarships and fellowships to deserving undergraduate and graduate students.

Educational Programming

Foundation grants to the Sorority provide educational programming that includes leadership development designed to foster individual and chapter growth. Programs include Sorority conferences, Leadership Training School and workshops at International Convention. These experiences help collegians and alumnae hone skills that contribute to success in careers and community involvement after college.

See the Foundation donor list in this issue for information on Gamma Phi's own camp, Camp Sebelt in Vancouver, British Columbia. And for information on how chapters can supplement their donations to camps by applying for funds from the Foundation, also see the donor list in this issue.

My First Gamma Phi Beta Convention

By Kristi Recchia, President Delta Delta Chapter at California St.-Fullerton

Tuesday, July 26, 1994

I'm on an airplane from Orlando to Fort Meyers. I'm so excited! I spent the morning looking at all the women in the airport wondering if they are Gamma Phis going to Convention. I can't believe this week has finally come. I have been looking forward to this all year!

I've heard so much about Convention yet I'm not quite sure what to expect.

After a fun van ride filled with Florida trivia questions, we arrived at the hotel. There is Gamma Phi Beta "stuff" everywhere!

I was so amazed at how organized and efficient everything was. After I was situated in my room, I went down to register with Gamma Phi. Everyone was friendly and smiling. I am so excited to be here.

After a deli buffet dinner the first night we broke into Loyalty Circles. This was a great opportunity to meet people from all over. It's fascinating how easy it is to start talking about anything.

I wondered before I came if I would have anything outside of Gamma Phi Beta in common with people from all over but it seems like we all have common interests or experiences and everyone is open to discussing them and truly enjoys hearing about one another.

I'm staying with two other chapter presidents and we had fun talking about the differences in our chapters. By the end of the night we were talking and laughing so much you would have thought we were from the same chapter!

It's so amazing how a stranger can turn into a friend and in this special situation at Convention how our sisterhood opens the door for extra ties.

Tomorrow is a big day . . . our first business session and awards night. I can't wait!

Wednesday, July 27, 1994

I carried the Delta Delta flag during the flag processional at the first business meeting where we walked in and sat in Greek chapter order.

We won the Mary A. Bingham award for overall chapter excellence. I can't believe it! I am so excited! What an unbelievable honor. I'm so proud of our chapter. I could never have imagined anything so wonderful. I can't wait to tell the chapter. It was a fabulous night. I was excited and nervous and we cried and screamed when we won. We must have taken 100 pictures and I'm still smiling. When we finally got back to our rooms we called our parents. My mom was so excited for me. It was so much fun to tell her about it.

I guess working hard, doing the best you can, having fun and giving it your all can help you go places and achieve the greatest things!

Thursday, July 28, 1994

Our first session was about the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation. I learned so much about its three branches—camping, financial aid and leadership development. What a wonderful aspect of Gamma Phi. Soon I will be able to participate in the Senior Carnation Appeal which will lead the way in my lifetime involvement!

Next was our rush information presentation. We heard three speakers on prerush, rush school, conversation and snap bidding.

The Panhellenic luncheon followed. My chapter won three honorable mention awards! Now we have 6 awards to bring home. I wonder how I'll carry them all?!

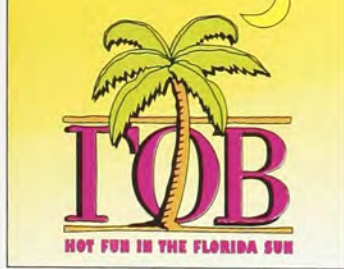

The most touching part of the luncheon was when a 90-year-old woman went to the podium and spoke. She talked about the times she spent with Frances E. Haven in the Haven home. It brought tears to my eyes.

In the afternoon we discussed future visions for Gamma Phi Beta and I spoke with some of the new Collegiate Leadership Consultants. It was fun brainstorming for ideas.

Tonight was the Confirmed Conventioneers dinner. We all wore straw hats

HOT FUN IN THE FLORIDA SUN

More than 600 Gamma Phi Betas benefitted from leadership training and sisterhood at the 66th International Convention in Naples, Florida last July. Members enjoyed dynamic speakers, information-packed workshops and roundtable discussions as well as good food and entertainment shared with good friends.

Highlights of the week included:

- International President Diane Tjaden Thompson's (Iowa St.) message to Convention attendees: "The world is changing and we must change with it."
- L'Cena Brunskill Rice's (USC) address at the Public Relations luncheon: "A message of challenge and encouragement."
- The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation's raffle and dinner that raised more than $30,000 to support Sorority leadership programming, financial aid for members and special camping for girls.
- Sherry Tilley, Zeta Tau Alpha's National Panhellenic Delegate's inspirational talk at the Panhellenic luncheon: "We are friends and family—a Greek phrase long before MCI thought of it!"

Dorothy Blackball Lenington, (Illinois '24) spontaneously spoke at the Panhellenic luncheon about the times she spent with Frances E. Haven.

and one carnation for each Convention we had attended. It was the biggest party I had ever been to. There was a D.J. and we sang and danced. Some women had 10 or 20 carnations on their hat. I want to keep coming to Convention and get enough carnations to walk in the Conventioneers parade. I hope I will be able to come to every Convention!

Friday, July 29, 1994

I cannot believe how quickly this week is going! I don't want it to end. Today was a truly special day. We started off with a ritual memorial service for all the Gamma Phis that we have lost in the past biennium. It was so touching and it made me realize that although I didn't know those women personally, I care about them and am thankful for their membership in Gamma Phi.

All of the Delta Delta Chapter members agreed that the ritual service was the most amazing, beautiful experience to be a part of because it not only united 550 people today but thousands of others everyday.

At the Public Relations luncheon we learned a lot about using our best PR tool to help strengthen our chapters and images—ourselves.

At the final business session we elected the slate of International Council, the 1996 nominating committee and discussed and voted on 18 resolutions.

After the business was completed, we were invited to the next Convention in Kansas City in 1996. I can't wait!

We celebrated the Foundation tonight at the Foundation Dinner. It was again fun and festive. There was a raffle and a treasure chest prize. We raised so much money for the Foundation—it was wonderful! It was the most exciting fundraising I had ever seen!

Saturday, July 30, 1994

Wow—the last day. This has been the most unforgettable week.

With our free time on Saturday afternoon I chose to sit by the pool and talk with other members. Every time you meet someone you could have an hour conversation (at least) with them about Gamma Phi or anything! That is probably the best thing about Convention—we are all members of the same group and although we come from different places and different backgrounds, we have a great deal in common and a lot to share.

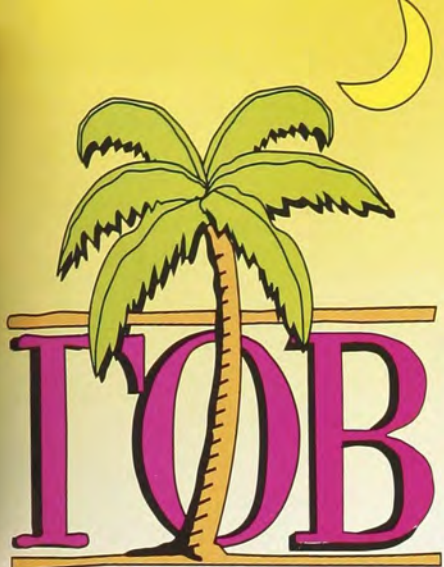

Tonight was the Pink Carnation Banquet. When I first walked into the ballroom, I was in awe. It was so beautiful and classy. The room was set for the most beautiful preference ceremony although we were just celebrating Gamma Phi Beta.

Dinner was delicious and the video of Convention was fun. It was neat to see a recap of the week and be reminded of the excitement of Gamma Phi. ●

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT: L'Cena Brunskill Rice (USC) encouraged Gamma Phis to accept the challenge of change at the Public Relations luncheon. Northern Virginia area alumnae generously supported the Foundation raffle. Doris B. Gorden and her husband Bill accepted their raffle winnings from Joey Stiver, Foundation Chairwoman, and then donated $5,000 back! Confirmed conventioners enjoy the songfest. Barbara Ames, Vancouver Camp Board President carried the Canadian flag during the processional.

Virginia Farquhar Leaves A Legacy

By Ann Mullen Bronsing (Indiana St.), Foundation Chairwoman, 1986-1993

As usual, in San Diego, it was a beautiful day, but this day was especially beautiful to me because I was able to spend most of it with a fascinating Gamma Phi sister.

Virginia Porter Farquhar was initiated into Eta Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta at the University of California-Berkeley in 1927. She loved her Sorority experiences in college and continued alumnae involvement as she traveled the world with her husband Jack, a Naval medical officer.

Since I had spoken to Virginia several times regarding her generous Foundation contributions, I decided to call her while I was on a vacation trip to the area.

Virginia, always the gracious lady, invited me to lunch at the San Diego Naval Base. She was proud of her husband's service in the Navy and welcomed the opportunity to provide a midwestern tourist a chance to see the famed Naval base's Captain Kidd's Officers Club.

At the time of this visit in March of 1991, Virginia had been a widow for almost two years. She was suffering from an acute spinal condition which limited her ability to stand straight and walk with ease. She was still active in caring for her home and occasionally visiting with other Naval wives. She gave me a tour of her home situated in the Point Loma area of San Diego, overlooking the Naval base that had played such a role in her life. She was especially pleased when I noticed her Gamma Phi Beta badge on a gold pendant around her neck.

At the Captain Kidd Club, overlooking San Diego Harbor, Virginia was treated with respect and affection. Her "Pearl Harbor Survivor" license plate was saluted at the gate on the way in and out. I found her to be a dynamic conversationalist who charmed me with remembrances of living in Hawaii, Corpus Christi, Texas and Guam.

Virginia was a charter member of the Foundation's Tau Epsilon Pi Society and an 1874 Society member in both 1992 and 1993. She was disappointed in not being able to attend the 1874 Society reunion at International Headquarters in the spring of 1993 due to an extensive hospital stay and recovery period.

On July 28, 1993, Virginia died. Her love of Gamma Phi Beta lives on through a bequest of approximately $300,000—one third of her estate—to the Foundation. With the first $125,000 of this generous gift, the Foundation Board of Trustees set up a leadership endowment in Virginia's name that will provide funding for Sorority educational leadership programming. With $150,000 of the remainder expected this fall, the Foundation will establish an endowment to fund emergency financial aid for Gamma Phi Betas.

Gamma Phis will have Virginia to thank for leadership development at all future Conventions and Leadership Training Schools. I personally thank her for an unforgettable memory of a day in San Diego.

Virginia and Jack in 1975.

The 1874 Society of the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation Celebrates Record-Setting Fourth Year

In its fourth year, the 1874 Society of the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation celebrates its largest number of annual members yet — 28 loyal Gamma Phis and two alumnae chapters!

The 1874 Society is composed of individual Gamma Phis and chapters who have each provided unrestricted gifts of at least $1,874 to help the Foundation continue its important philanthropic work for the Sorority.

The names of loyal Gamma Phi Beta sisters that are listed here are those women who have given an unrestricted gift of at least $1,874 during the last fiscal year. These women support the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation in this important way because they know that their gift, given with love and loyalty, allows the Foundation to grow in both programs and service to the members of Gamma Phi Beta. The 1874 Society, which holds a yearly reunion, is a vital part of the Foundation. We salute these sisters!

Thank you to the 1993-94 Members:

Tau Epsilon Pi Society

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation is proud to welcome 15 new members to the Tau Epsilon Pi Society. Membership in the Tau Epsilon Pi Society is the Foundation's way of honoring those members and friends who are securing the Foundation's future through a planned gift or bequest. The Society is named after the Sorority's open motto — Tethemeliemenae Epi Petran— Founded Upon a Rock. Its members are the "rock" upon which the future of the Foundation is built.

Notifying the Foundation of your planned gift today enables the Foundation to plan for tomorrow. Planned gifts help ensure that the Foundation can continue to honor its commitment to provide funding for quality educational and leadership programs, special camping for girls and financial aid.

Planned gifts can take several forms. The simplest and most frequently used planned gift is a bequest in a will. Trusts, annuities and gifts of life insurance and real property are other types of planned gifts. Gifts may take the form of cash, securities, real and personal property. In addition to supporting the Foundation beyond the life of a donor, planned gifts may also reduce tax burdens.

The Tau Epsilon Pi Society members honored below enjoy the tremendous satisfaction of knowing that tomorrow's young women will enjoy the same opportunities for growth, leadership development and friendship that they have valued and known in Gamma Phi Beta. If you would like to join these caring and farsighted sisters in the Tau Epsilon Pi Society, contact Stephanie Hearn, Foundation Director at International Headquarters, 12737 E Euclid Drive, Englewood, CO 80111-6445; (303) 799-1874, FAX (303) 799-1876.

Seniors Answer Appeal to Build Leadership Development Funding

Started just four years ago, the Senior Carnation Appeal provides resources for Sorority leadership programming at Conventions and Leadership Training Schools, collegiate leadership consultant and international rush consultant visits and PACE programs.

Each year, seniors are asked to make a five-year commitment to support this appeal. The first year after graduation each participant is asked to let International Headquarters know her new address, the second year she makes a gift to the Foundation of $10, the third year $20, the fourth year $30 and the fifth year $40. By the time she celebrates her fifth anniversary of graduation, Gamma Phi Beta will celebrate with her by welcoming her to the Foundation's Carnation Circle of giving.

Packets are sent to chapter presidents in the fall with a pledge card, membership card and a letter for each senior asking her to join the Senior Carnation Appeal.

Last year the following 115 members joined the more than 495 current members who have made a five-year pledge to the Foundation:

Camp Sechelt

By Barbara Ames, Vancouver Camp Board President

Camp Sechelt, the Gamma Phi Beta-owned camp in Vancouver, British Columbia is operated by the Vancouver Camp Board, a group of 20, hard-working alumnae volunteers. Each summer Camp Sechelt accommodates 108 underprivileged girls age 8 to 12 who are referred from public health nurses and social workers as children who would benefit from the unique camping experience that Sechelt offers.

Camp Sechelt is open from the end of June until the middle of August with 3 sessions, each lasting 12 days. All food, clothing and transportation is provided for campers for only $45. However, no child is denied an opportunity to attend if her family is unable to pay.

The ratio of counselors to children is 6 to 1, and because of this low ratio, counselors are able to establish special relationships with campers.

The counselors are dedicated Gamma Phis who volunteer their time in exchange for transportation to and from camp and a small honorarium. The Camp Director and the Waterfront Director are paid small salaries. Local people are hired for cooking, kitchen and laundry help, as well as nursing duties.

Requirements for counselors are an interest, experience, or teaching ability in: outdoor cooking, crafts, nature, hiking, swimming, drama, dance, songs, puppetry and games. The Director is chosen for her leadership qualities and the Waterfront Director for her waterfront experience.

Camp staff applications are available in the Foundation packet sent to chapters in January and through International Headquarters. Applications should be sent to Sue Gadsby, 207-1371 W. 13th Ave., Vancouver, B.C., Canada V6H 1N7, 604-737-0556.

Foundation Supplements Chapter Gifts to Camps

During the past year, 32 alumnae chapters and two collegiate chapters applied to the Foundation for supplemental funds to add to their support of 41 camps for girls. Local funds, combined with Foundation funds, enabled 135 campers to experience 1,014 days of camping.

Has your chapter taken advantage of this opportunity? If not, you're missing a chance to bring Gamma Phi Beta's international philanthropy to your community.

Applications for supplemental campership funds may be submitted at any time, with a deadline of April 15 for the 1995 summer season. Funds must be used for special camping for girls, such as those with specific illnesses or those who are physically disabled, emotionally disturbed, underprivileged or mentally retarded. For more information, contact International Headquarters.

The following chapters received supplemental funds for camperships during the past year:

Albuquerque, New Mexico
 Alpha Phi (Colorado College)
 Amarillo, Texas
 Ames, Iowa
 Atlanta, Georgia

Convention Leadership Endowments— An Opportunity to Benefit Your Chapter Forever

To ensure that all chapters may fully benefit from the excellent opportunities for women to enhance their leadership skills, gain confidence in themselves and the Sorority's mission and experience sisterhood with Gamma Phi Betas from around the continent, the Foundation is offering an opportunity for alumnae and collegiate chapters to create Convention Endowments in the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation.

Alumnae and collegiate chapter Convention Endowments provide funds to enable individual chapters to send as many representatives as possible to Gamma Phi Beta International Conventions.

These endowments, created with a tax-deductible gift of $10,000 or more, will be administered by the Foundation. The principal remains intact and may be increased with additional gifts. Each biennium, the distributable income will be granted to the chapter to be used exclusively for expenses of members attending Convention.

Thanks to the Jane Benton French Convention Leadership Endowment set up by Lyman French, Jr. for Sigma Chapter, two representatives benefitted from outstanding educational programming and leadership training at the 1994 Convention last summer.

A Tribute to Lifelong Friendship

In a society where lifelong marriages are truly something to be appreciated, it is refreshing and inspirational to meet a man who so adored his wife.

It's not difficult to see how deeply devoted Lyman French was to his wife of 48 years, Jane Benton French (Kansas, '39). It's evident in everything he says and does. Five-and-a-half years after her death, Jane's on his mind every day.

Lyman remembered, as if it were yesterday, the day he met the young woman who would become his loving wife:

I met Jane on Sunday, November 27, 1939, at a drug store gathering place in Kansas City. Jane was sitting at a table with Annabel Walter, another Sigma Chapter Gamma Phi, and another friend. I stepped over the back of the old-fashioned, ice cream table wire chair and introduced myself by saying, "Hello girls. My name is 'Tex', what's yours?"

They told me their names and later that same day Jane and Annabel attended a church bridge party. I saw them there and played bridge with them. I remember saying to Jane that I would bet a "Yankee-Dime" on my bridge hand and when Jane said that she didn't know what a Yankee-Dime was, I told her it was a kiss.

Two weeks later Jane and Lyman were engaged.

We announced our engagement at midnight on December 31, 1939 at a party where all the girls were Sigma Gamma Phi friends of Jane's.

It's because of memories like these of Jane's lifelong Gamma Phi friendships that Lyman has chosen to honor Jane's memory through gifts to the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation. Most recently Lyman established the Jane Benton French Memorial Endowment for Sigma Chapter through a charitable unitrust.

Lyman set up a trust with more than $230,000 worth of appreciated stock which will provide immediate tax benefits for himself as well as lifetime income. When the trust is turned over to the Foundation, the interest income from the trust will go to support the educational leadership training and philanthropic programs of Sigma Chapter.

But this was not Lyman's first gift. He has also remembered Jane through a scholarship endowment and Convention Leadership Endowment for Sigma Chapter as well as through significant gifts to Sigma's campaign to improve the educational portions of the chapter house in Lawrence.

Because of Lyman's devotion and thoughtfulness, Jane's memory as a lifelong friend of Gamma Phi Beta, will truly live on forever.

A Special Thanks to Mu Chapter

Upon the closing of Mu Chapter at Stanford University, $19,870 was given to the Foundation. The foyer of the residential area of International Headquarters will be named in the chapter's honor.

While at IH for debriefing last spring, the 1993-94 Collegiate Leadership Consultants called former consultants to raise funds to build a leadership endowment for future consultant programming. This new endowment will honor past Grand President and the first traveling secretary Evelyn Gooding Dippell, who died last year.

Zeta Gamma Sonoma State University

By Ako Asano (Colorado)

On May 7, 1994, Gamma Phi Beta's newest colony received its charter, becoming the Zeta Gamma Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. The chapter is located at Sonoma State University in Rohnert Park, California. Forty-five collegians and eight alumnae were initiated after a fun, intensive six week pledge program. Zeta Gamma marks the 147th chapter of Gamma Phi Beta.

The group came together when four courageous women left the colonization of Alpha Gamma Delta and formed the local sorority, Epsilon Rho Omega. Within a few years, Epsilon Rho Omega had grown so large that they began to look for a national organization. Presentations were made to the group at the end of February by Linda Lyons Malony (USC), Director of Extension; Beth Martin (William and Mary) and Julie Gannon (Miami, Ohio), Collegiate Leadership Consultants. The women of Epsilon Rho Omega unanimously accepted Gamma Phi's offer and were now officially the newest Gamma Phi Beta colony.

The next six weeks were very busy. Activities included a fundraising car wash, fraternity mixers, a grab-a-date party, the pledge program, and the elections of officers. Congratulations go to President Sharon Green, Alumnae Vice President Alicia Rodriguez, Financial Vice President Glenda Ambrose, Membership Vice President Kirsten Otto, Public Relations Vice President Jennifer Okal, Membership Education Vice President Edie Denten and Panhellenic Delegate Tami Bowman.

The highlight of the colony period was Inspiration Week. Each day consisted of activities following our Creed: Love, Labor, Learning, and Loyalty. A fireside was the final activity before initiation.

The initiation ceremony and Installation Banquet were held at the Red Lion Hotel. Almost 200 guests attended the celebration. Representing International Gamma Phi Beta were Audrey Weldon Shafer (Missouri), International Ritual Chairwoman and past Grand President; Cinda Keating Lucas (USC), Member-at-Large on International Council; Janet Parker Whitcomb (Calif. St.-Long Beach), Assistant Director of Extension-Installations; Catherine Kennedy (Idaho), Province XIIIa Collegiate Director; Merry Greig Wong (Calif. St.-San Diego), International Rush Consultant; Verona Dilbeck Lynam (Nebraska), Province XIII Alumnae Director, Ako Asano (Colorado) and LaTisha MacRae (Washington State), Collegiate Leadership Consultants.

Attending for the university were Rand Link, Vice President of Student Affairs; Dave Farrell, Student Life Coordinator, Jan Hitchcock, Faculty Advisor, and members from Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, and Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternities.

During the banquet, Rand Link gave a brief background about Sonoma State University, which was followed by a very inspirational address by Cinda Lucas, titled "Expectations". The new chapter members were introduced by Ako Asano, and the Zeta Gamma Chapter was officially installed by Cinda Lucas. Accepting the charter was Christiana Wilson, the outgoing president.

The women of Zeta Gamma have worked very hard, and have so much to be proud of. They will be a valuable asset to Gamma Phi Beta. ●

Collegiate Leadership Consultants

Traveling Gamma Phi Experts Assist Chapters

By Laura Hatch, Chapter Services Coordinator

The 1994-95 Collegiate Leadership Consultants (CLCs) are on the road with luggage, laptops and lots of expertise. One of these dynamic, young women who represents the best that Gamma Phi Beta has to offer, will be visiting your chapter this year. CLCs are Gamma Phi Beta experts that can help your chapter with leadership development, chapter programming, membership recruitment, alumnae relations and a great deal more. Through their collegiate experience and intensive training, they have what it takes to make a difference in your chapter!

Why Be a CLC?

By Laura Hatch, Chapter Services Coordinator

Why be a CLC? The chance to travel to new places, to make a difference, to impact the lives of young women—If you ask any former or current CLC, that's probably what she'll say. She'll also tell you about the incredible learning experience, and how her personal growth during that year helped her through the years that followed. We've caught up with some former CLCs/CCs (Collegiate Consultants) who are now involved in a variety of professions, and find themselves still relying on what they learned during their year on the road. Here are their answers to the question, "Why be a CLC?"

"It puts everything together that you learned in the classroom, at the chapter house, during rush retreats . . . you can pull them all together to become a polished and professional woman. That can't happen so rapidly with any other entry-level position."

— Mary Beth Holzbach (Florida St. '90), Coordinator of Greek Life - University of South Carolina, 1990–1991 CLC

"Now when I walk into a courtroom, I'm able to fake my fears a little better—it gave me a sense of self-assurance. It is one of the best opportunities for personal growth a woman can have. It's impossible to not walk away a better person."

— Catherine Kennedy (Idaho, '87), attorney—Matheny, Poidmore & Sears Law Firm, PCD XIIIa, 1987–88 CC

"Meeting people, seeing things work, making things work . . . it's rewarding to be able to help, like with officer training . . . it's rewarding to see it in their faces."

— Ako Asano, currently studying business in Tokyo, Japan, 1993–1994 CLC

"It was very helpful going into medical school having a better sense of who I was. I still use the organizational and leadership skills. In whatever you do, you can apply the skills you learn."

— Kathy Vitton Farrell (Nebraska, '88), Pediatric resident, St. Louis Children's Hospital, 1988–1989 CC

"You come into a new career a step ahead of everyone else thanks to the skills you learn from Gamma Phi Beta. While everyone else is learning them, you're improving them."

— Lynn Jacobs (North Dakota, '89), Assistant Account Executive—Campbell-Mithun-Esty (public relations agency), Gamma Phi Beta Public Relations Director, 1989–1990 CC

"There's no other job like it . . . I wouldn't give up that year for anything."

— Linda Johnson (Vanderbilt, '75), Collegiate Vice President, 1975–1976 CC

Applications for the 1995–1996 CLC team are available now! To learn more about how you can be a CLC, contact International Headquarters.

Fighting Disease: How One Gamma Phi Triumphed

By Nancy C. Jacobs (Indiana)

March 5, 1993

Attempted an easy three-mile run today and could not do it. I don't know what's wrong with me. Just a month and a half ago I competed in a ten-mile run. Today I do not have the strength or energy to run one-third that distance.

So began what would eventually be my life-threatening battle with ulcerative colitis. While over two million Americans suffer from ulcerative colitis, one of two Inflammatory Throughout my ordeal, I had taken solace in still having my mind and my personality, even if my looks had been taken away. By the beginning of June, 1993, I had nothing.

Bowel Diseases (IBDs), the other being Crohn's disease, its cause is yet unknown. The only cure for ulcerative colitis is the removal of the entire colon (also known as the large intestine) and the lining of the rectum. There is no cure, surgical or otherwise, for Crohn's disease. What is known about IBD is that the disease often strikes young, otherwise healthy individuals, drastically altering their lifestyles and becoming a lifetime burden. Given the very personal nature of the symptoms and because an individual suffering from IBD may appear healthy to the casual observer, there is perhaps a diminished understanding of the diseases among the general population. Increasing public awareness as to the nature and severity of IBD is a key to understanding and eventually conquering these diseases and a must for anyone directly affected by the diseases, be it as a sufferer or as a friend, sister or family member.

IBD attacks the walls of the digestive system causing inflammation and ulceration. Common symptoms of IBD include abdominal pain, diarrhea, and rectal bleeding. If not controlled, IBD can lead to severe weight loss, malnutrition and life-threatening complications such as perforation of the bowel and the resulting peritonitis.

Little did I know I would experience all of those complications and more. At 30 years of age I was building a career as an attorney, active in my community and committed to physical fitness. I ran several times a week and maintained a healthy low-fat diet. I had been diagnosed with ulcerative colitis about two and a half years earlier, but had experienced only two or three minor flare-ups of the disease in that time.

March 29, 1993

I've been in the hospital in my home town of Madison, Indiana for two weeks now. When admitted, my family doctor assured me that I would only be in the hospital for a couple of days - just long enough to build my strength with some intravenous nutrition and administer some intravenous steroids to accelerate the healing of my colon. That has not happened. I have continued to lose weight. My colon is still grossly inflamed and now my doctor suggests transferring me to the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis. For the first time,

Perhaps the most positive thing anyone can take from an experience like my own, is a renewed confidence in the incredible ability of the human body and spirit to adapt to physical and mental challenges.

I'm really frightened by this disease.

After transferring to the IU Med Center, I was told that my red blood count was dangerously low because of the severe rectal bleeding I had experienced. Transfusions were a must. After my gastroenterologist attempted a colonoscopy, he informed me that my colon was so diseased he could not complete the colonoscopy for fear of perforation. He identified deep ulcerations and told me that I may not have ulcerative colitis at all; I might have Crohn's disease. The doctors again bumped up my steroids, discontinued all nutrition by mouth and ordered a central feeding line through a vein in my neck to completely rest my digestive system. While inserting the central feeding line, my lung was punctured. It seemed as if things could get no worse. A second look at my colon a week later revealed very little improvement.

April 9, 1993

My husband, who has been at my side throughout this ordeal, has returned to Madison to work, but my sister has flown up from Texas to visit with me for a few days in the hospital. About noon I get out of bed to use the restroom when I am struck with a devastating pain in my abdomen. My sister gets me back to bed and pages a nurse. Throughout the afternoon the pain continues and worsens. By the time my husband arrives in the evening, I am screaming in pain. By midnight I want to die. In the wee hours of the morning the doctors determine that my colon has perforated and that fecal waste is seeping into my abdominal cavity. The surgeon tells my husband that he must remove my colon immediately. There are no options.

I wake up in the intensive care unit of the hospital. I have a ten-inch vertical incision down the middle of my stomach. A rubber wafer is affixed to the lower right portion of my abdomen. Attached to the wafer is a plastic bag designed to collect the waste emitted by the end of my small intestine which now protrudes outside my stomach. My worst fears have been realized. I have an ostomy. Mine was a toned, smooth, scarless body; this is not my body.

Removal of the colon and living with an ostomy is one of the biggest fears anyone with ulcerative colitis or Crohn's disease faces. It is necessary when the colon perforates and is often recommended if the ulcerative colitis has been a consistently recurring problem for ten or more years. While surgical removal of the colon or resection of the colon is sometimes advised with Crohn's disease, it does not cure the disease and for that reason is avoided if at all possible.

May 19, 1993

I am supposed to be at a reunion with my Gamma Phi pledge sisters at the chapter house at Indiana University, but I'm not there. I was discharged from the hospital about a month ago. I weighed 88 pounds and did not have the strength to lift my body weight the height of a street curb, but that did not matter. All that mattered was that I was going home after five weeks in hospitals. My condition seemed to improve after my return home. I began experiencing fevers and ended up back in the IU Med Center. As it turns out I now have an infection in my abdominal cavity. I am experiencing a number of negative side effects from the continued high doses of steroids. I feel myself becoming very depressed.

A number of drugs are used to treat IBD, perhaps the most common of which is prednisone, a steroid which has proven successful in treating the inflammation associated with IBD. Prednisone can also have some devastating side effects, the most serious of which are long-term weakening of bones, decreased muscle mass and the development of cataracts on the eye. In the short term, temporary side effects include the swelling of the face, enlargement of the body's trunk, diabetes, a decrease in the body's ability to heal wounds and fight infection, loss of hair, acne, growth of facial hair, mood swings, disorientation and depression. In the course of my treatment, I experienced almost every short-term side effect.

While the changes in physical appearance caused by the steroid drugs are devastating for the self-image, nothing compares to the mental and emotional havoc they can wreak. Throughout my ordeal, I had taken solace in still having my mind and my personality, even if my looks had been taken away. By the beginning of June, 1993, I had nothing. My attention span was limited and I was at times so disoriented that I could not watch a 30-minute sit-com, much less read a newspaper or book—a frightening prospect for someone whose career revolves around their ability to learn, to think, and to concentrate.

Even more frightening was that drastic mood swings and depression sometimes caused me to lash out at or withdraw from my family and friends—the people who were trying to help me and support me, the people I loved most. Fortunately, my friends and my family—particularly my husband—were very dedicated. As hard as it was, they stuck with me through even the worst of times.

June 23, 1993

My condition has improved dramatically. I am back at work part time. Although still on the steroids, the side effects are gradually disappearing. Soon, I will run again. I will beat this thing!

Once I began improving, the improvement was fast and furious. Although I continued taking the steroid drugs until after my second surgery, as the dosage was gradually decreased so were the negative side effects. My mood and attitude improved. My strength improved and I realized that my life would eventually return to normal. With these realizations came a desire to take control of my situation and enhance my recovery as much as possible. While I returned to work, I also recommitted myself to fitness. Although slow, the progress was apparent and it motivated me to keep going. I'll never forget the joy I felt when I first returned to aerobics class.

This is me on vacation in Jamaica just one month prior to entering the hospital. Like many IBD patients I do not look sick.

September 19, 1993

Took part in a five-mile run today. The ostomy does not limit me physically and I have adapted and accepted my body image. The ostomy is a part of me. After all, if I didn't have it, I wouldn't be alive. My second surgery is less than two weeks away and the doctors say I'm in great shape for it. This surgery is the most complicated of the three. My surgeon says it will likely take six to eight hours. I will be in the hospital seven to ten days post-surgery and will then recover at home for several weeks.

Perhaps the most positive thing anyone can take from an experience like my own, is a renewed confidence in the incredible ability of the human body and spirit to adapt to physical and mental challenges. While the magnitude of my experience is paled by comparison to the experience of a person who loses, for example, a limb or their sight or hearing, it did give me insight into the thoughts, fears and emotions faced by someone in that situation.

December 11, 1993

I hosted my law firm Christmas party tonight just as I had done this time last year. It was a sit-down dinner for thirteen people. While I think everyone enjoyed it, no one enjoyed it more than I did. Just 11 days ago I underwent my third and final surgery. Ulcerative colitis may have won a battle by taking my colon, but I have won the war. I am healthy with no chance of a recurrence of the disease.

Such were my thoughts in early December, 1993. My experience with ulcerative colitis was in many ways atypical of the individual suffering from inflammatory bowel disease. I had not suffered for years, as many people do, prior to my colon perforating and being removed. I did not have to routinely take drugs to control the disease. I was not forced to drastically alter my diet or battle chronic diarrhea. But, because of this, I had also failed to educate myself about the disease. I disregarded symptoms thinking they would quickly pass and convinced myself that, as with the common cold, this disease would periodically return but not cause me much problem. I was wrong.

I now work full time, have been made a partner in the law firm and have even declared my candidacy for Prosecuting Attorney for the Fifth Judicial Circuit of Indiana. The ulcerative colitis experience will forever be a part of my life and I hope to use it in a positive way to educate others. If you suffer from IBD, then learn about the disease and encourage those around you to do the same. If a friend, a sister or family member suffers from IBD, discuss their experience with them. I found that the more my friends knew and the more comfortable they became with my situation, then the more confident and comfortable I became with myself. ●

Educational literature on IBD can be obtained from the Crohn's and Colitis Foundation of America. Many cities and states have local chapters. The address for the national headquarters is: 444 Park Avenue South, 11th Floor, New York, N.Y. 10018. By educating yourself and others, you can be a part of the quest for the cure.

San Antonio alumnae held a successful dinner on the River walk last May.

Seventy-six alumnae from the University of California at Santa Barbara joined together to celebrate the 10th anniversary of their charter. Alumnae were greeted at the chapter house where they enjoyed a reception and then participated in Founders Day traditions. It was amazing how quickly alumnae remembered songs and other Gamma Phi traditions!

The Evanston-North Shore Alumnae Chapter held their Founders Day celebration on November 7, 1993 at the Omni Orrington Hotel in Evanston. Eleanor Bennett Buckmaster (Northwestern) received her 75-year pin. Marilyn Streitmatter Woodman (Northwestern) and Sally Buckmaster (Colorado College), daughter of Eleanor Buckmaster, both received their 50-year pins.

Fort Myers Alumnae began and ended the year honoring long time members of Gamma Phi Beta. Two 50-year pins were presented at the chapter's Founders Day celebration last fall. Dorothy Blackhall Lenington (Illinois) was the guest of honor this past spring. Dorothy turned 90 this past year and has had almost perfect attendance in over 70 years of Gamma Phi meetings! The alumnae are pleased to report a very successful card party which raised funds for the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation and the Fort Myers Alliance for the Arts summer camp program.

Albuquerque Alumnae had a great turn out in celebration of Founders Day. The event was held at the home of the chapter's president, Patty Teal Zemke. The theme for the day was "What Does Gamma Phi Mean to You?" This question brought about quite a bit of reminiscing about college days and how meaningful Gamma Phi has been to so many alumnae.

Delta Chapter at Boston University made Round Robin letters famous in the 1930s and 1940s. These letters allowed sisters to keep in touch with one another during their summers apart. A few years ago Ruth Thompson Hanchett and Margaret Durkee Benton made it their mission to revive this old tradition. Through their efforts, the Round Robin letters are again a success.

Currently there are 18 correspondents and the youngest is from the class of 1941! The letters make their way from Maine to Florida and west to Arizona. These Boston Alumnae can now enjoy a year-round reunion.

The House Corporation Board at the Southern Methodist University recently dedicated their backyard garden to Virginia Forsythe Vint (Missouri) in honor of her years of dedicated service to Gamma Phi and to the chapter. Virginia is credited with the following achievements: National Recommendations Chairman, Alumnae Vice President, Service Award, Honor Award, National Research Chairman, Loyalty Award, Dallas Alumnae President, Dallas Alumna of the Year, and Alpha Xi Recommendations Chairman. She continues to be a true and constant friend to the Alpha Xi Chapter and has provided guidance and support to numerous officers, members and advisors throughout the years.

The Dallas Alumnae Chapter held a spring salad luncheon to raise money for Camp Esperanza, a local camp for children with cancer. A raffle was held with prizes donated by members. This event gave alumnae the chance to "catch up" as well as to raise money for a great cause.

Ames alumnae came up with a new way to motivate members to attend events—they offered a reward. Each time a member attended an event they had a better chance of receiving a hand crocheted afghan made and donated by Cheryl Gunter (Tennessee). Pat Gustofson (Iowa St.) was awarded this prize at the alumnae's final event of the year, the Senior Celebration Dinner.

Alumnae from Kent State University held a reunion for alumnae from 1952-54 at the Hilton Hotel in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. This was a wonderful opportunity to reminisce about old college days. The group looks forward to planning additional reunions in the coming years and is currently scheduling a luncheon in the fall of 1994 to commemorate the formal installation of the Beta Zeta Chapter on October 25, 1947.

The Houston Alumnae Chapter continues to generously support The Brookwood Community as their local philanthropy. The Brookwood Community is a home and work environment for mentally and physically disabled adults. This past Christmas season, alumnae helped Brookwood by staffing their Galleria mall gift shop. This past spring the alumnae held a gathering for the residents and the family and friends of Gamma Phi. This event included games, visors and cookie decoration, and an exciting game of fellowship for all involved.

Greater Kansas City alumnae enjoyed a lecture titled "Being a Winner at the Career Game" this past March. Janice Benjamin, president of the Career Management Center, discussed how to refocus and present one's unique features and benefits during a brief interview. In April, alumnae learned how to better care for crystal and silver. Of course time was also taken to chat with friends and enjoy hors d'oeuvres!

New Alumnae Chapters Formed

The Piedmont Alumnae Chapter of Greenville/Spartanburg, South Carolina received their charter May 19, 1994.

Members celebrated the Harrisburg (Pennsylvania) Area Alumnae Chapter's installation June 11, 1994 at the Harrisburg Marriot.

UC-Santa Barbara alumnae gathered to celebrate their chapter's 10th anniversary.

Southern Methodist University chapter members honored Virginia Forsythe Vint (Missouri) by naming their backyard garden after her.

Star Volleyball Setter

During her four years as a starter and captain of the UNCA Bulldog Volleyball team, setter Danielle "Dani" Meyer (North Carolina-Ashville) has proven herself a leader and a champion. She led her team to Big South Championships in 1991 and 1992. The psychology major also helped take the Bulldogs to the 1991 NIT in Dayton, Ohio and "assisted" them to a remarkable 32-6 record in 1992. She holds the record for assists in a conference match—81, and an outstanding 5,287 assists in her four years of NCAA Division I play, a school and conference record! Dani's accomplishments have earned her honors as Big South Tournament Co-MVP in 1992, member of the first team All-Big South in 1993 and Female Athlete of the Year at UNCA.

Rachelle Chong Appointed To FCC

The newest appointee to the five member Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is Rachelle B. Chong (Calif.-Berkeley). Last March when President Clinton nominated Rachelle to fill a vacancy on the Commission, he said, "I am confident that Rachelle Chong's experience and commitment in the area of telecommunications will prove invaluable to this most important committee." The Commission regulates television, radio, satellites, telephones, maritime radio and helps set international telecommunications policy.

After being confirmed by the United States Senate in a record nine days last May, she began filing the unfinished portion of a five-year term that will expire in mid-1997. Of her appointment Rachelle said, "It is a great honor to be chosen as an FCC Commissioner at this historic time when the administration, Congress and the telecommunications industry are poised to radically restructure the outdated telecommunications laws, and to build an exciting new national information superhighway . . . I expect to be very busy for the next three years."

Rachelle is looking forward to the opportunity to do public service. She said, "I took the FCC job because it is a chance to give back to the people of the United States."

Rachelle's confirmation marks the first time since 1981 that a practicing communications attorney has been appointed to the Commission. She is also one of the youngest Commissioners ever appointed and the first Asian-American appointed to that regulatory body. According to Henry Der, the executive director of the San Francisco-based advocacy group, Chinese for Affirmative Action, her appointment is significant because "Asian-Americans have seldom been considered for high-level positions in the federal government in Washington."

During the confirmation process, Rachelle received high marks for her preparation and independent thinking from both colleagues and government officials. James Troup, an attorney with whom she worked while at a Washington law firm, described her as thorough and accurate and said, "I don't think she will be influenced by politics, and that might be very refreshing." Representative Robert

Matsui (D-Cal.) said she would be "a strong, independent voice on FCC."

Prior to joining the FCC, she was a partner in the San Francisco international law firm of Graham and James, where she specialized in telecommunications law, particularly cellular phones. She also headed the firm's Regulatory Department and was a member of its International Telecommunications Group and Management Center Committee. Her clients have included cellular phone giants like Bay Area Cellular Telephone Company and McCaw Cellular Telecommunications.

She has also been active in pro-bono work, having served on the Legal Service Trust Fund Commission of the California State Bar, and she has represented indigent clients in Social Security cases at Graham and James.

Rachelle was born and raised in Stockton, California, and graduated from the University of California-Berkeley in 1981 with degrees in political science and journalism, as well as a Phi Beta Kappa key. Of her Gamma Phi Beta experience at Eta Chapter, she said that it gave her social confidence and "brought me out of my shell. I gained the ability to talk to anyone about anything for 20 minutes. Rush is wonderful training for anyone interested in politics."

Rachelle also recalled that she was attracted to Eta Chapter because of its academic standards. She noted that her class was "academically driven" and produced many professionals—lawyers, doctors, engineers and an economist.

She obtained her law degree from Hastings College of the Law in 1984 where she was editor of "Law Journal." She is a member of the California and District of Columbia state bar associations. She and her husband, Kirk Del Prate, also an attorney, now make their home in Washington, D.C.

Clarice Morrison Honored

The Oklahoma City Alumnae Panhellenic Association honored Clarice Braker Morrison (Oklahoma City) as the Oklahoma City Alumnae Panhellenic Woman of the Year. Clarice was recognized at their annual Christmas brunch for the outstanding time and service she has given Gamma Phi Beta, the Panhellenic Association and her community. Clarice, who is on Gamma Phi's Service Roll and Merit Roll, has served International Gamma Phi Beta for nine years as Province IX Alumnae Director and Assistant to the Alumnae Vice President Extension. She has served as president of the Oklahoma City Alumnae Chapter and she is presently on the Beta Omicron House Corporation Board.

Dottie McCaw Awards Scholarships at Purdue

Dottie McCaw (center) with this year's award recipients Laura Connor and Tricia Myer.

Delta Iota Chapter (Purdue) celebrated a wonderful spring evening in April with visiting alumna Dorothy "Dottie" Newby McCaw (SMU) of Corpus Christi, Texas. Each spring Dorothy returns to the chapter house to personally present the Dorothy Newby McCaw Citizens Scholarship Awards at a special dinner. These awards are presented to chapter members who have distinguished themselves by their service to Gamma Phi Beta, the campus and the community. Dottie's awards honor "well-rounded young women" who have set an example by their service, leadership and citizenship. This year's recipients, graduating seniors Laura Conner and Tricia Myer, plan to use their $1,000 awards to pursue graduate studies.

Dottie, who lived in West Lafayette at the time, helped colonize Delta Iota Chapter in 1975. Since then, the chapter has held a special place in her heart. She spent countless hours at the chapter house, and she and her husband Tom have made generous gifts to the chapter, including their first set of living room furniture. In 1987 Dottie established her award for Delta Iota within the Purdue Research Foundation. Dottie's belief in recognizing and encouraging excellence is also demonstrated by the scholarship for Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and an award at the Purdue Library that she established in memory of her mother, as well as the scholarship in the School of Earth Science she established in memory of her father. She has also established awards in honor of each of her children and their spouses at their respective universities.

Each year Dottie looks forward to personally presenting the awards to the young women selected by a local committee. Dottie inspires the chapter with her memories and thoughts about her life as a Gamma Phi Beta and what the Sorority means to her. Delta Iota Chapter values Dottie's friendship, loyalty and dedication and is indeed fortunate to know her.

Financing College Educations

How Are We Going to Pay for This?

By Allison Smythe
(Northwestern)

You don't need to be old to say of your college days: an education was a lot less expensive then. In fact, you don't need to even have

According to the American Council on Education, 10 years ago a year's tuition and other expenses at a private university averaged $8,350. Today that figure has more than doubled, to $17,530. During the same period, the price of a public university education increased more than 70 percent, from an average of $4,686 to $8,096.

Rising college costs have driven increasing numbers of students and their families to ask the big question: How does a family pay for all of this?

"It's important to squash the notion that financial aid is only available to families that can prove serious financial need," says Larry Hough, President and Chief Executive Officer of Sallie Mae, a holder and servicer of guaranteed student loans. "The need factor is important to obtain certain grants, scholarships and work-study programs, but there are many places families at all income levels can turn to find the funds necessary to pay for college. You just have to be diligent in searching them out."

Getting Started

Although the process may be daunting at first, there is a logical first step to applying for financial aid: As early as November of each year, students should obtain a federal financial aid application form from the financial aid office at the school they are interested in attending, fill it out and submit it. The form requires the family's previous year's income statement, so it cannot be mailed before your employer provides that information? usually early in January. Because many schools award aid on a first-come, first-served basis as a way of rationing the limited dollars they have to give, students should mail their forms as close to January 1 as possible.

The application determines eligibility for federal financial aid in the form of work-study programs and grants, which do not have to be paid back, and loans, which do. Aid eligibility is based on family income but also on such factors as the number of family members attending college, the family's current circumstances — such as a parent's recent job loss or major illness — and the total cost of the school. So a middle-class family with three children, attending private colleges might be just as likely to receive aid as a family with similar earnings with one child at a lower-cost institution.

Sometime between March and May, most schools determine the level of aid each applicant will receive and the types of aid it will offer. Aid is presented to the student as a package. The package might be a combination of grants, work-study opportunities, low-interest (5 percent) Perkins loans — for the very neediest students — or three of the more commonly awarded loans for finished your four years to make that observation. Throughout most of the 1980s, cost increases at public and private institutions averaged 8 percent per year, significantly outpacing the rate of inflation and the median family income during that time.

families without exceptional need: Stafford loans (currently 6.22 percent), SLS loans for students (6.64 percent) or PLUS loans for parents (6.64 percent). Many schools also give their own funds from their endowments or other sources to help students defray costs.

But what if the school turns you down for need-based aid? Many families in this situation, or those who find that the aid package they received does not cover all their costs, make up the difference through student loans. Recently, Congress created the Unsubsidized Stafford loan, which is now available to students from families at all income levels. The difference between it and the need-based, or subsidized Stafford loan, is that interest that accrues on an unsubsidized loan while the student is in college must be paid, either during school or as part of the loan after finishing college. With both the unsubsidized and subsidized Stafford loan, principal payment does not begin until a 6-month grace period after the student leaves school.

A second type of federally-guaranteed student loan is the PLUS loan for parents. PLUS loans allow parents of all income levels to borrow up to the total cost of their child's education, less any other financial aid received. Parents must begin repayment within 60 days of receiving the funds. A similar loan, the SLS loan (Supplemental Loan for Students), is available to independent undergraduate and graduate students.

To Borrow or Not to Borrow

"Stories of students graduating with huge debts should not keep one from carefully studying how to responsibly use credit to pay for college," says Hough. "First and foremost, students should borrow only after exhausting all other sources of aid available to them and borrow only what they need. If it is necessary to borrow, keep in mind your future payments and the salary you are likely to make. With preparation as part of your decision, student loans shouldn't be impossible to pay back."

Free Options

Before borrowing, Hough says, students should seek out scholarships and other sources of "free" aid. There are literally thousands of scholarships available through national and local civic groups and businesses.

The Gamma Phi Beta Foundation, for example, offers more than 40 scholarships and fellowships per year for undergraduate and graduate studies.

Many scholarships are based on academic standing, athletic ability, community service or other criteria. Scholarship applications usually have deadlines, so students should begin their search right when they mail their aid application forms. Good sources for scholarship information are college financial aid offices and scholarship directories available at local libraries. New software programs available in many high school libraries are another good source.

Student loans are often used to supplement other sources of aid, or in many cases, they can be the student's chief source of financing. "If borrowing looks like your best option, the good news is that student loans in 1993-94 saw lower interest rates than they have in years. And there are a number of new repayment options available that make paying them back easier, especially when borrowers are just starting their careers," says Hough.

At the vast majority of schools, students obtain federal student loans through private lenders. (During the 1994-95 school year, approximately 5 percent of student loan volume will be available to students through their schools as part of the government's direct lending program.) While student loan terms and conditions are set by law, many lenders offer their own repayment options beyond what is required. Customer service often varies from lender to lender, too, so it is worthwhile to shop around to find the lender that provides the best deal on student loans and the one that is most responsive to its customers.

Student Loan Shopping

When shopping for a student loan, families should consider a number of points:

- How much flexibility will I have in repaying my loan?
- What repayment options does the lender offer?
- What level of customer service will I get?
- Will I get quick, accurate answers to my telephone inquiries or written correspondence?
- Are there toll-free numbers I can call after business hours?
- Does the lender sell its student loans to a secondary market (an organization that buys and usually services student loans)?

Personal Assistance

Perhaps the best assistance families can get in exploring financial aid options is to visit their college financial aid officer. FAAs have a wealth of resources that they regularly share with families. In addition, most schools offer parents and students information seminars on financial aid as part of freshman orientation. And more and more high schools are sponsoring financial aid fairs. The bottom line is, gather as much information as possible and apply for as many sources of aid as you can. You never know if you're eligible for aid until you apply.

Editors Note: Allison Smythe (Northwestern) is a Senior Academic Service Representative for the Student Loan Marketing Association in Oakbrook Terrace, Illinois. The interest rates in this article were subject to change after July 1, 1994.

Applications for Foundation scholarships and fellowships will be available January 1, 1995. The deadline for applying is February 24, 1995. Chapters will receive applications in the January Foundation mailing. Members may also contact Lisa Hintze at International Headquarters, (303)799-1874 for financial aid information.

Changing with the Times

It's time Gamma Phi Beta gets with the 90s! The headline on page 8 of the summer '94 Crescent is totally outdated. "Chairmen?!" How about using the term "chairwomen," "chairperson(s)," or just "chair"?

Like Cinda Keating Lucas' inside cover article quoted Bob Dylan "The Times They Are A Changing," let's change this outdated term. I think all Gamma Phis would agree. Thanks for listening.

Debra Rikalo Cotter (Washington)

Editor's note: A resolution voted on at Convention has changed our use of Chairman to Chairwoman.

Kudos

Many thanks and kudos to you for the very meaningful article you wrote about my mother ["A Part of Our Heritage" by Marjy Shupert, Summer 1994]. I'm sure her Heavenly tea cup shook just a bit as she looked down and felt surprised and pleased. And I have already heard from old friends who read it and decided to reconnect.

Elizabeth DePrez (Oregon)

I loved the back cover of the spring 1994 issue of The Crescent. It is nice coverage for the Foundation—long overdue. It adds a lot of professionalism to the Foundation's efforts.

Jennie K. Curtis (Northern Arizona)

I am writing to you on behalf of Camp Titan, A.S.I., California State University, Fullerton's only philanthropy. Camp Titan is a program that takes about 140 underprivileged children to a one-week camping excursion at no cost to their families.

During the week of April 16-22, the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority of Cal State Fullerton, in conjunction with the other campus sororities and fraternities raised and donated more than $15,500. The money raised by these organizations will allow more than 60 children to go to camp this summer.

Since 1969, Camp Titan has reached out to children in need with the help of Gamma Phi Beta. Thanks to the support of the individuals of your organization, Camp Titan has become a strong and successful program.

We at Camp Titan would like to thank the Cal State Fullerton Chapter for its continued dedication and support during

The Sorority appreciates the return of a deceased members badge, when possible, so that it might be preserved in our archives.

While riding her bicycle to Woodstock last August, Leslie Kempa (Colgate) shown here third from the left with her pledge sisters, tragically fell and was killed by a truck. Leslie's pledge sister, Alison Paijit (far right) remembers her sister:

Leslie was a free spirit. She lived each day of her life to the fullest. She was a true and constant friend! She was a cherished sister due to her unyielding generosity and never-ending concern. We will never forget this young woman who taught us so much about life through example.

Tampa Bay Alumnae win the Hall of Fame Award.

HALL OF FAME AWARD

This award is given as special recognition for a consistently superior level of activity covering more than 10 years of service, participation, philanthropy, efficiency and collegiate/alumnae relations.

Winner: Tampa Bay Area, Florida Alumnae

The Tampa Bay Area Alumnae Chapter, only 13 years old, has earned this highest alumnae chapter award by consistently enjoying growth and sisterhood among its members, and by providing support to International Gamma Phi Beta, the Foundation, numerous collegiate chapters, the Alumnae Panhellenic and the Tampa community.

Its proud members have served as international officers, including International Council; planned and executed a wonderful Convention; and have supported Camp Sechelt, as well as the Children's Home Society and the Spring shelter for battered women and their children. They have participated in all of Gamma Phi Beta's services, such as SisterLink and TransISter; served as officers and participated in all of the activities of the Tampa Bay Panhellenic Association; attended all leadership conferences and Conventions; and provided PACE programming, such as group dynamics, financial planning, hurricane preparedness and museum tours.

The chapter's reporting efficiency and programming excellence over the past 10 years have earned it the Circle of Excellence from 1986-90. In 1990-91, it achieved the highest Diamond Circle. During this biennium it has been in the Pearl and Diamond Circles. It also won both the Labor and Loyalty awards at the Province VIIIb Leadership Conference.

Collegiate Awards

MARY A. BINGHAM AWARD

given in recognition of overall chapter excellence in rush, scholarship, pledge, ritual, PACE, efficiency in reporting, Panhellenic participation, campus and community activities, philanthropic activities, collegiate/alumnae relations, campus standing and quality of leadership.

Winner: Delta Delta (California State-Fullerton)

Delta Delta has consistently made quota and been above total; they are the largest sorority at Fullerton and have maintained that distinction for the entire biennium. They are in the forefront of risk management areas on campus; their commitment was demonstrated when they walked out of an exchange in which the fraternity involved was serving from a hidden keg during the party. They have fully implemented all of the chapter programming in the biennium with creativity and success. Programming, leadership, Panhellenic participation and community service are all exemplary. Members are currently challenging themselves to improve their scholarship even though they still maintain a grade point average above both the all women's and all sorority averages.

E. ADELINE CURTIS AWARD

presented in recognition of consistency of excellence in the Five Standards of Membership, through the demonstration of sisterhood, friendship, cordiality, concern and consideration of others.

Winner: Alpha Lambda (University of British Columbia)

This chapter exists on a large, commuter, non-Greek campus; members do not live close to campus, yet they manage to maintain a very positive image on campus and are a favorite visit for collegiate leadership consultants and province collegiate directors. They open their apartments, homes and frequently, their parents' homes, to each other and their visitors. Quoting from a recent report, "They are polished women and are great representatives of Gamma Phi Beta. All of the chapter members work well together and support each other . . . I was sorry I was not staying longer." Chapter members consistently exhibit the five standards of membership and are being recognized for their commitment to Gamma Phi Beta's ideals.

FRANCES E. HAVEN AWARD

presented for outstanding improvement in all areas of chapter life.

Winner: Tau (Colorado State University)

During the biennium Tau Chapter has experienced significant growth in leadership, recognition of accountability for the their actions, internal and external public relations, maturity in decision making and awareness of the "big picture". They have aggressively handled standards and disciplinary matters while promoting numerous events to improve sisterhood, relations and self-image. They have used events with faculty, administration, house directors on campus, letter days and involvement in campus organizations and activities to improve their "social/party" image to that of a more diverse, well-rounded group of vibrant sorority women. In addition, alumnae relations have improved measurably since the chapter acquired a supportive advisory board and many new house corporation board members. Both boards have significantly improved working relations with Tau Chapter.

HELEN M. DODGE AWARD

given for outstanding guidance and support of a collegiate chapter by an advisor.

Winner: Julie Trail, Xi (University of Idaho)

Both Julie and the chapter have been consistently recognized on campus for outstanding support and overall chapter excellence. During the past biennium, Julie has assisted the chapter with the death of a current member (in a forest fire), an accident involving injury of another sorority's pledge due to alcohol consumption which caused media and administration scrutiny of the Greek system, a meeting of national representatives of all Greek groups on campus and system-wide formulation and adoption of a campus alcohol policy. She is also serving as advisor to the Panhellenic Judiciary committee and has been consistently reported as an outstanding advisor by every collegiate leadership consultant and province collegiate director visiting the chapter.

EXCELLENCE IN PLEDGE PROGRAMMING AWARD

*given in recognition of positive, innovative pledge meetings and programs.
This includes absence of hazing, high pledge retention, effective use of KROP, efficiency in reporting, effective use of Lifetime Membership Manual and local information, and well organized, thoughtful Inspiration Week plans.*

Winner: Alpha Nu (Wittenburg University)

The strength of the Alpha Nu Chapter pledge program is based on the chapter's positive, warm and welcoming attitude toward their pledges. Pledge meetings are brief (no more than an hour) and consist of Gamma Phi Beta information, learning songs and meetings with chapter officers. The chapter has also taken a strong, proactive stand against hazing by educating both the initiated members and the pledges with each pledge class. An active KROP (Keep Rushing Our Pledges) program throughout the duration of the pledge period, incorporates the pledges into chapter activities and insures that members and pledges become well-acquainted during the pledge period.

Inspiration Week is a positive finish to the pledging period and initiated members, new and old, look forward to beginning the process again after the next rushing period.

Gifts have been given to the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation in celebration of:

Sisterhood

To Judy Nesbitt McMahon for her love and dedication when we were collegians from Cari Burich and Michelle Mazure Hardy.

To Epsilon Xi, Epsilon Sigma, Epsilon Upsilon, Epsilon Psi, Epsilon Omega, Zeta Alpha, Zeta Beta, and Zeta Gamma from New Chapter Directors, Chris Amos and Carol Caruso.

To celebrate 70 years of sisterhood from Alpha Iota Chapter.

To Jeanne Cramer O'Brien to celebrate her aesthetic pursuits on our behalf from the Syracuse Alumnae Chapter.

Thirty years of sisterhood and friendship with my Psi sister Margaret Pape from Ann Ross.

Thank you Janet Crowe for your devotion to the Beta Lambda Chapter—first as a pledge advisor and for the past three years as chapter advisor. You have set a wonderful example for our collegians from Barbara McKewen.

To Edie Bixel for 13 years of dedicated service as our Panhellenic representative including service as President of Panhellenic from the San Diego Alumnae Chapter.

Barbara Missert Wessel's dedication to Gamma Phi and a special thanks for her work on the Endowment Loan Board from the Syracuse Alumnae Chapter.

For Janet Crowe's service to the Beta Lambda House Corporation Board as vice president in charge of house and grounds and more recently representing the collegians as chapter advisor from the Beta Lambda House Corporation Board.

To Cele Eifert for all of her contributions to the Tampa Bay Area Alumnae Group and best wishes as she moves out of state from Bette Bartow Newberger.

Teresa Neilson's outstanding work as Financial Advisor to our collegians at San Diego State University from the San Diego Alumnae Chapter.

In honor of Barbara Hurt-Simmons, Janet Whitcomb, and Audrey Shafer's outstanding work in extension during the 1992-94 biennium from Linda Malony.

The women of South Carolina who have dedicated their time and energy to organizing the Lowcountry Alumnae Chapter and the Columbia Crescent Circle from Lisa Hiles.

Thank you to the Chicago Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter during my last two years as president for all your help, support and sisterhood; the Chicago Alumnae Chapter who gave me the opportunity and to Bonnie Jelinek who started it all from Laurel P. Batka.

To Lisa Hiles for all she has done for our alumnae chapter from the Atlanta Alumnae Chapter.

To Janet Crowe for being a devoted, successful, inspirational chapter advisor to Beta Lambda as well as being an active member of the San Diego Alumnae Chapter from the San Diego Alumnae Chapter.

Barbara Hurt-Simmons for doing an outstanding job of running the concessions at the Senior PGA Golf Tournament from the Atlanta Alumnae Chapter.

Congratulations

To the Princeton Area, Philadelphia North Suburban, Philadelphia West Suburban, and State College Alumnae Chapters for earning the Diamond Circle of Excellence Award and to the New Jersey Metro Alumnae Chapter for earning the Pearl Circle of Excellence Award from Doris B. Gorden, Province II Alumnae Director.
